Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., October 20, 1902.

In the matter of the application of JOHN DAWSON, for the enrollment of himself and his children, ROBERT B., IOLA M., LEMUEL H., ROSIE B., CHARLES B., HATTIE J., JENNINGS B., JAMES U. and VERGAL C. DAWSON, as citizens by blood, and his wife SARAH J. DAWSON, as a citizen by intermarriage, of the Cherokee Nation:

JOHN DAWSON, being duly sworn and examined by the Commission, testified as follows:

- Q What is your name ? A John Dawson.
Q What is your age ? A Fifty five.
Q Your post office ? A Vasson.
Q Are you the same John Dawson that made application to the Commission for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation in October, 1900 ? A Yes sir.
Q What is your wife's name ? A Sarah J. Dawson.
Q Is she a white person ? A Yes sir.
Q Is she an applicant for enrollment as an intermarried citizen ? A Yes sir.
Q When were you married to her ? A Thirty two years ago.
Q Where were you married ? A In Arkansas.
Q How long after your marriage before you came to the Cherokee Nation ? A I have been here eighteen years.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship after your marriage ? A Yes sir.
Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation all the time for the past eighteen years ? A Yes sir.
Q You were never re-married to Sarah after your re-admission ? A No sir. They said it wasn't required.
Q Have you and your wife Sarah lived together from the date of your marriage up to the present time ? A Yes sir.
Q Have never been separated ? A No sir.
Q Were you living together as husband and wife on the first day of September, 1902 ? A Yes sir.
Q Are these children, Robert B., Iola M., Lemuel H., Rosie B., Charles B., Hattie J., Jennings B., James U. and Vergal C., all your children by your wife Sarah ? A Yes sir.
Q Are these children all living at this time ? A Yes sir.
Q Have they all lived in the Cherokee Nation for the past eighteen years, or since their birth ? A Yes sir.

E. S. Bagwell, an oath states that, as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings had in the above entitled case, and that the foregoing is an accurate transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I. T., SEPTEMBER 17th, 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and he being sworn by Commissioner, C. R. Brackinridge, testified as follows:

- Q What is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
- Q What is your age? A I am fifty eight years old.
- Q What is your birthplace? A Doonah.
- Q What District is your wife in? A Delaware.
- Q Who is it you want to have enrolled? A Myself and family.
- Q Your wife? A Yes, sir.
- Q How many children? A Six.
- Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
- Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1883.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.
The applicant presents a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 11th day of January, 1883, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

- Q That is your name is it? A Yes, sir.
- Q This is recognized as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated. Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission? A Yes, sir; in Delaware District ever since.
- Q Give me the name of your wife? A Katie Dawson.
- Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
- Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
- Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A No, sir.
- Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend B. F. Goodrich, in Carroll County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County. These papers are filed herewith.

- Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
- Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
- Q By act of the Commission or Council? A No, sir; she was placed on the rolls.
- Q On the German roll? A Yes, sir.
- Q Give me the name of your children, please? A Lola.
- Q How old? A ...
- Q Next child? A ...
- Q How old? A ...
- Q Next child? A ...
- Q How old? A ...
- Q Next child? A ...
- Q How old? A ...
- Q Next child? A ...
- Q How old? A ...
- Q Next child? A ...
- Q How old? A ...

Q Next child? A Laura.
 Q How old is that child? A She is four years old.
 Q Is that all? A Yes, sir; six of them. I have others, but they are not at home.
 Q Are they married? A No, sir.
 Q Are they over age? A Yes, sir.

Q Is this Lula or Luly? A Luly.
 The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children:
 Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship, by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission; she has never been remarried according to Cherokee law. She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896: They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment of F. M. Dawson and others as Cherokee citizens.

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. B. Denison in the Gray-Balsell building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

- Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 53 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation.
I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Taha, Wolf and myself, Taha was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember the that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect how what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two, sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open sessions?

A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions; yes, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.

Q What you intended to convey by your answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.

Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by M. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?

A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.

Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.

Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether Thomas Teehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.

Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?

A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.

Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?

A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.

Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize this signature attached thereto?

A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.

Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation by that Commission?

A I remember F. M. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.

Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?

A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.

Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Teehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?

A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood Cherokee.

Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?

A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.

Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or may member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?

A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?

A Yes, sir.

Q When Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?

A No, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I did not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.

Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, don't you know that in almost every case you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled ex parte evidence out, as well as I remember.
Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?
Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.
Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?
A Yes, sir, I think it was.
Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?
A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.
Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?
A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.
Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?

A Yes, sir.
Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send the applicants or their attorneys?
A Yes, sir.
Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.
Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.
Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.
Q How would your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.
Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.
Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Bengo.
Q Could either Teehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.
Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for deciding this case? A No, sir.
Q How long were you considering the case altogether?
A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time sitting in testimony.
Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?
A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.
Q Well the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?
A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember who the interpreter the Commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case?
A His name was Reese, I forget his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
 A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
 Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
 A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
 Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
 A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

D. W. C. Dugan being produced by the applicants after being sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

- Q Please sit to your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Dugan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
Q If you remember the names of the members of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tabeo I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.
Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will set out to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tabeo and Alex Wolfe to that report?
A Thomas Tabeo and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants on to the decision of their application for citizenship, when admitted?

A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Tehee's and Wolf's names and T. F. Thompson to sign his own name.

Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call your attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?

A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.

Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?

A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?

A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the Clerk.

Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Tehee's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?

A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.

Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?

A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existence or not?

A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.

Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?

A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recall his first name.

Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A I do.

NORTHERN DISTRICT,

I, LEWIS T. MARTIN, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, do hereby certify that the foregoing depositions of T. F. Thompson and D. W. G. Duncan were taken before me at the time and place and in the cities mentioned in the caption, and said T. F. Thompson and D. W. G. Duncan, having been first by me sworn that the evidence they should give in this matter should be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and that their statements were reduced to writing by me on the typewriter in their presence, the elements being present in person and by their attorney S. S. Jackson, and the Cherokee Nation being represented by W. I. Hutchins as its attorney;

Given under my hand this 4th day of October, A. D. 1906.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of
FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings are had:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:

The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existence anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson to-morrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed then and directed with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 2:30 to-morrow morning.

FRANCIS H. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q What is your name? A Francis H. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Arden.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elliott Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in theirs to substantiate their cases and the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Federal Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and that they were kin to you; what was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is after that?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence offered in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q The one? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case have been somewhat destroyed and obliterated? A Oliver Miller lived in Arkansas.
Q What was his age and was not? A He is no kin to me at all.
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy; was he a farmer?
A Yes, sir, farmer.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

- Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
- Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir. I don't read nor write; I can barely write my name.
- Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
- Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
- Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
- Q I will read this paper to you and desire for you to say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
- Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
- Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
- Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
- Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jasper, Francis Marion-
- Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
- Q Thirteen? (No response.)
- Q Now, Robert Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
- Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
- Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
- Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
- Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
- Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
- Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
- Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
- Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
- Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
- Q Give your best recollection? A About '88 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
- Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.
- Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
- Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and aunts? I didn't see all of them.
- Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
- Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsy Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
- Q Did she marry a Patty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
- Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
- Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.
- Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
- Q Well sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him; Riley Dawson.

- Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack displaced with Joe? A No, it was Joe; I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have seven children? A I never saw them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I used Uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson and Jack Dawson and Netsy Ann Petty; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi to think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Pollie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Miller that testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Table Rock, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistake in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of that was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A My about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A He always called him Buck, it is Elbert, Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q A & he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now.
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKenna: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Now: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

E. M. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. TAYLOR:

Q State your name? A C. E. Taylor.
 Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A In near Coffeyville.
 Q Were you an attorney before various citizen courts along in '81 to '87 in the Cherokee Nation at Tallahatchee? A Yes, sir.
 Q Were you attorney for F. W. Danson commonly known as Bud Danson?
 A Yes, sir.
 Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.
 Q Do you know who composed the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
 Q Who were they? A Tom Toney and Alex Wolfe and Tony Thompson.
 Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there was only two of them present.
 Q Which two? A Toney and Wolfe.
 Q Who was the clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. W. C. Duncan.
 Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Danson?
 A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.
 Q Even when you made attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the— Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys and the case could be employed there.

Q Did you send the witnesses in this case? A No, sir.
 Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to take any statement.
 Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Danson ever send you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a heap of trouble over this matter.

Commissioner: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.
 A Well, the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Commissioner: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did the matter in which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER HERSHENTRIDE:
 Q Do you desire to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.

Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.
 Q You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, but it is at this point that you prefer to plead your privilege, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

COMMISSIONER HERSHENTRIDE: The matter in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to matters which arise through this Commission. Of course the jurisdiction devolves and the Government has the right to collect all the information possible, but it is subject to the limit of law. It is not for this Commission to decide if the law is a matter of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, and to report the matter to the United States Court and let the Court pass judgment.

Under Section 21 of the Circuit law as it is commonly called Act of June 231898, the members of the Col. Division shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain persons goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to make calls & claims required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are vit in your lawful privileges. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege—according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court: do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which is generally considered a privilege matter, and your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKernon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRACKETT'S:

Q You still refuse to answer the consent of the attorney's in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Brackett's: It will rest until in the morning at its present status: it is not a business matter now.

As if the objection made by Captain McKernon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.
(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, March 10, 1898.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS H. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
W. T. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 20 years? A Well, I had several: I have been Sheriff, Councillor, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1808, I am the only one living that signed that treaty;
President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. H. Dawson, commonly called Bud
Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
Q State your connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is now called the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court?
A Mr. Dawson came down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to take to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1881 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after that we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson.
I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our case is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was able to reach", but he reached his with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was a Clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or? Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Wolfe and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of these could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in those cases?
A Myself.

Q What was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilton Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.

Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.

Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.

Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventually and I told him I didn't know.

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man come to see me at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the Committee. I was not a witness but she is that I don't for him.

Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Now, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.

Q Well, after the Dawson Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?

A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.

Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all I know; that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his father, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.

Q Where? A It has been sometime ago.

Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort
Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.

Q Well, did he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?

A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the one he-

Q What is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.

Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)

A Yesterday I reckon.

Q To come to take this? A Mr. Starr.

Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.

Q Whom had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.

Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you knew this?

A No, sir.

Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Sciles, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Sciles.

Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said "what do you go." and he went to work and named Shoemaker case and Dawson case; And thereupon you made this tatement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.

Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.

Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.

Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A Yes, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Arkansas falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.

Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.

Q How did they pay you? A Paid me the money.

Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young fellow paid me some.

Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.

Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.

Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over in Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.

Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.

Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more;

Q You want to know what I got, I got one hundredn dollars.

Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.

Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered?
A In his case?

Q Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Teneo and Wolfe.

Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.

Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you; there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.

Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.

Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.

Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.

Q How long did you remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?

A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A No, sir.

Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present)
A I don't know whether the judges received any or not.

J. O. Reason, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Reason.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today? Have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.

Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being the case of course I would make a statement.

Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thing that ever came up in that respect, he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.

Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.

Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.

Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.

Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.

Q Well, what did you reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.

Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.

Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

- Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
- Q What was said if naything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
- Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, saying, "gentlemen, I will go home."
- Q Do you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
- Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
- Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
- Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
- Q When it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
- Q Could they speak english at all? A Tehee could talk a little, talk some.
- Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that, it was generally when the case was submitted th attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
- Q Well, did they go out i to that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
- Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
- Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
- Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
- Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
- Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
- Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundrd dollars more.
- Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
- Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
- Q Do you remember whether on Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
- Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
- Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yea, sir.
- MR. MCKENNON:
- Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1885.

Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?

A I think since '68.

Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q Were you in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on the very case.

Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail and stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.

Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.

Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.

Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the rail for fraudulent purposes.

Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspondence.

Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.

Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the rail for fraudulent purposes.

Q The use of the rails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.

Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.

Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.

Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occurred between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.

Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.

Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I would be put in jail here if I didn't.

Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

Q You know when you gave him that indication that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that?
A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.

Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.
Q Why not did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.

Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him that you told Shoemaker I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you? A No, sir; I said to him this, I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemaker both.

Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.

Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.

Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?

A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you on one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that that you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.

Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.

Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Sid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give us $400. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on"? A No, sir; I got a letter from Sid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked. he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.

Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.

Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.

Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemaker say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and to have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will not it?" No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemaker, I says: "who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "it might have been an advantage to you if you had retained me in your father's case." Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came up fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I want if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I meant not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you knew that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter -- I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says make the statement and then I told him--I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it won't make any difference or so other to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was making you to make would not be used?

A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemaker to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with his lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

- Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
- Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Barsons? A I was not in the Court house.
- Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
- Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawson?
- Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
- Q You say that after the judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
- Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
- Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
- Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
- Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
- Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "Have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
- Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
- Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
- Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
- Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
- Q And for that you say they paid you $120? A Yes, sir; $120.
- Q Was Houston Henge present when that was done? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
- Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
- Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
- Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
- Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
- Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
- Q Then was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Bellotte can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
- Q Was it about 1887? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1890 somewhere.
- Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
- Q You have never practiced such in any other way have you? A Very little.
- Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.

Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.

Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family."

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoerake case didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be rode or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoerake case?

A Yes, sir; that is what I said.

Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim your privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.

Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.

Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts?

A Yes, sir.

Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.

Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Arton.

Q How old are you? A 73 years old.

Q What is your business? A I work at the tin business and gun work.

Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. M. Dawson and the other Dawson? A I know old man James Dawson.

Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years.

I. Quor.

Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 or 75 years.

Q Well, when did you come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewhere in sight if I recollect right, might have been later than that.

Q How did you happen to be acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.

Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.

Q About how long became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A To, sir.

Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?

A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.

Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

1. E. MCKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewhere near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.

Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.

Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distances.

Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows in part of the Cherokee National
1. R. WITCHES:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 36.

Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Federal citizenship Court in Muskogee? A Yes, sir.

Q About what time was that? A September '01, I think.

Q Did you meet there about that time, one Albert or Buck Davenport?

A Yes, sir.

Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, man's by the name of Shroyer.

Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.

Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, all in talking about the evidence we had there. I, of course, told him how many witnesses I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have any witnesses, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, I think, but one 65 or 70 years old, he said, and he hadn't own and said he was to have set his horse but he hadn't own.

Q Well, what did he say about the master's hearing evidence?

A Well, he said he was 55 or 60 years old and didn't have anything to say.

Q Well, did he say anything about the master's hearing evidence?

A Well, he said he could not say anything about the evidence and he would mean that that was all.

Q Well, he was talking about money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money would do more than go down in Texas and he said "I want to get the best of the land" and he says "I found out it goes here," or words to that effect.

Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.

Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.

Q Well, where did he go for there? A He and I left there together; he took to Loupree by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.

Q Where? A Vinita.

Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he come out and he said all right.

Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff fingers; I don't remember just what it was now.

W. H. HICKMAN:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '01 was it? A Yes, sir.

Q That time in '01? A September.

Q You were not an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you still in? A No, sir.

Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.

Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.

Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.

Q When did you make statements now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.

Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Baker? A I don't know.

Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.

Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.

Q You know any? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told somebody at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have saw Mr. Hastings for years.

Q Now, you say—how was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did go; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't have strength fit us; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.

Q Now, he said that didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you met Sam Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.

Q Did he go to the Seminoles? A Yes, sir; he lived at Vinita at one time.

- Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
- Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
- Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the petit jury there this winter.
- Q Generally? No, sir.
- Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. G. BRAUERT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINOS:

- Q State your name? A C. G. Braught.
- Q What is your age? A 33 34th day of last January.
- Q What is your post office? A Fairland.
- Q How long have you been living in the neighborhood of Fairland? A Been living there 19 years.
- Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. H. Dawson as his name is? A I do.
- Q How long have you known him? A About 13 years.
- Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
- Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
- Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
- Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the facts that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
- Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
- Q Whom did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
- Q Do you know what time of the year that was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
- Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time? A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
- Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.
- MR. McKENNON:
- Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
- Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
- Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
- Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
- Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
- Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence? A Yes, sir.
- Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
- Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
- Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty? A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him?
A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at odds? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1902.

Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. G. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Mr. Braugh, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused,)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewhere between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time?
A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different places in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him?
A It was in '81 or '82, I think I knew him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Jiles Plippen and Joe Plaston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and I were talking in regard to grass down there here & he was talking it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stock eating by grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and press up and get him some grass.

Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.

Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."

Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punches, and Mr. Flipin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."

Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hookey Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."

Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?

A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:

Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Ross County, Texas. M. W. Alberty was my guardian.

Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.

Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.

Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.

Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.

Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?

A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.

Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.

MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:

Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. HARRIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Harris.

Q What is your post office? A Helix.

Q What is your age? A 49.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him two or three times.

Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Puggy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.

Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.

Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.

Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler or Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.

Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.

Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had some more? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.

Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.

Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?

A Yes, best of my recollection that was.

Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.

Q Well, about how old was he, 35, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.

Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.

Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.

Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I'm pretty certain.

Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.

Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and just advised me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.

Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?

A I guess—I don't remember when.

Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?

A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.

Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.

Q Where? A Oh, about, first I remember it has been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.

Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?

A No, sir.

Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?

A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.

Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.

Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.

Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in my young days.

Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.

Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?

A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.

Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.

Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know;

he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.

Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.

Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lanier, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lanier and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.

Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.

Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.

Q The Dawson name was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?

A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.

Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.

Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anne or Alany? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SARAH TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Sarah Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relation are you to the Dawsons? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.

Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What did you say your father's name was? A Mile Dawson.

Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What children had your father? A Why, he has got, you mean his first children or his whole family?

Q I want all of his children? A I don't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.

Q Just one or two of them I care for; is Mrs. Lewis your sister?

A Yes, sir.

Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.

Q How was she the parents of your father, Samuel Dawson?

A Why Sam Dawson was his father.

Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that she was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.

Q What was her given name? A Annie.

Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q Saw him? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.

Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.

Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.

Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?

A Yes, sir.

Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had, that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.

Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?

A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.

Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.

Q Did you father come here and apply once for citizenship?

A Yes, sir.

Q Was he admitted? A I think not.

Q Did you hear him make any statements about the ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.

Q Well, in that connection did he say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKernon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

March 10th, 1908, at Muskogee, I. T.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon and Mr. Hellette, attorneys for the applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, and Mr. W. W. Hastings, attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

EMMA BRASHIERS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A Emma Brashiers.
Q What was your maiden name? A Emma Dawson.
Q What was your father's name? A Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q What was his father's name? A Samuel.
Q What was your grandfather's name? So far as you know from family history? A Her maiden name was Annie Pruett.
Q Then your father, if I understand you, was the son of Samuel Dawson and Annie Dawson, nee Pruett? A Yes, sir.
Q Did your father have a brother named Robert, and a brother named James? A Yes, sir; that is what I was told.
Q And had a sister named Mrs. Petty? A Yes, sir.
Q And another one named Mrs. McGee? A Yes, sir.
Q And another brother named John? A Yes, sir.
Q What relation are you to Mrs. A. S. Lewis? A Sister.
Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You have a distinct recollection of him? A I, yes, I can remember him, but I was small.
Q About how old were you you suppose when your grandfather died?
A About 6.
Q Was your father's birth recorded in the family Bible? A Yes, sir.
Q You know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and deaths were recorded in any Bible or not? A I was, but we haven't it.
Q What became of it? A Got burned.
Q Well, about what year do you remember that your father, Samuel Dawson was born? A I believe it was '23.
Q In 1823? A Yes, sir.
Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and '7.
Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians?
A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q. You know whether in the family you grandmother was spoken of by the name of Annie, always? A. Yes, sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q. State your name? A. Alex S. Lewis.

Q. What is your post-office? A. Dawson, Indian Territory.

Q. How old are? A. 59 years.

Q. What was your wife's maiden name? A. Elizabeth Paralee Dawson.

Q. Who was your wife's father and mother? A. Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel R. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?

Q. Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A. Well she was called Margaret, Margaret Queen was her maiden name.

Q. The maiden name now of your wife's father's mother? A. Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?

Q. Yes, sir? A. From what her husband and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.

Q. What was the name of your wife's father's father? A. My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.

Q. And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know the old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, your wife's grandfather? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Personally? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A. He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and frequently, my wife and I, after we were married, stayed with us quite a while; I lived near my father-in-law and he visited very often.

Q. When did he die? A. '74.

Q. Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A. Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they went for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.

Q. And when was your first child born? A. He was born December, '73.

Q. You know how old your wife's father was when he died? A. Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.

Q. Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A. Yes, sir, several times.

Q. How old was he at the time of his death? A. He was past 84.

Q. Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A. Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.

Q. Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A. Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he had named one of his, - oldest child for his brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; he called it for him I understood.

Q. Now, what is his name? A. Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understood it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.

Q. Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A. Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?

Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.

Q Well, remember what you know of the family, what other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the eldest boy was John Dawson.

Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q Which was the oldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.

Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q You know anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of coming at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know what the oldest son and his wife told me.

Q What was that? A They said he was born in 1811.

Q Who was his oldest son? A Toliver H. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.

Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know what the old man said that she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.

Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.

Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.

Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.

Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.

Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say as to the date.

Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.

Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.

Q Did you? A I did.

Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you make affidavit to that application? A No, sir.

Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.

Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not?

A Yes, sir.

Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.

Q Is she? A No, sir.

Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.

Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

- Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family?
A Well personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation?
A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find these papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation here introduces in evidence an envelope marked No. 108, the names on the back of it are Robert, Elbert, Jasper, John, Francis, Marion, Josephine, Joseph, Jane, Mollie, Wilburn, James, Rial Dawson, versus the Cherokee Nation; the envelope and its contents.

BY MR. MCKENNON: To the introduction of all of which the applicants object, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Cherokee Nation.

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker sworn testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berrivill, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 73 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County some thirty five years (line drawn through the last three words,) 35 years at my mother's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawsons grandmother on mother's side, she was frequently at my mother's house; though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the claimant's mother to my mother's house she the claimant's mother was about grown, when I was little she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers who came on a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mother's and there at Louis Jones Store I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years old and I think then Old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of Old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and she and I had a talk over our old matters, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Hiwassee River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawsons children is Buck, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?

Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.

Ques. 2 Did you say something about someone being married twice?

Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.

Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?

Ans. 3 Yes she could speak it well

Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?

Ans. 4 She could when she was young.

Ques. 5 How far did you live from Anna Pruet?

Ans. 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.

Ques. 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?

Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river, part in the Nation and part out in the State.

Ques. 7. Which language was it went to Texas?

Ans. 7. George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Harnage that lived up here near the line.

Ques. 8. Did the claimant go to Texas?

Ans. 8. No the claimant didn't go to Texas.

Ques. 9. What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?

Ans. 9. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the daughter of Polly Rogers.

Ques. 10. Where does claimant now live?

Ans. 10. He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.

Ques. 11. Do you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charlotte Rogers here in Cooweescoowee?

Ans. 11. I am related kin but what kin I don't know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 Country about the year 1830.

Ques. 12. Was Anna Priest the maiden name of Claimant's grandmother?

Ans. 12. Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her since

My name is F. M. Dawson. Am Cherokee by blood reside in the Cherokee Nation am 39 (40 written over it) years old.

I saw the Claimants, Lulu Dauthet and Dallas Dauthet in Vinita, and know them to be the grandchildren of my brother E. Dawson who is a recognized Cherokee by blood. L. M. Dauthet, the father of the Claimants, Lulu and Dallas is a white man Dauthet's wife the mother of Lulu and Dallas was a Cherokee, the daughter of my brother E. Dawson, she is now dead. The oldest of these applicants is about 9 years old. I have known them about 8 years. These children is now living with their father. One is a girl and the other is a boy. I had been acquainted with her mother all her life. If she had been now living she would have been about 25 years old -- She has been dead about 4 years as well as I can recollect. She was about 17 years old when she was married.

Joseph Dawson introduced for claimants, sworn in open Court testified as follows:

Joe. Dawson, an a Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, am 31 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the claimants are Cherokees. Fannie Dawson was their mother. Fannie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I wa always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lulu, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognizes them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.
By Solicitor:

Lulu is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother has been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fannie, Francis, Cartenas, Zanie, Bob, Smith, Worth, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fannie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. M. Dawson, we are full brothers. "Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Gillsy Pruitt, said to be a half sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich and who was of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Gillsy Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 3th, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship, was made and in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were readmitted to citizenship by the commission on citizenship obviously under the

"The Tehee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of these Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 8th, 1888, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Chorokees taken by the United States." As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon eitherof said rolls the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Journah Barber nee Journah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applications.

E. Dawson, who being duly sworn, used his oath, deposes and says as follows, to wit:

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and reside in Cooweescoowee Dist. and am 53 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I have known him personally about three (3) years. He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a relation of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hiwassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I never saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Jou Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of my Uncle Jou Dawson, is from what he himself has told me, - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me - My grandfather being a Dawson and a white man.

Filed Aug. 11, 1887. John Rogers
Rejected April 26, 1889.

Now this day comes the above case by final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to Citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a white man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Childer Rogers, said to be half sister of Joseph Van Hook and known as who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers

Gilsey Pruett died before the rolls upon which their names would appear if living at the time, and specified in the 7th Section of the Act of December 8th, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship were made, but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family the full brothers of the applicant were admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tolsee Court" and "Spears Court" and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the affidavits upon which determined the decisions of those commissions as the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relevant in the issue now pending. The 7th Section of the Act of December 8th, 1886, before named provides that the Commission hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States, as are hereafter enumerated, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the case of Andrew J. Dawson, James H. P. Dawson, Joannah Barber, nee Joannah Dawson, and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective applications.

F. C. Rogers being duly sworn on oath deposes and says: that he is a citizen and resident of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. That his post-office address is Skia-Stock, Ind. Ter. that he was born and raised in the above said Nation and Territory; that he is 46 years of age;

Affiant further states that he is slightly acquainted with Irena J. House, an applicant for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as shown by copy of her application.

Affiant further states that his father's name was Charlie Rogers who was a son of Captain John Rogers and the said Capt. John Rogers was the only man of that name that ever lived in the Cherokee Nation that this affiant ever heard of; that the said Capt. John Rogers this affiant's grandfather lived at Grand Saline, I. T., and died in Washington, D. C.

This affiant states that his father Charlie Rogers had one sister and five brothers viz, Cynthia Rogers, Lewis Rogers, George Rogers, Nelson Rogers, Samuel Rogers and Randolph Rogers; that he (this affiant) was well and prominently acquainted with the above said persons except Grand and Randolph Rogers, who were killed when this affiant was quite young.

This affidavit states that he was 24 years of age, when his father, Charlie Rogers died, that his father never had any other family (like in the census records were Cary ybra was or sisters than the ones I've mentioned; that the said Polly Rogers named in the application for citizenship of Irene J. Rogers, was not a sister of his father; that his father never had but one sister viz. Cynthia Rogers that this affiant never heard of; that this affiant was well acquainted with his aunt Cynthia Crump-

Just here the following is inserted on separate paper:

Then the above affidavit continues:

"(nee) Rogers that she lived with this affiant's father for a number of years prior to her death.

Affiant states that he has often talked with his father, Charlie Rogers and his aunt Cynthia Crump (nee Rogers) about his relatives; that they never spoke of any other sisters in their family; that his affiant was about 10 years of age when his aunt, Cynthia Crump died; that they told him (here Rogers was (words "never was" marked over with ink) father never had any other daughter or daughter other than Cynthia Rogers.

Affiant states that his father told him a number of times, that this affiant's grandfather Capt John Rogers never had any other family other than the one above mentioned; that this affiant never heard his father Charlie Rogers or any of his relatives speak of his grandfather Capt John Rogers owning or

In the matter of the application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of Joannah J. Carlinghouse and her children, to-wit: Myrtle C. Carlinghouse, Corp L. Carlinghouse and Martha H. Carlinghouse.

In order that the Honorable Commission may clearly and fully understand the proof and merits of the claims of the aforesaid claimants, we deem it necessary to present to the Honorable Commission, the genealogy of each of said claimants, to-wit:

Joanna Barber, whose maiden name was Joanna Barber, is a daughter of Elizabeth Patsy, nee Rogers, and a granddaughter of Polly Dawson, nee Rogers and a great-granddaughter of both John Rogers, who was a Cherokee Indian by blood, and of the proof herein admitted.

Jool A. Barber is a son of Joanna Barber, nee Petty and grand son of Elizabeth Petty, nee Dawson and a great grand son of Polly Dawson nee Rogers and a great great grand son of Captain John Rogers, who was a Cherokee Indian by blood as shown by the proof herein submitted. Mary A. Boyer, whose maiden name was Mary A. Barber, is a daughter of Joanna Barber and grand daughter of Elizabeth Petty, nee Dawson and great grand daughter of Polly Dawson, nee Rogers and a great great grand daughter of Captain John Rogers, who was a Cherokee Indian by blood as shown by the proof herein submitted.

Eva Murphy, whose maiden name was Eva Barber, is a daughter of Joanna Barber, nee Petty and a great grand daughter of Elizabeth Petty, nee Dawson and a great great grand daughter of Polly Dawson nee Rogers and a great great grand daughter of Captain John Rogers, who was a Cherokee Indian by blood, as shown by the submitted proof.

Eva Moore, whose maiden name was Eva Barber, is a daughter of Joanna Barber, nee Petty and a grand daughter of Elizabeth Petty nee Dawson and a great grand daughter of Polly Dawson, nee Rogers and a great great grand daughter of Captain John Rogers, who was a Cherokee Indian by blood as shown by the submitted proof.

Attie L. Hunt, whose maiden name was Attie L. Barber, is a daughter of Joanna Barber, nee Petty and a grand daughter of Elizabeth Petty, nee Dawson and a great grand daughter of Polly Dawson, nee Rogers and a great great grand daughter of Captain John Rogers, who was a Cherokee Indian by blood, as shown by the submitted proof.

Alcey J. Smart, whose maiden name was Alcey J. Joshua Barber, Chris E. Barber, William R. Barber, James H. Barber, Jennie Barber, Joel A. Barber, Mary A. Barber, Ella Moore, Attie L. Rust, Aloys J. Smart, APPELLANTS.

CHEROKEE NATION, APPELEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Come now the appellants in the above entitled cause and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said cause from a decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and approved to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to grant upon the aforesaid application for citizenship in the United States of said tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, but not in accordance with, an act of Congress passed and approved June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 10th day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the United States, to-wit:

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: the affidavits of E. Dawson, S. H. Dawson, F. A. Dawson, E. M. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establish the fact that said applicants are citizens of the United States by blood and descent, and entitled to citizenship of the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, in effect, state the application of said appellants, made on or about the 10th day of October, 1896, filed with the Secretary of the Dawes Commission, and the consideration and denial thereof.

That a certain copy of said application, together with the no. of said application, was duly filed with the Attorney General of the Cherokee Nation, to-wit: on or about the 10th day of October, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in refusing the said application for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds upon which they petition this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in rendering its decision on said claims adversely to the appellants and against the proof submitted by said appellants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in investigating the claims of appellants and denying same during the absence of a majority of the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing the appellants the right and privilege of examining the proof submitted by appellee in support of the answers filed by the appellee and denying the appellants the right of filing a replication to appellee's answer or producing proof in rebuttal of the same.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as granted to them by the laws and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in refusing appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claim before the said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for persons and papers when requested to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a part of the right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the location of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a part of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the grounds upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to notify appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims nor deny the same.

TWELFTH. That the Act of Congress approved June the 10th, 1808, was unconstitutional and had no power or legal right to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Therefore, the appellants of this cause pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a trial, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send all pleadings, papers and records filed before it in this cause to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee in this case, be cited to appear at this Court shall plead and defend against the appeal, and show why the appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever pary.

JOANNA BARBER ET AL )

-VS- )

REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.

THE CHEROKEE NATION. )

-----000-----

I, H. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings herein, which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and what I find as follows:

I

This this cause was instituted on September 3th, 1896, before the Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Joanna Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their children, Onis E., William E., James E., Joannia and Joel A.
Barber. That Joel A. Barber has the following children, Mattie Toliver, George A., Frankie O., Jess and Ethel Barber.
That the application includes also Mary A. Jones and her child Inez Jones, Emma L. Murphy and her child Clara Murphy, Eva Moore and her children Anna J., Jackson D., Mary and Glady, Attie L. Hunt and her child Dorcas Hunt, Alsey J. Spart and her children Georgia A. and Erzey M. Spart, Joana J.
Garlinghouse and her children Lyrtle G., Cora L. and Bertha
H. Garlinghouse. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 29th, 1896, with no reasons given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 23, 1896, the claimants appealed to this Court. That the parties all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That they filed in support of their application the affidavits of S. B. Dawson, B. Dawson, Francis H. Dawson, and F. A. Dawson, who testify that Joanna Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Petty, nee. Lusk, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, who married a white man by the name of Samuel Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Alsey Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, acquainted with the claimants, and according to their testimony, related to their by blood.

The same is introduced to controvert this testimony
the decision of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, rendered in the year 1877, in which these claimants were rejected by this Commission and also the affidavits of W. C.
Rogers a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers was his only daughter.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, and are relatives of the person buried, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, and entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west; that his name does not appear on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when the late John Rogers, the ancestor whose name these claimants bear, their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a marriage in any of records pertaining to marriage, I am of the opinion that the claimants are entitled at they are descended from said John Rogers, to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation, and are accordingly citizens, though they do not show that he was ever admitted as such, but I therefore find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, and that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. It is to be noted that the Cherokee Nation since 1837, has had no rolls, and the proof does not yet definitely show that they have ever resided.

I am of the opinion that the claimants are entitled to the services her in or should have.

Respectfully submitted this 14 day of August, 1907.

(Signed) M. A. Gibson,
SPECIAL MASTER.

By Fee Paid.

No Exceptions filed.

BY THE COURT.

From this report it appears that the claimants claim their right to be admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood, and that they are the persons whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It appears that the late John Rogers, the Cherokee Indian whose name they bear, was never admitted to the proof does not yet definitely show that they have ever resided.
It is to be noted that the rolls of the Cherokee Nation since 1837 have never been published as records of the Cherokee Nation.

The judgment of the United States Commission regarding this case is affirmed, and the application of the claimants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation is denied."

Indian Secretary,
Northern Judicial District
F. K. Dawson being duly sworn according to law deposed and says:

My name is P. M. Dawson; I am 54 years of age; My Post office address is Arton Indian Territory I am a farmer by occupation and reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandmother whose maiden name was Polly Rogers through my father Robert Dawson, My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1832 and settled in Western Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the present Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joanna Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joanna Barber is the mother of Irene J. House nee Barber who is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their per capita money all the last payment; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koozler, a Notary Public at Muskogee Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurring previous to my recent action I know by means of family history and traditions which have I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, the facts stated as occurring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irene J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

(Signed) P. M. Dawson.

EXHIBIT D.

E. Dawson, being duly sworn according to law on oath states: My name is E. Dawson; I am 61 years old; my last office address is Talala, Ind. Terr. I am a Farmer by Occupation, and reside in Converse County District- Cherokee Nation. I am a recognized Cherokee Indian by blood, and exercise all the rights and immunities of a Cherokee citizen now living in the present Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandmother Polly Rogers through my father, Robert Dawson. My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to my grandfather Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My Grand Parents, Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Roger come West from the Old Cherokee Country in about the year 1832, and settled in Western Arkansas, and later came on to the Cherokee Nation. My father Robert Dawson was a recognized member of the Cherokee Nation when he died, by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of this affiant, and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson in wife and being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joann Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joann Barber is the mother of Irena J. House, whose maiden name was Irena J. Barber and a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the said Henry at the last per capita payment made by the Cherokee Nation. Said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above named Irena J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barwickler, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Terr, and affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of the claim for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of the said Irena J. House.

That the above facts which are within the personal knowledge of the affiant or within his years of discretion he knows personally, and the other facts which occurred before the recollection of affiant he testifies to from what he has been taught from his family history and traditions.

That the relationship existing among all his people in the Cherokee Nation he knows from his personal knowledge and that they are related to the Cherokee Indian side.

EXHIBIT E.

Before me the undersigned authority this day, personally appeared W. A. Dawson who is to me well and personally acquainted, and after being duly sworn; deposes and says, that he is well acquainted with Irene J. House and knows she is a Cherokee Indian, and that he knows she is the daughter of Joana Barber, who is a niece of Robt. & James Dawson, who are both Cherokee Indians and recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Affiant further states that Irene House is the grand daughter of Mrs. Petty, who was a full sister of Robt & James Dawson.

Affiant further says that he knows that Irene House is a lineal descendant of Annie Dawson whose children (line drawn through word "children") sons, Robt & James Befera spoken are recognized citizens.

Affiant further says he has no interest in this suit.

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

IRENE J. HOUSE ET AL.

vs.

238 REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.

THE CHEROKEE NATION.

000

I, H. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings on file in this case which are made a part of this report, and that I find as follows:-

I

That this case is in reality a branch of case No. 96, Joanna Barber vs Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein being Irene J. House a daughter of Joanna Barber.

That this cause was instituted on September 3, 1886 at which time application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was tried by the said Commission on November 24, 1886 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 20, 1887, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, T. J. House, and their children Chas., G. Winston T., and Henry P. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, P. W. Dawson, Arthur A. Baker, E. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Petty, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsay Vann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows that this Dawson family are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are cousins by blood upon the Indian side, and that they all claim through a common ancestor, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsay Vann, who were all recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The appellee introduces in defense the record of the application of these claimants to the Cherokee Commission for citizenship in the year 1887, and the record of the rejection of the claimants, and further the affidavits of W. C. Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a grand daughter both of whom state they have never heard of any issue of Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that he had only one daughter whose name was Cynthia.

III

The claimants contend that they are the residents of the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of the Dawsons, and are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of affairs at that early date in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that those claimants should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee may never have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1867, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Well we close for the present.

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. W. C. DUNCAN, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HATCHERSON:

- Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 78 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
- Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A Yes.
- Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the House Commission? A Yes.
- Q Before this Commission, I will ask, was Commission? A The House Commission? A Yes I was. I testified before the Commission and, that was taken at Vinita, in 1897.
- Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee citizenship Commission last known to the House Commission? A I was Clerk of that Commission.

Q How was I judge of time? A I don't recollect the exact length of time, I think it was about thirty days, during the continuance of that Commission, Commission of that Commission.

Q How were the cases taken it was during its continuance were you?

Q You were clerk of that Commission when it rendered a decision in favor of the State of Ohio, as to and on page 114, of its records, numbered 108 (reference examine record referred to,) now in the possession of the Commission? A I was.

Q The names of that Commission were the same as shown by the signatures on that document were they? A The same, yes, sir.

Q That is, James, the agent of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson, correct, is that correct, is it? A That is correct.

Q Were you present when this case was under consideration by that Commission and when it rendered this judgment in the case? A I was.

Q Were you at that time acquainted with F. H. Dawson, commonly called "Red Dawson", Marshall Taylor and Samuel B. Henge, who were attorneys, who were Cherokee attorneys at that time? A I might say that I really know Mr. Dawson; all I know of him was I saw him there as a matter in the suit. I know Mr. Taylor and Mr. Henge more extensively; I have known them a number of years.

Q They were recognized Cherokee citizens were they? A They were.

Q Was Taylor not known generally as a citizen and attorney?

Q Do you recollect seeing him and Henge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Henge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.

Q You know who submitted the case to the Court for the judgment? A Let me understand the meaning of that, who brought the case.

Q How brought up the case? A No, I don't recollect.

Q Do you recollect whether that Commission rendered any other decision that has come under this record in that case? A I never had any knowledge of any other decision.

Q Was that an appeal of or against the applicant? A It was in favor of them; I will say that if there was another decision under this case, I will say that it was on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.

Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was rendered by you in that case or here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.

Q Did Red Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case? A He did not.

Q Did he ever promise to pay you any money for your influence with the Court in that case? A Never.

Q Or did he ever pay you, either directly or through any other person, for my influence in that case?

Q Yes, sir, I never.

Q Do you have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court or to any other person of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing the Court in that case? A Never.

Q Did he ever pay any money, either directly or through any other person, for my influence in that case?

Q Yes, sir, I never.

Q Do you have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court or to any other person of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing the Court in that case? A Never.

ment. A I never observed anything of the kind; nothing that awakened a suspicion in my mind that he was engaged in that kind of practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money as coming through him from Bud Dawson for any services which you had rendered to him in that case?

A Yes, he paid me some.

Q What amount? A My recollection is that, I think it was a twenty dollar bill. I don't know but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.

Q Yes, sir. A Mr. Dawson, Bud Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, issue of a subpoena or transcript, something of that kind; I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel as I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for work of that kind. And in passing I might state that I never received a cent for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the court.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before supper time I went to my hotel, The National Brick Hotel in Tallahassee; went to my room, felt a little tired, laid down upon the bed to rest. I recollect Mr. Duncan stepped into the room, drew a chair up to the bedside and sat down and commenced giving expression to his gratification at the success of his case, dwelling mostly upon the testimony in the case being so satisfactorily, establishing his Cherokee blood, and that he thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go to-morrow, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home, - he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Alluding, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services; if I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last word he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me; I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, on it must have been a year afterwards; I had located a little claim on the public domain up there in Delaware District, staked off what I intended to be a farm, merely stakes, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Horse Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon me here; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim, and we will settle the matter in that way, that he as soon as he got his little matters together that he would satisfy me for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on then for a long time, I don't know how long, - I think I met him in Vinita, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Q Yes, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well, we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street, I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing Mr. Dawson little services in the Court. Now that is the fact and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was that that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from that Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars said he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He said you no other money than what you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. MCKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim and r it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Federal Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Fehel, President, Alad Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners. D. V. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

The said judgment just introduced is as follows:

vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Petition for Citizenship

Continued by the Plaintiff, Oct. 5, 1881.

January 11th, 1883.

The above case concluded by the Cherokee Nation, 1883.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and refer to it in the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.

Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.
Q That made you when you were testifying at Vicksburg before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished about entirely from my memory. I recollect that at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served in which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the docket and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting; I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson was not present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, set on that your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advice or when I gave in that testimony. I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting, and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and will alter the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you wouldn't know that as I understand you wouldn't know that it was your handwriting, if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I would know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or reconsideration I might make a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Tenge and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.

Q And then the third one, right under it, as compared with your other handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew that were not a reasonable one; what made me of the opinion that that was not my signature was like this: I knew that I had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing my own name, and I was under the impression—and I do not now think I am mistaken— that his signature was at least once recognizable to my own hand. I never doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

Q. You were also so intent on the fact in your testimony to the fact that Mr. ... I am aware that that was his handwriting and not yours. Didn't you ... BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the subject of promises, except as far as the same may be needed for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because that same is immaterial, irrelevant and inadmissible.

B. P. FORSTER, Deputy Sheriff, duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A B. P. Forster.
- Q That is your name? A Yes.
- Q You are a physician, are you not? A Yes.
- Q Where do you reside at present, Indiana Territory?
- Q Do you hold any official position in your district? A Yes, I am President of the National Board of Health, Cherokee National Board of Health, and member of the National Board of Health of the Indian Territory and of the American Medical Association, those are some, and the most important positions I hold at this time.
- Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A I am.
- Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
- Q Your wife is a citizen? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you know D. W. G. Bricent? A I do.
- Q How long have you known him? A About twelve or fifteen years, about twelve years I should say.
- Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he resides for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do, I think.
- Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
- Q Do you know Samuel Taylor? A Yes.
- Q How long have you known him? A About six or eight years, don't know exactly how long, know of him for two years and personally I have known him about six or eight years.
- Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A I do.
- Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
- BY MR. MCKENNON:
- Q Sir, the charges made to the court, church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
- Q And how long a member of church? A Well now I say I think I do not know exactly how long.
- Q How's now he with all your friends? A Well, he has attended church there and he has been just as if a member of the church.
- Q You know I give the evidence before the grand jury court of which he was a member, and you know of it, do you not know of it?
- Q The report of the grand jury is the same as a court of law to the grand jury.
- Q Have had any conversation with him since? A Had no conversation before that and since that time.
- BY MR. MCKENNON:
- Q You know of any conversation between him and the grand jury?
- Q I will not say anything about that.
- BY MR. MCKENNON:
- Q I will not say anything about that.
- BY MR. MCKENNON:
- Q I will not say anything about that.

But no one saw your face but the regulation states that in the presence of the ship - A no one was of your ship.

Q Did you have any other witnesses and they remained silent?

A Yes, I had several witnesses.

Q How many witnesses did you have?

A I had three witnesses.

Q What were their names?

A The names of the witnesses were B. J. ... and ...

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q Did you have any special protection for your eyes? A Fall you.

A Yes, I had a pair of goggles.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q How long were you in the water?

A I was in the water for about 15 or 20
minutes.

Q "The character such as to preclude any such charge against him?" A Yes, sir.

BY MR. HUTTONS:

Q How long did you know Dr. Baker? A Two years.

Q What does he do there? A He was an old gentleman then, he lived right in the edge of Berryville, Dr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 75 or 76 years old, an old gentleman.

Q That was in 1894, say? A No sir, it was in '98 and '99, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from practice? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q Was he very old he never? A I don't know how much older he was, I don't know whether with the old gentleman.

Q He wasn't doing any business with anybody? A No sir.

Q Another character was named Miller in connection one way or the other way? A No sir, no sir.

Q The Miller family was a notorious moral group and they asked you ever know him then? A Yes sir, I never knew any good of him.

Q And the ever a man you had citizenship case he got or dealt to work it, because he was obviously a rascal; that's it ain't it?

A Well a great many of them got him.

Q It was a notorious thing that they put a bad case they would take him, it would sort of give a man a bad case to have Carpool around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never used anything about Dr. Baker's connection with citizenship matter? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his connection with some of the people of citizenship matter? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Dr. Baker case? A Yes sir,
I got to hear it all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That he got out from the first day they were admitted to the territory? A Well I don't know not from the first day,
I have heard it for a good while though.

Q Did you never know who they fixed it out? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family in there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.

Q One of a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the doctor's testimony any in court, Dr.
Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q That would you think of a man who would testify that he never knew that was single in 1895 when the youngest of his seven children was born in 1895, what would you think, would you think that was a stated one to be made by a man who was truthful? A - Well, naturally I wouldn't object to the question because it is really incompetent, but not based upon any of the admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

Q Do you think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? (No response.)

Q You know him in '98? A Yes sir.

Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite old, '98 and '99.

Q May I ask you that like no one else is to be in his category
 I don't know, do you know any one else who is like that?
 Q No, the ten or so, in fact, and rather from business than a well as all of a good deal, but none doing any business particular that I know of.
 Q He must have been twenty or thirty years from that time, is that no more by passing on.

BY MR. HARRIS, having first said those and being recalled, testified as follows:

BY MR. HARRIS:

Q Now, in your mind, I say in your mind, that is the man, Mr. Campbell, is it not?
 Q That is the man, is it not?
 Q Now, you say I - the other man, is it not?
 Q Also you know of each other, is it not?
 Q You know Mr. Campbell, don't you?
 Q Are you a friend of Mr. Campbell's, is that right?
 Q By friend, by acquaintance, is that right?
 Q Do you know J. M. C. Duncan, is that right?
 Q Now, have you known him, I say, is that right?
 Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives, the vicinity and vicinity of character, is that right?
 Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
 Q Do you know Marshall Taylor, is that right?
 Q Now, have you known him, I say, is that right or long?
 Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation was not.
 Q Is it good or bad? A Well, it is not good.
 Q Is it bad? A Well, I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Now, have Campbell's reputation be a bad, Mr. Harris, quite a good deal, when it is a very high one, is that right?
 Q And it kind of goes mostly with his political business?
 Q Yes, is that right, I know it, is that right?
 Q Campbell got no very bad citizens, is that right, through the rail, and they finally had him up about it, but a good deal of this about it, is that right?
 Q And you say that was not of Campbell's, but of his helping the Democrats in that, is that right, I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Democrats.
 Q And that that one of the principal cases that brought it into notoriety? A I don't know, I don't know that case of not, I know he had a great many cases.
 Q That was the thing, a thing that concerned the first party out, the old country, is that right? A I think that is what got the into the most trouble.
 Q I say before that like nobody had talked about Campbell one year or two, and it became rather general, that Campbell was handling money in political cases, and he got a bad reputation from that, is that right, I think that was the business, is that right?
 Q Now, Mr. Duncan's connection with his business, was it not of that sort, that he was now a partner with about it, is that right, is that right about it, is that right?
 Q You have heard that about Mr. Campbell, is that right, is that the name of the case, that had a bad reputation, is that right, is that a notorious case, is that right?
 Q Well, the fact of Mr. Campbell's reputation for reputation, has been somewhat given by his name, is that right, is that right, is that is that?

Q So they never had any business to deal with the ...
A No sir.

Q Now is you like to say A in '25 I live out on Dick Creek about 12 miles north-west of Florida.

Q Mr. Lawson, what number of your family came to the Cherokee Nation to file and prosecute the claim of your father, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?

A My brother from Texas got to at Tallahassee.

Q Tell his name? A Robert Dawson, they all know him by Nick.

Q When was that? A In '81 or '82 as well as I remember, or '82, I don't know which, it was in '81 or '82.

Q Did you file your claim at that time? A My brother was, yes, the application, my brother and Joel Hayes to make it out and file it. That is my understanding.

Q Joel Hayes, who afterwards was Chief of the Cherokee Nation?

A Yes sir.

Q Refer what court was that filed? A My understanding is he was clerk of the court; Bookings can tell me what court he was clerk of.

Q He was clerk of the Court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court; that's my understanding.

Q What was done about the case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.

Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Berryville, Arkansas.

Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I come back the next January, that was in September.

Q Was your brother Nick here then? A I don't think so now, I don't remember.

Q Will had he at any time of the court or sessions of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never met him any more until that case was decided.

Q You conducted the business then after that did you not? A Yes sir.

Q The case was finally determined in January 1887? A '87, yes sir, the 15th day as I remember.

Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.

Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one on record here? A I never heard of it if there was.

Q Was the judgment rendered in that case recorded in the record book of that jurisdiction or in the custody of the Indian Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know? A Yes sir, so far as I know, if there was any I never heard of it in that case.

Q You then know of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.

Q Was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. H. Howard.

Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.

Q Where did he live? A At Cherokee, or understanding.

Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never got in line before the Commission.

Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.

Q How much? A Fifty dollars.

Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never know it.

Q Tell them who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Bryant.

Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?

A Yes is my understanding.

Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.

Q What service did he render? A He was a lawyer, my brother he rendered any services, only he was at that time at Tallahassee, and he was before the Commission, charged at rendering any services.

or not I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.

Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A How I got a letter from Joel Bryant that he was going to Washington City and come to court down in January term and Campbell Taylor would see to my law before the court.

Q Did he say that he had engaged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend to it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.

Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.

Q Well what did you do then? A When from the time come I come down on the day to Washington here and I come over from here to Fort Gibson and I come down to see Uncle Houston he come here and stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over and deposit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston he go down over and the next morning after he come over the case was submitted.

Q Did he say it the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.

Q For you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, acting on the case.

Was Houston he go present with you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he submit his argument.

Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.

Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.

Q How long after he made his argument and submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; when we were drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted to be get up the cigars to the court and they stood in the house; after the decision was rendered I was to get up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to get up the cigars and I done so.

Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a cigar.

Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted my citizenship right and by the Commission.

Q What did you do about it then? A Why the clerk wrote me out my certificate.

Q That was that? A That was that.

Q What arguments did you make with Mr. Bryant about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our case; when he wanted me to pay, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.

Q What was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in town was to pay it.

Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for it.

Q Did your brother in town ever pay his fee of fifty dollars?

A Yes sir.

Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All he was to have; all he wanted.

Q You heard his wife say when he gave him the money at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you stay in the city before you went to the hospital, and how long did you stay there?

A I was in the city for about a week, and then I went to the hospital for about a month.

Q After that, did you go back to the city, and if so, for how long?

A I went back to the city for about a week, and then I went to the hospital again for about a month.

Q How long did you stay in the hospital, and how long did you stay in the city after that?

A I stayed in the hospital for about a month, and then I went to the city for about a week.

Q How long did you stay in the city, and how long did you stay in the hospital after that?

A I stayed in the city for about a week, and then I went to the hospital for about a month.

Q Well, A well I made several trips out here a different time, to Tahlequah before the commission, and back, three or four trips as well as I remember now, cost me 20 or 25 dollars each trip, as I remember about it.

Q Do you remember how many trips aside from the one which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Claremore to see A. B. Woodward.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went in a wagon down there.

Q You went through and employed George, went by railroad; what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 22 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember which it was; Joe Dawson, my brother, gave me the money, it was either 21 or 22 dollars.

Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, or any other that you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now; I can't call to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considerable poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.

Q Were there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I remember that Robert Dawson was better off than the others, that Dawson.

Q Do you know how much back Dr. Baker paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the mortgage debt and the Bryant debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and sixty dollars? A Yes sir, that he paid up on one trip and taken care of it with Joel Bryant when Joel Bryant was clerk of the Court before this James Court, I don't know what that cost him.

Q Care to he said took son to testify? A Yes, care to he said took to Texas, filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what is told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q You know whether they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A No, I don't know they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I came back home and left him at Tahlequah.

Q He had taken the testimony before you left him or after you left? A He taken it afterwards; that was my understanding.

Q Did your family only the one hundred sixty dollars that you now mentioned? A I think it was.

Q Was the expense of taking those witnesses up there? A Yes sir.

Q Was also furnished money now of the members of your family? A My father and father lived down in Berryville, he and my brother, my brother, my brother, we all lived together a few dollars each one, that's all.

Q You think the statement of S. C. Wright that in June 1862 you told him that it had cost you 100 dollars, did you not say such a thing to him? A I never did.

Q And that you paid one witness 200 dollars? A I never made any such statement.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation but went back to Arkansas and died there. A Well I don't know of any folks all lived here. That was the only house and that house.

Q Robert Brown, was he there, wasn't he with the doctor, did not? A No.

Q Did you hear the statement of the doctor Brown this morning, that about the time of the death of the doctor Brown, of a negro church at that time, was he with someone else is a introduction to him, and he talked him on the side, did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.

Q He says that your brother James Brown was 70 or 80 years old; was there any one of them living with you, or your father at that time of any such age? A No sir.

Q How long James Brown's name there belonging to your family?
A There was my uncle James Brown and a brother James Brown, the doctor there.

Q How old was your brother James Brown then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.

Q About what age? A Must have been 60.

Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.

Q That was the age of your brother Brown? A At that time

Q Yes sir, in 1865? A Yes sir, I don't know the date, but like that.

Q He was working to do with the doctor Brown then? A Yes sir.

Q Was he present at the time that the doctor Brown was under consideration? A No sir.

Q Was James Brown, your uncle James Brown, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.

Q He never was present? A No sir, if he had he would not have in testimony I never knew it.

Q The statement of the doctor of the doctor Brown was his case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Yes sir, I think James Brown and his brother James Taylor.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case of the doctor.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case at that time.

A It was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Was he at that time, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

A I don't know, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Regarding the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Did he ever see the doctor of the doctor of that time?

A No sir, I don't know.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Did he ever see the doctor of the doctor of that time?

A No sir, I don't know.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Did he ever see the doctor of the doctor of that time?

A No sir, I don't know.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Did he ever see the doctor of the doctor of that time?

A No sir, I don't know.

Q That was the case, was it not? A Yes sir, that was the case.

Q Robert Dawson didn't move here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.

Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.

Q Except himself? A Yes sir.

Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.

Q She has never moved here? A No sir.

Q Well all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the committee, rendered January 11th, 1892? A All but one.

Q What was the name of that one? A Mina.

Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.

Q Your sister? A Yes sir.

Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.

Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.

Q Was a Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Spears Court, her and two of my nieces.

Q What are their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.

Q What was one of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 and they was admitted back by the act of Council.

Q That is in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted, they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernon, they have now the same names as except Vernon, it is not, Tab Robinson married the wife, a niece of mine.

Q Now then you have any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two acts in '87 and '84 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting these three that you have just named? A Yes sir.

Q When? A My two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1892 I think it was; left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and saw Highways member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.

Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them? A Yes sir.

Q Where is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY MR. HICKENHORN: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council making an appropriation of 20,000 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the principal chief shall draw up warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated roll of 1890 by the Principal Chief."

This act was approved December 21, 1891.

Approval signed by Stephen Yemas, Assistant Acting Principal-In this list a part of the name of William E. Dawson for payment of $17.70, part of Marion Dawson, for a like amt. Are these the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir.

(This paper above introduced, is filed and made a part of the records in this case.)

Q Was there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relating to members of your family? A Yes sir.

Q Then? A In 1894.

Q That was that? A Allowing them their Strip money.

Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. MCKENNON: We offer in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed G. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 19, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Blasingame family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Leirie, Pearl, M'oa, Myrtle, Vinnie and Clifford: this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and whose names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of those named of $255.70.

Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.

Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.

Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.

Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of E. Dawson.

Q What was that? A That, I think it was in '84.

Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.

Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court. BY MR. MCKENNON: We now offer in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 9th, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, Jam Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q These now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same handwriting as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tulsequah, Cherokee Nation, September 15th, 1884.

E. Dawson, for his grand-children, No. 181.	}	G. H. Taylor,
Lula Douthett,		Att. Gen. Clark.
Dallas Douthett,
vs The Cherokee Nation.		Petition filed September 14th, 1884.

Case submitted by plaintiffs Sept. 14th, 1884.
Case submitted by Soliditors, Sept. 14th, 1884.
Continued by Petitioner Jan 22 1884 to September Court 1884.
Pr-Sub filed September 2nd 1884, by Atty Taylor and Revert
Submitted by defense Sept 9 1884.

And now on this the 14th day of September 1884 case of this case for final hearing, and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read, and considered by the Commission of Citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett are Cherokee by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

W. H. Spears, Dr. B.
John Lee,

John L. Adair,
Ch. Com'n.

Andrew Young,

Commission of Citizenship.

Q Now were there any other notions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?

A I don't remember of any others.

Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were asked the roll of 1886, in compliance with the request of the Dawes Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dawes Commission?

Q No, before the Cherokee Commission, is it, the roll of last of which John P. Hunter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of one at that time; this is what I understood.

Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by the Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1838 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.

Q You and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q You have all drawn Cherokee money awards, have you not?
A Yes sir.

Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the election in the case held under the treaty.

Q That treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Kiona.

Q In what year was that? A I believe it was last spring or this last fall.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes
sir.

Q What office have the members of your family held? A Deputy Clerk, under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District; I was a candidate once for Council in the Reform Party.

Q. Can any office of deputy clerk be held by any one else except a recognized citizen? A. Only by a citizen, yes sir.
Q. Is that all? A. (No reply).
Q. Have the children of members of your family attended the Cherokee schools, and been educated in Cherokee schools? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have the members of your family been all the while subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.
Q. Have they been tried for any offences against the law? Yes sir.
Q. And have they instituted their civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.
Q. And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A. Yes sir.
Q. Some of these cases have gone to the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.
Q. And were passed upon by that tribunal? A. Yes sir.
Q. Is there anything else? A. Nothing, now; I am sick this evening; I have got a headache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q. How old was your father Robert Dawson when he died? A. I don't know, I couldn't answer that.
Q. He was a very old man? A. Yes sir, he was getting tolerably old.
Q. Could you tell how much older he was than you? A. No I don't know.
Q. Mr. James Dawson in 1884 must have been a very old man, isn't he? A. Well he was old and he was feeble.
Q. Well you stated that he had become silly; was he naturally that way? A. He used to live in Texas; I didn't know him until after he came to the Territory.
Q. I say he had gotten so old, that was the occasion of that? A. I suppose so, the eldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty Peter, that's my understanding.
Q. And the eldest boy was John Dawson? A. We always called him Jack.
Q. Jack Dawson he was the oldest? A. Yes sir.
Q. Sam was the youngest? A. Sam Riley.
Q. He was the youngest one of the crowd? A. Yes sir.
Q. Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1883, I think he died in 1887, I won't be positive; that is as near as I remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.
Q. He nor none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A. No sir, not a one of them was.
Q. Not a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their father, and she was or anything about it? A. I don't think they was.
Q. Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of Big Joe Vann, wasn't it? A. I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.
Q. You were there when they took the testimony? A. I was there when Dr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 16 years ago.
Q. And nobody kin to the Rogers or Vann was ever called to testify in the case? A. Not as I know of.
Q. They were very well known Cherokee families in the country? A. I expect so, I don't know.
Q. And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify? A. Not that I know of, I don't know that my brother down here taken some of the evidence at Muskogee when I was not there; he first filed his claim.

Q You were spoken to by Dr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.

Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards. I went back after him and I was led into and I watched him the next time.

Q You had talked to your brother about that you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.

Q You had told him in general of you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.

Q You went off, come to Arkansas and left your brother at Tahlequah after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.

Q You and he however had come back and both to Tahlequah and home at different times, but you didn't happen to get together? A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.

Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.

Q And took his testimony a year or such a matter before ever you were admitted? A I think as well as I remember, yes sir.

Q Now the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of Joel Bryan? A I didn't get him, didn't see him.

Q The way he came into your case? A The way he came in to come in.

Q He did more in your case than Bryan did? A Campbell didn't do anything.

Q What did Bryan do? A I think he told my brother that evidence my brother employed him.

Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.

Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.

Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryan, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.

Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryan.

Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Duncan case I think so.

Q E. Brown, you remember, had his for his grand-children? A That is an understatement.

Q And your uncle James Brown had his in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it, James Brown and Bill Jackson got him, that was by understatement of who employed him.

Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by Dr. E. Taylor and was finally admitted by him September 22d, 1884, in the James Brown case? A I don't deny him being in that case.

Q You say he was employed in the E. Brown case? A I don't know who was in the E. Brown children's case.

Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally admitted by him, and Mr. Brown, was that a really riot? A That was in the James Brown case, wasn't it?

Q That was in the E. Brown grand-children's case? A Right?

Q No, in the Douthett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Mary Dawson case was he, and before the Admiralty court, the 4th of October, 1887, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.

Q And the same likewise of Riley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.

Q They are relations of yours? A Well I couldn't say.

Q James K. P. Dawson never to be a son of Riley Dawson? A Well if he is he is in connection then. There are so many Dawsons I don't know them all.

Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The lawyers have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.

Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.

Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of B. Dawson, and yourself, who were admitted to citizenship by the Texas Court? A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.

Q He resided, I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about these people.

Q Old Mrs. Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.

Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to take his work, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.

Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over there in a hack from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.

Q How didn't you come to this place up there joining Broughton's and work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.

Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.

Q And went back and got your wife and moved her to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Eureka and got my wife.

Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Sam Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.

Q You remember do you of being with him such of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Riley Dawson, and he was there.

Q In '60 sometime? A '62, I reckon, or '63. Somewhere along there, it was in time of the war.

Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.

Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came?

A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.

Q Who first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A No, it was me, and my brother together.

Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first conceived talking about it.

Q And went down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas; I went back to Texas and Georgia a time or two after the war.

Q About that time pretty everybody in Arkansas were trying to get some claim of kinship to Cherokee? A No sir, not at that time.

Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1880? A Well in '81 and '82 and '83.

Q Some men would go over there to get yourselves on the roll? A Just got to be everybody, but it wasn't at the time we were admitted there was not such talk about the rights here.

Q Well the whites had been admitted before that? A I suppose they had, there was not much talk about the white claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You did locate the books with the Shablers when you first came to Tallahassee in '01? A I think I did.

Q Your brother Buck Dawson stayed there, didn't he? A Yes sir.

Q Sam Shabler lived in the north end of town, did he not? A You sir, old German, lived in the south part of town.

Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your sheet? A I have heard that but I have forgot them.

Q You don't recollect any have not? A I don't recollect any have not sir.

Q In the Irene House case and Joseph Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that of record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find; we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.

Q Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.

Q Well the certificate there does not bear a certificate does it? A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.

Q Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of record? A I didn't hunt for any; House made for them.

Q None of you have ever been able to find any others? A No, not even find our petition.

Q Samuel B. Dawson applied to what is known as the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.

Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.

Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning? A Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never let them to talk that.

Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Hayes Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.

Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might have done it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew L. Dawson case before what is known as the Hayes Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.

Q Did you testify in the Piley Dawson case? A No sir, not that I remember.

Q Didn't you know of his being elected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.

Q You know that the commission never authenticated the roll of 1868, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tallahassee after some papers and came back and they talk about it.

Q You never found out that G. H. Taylor was a big record up until the present time have you? A (No response)

Q The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Why it shows here from the records; I would rather be excused for I don't know of it.

Q You were the man that had the last to do with it? A I never employed him, I can say that.

Q You are the man that had most to do with the records? A I don't know and it is father's case.

Q Didn't you testify for your uncle Jim Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he employed by Jim Dawson after you got your citizenship?

A Why not but the grand-children.

Q Jim Dawson's petition was filed in September last, after yours?

A Yes sir.

Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed his petition? A No, right have filed it for all I know.

Q Well you hadn't at that time fallen out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over his money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.

Q You never discovered that he was such a bad man until after your judgment was rendered? A I know he was not of good character.

Q Are you and Bryant, this man who testified for the Cherokee Nation, or speaking terms? A Hardly speak.

Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A Sometimes he does.

Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three months?

A I have not spoke to him until I met him there at the hotel the other day.

Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes sir.

Q When did he have the boy arrested? A Alon, in September or October, September I think.

Q When did Dr. Baker die? A I don't remember.

Q You don't remember how much older your father was than you?

A No, I don't know.

Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.

Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, '42 according to the record.

Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born?

A I couldn't say.

Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 20 or 25 years old. My understanding he married young.

Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.

Q Your father was born say, 25 from '42 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I remember about it.

Q There were two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.

Q Then you think there are only 2 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.

Q Dr. Baker gives his age 73 in '82, which would make him be born in '09, now he states that when he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1809, will make 1824, that your grandmother Anna Pruett, was a school girl; whereas from your testimony and that of the family history introduced here shows that your grandmother Anna Pruett was the mother of seven children, the youngest being born in 1827, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the statement of Dr. Baker; I don't know what he made such statement as that, I don't remember about it.

Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the members of the Court that admitted you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.

Q You know whether they were old or young men? A They were all men like; Steve Tenoe, I got acquainted with him afterwards, and Tommie Thompson, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

Q When did they come to this country? A Right away after they was admitted.

Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, spring or winter of '94.

Q You know Gideon Graner? A Yes sir.

Q Who is his mother? A Missouri Ann Graner, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.

Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Came from Texas.

Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.

Q You never knew them until they came to this country? A I never knew him.

Q When did you see him here? A I think they came here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '95.

Q He was married when? A I think he was.

Q Brought his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.

Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He come to my house and I never saw his family for-I don't know, for several years.

Q You understand he had a family? A Yes sir.

BY MR. LICKENHOFF:

Q Did you mean to say '84 or '94? A '84.

Q Did you see Gid Graner in '84? A '84, let me study, say '85.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.

Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I won't positive about it, but I think it was, as I remember how it was, I couldn't say positive.

Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizenized by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have just told here about going to school and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask the question again.

Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenized by courts of inferior jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they was.

Q They all played money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribunal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.

Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges as native born Cherokees.

Q Well I say there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know of there is.

Q You got acquainted with Mr. Dawson while you were up there during the meeting? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with him, then I saw him.

Q Mr. Pittman did the certification of Mr. Salter? A Yes sir.

Q Did you file any other papers before the court other than your petition and that is, make a statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.

Q How many times? A I don't remember any.

Q Will you please say whether you filed any papers before Mr. Dawson? A I got up to go to court, that was.

Q That is, before the court in Paris?

Q Yes Dawson? A Yes sir, E. Dawson.

Q That? A Yes sir, Mr. Dawson.

Q Well is that all he did for you? A I don't remember about it.

Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do that letter writing? A There was not any there.

Q Taylor nor Benge was not there then? A No sir.

Q That is what you paid him 20 or 25 dollars for, was writing this letter back to your brother? A I paid him for that claim.

Q How did you pay that? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly know when Taylor paid it a year or two after I moved out here and settled where I did, right have been 2 years. I don't remember.

Q There was Dawson living then? A I couldn't say there.

Q Was he still clerk of this Court? A No sir, not when that money was paid that is, when Carl Taylor said he paid it.

Q You did send Carl Taylor some money? A I sent some money to him for Joel Bryant.

Q You know Joel Bryant's address didn't you? A No, I don't know that I did, No I didn't send Carl Taylor any money, I gave it to him.

Q How much did you give him? A One hundred dollars.

Q When? A Right at that time; he claimed it from me as soon as we got our papers; he came onto me and claimed me for Bryant.

Q You never sent him any then after that? A No sir.

Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir.

Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterwards, a year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Carl Taylor money and he went onto my brother about it and he never paid him until we moved out to this country.

Q After all that you got him to attend to your uncle Jim Dawson's and the other relatives case? A The other parties did.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Implicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by cross-examination of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgment admitting papers of the James and Robert Dawson families were admitted, and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q One question I wanted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolf, Tamm and Thompson.

Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.

Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Grand Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated that they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?

Q Andrew J. Dawson, the claim to be from Missouri? A How do I know that?

Q You do not know their name do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to me.

Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.

Q Talk Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family?

A No sir, I don't.

Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.

Q The Barbara Dawson case? A I don't know her either.

Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.

Q If any of these persons are related to you or your family did you have any knowledge of it? A Not as I know of.

Q Joana Barber, do you know anything about them? A They claim to be kin to us.

Q Where are they from? A They are from Texas.

Q Do you know they are related to you? A They claim to be kin.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Tell you more for the record before the Commission? A Yes, they claim to be kinfolks of mine.

BY MR. McKEITHEN:

Q Irons House, who is that? A That is a cousin of mine, claims to be.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You testified for her didn't you before the Commission? A I think I did as well as I remember.

BY MR. McKEITHEN:

Q Before the Court that admitted James Dawson and family, who were the witnesses there? A Oliver Miller, from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q Who were the others? A Myself and J. Dawson and there was two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.

Q Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't remember their names? A Right.

Q Of those other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who were witnesses? A I said about me and J. Dawson was citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q You only proved that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Dawson before the Court? A Yes sir.

Q And then referred back to the decision in the Court before? A To prove that they were citizens, and he knew by folks before me ever since here.

Q Was he older than Dr. Baker? A About the same age.

Q Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the House case?

Q He was dead.

Q You are in the bar of your family in the Irons House case or the Joana Barber case or any of these cases that were tried before the House Commission in your affidavit ever had reference to the fact that Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case in '84 did you? A I don't remember about that.

Q You did have reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '85, didn't you? A I don't remember about that now.

Q You never had reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A I don't remember about it now.

BY MR. McKEITHEN:

Q Now just one other question: All of these papers in the original application and everything, as far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the James Dawson family, are lost or missing are they not? A I suppose they are, I don't know, I never saw them.

Q Have you tried to get copies of them? A Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

It is certified that same is certified until 4:30 P.M., to-wit: March 20th, 1902, it now being the hour for adjournment.

March 20, 1902, 2:30 P.M. J. H. DAWSON again on the stand, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKEITHEN:

Q Where was your brother Jack Dawson raised? A In Arkansas.

Q What County? A Carroll.
Q Where is town? A Bayville.
Q Did Dr. Baker live at Bayville? A Yes sir.
Q Was your brother intimately acquainted with him for any years?
A Yes sir.

Q Did he know him sufficiently to be acquainted with his character and habits of life? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know Josephine Pierce? A Yes sir.

Q Where daughter was she? A Robert Dawson's.

Q Is she the same identical person who is called Josie Pierce, and Josie Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Is there any other Josie Pierce or Josie Dawson or Josephine Pierce or Josephina Dawson? A I don't know but the one.

Q She was also called Josephine or Josie Kelly? A Yes, after she married her first husband was Pierce.

Q And her second husband? A Was Kelly.

Q There was another Josephine Dawson wasn't there, Salaska's wife?
A Yes they called her Joe, I suppose that's her name, I could not be positive; that was Rilo Dawson's daughter, August Salaska's wife.

Q She is much younger than your sister, Josephine, above referred to? A Yes sir, oh yes.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Where were you born, Mr. Dawson? A Carroll County, Arkansas.

Q You were how old you are? A 42.

Q 42? A I think so.

Q How many older children were there of your father and mother than yourself? A Three.

Q Which are they? A E. Dawson, Elias Dawson and Jasper Dawson.

Q You are the fourth child and the fourth boy? A Yes sir, fourth boy.

Q Where are your father and mother married, do you know, from family history? A I think it was in Arkansas, I couldn't be positive, I think they was.

Q Do you know how long your grandfather lived in Arkansas? A No sir I don't.

Q Don't know what year he came to Arkansas? A Only from statement.

Q Well what did they say about it? A I think they got there sometime in '30.

Q You know whether your father was born in Arkansas? No many of your grandfather's children were born there? A There was none of them born in Arkansas according to history and according to what he always told me, they were born in Tennessee.

Q He came there in '30, and all the other children were born on the Hiwassee River in Tennessee, before he ever came? A That is what I think, yes sir. No I am not positive about that.

They were from Tennessee, but either Dr. Baker lived there or my folks do or from there; I don't know as I remember that I ever heard my father say where he was born at.

Q In Tennessee so either; he said he was a good big boy when he came to Arkansas? A I don't know as I ever heard him say.

Q Do you know the difference in the ages of yourself and your three older brothers? A No I don't.

Q Don't know the time that comes in between you? A No I don't know; I think it is about two years though.

Q That would make E. Dawson about eight years older than you, probably? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q Did Josephine Pierce have a daughter who married Mr. Bogle?
A Yes sir.
Q What was her name? A I always knowed her by Bode Pierce; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.
Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?
A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Arton.
Q When? A I couldn't state.
Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.
Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.
Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined,
testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you?
(Showing witness document.)

- A Yes sir.
Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Benge near Fort Gibson.
Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.
Q What day of the week was that? A On Saturday.
Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.
Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?
A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.
Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.

- Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A He said

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.
Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you? A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.
Q What is your age? A My age is something close to 30 years old.
I a 25 past.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, or only known as Buck Dawson?

A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that along the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and he looking over them I saw this letter.

Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.

Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not.

(Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here applicants' attorney hands letter and envelope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. MCKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case; it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the care of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BENCE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge

Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know his handwriting? A I believe so.

Q Is that his handwriting? (Shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.

Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?

A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: I will offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSIONER (Examining letter)

Fort Gibson, C. N.

Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.

Dear Sir: I have been told to inform you that your case is before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and the Court is in your favor, so you all are citizens of the Nation. Mr. H. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the ruling at the Court. He will write to you also. I will charge you fifty dollars as my fee in your case. I will be glad to send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee

Respectfully yours,

S. H. Benge,

Attorney at law."

The envelope in which it was enclosed as follows:

Card in left hand corner, left hand:

"Return in ten days to C. H. Taylor,

Attorney at Law,

Post-dated: * Piquah, Jan 17 1881.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now explain that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hand's papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Among the same that you found the Benge letter? A Yes sir.
BY MR. MCKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to E. Dawson, dated at Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which is offered in evidence. (Applicant's attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSIONER: (reads letter)
Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation.
J. M. Bryan.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 20th inst in regard to our contract. After I had got the check on there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to deliver for me when the same came up. My wife I was to pay him 25 out of my 100. This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor. I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him 100- and that you had offered him a check on your bank in Texas. That 100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to. I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you. Please write to me.

Very respectfully,
Very truly,

J. M. Bryan.

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having said where that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A Oh, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I wouldn't say so because to find his age, never heard of his age or of course I don't know either way.

Q Every time occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I don't hear him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never talk about it at all.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: (reads letter)
Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation.
J. M. Bryan.

Q What is your name? A Ed Green.

- Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.
- Q How long have you been living in the Territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.
- Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '8? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.
- Q Where did you go then? A Wagner.
- Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.
- Q In business? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.
- Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.
- Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship commission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.
- Q What did he tell you about it? well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A He did.
- BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
- Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?
- Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.
- Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Benge was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him; possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.
- Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.
- Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.
- Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.
- Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted? A There were not any of them married.
- Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.
- Q Was she married at that time? In 1895? A Yes sir.
- Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

- Q Can you give us the exact date of your birth? A Yes sir.
Q Do so, please? A January 21, 1867.
Q And you came to the Territory when? A In 1887 or 1888.
Q You can't make that any more definite? A Well sir, it has been a good while ago, and I didn't have anything to cause me to.
Q Well I just want to know whether you did have or not? A No sir.
Q When were you married? A 1886.
Q You were married prior to coming here? A Yes sir.
Q Your first child born away from here? A Yes sir.
Q What is its name? A John W.
Q '86 you were married, and he was born about the spring of '87?
A Somewhere in 1887, I don't remember.
Q Prior to your coming here? A Yes sir.
Q That is the only child you had that was born away from here?
A No sir, Julius.
Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.
Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on". A Well now as to the first part of that question, there you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.
Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him?
A I never met him before; as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavit as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. NUTCHINGS:

- Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.
Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit; that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.
Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see we were all put off the rolls.
Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't say I did or I did not; I neither affirm it or deny the question.

Q You went to Captain Henge and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not, I said I was under the impression I wrote him.

Q You went to see Aaron Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.

Q And you went with Aaron Butler to see Jim Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.

Q And you either wrote or went to see everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.

Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q That was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof such as had appeared before the commission had been placed upon a doubtful card? A Yes sir.

Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.

Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.

Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1834, wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.

Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.

Q Well what other James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never know of but two James Dawsons.

Q The one here the other? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here; my grandfather, James Dawson.

Q Was there in '34 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old; that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?

A No sir.

Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that that time?

A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R. Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Low and Bill Jackson, son of Rich Jackson.

Q The one was V. A. Dawson? A That is William, my uncle.

Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.

Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.

Q You saw your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I knew him well.

Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After that, Mr. Hutchings.

Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '61 or '60, several years after.

Q Yes, old man when he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q About what age? A He was approximately 65 years old.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q When he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q That about 1881? A I think so, yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to the testimony of the witness elicited by interrogatories of Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, relating to his family, their history, etc., as being immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

James R. Dawson, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Your name is James R. Dawson? A Yes sir.
 Q Where do you live? A Atton, Indian Territory.
 Q What is your age? A 45.
 Q You are a physician are you not? A Yes sir.
 Q Was James Dawson, whose family was admitted in 1884, an uncle of yours? A Yes sir.
 Q Do you know what his age was at that time? A No sir, I do not, only approximately.
 Q State as nearly as you can? A At the time of the admission?
 Q Yes sir? A About 70, I don't know exactly.
 Q How old was he when he died? A I would suppose he was about 78.

Q What was your age in 1884? A I am 45.
 Q What year were you born, Doctor? A I was born in '45.
 Q That would have been '58? A Yes sir, that's right.
 Q That was your age then? A In '84?
 Q Yes sir? A About 28.
 Q Were you present at the time that James Dawson finally was admitted, or at any time while their case was pending before the Cherokee citizenship commission? A Not while the James Dawson case was on.
 Q You were present during your father's case? A I was there at the time.
 Q When was that? A The date I remember, when the case first came up, I don't know the exact date.
 Q How long were you there? A I was there about a week.
 Q Was that when it first came up you say? A Yes sir.
 Q Nothing was done? A No sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You never saw Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
 Q Did he and your uncle James go to talk about how they played together when they were boys? A My uncle Jim and Dr. Baker talk.
 Q Yes? A I never saw them together.
 Q They were about the same age? A Yes sir, I believe Dr. Baker was 15 years older probably.
 Q Dr. Baker must have been mistaken about his own age? A Certainly, that's all I know about his age.
 Q The Doctor had been particularly talked a deal of looking for at the time he was over here of his citizenship application? A No sir, not as I know anything about.
 Q He had been about 70 then? A I couldn't tell you, he was an old looking man.
 Q Your uncle Jim is now about 70? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.

Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 35.

Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.

Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?

A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 17th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote G. W. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him. I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in; that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I know, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summoned him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that is he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length; I asked him what he knew about it; of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him.

Well he talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand; I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that stand and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by explanation, but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I supposed they did know about the case.

With reference to S. H. Bengo, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. C. Starr over to S. H. Bengo's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 15, in the W. N. and J. W. Shoemaker case, and their descendants. I had heard that Mr. Bengo knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemaker case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit; and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases, and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit, in the Shoemaker case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Bengo knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seeking anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, or counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. C. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and

I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuasion that I brought to use.

Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuasion? A Yes sir.

Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for these parties?

A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.

Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

I, H. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly reported the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) H. D. Green.

I, Arthur G. Evans, being duly sworn, state that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I copied the foregoing, and that the same is a true and complete copy of the original.

All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. L. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Techee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Erears Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1893 and 1894, Robert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1885, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1894 and 1895, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1893 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1894, John Dawson on the pay roll of 1894, Joseph Dawson on the pay roll of 1893, 1894 and 1895, Ella Dawson and W. A.

Dawson on the pay roll of 1882, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1884.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 324, D 580, D 581, D 584, D 588 and D 835.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1886.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis H. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Alfred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were born at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1884, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Alfred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1886.

Article 2. Citizens who married under a Cherokee law in a State and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 23, 1881, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and heretofore named are the issue of that marriage. The eldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Len Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William G. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898.

Paragraph 9, section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides:

"No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William H. Dawson, Francis H. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew J. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1881, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the named children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 300, D 352, D 358, D 365, D 402 and D 403.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1868. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Bilawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Bilawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 25, 1895, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. The

These white children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1880, and the white parent roll of 1884. My Salawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1880, and Oscar Salawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Hannie Dawson, nee Saugher, was married to the said John W. Dawson on September 2, 1884, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Katherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, August Salawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1889, and Sarah F. and Hannie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 598, D 360 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are recognized on the Cherokee census roll of 1880. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

George H. Dawson and Orie H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the time of their admission to citizenship, and they are here identified as the children

Census roll of 1898.

Thomas F. Dawson was married on April 24, 1899, to Allen A. Kilsch, and Marie J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orle H. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Belle York, and Ruff R. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas F. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces ones numbered D 408, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie Akin) and Nancy J. Hogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898.

Mellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 18, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Myrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Mellie Pierce is mentioned on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mrs Gray was married to John B. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Ocell and Walton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Ora Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 8, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1901.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Ora Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akin was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1888 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akin, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbers D 478, D 479, D 480 and D 481.

Joseph E. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation at Washington, D. C. He was married to Mary Dawson on May 21, 1895, and they have three children.

gether since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Ella Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1886, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the application of Nellie Dawson and those claiming through her and references have been made to D 518.

The evidence shows that Nellie Dawson, formerly Dumas, is identified as the Nellie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Hollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Hollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 8, 1898, and Vinnie O. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 3, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1893. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claimants through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 436, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 609, D 617, D 622 and D 627.

The evidence shows that John Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard F. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. John Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard F. Dawson are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee Marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1880, to the said Xona Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William C. Dawson on November 18, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert S. Dawson was married on February 18, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogove and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1898. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella D. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Mellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis H. ... of ...

said in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 493), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Rosa Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Robert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1885; Alice Dawson since 1888, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John V. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 18, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Iowa in 1884, and has lived with her since that time. John V. and Robert L. Graham are the issue of the above marriage. John V. Graham, and other persons mentioned are identified as the children of John W. Graham and Missouri Dawson.

ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard T. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spiekerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John T. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John T. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1886, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1884, and has lived with her since that time. Tomp, V., and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the heretofore said marriage. John T. Graham, his wife and two children are identified as the Cherokee Nation cases numbered 2084.

Joe E. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892, to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe E. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green F. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 125, D 478, D 500, D 520 and D 527.

The evidence shows that Green F. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1887 to the said Ella Dawson. She had been previously married to her in Texas before she came to the Cherokee Nation.

citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Toshie A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lenox, formerly Jackson are the children of said Ella Dawson, now Ella Jackson. Flora Harmon, Toshie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Ella Jackson claims to have been married in 1888 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commissioner.

to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and heretofore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Toshie A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William C. Lenox, and his wife Fannie Lenox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 356.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Nellie Bright, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and heretofore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been possessed by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is derived in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 23, 1898 (30 Stat., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 715, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene W. and Willburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1856, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1898. On September 22, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flourney nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flourney was recognized as legitimate in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on November 11, 1898. Of the children born to said Henry T. Richardson and Kitty Flourney nee Dawson, the said Henry T. Richardson and Kitty Flourney nee Dawson were the parents of the said Henry T. Richardson and Kitty Flourney nee Dawson.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Flournoy was born in 1895 and was living at the date of this application. Della F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 26, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Teranna Welley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Willie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the following applicants: Mrs. J. W. ...

ations are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Miram F. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 15, 1884, to Lula P. Douthitt, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 15, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Miram F. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula P. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 15, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonzo M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 17, 1891, to Laverna A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Laverna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonzo M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1896.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Albert T. Morgan, is the daughter of the Paddy Richardson who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894. She was born to Paddy Richardson at a meeting of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. She was admitted to citizenship by the said Council on December 1, 1894.

identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John E. Fishback is the son of Laverne Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1886.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1889, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverne A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula F. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John E. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Fletcher Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children embraced in this decision, and heretofore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be admitted by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or entitled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Council as to the citizenship of the said persons and the family was rendered by the said Council on the part of said persons.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and rest upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1881, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and J. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. C. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The hearing was continued several times before final decision. J. H. Brown appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some time he notified Francis H. Brown that the case shall be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1882, and that the same shall be decided at that time. The case was taken up at that time and the Commission decided in favor of the Dawsons.

would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel H. Benge to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1883, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Toak Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission re-opened the case, but not upon motion of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Dawson was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Toaker and Toiber. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court signed the verdict of the case. He says when any large citizenship cases came up that he interviewed F. M. Dawson at the residence of Dawson, and that he had a conversation between them in which Dawson said to Taylor, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if that is the case, it will be all right." Next morning Taylor was called to the court and he says that he was called to the court, when he said that he was not an attorney in the case.

Thomas B. Dabeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1883, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Gilbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 65 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go to Rome, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into the question of money in connection with evidence in this case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard establishes, if anything, that the facts are not as stated above and that Dr. Baker would not be a witness in this case.

many before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Benge stated that Tosh Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners, states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker, seems, however, to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McKennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1883, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Braught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1881 or 1882, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever get in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with Jim James Dawson in 1882, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Texas Commission were corrupted by any substantial use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to ascertain, the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for some other purpose. F. M. Dawson gave a substantial amount of money to the Dawsons for the purpose of getting them in.

before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Dunson, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Dunson signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Dunson testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or deception in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Such evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawsons' family, claiming from the same source, have been denied citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by the Dawsons' ancestors. The Dawsons' ancestors, however, are not shown to be of Cherokee blood, and the Dawsons' claim is not shown to be of Cherokee blood.

fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Texas Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1863, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts, applies with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1863; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1863, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been procured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature has power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal, which may be authorized to investigate and decide upon the same.

by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that, enrolled as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of said Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress, and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of this Commission that, for the reasons heretofore stated, the applications for the enrollment of Arizona Allred and William C. Allred, (embraced in D 835); Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, (embraced in D 827); Orlie Jackson, Lizzie Jackson, Jessie Jackson, Ray Jackson, and Eliza Jackson, the children of William and Lizzie Jackson, (embraced in D 830); James Lowe, May Lowe, Zelma Lowe, Roberta Lowe and Rosa Lowe, (embraced in D 839), as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that the applications of Lizzie Jackson, widow of William Jackson, (embraced in D 830), and George A. Mabry (embraced in D 979), as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied, in accordance with the provisions of the law heretofore quoted, and it is so ordered.

As hereinbefore stated William Pierce (D 409) and Cecil Dawson (D 558) and Green W. Jackson (D 395), died prior to September 1, 1902. It further appears from affidavits, made a part of this record that Lizzie and Margaret Graham (D 1128) have died since the date of the application for their enrollment and prior to September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, ordered that the applications for the enrollment of said William Pierce, Cecil Dawson, Green W. Jackson, Lizzie Graham and Margaret Graham be, and the same are hereby dismissed.

February 1st

1902

John Dawson,

Wagon, Indian Territory

Sir:-

You are hereby notified that the application of... yourself, your wife and nine minor children

for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 17th day of March, 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

Thomas P. Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself and his minor child, Marice Dawson, as citizens by blood.

D. 530, Group 111, page 10.

Orle H. Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself and his minor child, Burr R. Dawson, as citizens by blood; also for the enrollment of his child, James W. Dawson, who was born subsequent to the date of his original application.

-----

John Dawson, (Group 111, page 1) was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, January 11, 1883. He was married to Sarah J. Dawson nee Wood, October 11, 1871. He was admitted to citizenship by the Tehee court. The names of all the parties applied for by John Dawson, except those of James U. and Vergal C. Dawson, appear on the 1896 Cherokee roll. John Dawson's name does not appear on the 1880 roll.

Thomas P. Dawson, (Group 111, page 7), is a son of John Dawson, who was admitted January 11, 1883. He was a minor when his father was admitted. He was married April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Allison, and the minor child for whom he applies is the issue of that marriage.

Orle H. Dawson, (Group 111, page 10), is a son of John Dawson, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Tehee Court, January 11, 1883. He was a minor when his father was admitted. December 28, 1899, he was married to Addie Dawson nee York, and the minor children for whom he applies are the issue of that marriage.

The evidence in this case shows that John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J. Dawson, have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1833; that Orle H. Dawson has resided there since 1833; and that Thomas F. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1833.

The Commission in its decision of December 23, 1902, held that all of the applicants above named were entitled to enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee nation--Sarah J. Dawson as a citizen by intermarriage and the other applicants as citizens by blood.

Attention is respectfully invited to office report of even date, relative to Group 1. of this case, and for the reasons therein stated the office believes that the decision of the Commission should be approved, except as to Sarah J. Dawson, who applies for enrollment as an intermarried citizen. The rights of intermarried Cherokees being before the Court of Claims for findings and an opinion, her application should not be passed upon at this time.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) W. A. Jones,

Commissioner.

March 31, 1904.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

February 25, 1903, you transmitted the record in the matter of the applications of John Dawson, et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation. The record in said case was consolidated with that of Francis M. Dawson, et al.

In your decision of December 23, 1902, you disposed of the applications in the Dawson case by groups. Group 3 will be considered herein.

This group includes the application of John Dawson and those claiming through him, and embraces cases designated by you as D. 578, D. 360 and D. 530.

The application of John Dawson, D. 578, was made October 15, 1900, for the enrollment of himself and his minor children, Robert B., Iola M., Lemuel H., Rosa B., Charles B., Mattie J., Jennings B., and James U. Dawson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and for the enrollment of his wife, Sarah J. Dawson, as a citizen thereof by intermarriage. Subsequently an affidavit was filed for Vergal C. Dawson, the ninth child of said applicant.

The said John Dawson was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Texas court by its decree of January 11, 1883. He is identified upon the Cherokee rolls of 1883, 1884, 1894 and 1896. His wife, Sarah J. Dawson, is a white woman and is identified upon the census roll of 1896. They were married October 4, 1871, and have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883. The seven elder children named above are identified upon the census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with your Commission. The residence of all the children is considered to be that of their children.

The application of Thomas P. Dawson, D. 360, was made September 20, 1900, for the enrollment of himself and his minor child, Marice J. Dawson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. Both of these applicants are identified upon the census roll of 1896 and the former was a minor when his father, the said John Dawson, was admitted to Cherokee citizenship. Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. His child resides with him.

The application of Orle H. Dawson, D. 530, was made October 4, 1900, for the enrollment of himself and his minor child, Burr R. Dawson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation. A subsequent application was made for James W. Dawson, a second child. Orle H. Dawson, whose name appears upon the census roll of 1896, was a minor when his father, the said John Dawson, was admitted to Cherokee citizenship. On December 28, 1898, he was married to Addie York. The children named above are the issue of that marriage and are identified by birth affidavits on file with your Commission. Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883. His minor children reside with him.

In your decision of December 23, 1902, you held that all of these applicants are entitled to enrollment.

In his report of October 16, 1903, relative to group 3, a copy of which is inclosed, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that your decision be approved except as to the application of Sarah J. Dawson, who applies for enrollment as a citizen by intermarriage.

The attorney for the Cherokee Nation protests against the enrollment of all of these applicants claiming that the decree of the Cherokee court of January 11, 1883, was obtained through fraud. His contention is considered untenable in the light of the opinion of the Assistant Attorney General of February 18, 1904, a copy of which was furnished you on February 24, 1904.

The Department concurs in your decision concerning those applicants who claim by blood. No action will be taken at this time relative to Sarah J. Dawson, who claims by intermarriage, inasmuch as the right of such persons to enrollment in the Cherokee Nation is now under consideration by the Court of Claims.

Respectfully,

(Signed) Thos. Ryan,

Acting Secretary.

- (1896 Roll, Page 461, #898, Clarence Dawson, Delaware District)
- (1896 Roll, Page 461, # 899, Council Dawson, Delaware District)

The name of Joseph R. Dawson appears upon the census roll of 1896: The name of his wife, Florence Dawson also appears upon the census roll of 1896, and the names of his children, Clarence Council, Elmer and Cleo appear upon the census roll of 1896, and he presents satisfactory proof of the birth of his youngest child, Rufus. He avers that he was married to one Florence Jackson in the year 1886, they all being duly identified according to the page and number of the rolls as indicated in the testimony, and makes satisfactory proof as to their residence.

Now comes the Chefokee Nation by its representatives, and contests the rights of the said Joseph R. Dawson, his wife and children, as to their Cherokee citizenship, and by reason of said protest, final judgment as to the admission of the applicant, his wife and family will be suspended, and their names will be placed upon a Doubtful Card, his wife as an intermarried citizen, and himself and children as Cherokee citizens by blood.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

In the matter of the application of Joseph R. Dawson et al.
for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Supplemental testimony on behalf of Florence Dawson.

Appearances:

Applicant present in person;
J. L. Baugh, Cherokee Representative.

Florence Dawson, being duly sworn by Commissioner Hedges,
testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Florence Dawson.
- Q What is your age? A 37.
- Q Your postoffice? A Afton.
- Q What was your father's name? A T. W. Jackson.
- Q Is he living? A No, sir.
- Q When did he die? A The 19th day of last March.
- Q What is your mother's name? A Ellen Jackson; I think they put it down Ella though.
- Q What was your mother's name before she married Jackson? A Her name was Ellen Dawson.
- Q The records of this Commission show that Green W. Jackson and his wife Ella, or Ellen, applied to be enrolled as Cherokee citizens at Vinita on the 22nd of September, 1900; are you the daughter of the said Green W. and Ella Jackson? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where were you born? A Texas.
- Q What is the date of your birth? A The 11th day of December.
- Q What year? A '63.
- Q Then on the 14th of September, 1901, you would be 38 years of age; you were born in '63 were you? A Yes, sir, '68 I guess it was,
I made a mistake, some said it was '62, some said it was '63, and uncle said it was a mistake, said I was born in '63.
- Q Do you recollect about your father and mother being admitted by the Cherokee Council to Cherokee citizenship? A Yes, sir.
- Q Was your name in that certificate? A Why I don't know whether it was or not, I wasn't present at the time.
- Q What did your mother tell you about your birth? A '63 she told me.
- Q Now when did you remove to the Cherokee Nation from Texas? A Let me see, it is in the bible, I never thought to look, I have been here 18 or 19 years, I forget exactly, it was the 11th day of March,
I have forgot the date, '83, I reckon it must have been, I am not certain.
- Q Were you married? A No, sir, I married in the Cherokee Nation.
- Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously since that time? A Yes, sir.
- Mr. Baugh: What place in Texas did your folks live at? A Garveys county.
- Q What was the name of the postoffice? A Osage.

Commissioner: The records of this Commission show that on the 20th of September, 1900, Joseph R. Dawson applied for the enrollment of himself, his wife, Florence, and five children. At that date applicant made satisfactory proof as to his admission to Cherokee citizenship, and said in his examination that his wife Florence was a Cherokee citizen, but at that time made no proof of her having been regularly admitted. As shown in the testimony taken at that time, the name of his wife Florence is identified upon the census roll of 1896. Now comes said Florence and states that she is the child of Green W.

Jackson and Ellen Jackson, and the records of the Commission show that Green W. Jackson applied for the enrollment of himself and his wife, Ellen, as Cherokee citizens by blood, on the 22nd day of September, 1900, being enrolled upon card D-593. Applicant avers that she does not recollect whether her name was included in the certificate of admission issued to Green W. and Ellen Jackson. In the application of the said Green W. Jackson for the enrollment of himself and Ellen, satisfactory proof is made as to him and his said wife having been admitted to Cherokee citizenship. No proof is made nor presented to the effect that the Florence Dawson, nee Florence Jackson, was at that time admitted, the certificate of admission not now being in the hands of the Commission. Applicant avers that she was born in the state of Texas in the year 1863, but proof as to the admission of her father, Green W. Jackson, and her mother, Ellen, is to the effect that they were admitted by the Cherokee Council on the 14th day of September, 1868. The supposition is that the applicant, Florence, wife of Joseph R. Dawson, was a minor at that time. ~~When~~ She makes satisfactory proof as to her residence; she will be listed for enrollment as a Cherokee citizen upon a doubtful card, awaiting the further consideration of the Commission, and the judgment in the matter of the former application of Joseph R. Dawson for the enrollment of his wife, the said Florence, is amended to the effect that the said Florence will be listed for enrollment upon a doubtful card as a citizen by blood instead of a citizen by intermarriage.

(DAWSON CASE)
Cherokee D-364.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., October 3, 1902.

In the matter of the application of Joseph R. Dawson for the enrollment of himself and children, Clarence E., Council J., Elmer J., Cleo, Rufus T., and Edgar Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Florence Dawson, as a citizen by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation; he being sworn and examined by the Commission, testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Joseph R. Dawson.
Q What is your age at this time? A I guess 52.
Q You are an applicant for enrollment as a citizen by blood are you?
A Yes sir.
Q What is your wife's name? A Florence.
Q She is an applicant as an intermarried citizen? A Yes sir.
Q What is her age at this time? A I think thirty-eight.
Q When were you married to your wife Florence? A I think it was about 16 or 17 years ago.
Q Where were you married? A I was married close to Ocumma, in Delaware District.
Q Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q Were you ever married prior to your marriage to Florence your wife?
A Yes sir.
Q How many times had you been married? A Once.
I guess I made a mistake and Needles asked me a question of that kind and he scared me and I think I made a mistake.
Q You think you answered that incorrectly, you want to correct it?
A Yes sir.
Q Was your first wife dead when you married your wife, Florence? A I don't know.
Q Had you been divorced from your first wife when you married Florence? A Yes sir.
Q Did you file a copy of your decree of divorce with the Commission?
A No sir, I never thought of it; I got off and I forgot my children's names. I will have to write to Berryville, Arkansas and get it.
Q Now has your wife, Florence, ever been married before her marriage to you? A No sir.
Q You are her first husband? A Yes sir.
Q And she is your second wife? A Yes sir.
Q Have you and your wife, Florence, lived together as husband and wife continuously from the time of our marriage up until the present time? A Yes sir.
Q Never have been separated during that time? A No sir.
Q You were living together on the first day of September, 1902? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A I come here in, I believe, in the summer of '83 after I was admitted in January. I lived here all the time.
Q You have lived here in the Cherokee Nation ever since you came there in 1883? A Yes sir, right around Afton.
Q Has she lived in the Cherokee Nation all the time since you and she were married? A Yes sir.
Q She never lived out of the nation since you were married to her?
A No sir.
Q Are these children Clarence E., Council J., Elmer J., Cleo, Rufus T., and Edgar, your children by your wife, Florence? A Yes sir.
Q Are all these children living at this time? A Yes sir.
Q And have these children lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since their birth up to the present time? A Yes sir, right at home with me.

2-Joseph R. Dawson et al.

The undersigned, being duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and correct transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINITA, I. T., SEPTEMBER 17th, 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and being sworn by Commissioner, C. R. Brookinridge, testified as follows:

- Q What is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am fifty eight years old.
Q What is your Postoffice? A Ocoosa.
Q What District do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Who is it you want to have enrolled? A Myself and family.
Q Your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q How many children? A Six.
Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1883.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.
The applicant presents a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 14th day of January, 1883, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.
Q That is your name is it? A Yes, sir.
This is recognized as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated.
Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission?
A Yes, sir; in Delaware District ever since.
Q Give us the name of your wife? A Katie Dawson.
Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A No, sir.
Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.
The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend R. W. Spudlock, in Carroll County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County.
These papers are filed herewith.
Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
Q By act of the Commission or Council? A No, sir; she was placed on the rolls.
Q On the census rolls? A Yes, sir.
Q Give us the names of your children, please? A Lula.
Q How old? A Seventeen.
Q Next child? A Ray.
Q How old? A Fifteen.
Q Next child? A Joe de Jane.
Q How old? A Fourteen.
Q Next child? A Jacob Levy.
Q How old? A Ten.
Q Next child? A Mark A.
Q How old? A No is what I believe.

How old is your child? A She is four years old.

How many children? A Yes, sir; six of them. I have others, but they are not here.

Are they married? A No, sir.

Are they over age? A Yes, sir.

- (1896 Roll, Page 461, 1898, Laura Alberta Dawson, " " )

Q Is this Lula or Luly? A Luly.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children:

Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship, by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1893; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission; she has never been remarried according to Cherokee law; she has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896. They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment :
of F. M. Dawson and others as :
Cherokee citizens. :
-----

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. S. Denison in the Gray-Halsoll building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. S. DENISON:

- Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 53 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
- Q How long have you resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
- Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
- Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
- Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
- Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
- Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tohee, Wolf and myself, Tohee was President of the Court.
- Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
- Q Did you have a clerk? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
- Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission besides yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
- Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two sessions, and there was one session each year.
- Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
- Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
- Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

- ...gments of the Court or Commission pronounced in secret.
- Q In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
- Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony, we went into secret session.
- Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will call exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by K. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?
- A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.
- Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.
- Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.
- Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?
- A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.
- Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of M. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?
- A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.
- Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize the signature attached thereto?
- A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.
- Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. H. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation by that Commission?
- A I remember F. H. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.
- Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?
- A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.
- Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?
- A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood Cherokee.
- Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?
- A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.
- Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. H. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?
- A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was any by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

- Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?
- A Yes, sir.
- Q When Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?
- A No, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I do not sign it, if it is the original I sign it.
- Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, don't you know that in almost every case you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled ex parte evidence out, as well as I remember.

Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence? Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.

Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?

A Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?

A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.

Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?

A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.

Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?

A No, sir.

Q When you go ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?

A No, sir.

Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.

Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.

Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

Q I don't know that they did, particularly.

How would your court determine when they claimed descent through the Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

Q By the evidence they produced.

Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.

Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Bengo.

Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.

Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for deciding this case? A No, sir.

Q How long were you considering the case altogether?

A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time sitting in testimony.

Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?

A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.

Q Well the Court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence as closed?

A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember who the interpreter the Commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case.

A Sir name was Reese, I forgot his given name.

Q Do you now whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

Northern District,

I, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing two pages, consisting of this one and the preceding one which is attached hereto, is a true, complete, and perfect copy of the transcript of the judgment of the Commission on Citizenship as the same was presented to me during the examination of T. F. Thompson as a witness, and identified by me at the time by writing thereon "Exhibit A" to testimony of T. F. Thompson, L. T. N. - N. P. Oct. 4, 1900." The foregoing copy having been carefully compared by me with the said original.

Given under my hand and seal of office as such Notary Public, this 4th day of October, A. D. 1900.

D. W. C. Duncan being produced by the applicants after being sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

- Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Viola, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
- Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1871.
- Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
- Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, Cherokee by blood.
- Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
- Q If you remember the names of the members of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Temo, I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson.
- Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
- Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They are supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship is based upon their blood.
- Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. B. Bragden, Clerk, and of John L. McAir Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
- Q Then, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
- Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.
- Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
- Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
- Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
- Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
- Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Temo and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Thomas Temo and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants on to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?

A In all instances here it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Teehee's and Wolf's names and T. F. Thompson to sign his own name.

Q You didn't catch exactly by idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?

A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was put red upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.

Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. H. and others whose names are mentioned in the paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. H. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?

A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?

A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the clerk.

Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Teehee's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?

A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.

Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?

A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existence or not?

A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.

Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?

A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recollect his first name.

Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A I do.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
INDIAN TERRITORY,
NORTHERN DISTRICT,

I, LEWIS T. MARTIN, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, do certify that the foregoing depositions of T. F. Thompson and D. W. C. Duncan were taken before me at the time and place and in the action mentioned in the caption, and said T. F. Thompson and D. W. C. Duncan, having been first by me sworn that the evidence they should give in this matter should be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and that their statements were reduced to writing by me on the typewriter in their presence; the claimants being present in person and by their attorney G. B. Denison, and the Cherokee Nation being represented by W. T. Hutchings Esquire its attorney,.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of
FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings are had:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:

The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existence anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is

- Q That is Samuel B. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
- Q Any other ones? A That is all I know anything about.
- Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
- Q Didn't you get Jack displaced with John? A No, it was John; I have heard my father speak of him.
- Q Then they have seven children? A I never saw them all.
- Q How many of them did you ever meet? A I met Uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson, a brother of James and Riley and Betty; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi I think.
- Q Do you find what your family history says that the father of your grandmother, Fannie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
- Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great-grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
- Q What is that other man, Oliver Killarhat testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
- Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker? A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
- Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my father got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
- Q Were you present? A No, sir.
- Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, do you find any mistake in Dr. Baker's statement there? A I could not say all of that was correct or not, part of it is correct.
- Q What part is correct? A My about knowing the family over there.
- Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
- Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
- Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
- Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
- Q What name? A B. Dawson.
- Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
- Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
- Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now.
- Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
- Q What is his name? A James.
- Q And you three brothers? A Yes, sir.

Dr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

The objection of an attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for a divorce serves examination.)

Witness, being duly sworn, testified as follows on the above-stated motion:

Under section 21 of the sixth law as it is commonly called Act of June 22, 1838, the officers of the said nation shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and for papers and persons, and the courts in which the authority to enforce obedience, the law shall be enforced, shall have power to say as they see fit, and shall have power to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the court will report the facts to the United States court and let the court decide whether or not you are vit in your legal privileges. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming that what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the 1st question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States court do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the court or to any of the officials of the court; if you refuse to answer the question as to whether or not there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any person or persons, I understand that you refuse to answer that question, and I direct that you answer Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, I direct that you answer that question, do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States court as it seems to come under the provision of law relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently constitutes a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I mention you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. Hutchings' affidavit is not subject and have not objected to the witness appearing as a witness of his privilege as an attorney, or for any other cause, but they only want to object to the lawfulness or irrelevance of the testimony, with the privilege of objecting upon the testimony given by the witness.

COX'S DEEDS

Q You still refuse to answer the questions of the attorneys in the case to Mr. Cox's deed, do you refuse to answer the questions, do you refuse to answer until further order of the court? A Yes, sir.

It will next fall to the court to decide whether or not the law is applicable to the facts of the case. The court will report the facts to the United States court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I mention you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS H. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Applicants:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows
on part of the Cherokee Nation:
W. T. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
- Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
- Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
- Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
- Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1808, I am the only one living that signed that treaty; President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
- Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
- Q State your connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Pence citizenship court? A Mr. Dawson came down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1881 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after that we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the court for trial, and the court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson.
- I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our case is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatsoever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, my wife got to talking about the case and I told him: "It was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Dawson was the man to punch", but he was not the man to punch.
- Q What position did Dawson occupy? A He was clerk of the Court.
- Q How long did he stay there, sir? A He was there for some time.
- Q How many of these could speak English at all? A One.
- Q Which one? A That's all.
- Q Who was the attorney that represented the Nation in those cases? A The Sanders.

Q What was his given name? A Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.

Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.

Q Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A He said it had cost him a right smart.

Q Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventually and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKINNON:

Q Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man come to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before the committee. I was not a witness but that is what I don't for him.

Q That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A Now, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.

Q Well, after the Daves Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallican down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?

A Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.

Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he said that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his mother, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.

Q Where? A It was some time ago.

Q Where in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort
Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.

Q Well, did you here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?

A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-

Q What is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.

Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)

A Yesterday I spoken.

Q Who came to take this? A Mr. Starr.

Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.

Q How had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.

Q Are you in a way that they knew that you know this?

A No, sir.

Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with people, he said he talked with me some good many times, if I ever saw him, I want to know he was in Tahlequah.

Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr know.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said "what case," and he went to work on the Gibson case and Dawson case.

Q And thereafter you made that judgment? A He said he wanted to qualify me.

Q Are you certain Judge [redacted] after the rendition of that judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to For, Gibson with you?

A Yes, sir; we was together.

Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tarlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.

Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?

A No, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.

Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.

Q How did they pay you? A Paid me the money.

Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young fellow, paid me some.

Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.

Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tarlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.

Q I will ask you if Mr. F. W. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you, if I ever got a letter or Buck whatever you might say, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over in Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.

Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.

Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundred dollars.

Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.

Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered?

A In his case?

Q Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollection there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick, Tolson and Wolfe.

Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.

Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.

Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.

Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the

I don't know I was there about that time.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A No, sir.

Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Nathan Proctor)?

A I don't know whether the judges received any or not.

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

G. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held in contempt of the Court.

Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being the case of course I would make a statement.

Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you know of, whether they were good ones or bad ones?

A No, the only thing that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.

Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.

Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.

Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.

Q Which Dawson was you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.

Q Well, what did you reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to court.

Q Did you find Dawson after supper? A Yes, sir; I found him and bring Dawson down and I did not; Dawson was in court.

Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

- Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
- Q What was said if naything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
- Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
- Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
- Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
- Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
- Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
- Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
- Q Could they speak english at all? A Teehe could talk a little, talk some.
- Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted the attorneys would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
- Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
- Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
- Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I remember he went out with me.
- Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
- Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
- Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
- Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundrd dollars more.
- Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it.
- Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
- Q Do you remember whether on Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
- Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
- Q Was there any testimony? A Yes, sir.
- Q Was there any testimony in the case? A Yes, sir; I was there in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1886.

Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?

A I think since '88.

Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?

A Yes, sir.

Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.

Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.

Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.

Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.

Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the rail for fraudulent purposes.

Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspondents.

Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.

Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the rail for fraudulent purposes.

Q The use of the rails for fraudulent purposes not in connection with the Dawson case? A Not particularly in this case.

Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is that you read to say? A Yes, sir.

Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.

Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q You had told that of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occurred between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.

Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A Yes, sir.

Q You could have made it voluntarily and your conscience is clear?

A Yes, sir.

Q You could have made it voluntarily and your conscience is clear?

A Yes, sir.

Q You could have made it voluntarily and your conscience is clear?

A Yes, sir.

Q You know what I gave him that information that you would be brought in to be a witness, did you not, by reason of that?
A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter. I wasn't.

Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?

A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.

Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me at that, and I told him what I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.

Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tulsa, Oklahoma, in the winter of 1907, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him that you told Shoemaker I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and he came to you? A No, sir; I said to him this: "I hope that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemaker both."

Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he said it.

Q When you told him that something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.

Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?

A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you on one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I mean, if I was employed in the case.

Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.

Q About the month of February, 1907, in the town of Wagner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Gid Graham: "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on?" A No, sir; I got a letter from Gid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked, he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.

Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question here? A No, sir.

Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.

Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with V. H. Shoemaker say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it"? Q No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemaker, I says: "who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas or Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your case;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came so fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I won't if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant to say if you had wanted to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I don't know now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you think that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you know that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intirvied to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, I told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says "I'll do the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it won't make any difference or so either, to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intirviate to you that the statement he was asking you to make would not be used?

A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemaker to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with his lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

- Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
- Q Now, then, you say that you were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
- Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
- Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
- Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
- Q You say that after the judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
- Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
- Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
- Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
- Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
- Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
- Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
- Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
- Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
- Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
- Q And for that you say they paid you $120? A Yes, sir; $120.
- Q Was Houston Benge present when that was one? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
- Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
- Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
- Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
- Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
- Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
- Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Bellette can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
- Q Was it about 1883? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1890 somewhere.
- Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
- Q You have never practiced such in any other way have you? A Very little.
- Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q Did you make an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.

Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family."

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At that time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Nation case he also made inquiries about the Shoemaker case didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q And you were at that time before you knew anything about whether you were to be coerced or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemaker case? A Yes, sir; that's what I said.

Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim you were an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, that the full belief that the Court would sustain your suit? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKenyon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.

Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.

Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENYON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.

Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.

Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.

Q How old are you? A 73 years old.

Q What is your business? A I work at the tin business and gun work.

Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. H. Dawson and the other Dawson? A I know old man James Dawson.

Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years, I guess.

Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 or 75 years.

Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.

Q How did you happen to be acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.

Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.

Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?

A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.

Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

1. P. MCKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewhere near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.

Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.

Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.

Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

1. R. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 56.

Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tehee citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.

Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?

A Yes, sir.

Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, man's by the name of Sharbow.

Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.

Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witnesses I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 35 or 36 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.

Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's knowing anything?

A Well, he said he was 35 or 36 years old and didn't know straight up.

Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whiskey?

A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear that black was white.

- Q Did he say anything about the money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money would not make a care go down in Texas and he said "I come to get the care of the land" and he says "I found out it goes here," or words to that effect.
- Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
- Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
- Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; he went to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
- Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
- Q Where? A Vinita.
- Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he came out and he said all right.
- Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.
- I. R. HOKKEMON:
- Q Your first conversation with him was in '81 was it? A Yes, sir.
- Q What time in '81? A September.
- Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
- Q Have you admitted? A No, sir.
- Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
- Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
- Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
- Q When did you make representations now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
- Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
- Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
- Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
- Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have saw Mr. Hastings for years.
- Q Now, you say—how was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know what it was; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
- Q Now, he said that did he? A Yes, sir.
- Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
- Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
- Q Did he come to the Territory? A Yes, sir; he lived at Vinita at that time.

Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.

Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.

Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the petit jury there this winter.

Q Generally? No, sir.

Q Were you ever a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. G. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Penokee Station:

MR. MITCHINGS:

Q What is your name? A C. G. Braught.

Q What is your age? A 62 29th day of last January.

Q What is your post office? A Fairland.

Q How long have you been living in the neighborhood of Fairland?

A Been living there 19 years.

Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. M. Dawson as his name is?

A I do.

Q How long have you known him? A About 13 years.

Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.

Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.

Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.

Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the like that you had these conversations or near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.

Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.

Q Where did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get their in at one hundred dollars apiece.

Q Do you know what time of the year that was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.

Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time?

A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.

Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.

Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.

Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.

Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.

Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.

Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.

Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence?

A Yes, sir.

Q In the house? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.

Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.

Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that case, would this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.

Q You are not his enemy? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time I am not.

Q Haven't you ever had any trouble about the lands between you and him? A No, I haven't had any trouble.

Q Didn't you ever get arrested recently for a difficulty?

A Yes.

Q About what time did you get arrested on that term with him?

A That was in the fall of 1902, I was down right right along all the time.

Q Is it not true that you were there to be have been all the while at outlet of the river?

Q You didn't have any conversation with him, towards him? A No, sir.

Q Did you ever get arrested on that term? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any trouble with him.

The Court said: The Commission adjourns until 3:30 o'clock, P. M., on Monday.

March 19, 1903.

Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

APPEARANCES:

Mr. W. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. G. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

J. E. McKENNON:

Q Mr. Braugh, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.

(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KINNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Let me ask you, Charles D. Kinney.

Q What is your last office? A Dawson now.

Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.

Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.

Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewhere between 44 and 45 years old.

Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson?

A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.

Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, in so state what time?

A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.

Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him?

A It was in '81 or '82, I think I knew him in both years.

Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Jiles Flippin and Joe Pleaston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Flippin were talking in regard to grass down there before we saw him.

it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be mucking cattle, I would have stock eating my grass."

Q "What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass."

Q "Who was that? A Buck Dawson."

Q "Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?"

A "Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people," and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."

Q "Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punches, and Mr. Flipin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."

Q "Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hooley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."

Q "Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?"

A "No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him."

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:

Q "Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Russ County, Texas. B. F. Alberty was my guardian."

Q "Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date."

Q "About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though."

Q "What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council."

Q "When? A I think it was in '87 or '88."

Q "Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?"

A "Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande."

Q "For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road."

MR. HASTINGS, of Council for Cherokee Nation:

Q "Were you ever convicted? A No, sir."

Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABEART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

LP. HUTCHINGS:

Q "State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babeart."

Q "What is your post office? A Melvin."

Q "What is your age? A 49."

Q "Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir."

- Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him time or two.
- Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Puppy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
- Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
- Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
- Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler or Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
- Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
- Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had some more? A Well, from the language to me a d Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
- Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
- Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

- Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case? A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
- Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.
- Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
- Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
- Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
- Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
- Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
- Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
- Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
- Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody? A I guess—I don't remember when.
- Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time? A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
- Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
- Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it has been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
- Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
- Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council? A No, sir.
- Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life? A Well, I was born and raised here; ; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.

Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.

Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, by recollection.

Mr. McKemmon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.

Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in y young days.

Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.

Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?

A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.

Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.

Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know;

he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.

Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.

Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.

Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.

Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.

Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?

A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.

Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.

Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKemmon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SAMUEL TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel Tolliver Dawson.

Q That relation known to the witness? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these persons, but I am a cousin, that is what he told me.

Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What did you know of your grandfather? A Riley Dawson.

Q Do you know what name he was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q That children of your grandfather, that is, you mean his children or his grandchildren?

Q I don't know all of his children, but I don't know, I will have to sit a while on that one, I don't know all of them.

Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Riley Dawson?

Q Yes, sir.

Q Was she a daughter of your grandfather? A Yes, sir.

Q How many were his children? A Seven, Samuel Dawson?

Q Was Sam Dawson your father?

Q Yes, Dawson was his name, sir.

Q What was Sam Dawson's name? A I don't know their family history,

Q Did your father say anything about his father? A I have heard that she was a First, my father said; of course I don't know.

Q What was her first name? A Annie.

Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q Saw him? Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere about 90.

Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.

Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.

Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?

A Yes, sir.

Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had, that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.

Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?

A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.

Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.

Q Did you father come here to apply for citizenship?

A Yes, sir.

Q Was he admitted? A I don't know.

Q Did you hear him make any statements about the ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.

Q Well, in that connection, did he say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A I don't know, I heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking of her, but I don't know whether he said anything about that or not. I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKenna: Applicant's object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q You know whether in the family you mentioned was spoken of by the name of Amie, is that? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. McKELIN: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALL E. S. LEWIS, b... and... were examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A E. S. Lewis.

Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.

Q How old are you? A 59 years.

Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Pruet.

Q Who was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel B. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel B. Dawson, and you want her maiden name?

Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's father, state it for me, will you? A It was Elizabeth Margaret, the first name of her mother.

Q Now, how do you know of your wife's father's name? A It was the maiden name of my wife's father's mother.

Q Yes, sir? A From her husband and my father-in-law, and he it was Annie Pruett.

Q What was the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.

Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever meet your grandfather, Samuel Dawson, your wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.

Q Personally? A Yes, sir.

Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited me, my wife and I, after we were married, at least three or four times; I have never seen my father-in-law and he visits very often.

Q When did he die? A '74.

Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grand-father, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.

Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.

Q You know how old your wife's father was when he died? A Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.

Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.

Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was 94.

Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.

Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and she married one of his, - oldest child for this brother-in-law was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.

Q Now, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understand it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.

Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long to see if he was here he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?

Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.

Q Well, remember what you know of the family, what other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.

Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q What was the oldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.

Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q You know nothing about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of knowing at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know that the oldest boy and his wife told me.

Q How old was he? A They said he was born in 1811.

Q Was he his oldest son? A Toliver M. Dawson told me his father was born in 1811.

Q Now, remember, say whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know that the old man said that she was a white woman; that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.

Q What did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.

Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.

Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.

Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did you ever apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.

Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say as to the date.

Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A No, sir.

Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.

Q Did you? A I did.

Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you take affidavit to that application? A No, sir.

Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.

Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not?

A Yes, sir.

Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.

Q Is that? A No, sir.

Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.

Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been havin' some trouble with the Dawson family?
A Well personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, anyhowself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation?
A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find those papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation here introduces in evidence an envelope marked No. 108, the names on the back of it are Robert, Elbert, Jasper, John, Frances, Marion, Josephine, Joseph, Jane, Mollie, Wilburn, James, Rial Dawson, versus the Cherokee Nation; the envelope and its contents.

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker worn testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berrivill, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 73 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County some thirty five years (line drawn through the last three words) 35 years at my mother's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson's grand other on father's side, she was frequently at my mother's house; though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the claimant's mother to my mother's house and the claimant's mother was about 12 years, when I was a lit 10 boy she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers who ran a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mother's and there at Louis Rogers Store I saw her occasionally until I was 17 or 18 years old and I think then old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and she and I had a talk over our old matters, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Mississippi River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them. Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robt Dawson's children is Buck, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?

Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.

Ques. 2 Did you say something about someone being married twice?

Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.

Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?

Ans. 3 Yes she could speak it well

Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?

Ans. 4 She could when she was young.

Ques. 5 How far do you live from Anna Pruet?

Ans. 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.

Ques. 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?

Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river, part in the Nation and part out in the State.

Ques. 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?
Ans. 7 George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Harnage that lived up here near the line.
Ques. 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
Ans. 8 No the claimant didn't go to Texas.
Ques. 9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
Ques. 10 Where does claimant now live?
Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.
Ques. 11 How you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charles Rogers here in Cooke county?
Ans. 11 They are a kin but what kin I don't know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 Country about the year 1830.
Ques. 12 Was Anna Pruett the maiden name of claimant's grandmother?
Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her Sinee.

My name is F. M. Dawson. Am Cherokee by blood reside in the Cherokee Nation am 30 (40 written over it) years old.

I saw the Claimants, Lulu Dauthet and Dallas Dauthet in Vinita, and know them to be the grandchildren of my brother E. Dawson who is a recognized Cherokee by blood. L. M. Dauthet, the father of the Claimants, Lulu and Dallas is a white man Dauthet's wife the mother of Lulu and Dallas was a Cherokee, the daughter of my brother E. Dawson, she is now dead. The oldest of these applicants is about 9 years old. I have known them about 8 years. These children is now living with their father. One is a girl and the other is a boy. I had been acquainted with her mother all her life. If she had been now living she would have been about 25 years old -- She has been dead about 4 years as well as I can recollect, She was about 17 years old when she was married.

Joseph Dawson introduced for Claimants, sworn in open Court testified as follows:

Jos. Dawson, an a Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, 31 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the Claimants are Cherokees. Fannie Dawson was their mother. Fannie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I wa always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lula, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognizes them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.
 by Solicitor:

Lula is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother has been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fannie, Francis, Cartenas, Zanic, Bob, Smith, Worsk, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fannie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. M. Dawson, we are full brothers. My father has been admitted to Cherokee Citizenship by this Court.

"Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Chilsay Pruitt, said to be a sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich and who was of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Chilsay Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 3th, 1836, creating the Commission on Citizenship, were made but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were re-admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as

"The Tehee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of the e Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 22, 1836, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any paerson applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States," As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls the Commission adjudge and decree that Saruel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to atizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Jounnah Barber nee Jounnah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applic tions.

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and reside in Coowee-coowee Dist. and am 53 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I have known him personally about three (3) years. He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a relation of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hvassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I never saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Jou Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of my Uncle Jou Dawson, is from what he himself has told me, - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me - My grandfather being a Dawson and a hite man.

In the matter of the application of

Andrew J. Dawson,

Nation's No.....

Commission's No.....

for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Meyes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, . . . and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear on any of the authenticated rolls of said nation; that neither he nor any of his ancestors now residing, or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

See case Nation's No. 1573.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a white man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Gilesey Frust said to be half sister of Joseph Vann colonial known as rich and who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers was

This affidavit states that he was 34 years of age when his father, Charlie Rogers died, that his father never had any other family (it is in ink drawn through word family) other than the ones above mentioned; that the said Polly Rogers named in the application for citizenship of Irene J. Rogers, was not a sister of his father; that his father never had but one sister viz. Cynthia Rogers the wife of Isaac Rogers heard of; that this affidavit was well examined by his aunt Cynthia Crump-

Just here the following is inserted on separate paper:

"EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF
CHEROKEE NATION. I, John L. Adair, Executive
Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that I have compared the foregoing with the original record in this Department, and that the same are correct copies and transcripts of the same.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of said Cherokee Nation, at Tahlequah, this, the 5th day of Feb. 1896.

(signed) John L. Adair, Executive Secretary."

Then the above affidavit continues:

"(nee) Rogers that he lived with this applicant's father for a number of years prior to her death.

Affiant states that he has often talked with his father, Charlie Rogers (brother of Capt. John Rogers) (nee Rogers) about his relatives; that they never spoke of any other sister in their family; that his affidavit was about 70 years of age when his aunt, Cynthia Crump died; that they told him there never was (word "never was" marked over it with ink) father never had any other daughter or daughter other than Cynthia Rogers

Affiant states that his father told him a number of times, that his father's grandfather Capt. John Rogers never had any other family other than the one above mentioned; that this applicant never heard his father Charlie Rogers or any of his relatives speak of his grandfather Capt. John Rogers owning, or renting, or beating up any river.

Affiant states his father Charlie Rogers was born on Big Mulberry, South-east of Van Buren, Arkansas, in the year of 1817.

APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Be it remembered that the appellants in the above entitled cause petition the Court to grant an appeal in said cause from a decision of the Commission, known as the Lawes Commission, created and authorized to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to pass upon and decide applications for citizenship in the said five civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, but not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved
June 16th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. H. Dawson
W. A. Dawson, F. H. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establish the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians, by blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship
in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application, of said appellants, were, prior to September the 16th, 1896, filed with and submitted to said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the accompanying affidavits, were served upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September
the 16th, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in rejecting the claims for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal
to this Court, to-wit:

of this Court. I lead a defense against a seal showing that the appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever deny.

In this case the Commission on September 30th, 1898, referred the case to the Five Civilized Tribes, by John A. Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their children, Onis E., William L., James E., Johnnie and Joel A. Barber. That Joel A. Barber has the following children: Mattie Tolliver, George A., Frankie C., Jesse and Ethel Barber. That the application includes also Mary A. Barber and her child Inez Barber, Emma L. Murphy and her child Gladys Murphy, E. C. Moore and her children Anna J., Jackson P., Mary and Gladys, Attie L. Hunt and her child Bessie Hunt, Alvey J. Smart and her children Georgia A. and Erney E. Smart, Joseph J. Smart and his children Myrtle C., Cora L. and Bertha E. Smart. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 20th, 1898, and no reasons were given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 21, 1898, the claim is appealed to this Court. That the parties all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That the affidavits in support of their application are those of S. P. Dawson, E. Dawson, Francis I. Dawson, and F. A. Dawson, who testify that John A. Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Patey, nee Dawson, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, who married a white man by the name of Samuel Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Alvey Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, and are to be taken

We now introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1896, the court number of same being, 230, said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case we desire to call special attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Baker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Baker in the case of Robert Dawson against the Nation, number 108, before the Citizenship Commission, and which was made January 19, 1892.

vs

Cherokee ...

Testimony of ...

witness, Dr. Arthur ... as follows:
My name is ... of Berryville Arkansas
Carroll County ... I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee ... when I first came to Arkansas I ... with him since he became a citizen of Carroll ... years - At my Mother's house near Calhoun I ... with the claimants Robt Dawson grandchild ... she was frequently at my Mother's house ... must have lived in the Nation side; She claimed to be ... sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee. The first time she brought the claimants mother to my Mother's house she the Mother's mother was about ... when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, said Captain John Rogers who ran a boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my Mother's and there at Louis Knases Store.

I saw her occasionally until she was 15 or 16 years of old and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I stayed all night there ... and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruett and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twenty ("word 'twenty' marked with a) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River. Anna Pruett resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I remember before the Dawson when I got acquainted with them ... were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson's children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls. The children named in the petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

- Q. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
A. 1 Five I think that's all
Q. 2 Did you say so often about some one being married twice?
A. 2 The claimant was married twice.
Q. 3 Could Anna Pruett speak Cherokee?
A. 3 Yes, she could speak it well.

- Ques 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
Ans. 4 She did when she was young.
Ques 5 How far did you live from Anna Pruet?
Ans. 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.
Ques 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river part in the Nation and part out in the state.
Ques 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?
7 George went first, then John went, they were the sons of old Man Harnage, that lived up near the line.
Ques 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
Ans. 8 No the claimant did not go to Texas.
9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers
10 Where does claimant now live?
10 He lives in Carroll Co Arkansas.
11 Do you know what relation old Capt John Rogers was to Charles Rogers here in Coowesscoowee?
11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt John Rogers in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first come to this country about the year 1830.
12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of claimants grandmother?
12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indian called her his since

P. L. Dawson being duly sworn according to law deposes and says:

My name is F. H. Dawson; I am 34 years of age; my post office address is Afton Indian Territory, I am a farmer by occupation and reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grand father whose maiden name was Polly Rogers through my father Samuel Dawson, my grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1832 and settled in Western Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the present Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brothers and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joana Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joana Barber is the mother of Irene J. House nee Barber who is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and draw their per capita money all the last payment; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koogler, a Notary Public at Muskogee Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurring previous to my recollection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, the facts stated as occurring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irene J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

(Signed) F. H. Dawson.

I John H. Koogler, hereby certify that the annexed and foregoing statement of affiant was dictated to me by F. H. Dawson and was subscribed and sworn to by him and was written by me from his oral statement at my office in Muskogee Indian Territory this 14 day of August 1896, and I further certify that the said F. H. Dawson is personally known to me and that he is a creditable person and entitled to belief.

EXHIBIT D.

E. Dawson, being duly sworn according to law on oath states as follows: I am 61 years of age, my last office as judge is Talala, Ind. Ter. I am a Farmer and reside in Washington District-Cherokee Nation. I am a recognized Cherokee Indian by blood, and exercise all the rights and immunities of a Cherokee citizen now living in the present Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County, Ark. near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandfather Polly Rogers through my father, Robert Dawson. My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to my grandfather Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents, Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson, first called here as Polley and her wife first lived in Old Cherokee Country in about the year 1835, and settled in Western Arkansas, and later came on to the Cherokee Nation. My father Robert Dawson was a recognized member of the Cherokee Nation when he died, by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of this affiant, and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were half brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson, his wife she being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joana Farber who is a half cousin by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joana Farber is the mother of Irena J. House, whose maiden name was Irena J. Farber, a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and use recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the strip money at the last time on its payment made by the Cherokee Nation.

The said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above named Irena J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barricklaw, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Ter, and affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of the claim for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of the said Irena J. House.

That the above facts which are within the personal knowledge of the affiant or within his years of discretion he knows personally, and the other facts which occurred before the recollection of affiant he testified to from what he has been taught from his family history and traditions.

That the relationship existing among all his people in the Cherokee Nation he knows from his personal knowledge and that they are related to the Cherokee Indian side.

Mr. W. A. Gibson, Special Master to whom this case was referred, submits the following report: (Insert report)

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

NORTHERN DISTRICT AT MUSCOGEE.

IRENE J. HOUSE ET AL

VS

236 REPORT OF SPECIAL MASTER.

THE CHEROKEE NATION.

-----000-----

I, M. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, duly to the Court and under the general order herein, I have examined the proof and pleadings on file in this case which are made a part of this report, and that I find as follows:-

I

That this case is in reality a branch of Case No. 90, Joanna Barber vs Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein being Irene J. House a daughter of Joanna Barber.

That this case was instituted on September 3, 1896 at which time application was made to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes for citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was tried by the said Commission on November 24, 1896 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 30, 1897, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, F. J. House, and their children Chas., C. Winston F., and Henry W. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, F. A. Dawson, Arthur A. Baker, E. Dawson, and F. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Peley, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsley Vann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows that this Dawson family are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are cousins by blood upon the Indian side, and that they all claim through a common ancestor, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsley Vann, who were all recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The appellee introduces in defense the record of the application of these claimants to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship in the year 1897, and the record of the rejection of the claimants, and further the affidavits of W. C. Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a grand daughter both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and the he had only one daughter, whose name was Cynthia.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of the Dawsons, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of affairs at that early date in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that these claimants should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee may never have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1838, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

(signed) M. A. Gibson,
Special Master.

No Exceptions filed."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Well we close for the present.

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. W. C. DUNCAN, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKEMMON:

- Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 72 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
- Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.
- Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Daves Commission? A I did.
- Q Before this Commission I will say, this Commission? A The Daves Commission? A Why I don't recollect who the Commissioner was, that was taken at Vinita, ex parte.
- Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee citizenship Commission in 1883 known as the "Teehee Commission"? A I was Clerk of that Commission.

Q For what length of time? A I don't recollect the exact length of time, I think it was about thirty days, during the existence of that Commission, existence of that Commission.

Q You were the only clerk it had during its existence were you?
A I think I was.

Q You were Clerk of that Commission when it rendered a decision in favor of Robert Dawson et al, as found on page 114, of this record, numbered 108 (witness examines record referred to.) now in the possession of this Commission? A I was.

Q The members of that Commission were the same as shown by the signatures to this judgment were they? A The same, yes, sir.

Q The Mr. Teher, President of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. A. Johnson, Commissioners, that is correct, is it? A That's correct.

Q Were you present when this case was under consideration by that Commission and when it rendered this judgment in the case? A I was.

Q Were you at that time acquainted with F. L. Dawson, commonly known as "Bud Dawson", Campbell Taylor and Samuel H. Benge, who were attorneys, who were Cherokee attorneys at that time? A I don't think I merely knew Mr. Dawson; all I know of him was I saw him there as a party to the suit. I know Mr. Taylor and Mr. Benge more extensively; I have known them a number of years.

Q Were they recognized Cherokee citizens were they? A They were.

Q Was Taylor not known generally as a citizenship Attorney?

A I think he was.

Q Do you remember seeing him and Benge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Benge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.

Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?

Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.

Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision than that found upon this record in that case? A I never had any knowledge only that one decision.

Q Was that in favor of or against the applicants? A It was in favor of them; I will say this: that if there was another decision other than the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.

Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was recorded by you in this book as here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.

Q Did Bud Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case?

A He did not.

Q Did he ever promise to pay you any money for your influence with the Court in that case? A Never.

Q Or paid you any money, either directly or through any other person? A For my influence in that case?

Q Yes, sir? A Never.

Q Did you have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court or to any member of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing their judgment in that case? A None whatever.

Q Did you have opportunity of observing his conduct during that Court at the time? A The only opportunity that I had was during the session of the Commission; I saw but very little of him during the recesses of the Commission; now and then I would see him in passing.

Q Did you see anything in his conduct toward that Court which indicated that he had used undue influence in procuring that judgment?

Q. I never observed anything of the kind; nothing that struck a suspicion in my mind that he was unjust in the line of practice.

Q. Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money as coming through his firm for any services which you had rendered to him in that case?

A. Yes, he paid me some.

Q. What amount? A. My recollection is that, I think it was twenty dollar bill. I don't know but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.

Q. Yes, sir. A. Mr. Dawson, Bud Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, copies of a subpoena or transcript, something of that kind; I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel that I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for work of that kind. And in passing I might state that I never received anything for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the Court.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before summer time I went to my hotel, The National, I think it is in Arlington; went to my room, felt a little tired, laid down, and went to bed to rest. I recollect Mr. Dawson stepped into the room, took a chair up to the bedside and sat down and conversed with me, expression to his gratification at the success of his case, especially, mostly upon the testimony in the case being so artistically, establishing his Cherokee blood, and that we thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the Court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go to-morrow, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home, - he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Alluding, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services; if I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last word he said to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me; I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, or it must have been a year afterwards; I had located a little claim on the public domain up there in Delaware District, struck off what I intended to be a farm, merely states, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Horse Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon me here; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim, and we will settle the matter in that way, that he as soon as he got his little matters together that he would satisfy me for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on then for a long time, I don't know how long, - I think I met him in Vinita, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to ask it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tallleguah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is all and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Mr. Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim and r it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on Page 114, Records of the Teehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President, Alex Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners. D. W. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

The said judgment just introduced is as follows:

Office Commission on Citizenship,
Tallleguah, C. N., September 24th, 1881.

No. 108

Robt Dawson,
Elbert Dawson,
Jasper Dawson,
John Dawson,
Josephine Dawson,
Joseph Dawson,
Jane Dawson,

James Dawson,
Eial Dawson,

Petition for Citizenship:

vs.

Cherokee Nation.

Continued by the Plaintiff, Oct. 5, 1881.

January 13th, 1882.

The above case continued by the Cherokee Nation till Sept.

term. Agree by the parties that a case shall not be taken up for final disposition before the 4th day of Oct. 1882, October 4th, 1882

It is agreed by the parties that this shall be finally disposed of at the next January term if the claimant is present demanding the same, if not, the case shall be then continued to the September term, 1883.

On this agreement Commissioner continues the case till the next January term to-wit, January 1883.

And now this the 11th day of January A.D. 1883 this case coming on for final hearing, and all the evidence produced in the case being carefully read and duly considered by the Commission it was adjudged and determined by the Commission on citizenship that the claimants, Robert Dawson, E. D. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Joseph D. Dawson, Jesse Dawson, Holly Dawson, Wilbro Dawson, James Dawson, and Rini Dawson, are Cherokees by blood; and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship within the Cherokee Nation, and that they should be, and they are, hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects as native born Cherokees.

(at 10) Thos. Tehee, President of Coy.

D. W. C. Duncan, clerk of commission.

Alex Wolfe, Commissioner; E. F. Thompson, Secy.

Transcript docket to claims to, January 11th, 1883, (signed) D. W. C. Duncan, clerk.

Marginal Note: "Case submitted by claimant & minority 1883. Case submitted by solicitor January 11th, 1883."

Q Do you remember to any member of the court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A My recollection upon that point is not positive, but resting upon the fact that I know to be the practice of the court at that time, and the names of all these Commissioners there, I came with a great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners unless he was present, according to it or directed it.

Q The rendition of that judgment then was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.

Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day in this case while the court was in session, adverse to these claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly should have known it.

Q Was there any such decision of the court? A None to my knowledge. I can say positively there was not.

Q How many of these judges are now living? A Only one.

Q What is Mr. Thompson's name?

Q George and Wolfe are dead? A Yes and Wolfe are dead.

Q How long have they been dead? Do you know? A I do not know, quite a number of years. I haven't lived there, never lived here, then what their death occurred, and their death occurred some time before I got knowledge of it. It is perhaps 10 or 12 years that they are dead.

Q Do you remember to have given any other order of the District Court about the Court at that time than the one I have been thinking of, and I can't call to mind that I ever saw any other order of the Court except that, until after they have gone into the building and passed on to the rendition of the judgment.

(At this point a party who has been sitting in the room in which the examination is being held, is called forward, sworn on behalf of applicants, and asked to retire until called.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Duncan, when did you become clerk of the Texas Commission Court? A It must have been somewhere in December, 1884, at the time the Commission was organized immediately at the close of the Council in which they were appointed.

Q December 1884? A I think so.

Q What are you doing rendering judgments here in your handwriting in 1883? A The Commission held its Court after they were elected sometime.

Q The Court was elected in 1881 wasn't it? A Well, I don't know. I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I don't have said at the time who was chosen clerk. I was chosen clerk just after the close of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q '84? A I think it was '84.

Q You entered in this judgment rendered January, 1883? A Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q That was before you were clerk of it? A Well I didn't become clerk until some time you were continuously.

Q Well but when you came to say that you were clerk when the law on case was passed on? A No, I don't mean to say that.

Q You could you be clerk when the law was passed on in 1883 when you were not elected until 1884? A I am mistaken in that, '84 comes after '83, - it was the year preceding 1883, it must have been '82.

Q Your first entry in the Dawson case is January 18, 1883, isn't it?

Q I don't recollect what my first entry was. (Attorneys show the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on that day.

Q And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk? A I think so, yes; it was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q In those handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners signed to that judgment? A Yes on that point (Attorney shows record to witness again) A That is my handwriting.

Q All three names? A All three names.

Q The record there shows that you immediately gave them that copy of transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A Signed the transcript?

Q Yes, sir. A I do not recollect now, this is, did the writing?

Q Signed the names to it? A Yes, that's it.

Q You always signed the names of Jones and Wells didn't you?

A I think I did pretty generally; I don't know of their attempting to write their own names.

Q When did you sign the names didn't he sign his own name? A Sometimes he did, sometimes he didn't, authorized me to do it.

Q Have you any recollection of his authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you were clerk of the Court at that time? A I don't know, I don't know but I think he authorized me to do it, but I can't say simply that, sometimes the record, that he authorized me to put his name there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and tell me to in the judgment and say who signed the names of the commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.

Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.

Q That made you when you were testifying at Vista before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A It occurred in this way: I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished about entirely from my memory; I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the court at the time I served on which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the court, without comparing the record and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting; I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it occurred.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, and that your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony; I subsequently became better informed and convinced that that was my handwriting, and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you couldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might make a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Tehee and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.

Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew there was a resemblance; what made me of the opinion that that might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I knew that he had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression—and I do not now think I am much deceived—that his chirography bore at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

Q. Now, I consider it a part of the time in your testimony by the name of the... I swore that I was the...
Q. Not yours, didn't it? A. No, the name is... that that of my... not by... to... to ascertain... I was not... or not, and all... I concluded that I...

Q. Now, he stated, did you see... always...
Q. Did you see... when he was present? A. I do not recollect
Q. I stated, that I used the word "always", at that time, that ... the I was examined... deposition was taken...
... that he did, but... I do not...
I am convinced that I was wrong, and occasionally I... for it.

Q. That you never found out that your testimony...
... a year or a half ago was wrong until you examined the...
... before yesterday, and...
Q. I don't know that I have thought of it since that time...
... of... before the... of the...
Q. Is the only recollection that you have not and the...
... to your recollection that Thompson was present when...
... was the fact that you were...
... writing, is it? A. As a fact,-

Q. You can swear that was true? A. That seeing that...
... recollection and I recollect... that the... were all present at the time that I... I didn't
... out of court at all.

Q. Was it in the forenoon or in the afternoon? A. I don't recollect whether it was in the forenoon or afternoon.
Q. In recollecting that they were all present when the...
... do you mean to say that they were all present when the judgment was rendered? A. Yes, that is, you mean when the question of admission or rejection was voted upon?

A. Yes. A. They were present.
Q. Did you take up the record at the time that they rendered the judgment, or made a memorandum of it, or... it up the
... some days afterward? A. The record was not...
... upon the decision of any case, but I wrote up the record after adjournment, generally in the evening, and presented it next day or when the next session was held, for signature: that was the practice.

Q. But in this Dawson case you wrote it on the very day that it was rendered didn't you? A. I didn't recollect as to that.
Q. And gave them a transcript the very day it was rendered?
A. I don't recollect as to that.
Q. Was indicated the giving of the transcript on the bottom of the judgment the day it was rendered? A. I should say it was given at
... of the transcript.

Q. That was a very unusual thing for you to do in entering...
...? A. To do what?
Q. To note on the bottom that you had given a transcript the same day the judgment was rendered? A. No, I don't know that there is anything unusual about that.
Q. Any other places in that record or more than one in any event that you have ever done that? A. I don't recollect, and as I don't recollect of giving anybody else a transcript.
Q. That is what I am getting at; you gave them a transcript and wrote on your judgment and everything right...
... after the decision; whether it was the... day of the evening, and... next day, I don't recollect.

IT NOW BEING THE HOUR OF NOON, I. E., THE COMMISSIONER
ADJOURNS UNTIL HALF PAST ONE P. M.

AFTERNOON, FEBRUARY 14, 1885, D. C., -APPEARANCES, -same as in forenoon: D. V. C. DUNCAN, Clerk of the Court.
BY MR. HUTCHINSON:

Q Do you remember what witnesses were before the Court? A I don't recollect now distinctly except Dr. Baker, I was a boy at that time, and I don't know of the length of his testimony or he did it took to take it.

Q The Doctor was about the only distinct witness there was? A He is the only one now that I can call to mind.

Q There was probably another old darkey that testified was not there? A I have no recollection to that effect.

Q The case was just decided really on Doctor Baker's testimony, is it about the only man that knew anything about the case? A I am not certain that Dr. Baker was the only witness; I might have been others that has not escaped my recollection.

Q Doctor Baker's testimony was taken down in writing? A Yes.

Q There was not anybody else taken down in writing was there?

A All the testimony that was accepted in the case was taken down in writing.

Q Did you ever see anybody's else testimony in writing except Dr. Baker's in that case? A That is not all I recollect, I don't recollect any other but Dr. Baker's.

Q You know whether that was taken immediately before the trial or at the trial or how was it? A It was taken in the presence of the three Commissioners during the session of the Court.

Q You seen the day that the case was decided or how? A I do not recollect whether the case was on trial here then on day, but my impression is that it was.

Q Do you know whether it was the same term of the Court or not?

A I think it was the same term of the Court.

Q How many terms a year did that Court have, when and how did they last? A I don't recollect of but seven, but not term.

Q Don't recollect the number but not term? A Yourself, it seems to be so.

Q You didn't go in until January of 1882 and your first record is a record of about the 15th of January 1882, as shown on the book, isn't it? A I don't recollect in that regard.

Q How would they take testimony in the case, then continue it, or do would they generally do about that? A I find they decided on the case at the term in which they took testimony.

Q Can you say whether or not this testimony was taken in this case at the time it was decided or at the same term it was decided, or within a week or less of the time it was decided? A My own recollection is that it was taken at the term in which it was decided;
the case was taken up, testimony heard that the decision was made at the conclusion of the testimony.

Q Well now, I see on October 14th, 1882, on your book, with the following entry reads: "It is agreed by the parties that this case shall be closed at the next January term." That would be January, 1883, is that right? A Yes, that is correct. Now, I see, 1882, the case shall be continued to the 30th day of term, 1883; this agreement the Commission continues the case till the next January term, 1883. Now, that I think is what you had

JANUARY AND A SEPTEMBER 1897; AND THIS DECISION WAS RENDERED IN THE JANUARY, 1898 CASE. THE ORDER'S DEDUCTION WAS MADE DURING THE YEAR, 1897, OR AT THE TIME THE DECISION WAS RENDERED? A I FIND IT IMPOSSIBLE FOR ME TO RECALL THOSE FACTS THAT ARE RECORDED THERE; ALTHOUGH I CAN SAY ABOUT THAT, THAT THE RECORD SHOWS THE CORRECT STATEMENT OF THE FACTS; BUT I CAN'T RECALL THOSE FACTS.

Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 15th day of January, 1898, upon agreement that it should be taken upon the 4th day of October, 1897; your record shows that there was nothing done in this case from January 15th, 1898 until October 4th, 1897; would you say that was correct? A I should say it was correct if it is stated on the back; it is supposed to be a correct entry of the facts.

Q I will let you see the book for yourself; I don't want to misrepresent your end of it at all. (Shows entry in book to witness.)

A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.

Q Do you look down to testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.

Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.

Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nation? A As to that I don't recollect, he was present, he was always present; I think likely he was cross examined.

Q And that testimony was taken about your time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1898? A I think it was, by implication to that effect.

Q Well the court seems to have had no session as to this case from January 17, 1898 up to October 4th, 1897, according to the record? A (No response.)

Q You don't recall taking down any one's deposition in court? A No sir, I don't.

Q And the probability is that he was the only one examined? A It might have been so, by recollection is that he was regarded as the main witness of the case.

Q He was quite an old man, about 75 at that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. JACKSON:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been taken January 15th, 1898; is this correct as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney here shows witness papers) A It appears to be, yes; I don't think that was the testimony that the court was decided upon, because that testimony was taken orally before the commission, and I wrote it down; please let me see it. (Attorney hands said papers to witness.)

A Well, all I know about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says that I say that the record was made correct, according to the fact. (Witness looks over copy of the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't recollect in reading that very clearly as my own recollection, but I gather from the subject matter in that testimony that it is in harmony with Doctor Baker's statements; in exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. JACKSON:

Q In taking the testimony you endeavored to get down all the material facts that you could in writing it in long hand? A Yes, very nearly word for word, as I could get it, so all the things was a little variation made necessary by the length of the witness' statements.

BY MR. McKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

B. F. FORTNER, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A B. F. Fortner.
Q What is your age? A 54.
Q You are a physician are you not? A I am.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Do you hold any official position in your position? A Yes, I am President of the National Board of Health, Cherokee National Board of Health, and member of the Legislative Committee of the Indian Territory and of the American Medical Association, -those are some, and the most important positions I hold at this time.
Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A I am.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Your wife is a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know D. F. G. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About twelve or fifteen years, about twelve years I should say.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he resides for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do, I think.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About six or eight years, don't know exactly how long; known of him for ten years and personally I have known him about six or eight years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is bad.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q Mr. Du can belongs to the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does; I have always so understood.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and my impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the citizenship court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a court from 1892 to '93? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that court? A Had no business before there, not while he was clerk to my knowledge.

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q You spoke of his membership in the church; he is in good standing as a member of the church is he? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Campbell Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have so understood it.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q I will ask you if it was notoriously bad in 1893, and these people employed him to represent them before the court? A That was before my knowledge of him.

... as far as the fact of an examination ... back to far ...

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined,
testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 61.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 17 years I guess, or 14.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q What is your business? A Real estate and insurance agent.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character where he lives? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 12 or 13 years, I guess.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Well yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

T. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined,
testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A T. H. Curtis.
Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A 56.
Q Where do you reside? A Afton, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 20 years.
Q What is your business? A Lumber business.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 20 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever know Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I knew him in '68 and '69.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfulness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir, Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes
sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know, of sir, I never saw him take a drink in his life.

Q Was his character such as to brook any such charge against him? A It was, yes sir.

BY MR. HORTON:

Q How long did you know Dr. Baker? A Two years.
Q What does he do there? A He was an old gentleman then, he lived right in the edge of Joppyville, Dr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 65 or 70 years old; an old gentleman.

Q That was in 18 what, 60? A No sir, it was in '68 and '69,
two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from business? A Yes sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q What family did he have? A I don't know how much family he had, I think well acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q He wasn't doing any business with nobody? A No sir.

Q And his character was never called in question one way or the other way? A No sir, no sir.

Q Couldn't Taylor and a notorious rascal probably have since you over here, his name's not? A Yes sir, I never know such good of him.

Q And the ever a man who had charge over him to get Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a rascal; that's it ain't it?
A Well a great many of them got it.

Q It ain't a notorious thing that they had a bad case they would get him, it would sort of give a considerable story to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never heard anything about Mr. Baker's connection with certain other matters? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his changing some of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Baker case? A Yes sir.

Q How is it all around that nobody was doing anything wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That means that all from the first day they were a little right up to the present? A Well I don't know not from the first day,
I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who had fixed it up? A No sir.

Q There have been a pretty strong feeling up there in that country haven't they, pretty large families? A Yes sir.

Q Can't a good many votes be there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testimony any in court, Dr.
Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q What would you think of it in the whole family that he had a girl that was single in 1825 when the youngest of his seven children was born in 1825; what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A -

BY MR. HORTON: Applicants object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proof or admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

Do you think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? A -

Q You think it is? A Yes sir.

Q He's a man who is a respectable man? A Yes sir, quite so, I don't see.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his dotage
 A I don't know, he was an old man when I knew him.
 Q He was too old to work, and retired from business then? A Well he did not do a good deal, but wasn't doing any business, particular what I know of.
 Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes, he would be getting old.

D. H. MATTS, being first duly sworn and being examined,
 testified as follows:

BY MR. COKENNON:

Q What is your name? A D. H. Matts.
 Q What is your age, Mr. Matts? A I am 46.
 Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
 Q What paper? A "The Indian Chief."
 Q Are you Editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
 Q You live at Virginia, then? A Yes sir.
 Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
 Q Do you know H. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
 Q How long have you known him? A 10 or 19 years.
 Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
 Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
 Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
 Q How long have you known him? A For 15 years or longer.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
 Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
 Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. COKENNON:

Q How long was Campbell's reputation as a bad man, Mr. Matts, write a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
 Q And it isn't as if he were mostly with the citizenship business?
 A Yes, so far as I know of it, yes sir.
 Q Well, you got to know the citizenship cases by through the mails, and they finally had to be about the law, a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
 Q And some of that was sort of occasioned by his helping the Deacons in what? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Deacons.
 Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether it was that case or not, I know he had a great many cases.
 Q That was the principal thing that concerned the first Campbell out, the citizenship cases were? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
 Q I say before that that he was not talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it wasn't really general, that Campbell was handling chiefly citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
 Q Now the Deacons's connecting with the Deacons, when next of door had back, people never talked much about it? A I never saw anything about it, as I know of.
 Q You have said that there has been a case, and it is a from a case, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh it has been a notorious case, yes sir.
 Q Well the fact of Mr. Duncan's reputation for straightness has been somewhat given by himself, his connection with Campbell? A Yes so that

Q His reputation for straightness is somewhat given by himself; he on one occasion he confesses that very often himself; doesn't he?

A I don't know whether I am qualified to answer that.

Q Feeling of his own honesty, he does that very frequently?

A No sir, not that I know of.

Q Doesn't he write a good deal about that sort of thing? A About his reputation?

Q Why in speaking of his own integrity? A I don't remember that he does.

Q You were not about the citizenship court along in 1911 and 12 were you? A No sir.

Q Don't remember about the talk that was going on around the Capital over there about the citizenship cases? A Yes no, don't remember anything special as I know of. I remember the citizenship court going on at different times.

Q How far were you living from Takleghan in '87? A Well, I live close to Vinita, I guess it is sixty miles probably.

Q Have you lived any nearer Takleghan since that time? A No sir, never have.

L. B. BUTLER, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A L. B. Butler.

Q You are a minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.

Q H. B. Church, South? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you been in the ministry? A I have been in the ministry 22 years, sir.

Q Did you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.

Q You long? A I was there four years, sir.

Q Do you know H. B. Church? A I do.

Q How long have you known him? A I have known Mr. Church 22 years.

Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and upright character? A I do.

Q Is that good or bad? A Good, so far as I know.

Q You have no objection to my asking? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Mr. Church was a member of your church? A Yes sir.

Q That is the principal way you had of coming in contact with him?

A Yes sir, he was a member of my official board.

Q His connection with citizenship cases were decided by the court of which he was clerk was never brought up in your presence anywhere? A No sir.

Q Or never discussed? A No sir, I know nothing about his connection with it.

Q You didn't live about or near Takleghan in '87? A Yes sir, I was Pastor of the Methodist Church in '87 at Takleghan.

Q Did you hear about the Bishop case, and other cases admitted over there by the Citizenship Court? A No sir, I know nothing about the cases; I gave over with the Commission was in session, and I was that he was clerk of the Commission, but know nothing about the cases that were decided at all.

Q Never heard anybody discuss the cases that were decided? A
No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A Thomas A. Chandler.
- Q What is your age, Mr. Chandler? A I am 36.
- Q What is your business? A Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Vinita.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
- Q Do you know B. F. C. Duncan? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A Let me see, I have known him about nine or ten years.
- Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.
- Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.
- Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.
- Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.
- Q Is it good or bad? A Bad so far as I know.

BY MR. HUTCHINS:

- Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Well sir, I don't know how he did.
- Q You never knew him until 1887? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.
- Q He had a bad reputation back in '85? A Yes sir.
- Q Bad reputation was bad word? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people speak bad of him, then I knew him.
- Q And everybody in Alabama through the Nation saw they anything at all knew Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, even so far back as '79 or '80, that long ago back as I can remember, I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.
- Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
- Q You heard him spoken of irrespectably and using the words for these business? A Yes sir, I heard of his being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.
- Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in these bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
- Q And I also heard he had a bad reputation for selling his debts, about the same time.
- Q You don't know whether he had the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.
- Q He could have just got out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I suppose he could.
- Q You never heard Mr. Duncan's name mentioned before in connection with the Duncan case, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.
- Q General impression that somebody had done something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the Duncan citizenship cases.
- Q That had never been in notoriety ever since they were admitted? A Yes sir, I have heard it scattered about over the country that such was the case.

Q Why are a great many votes cast for them and the matter has never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it was over investigated, I never heard of it.

Q So they never had any endeavor to file out the ...
A No sir.

Q Where did you live in '87? A In '87 I lived out on Dick Creek about 12 miles south-east of Vinita.

Q How far from Tallegood was that? A About 65 or 70 miles, I think.

Q You never were around before the citizenship courts any during that time? A No sir.

Q You don't know then whether or not Campbell had got the bad cases or not down there? A No sir, I do not, at that time.

BY MR. MCKEITHEN: Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what he heard by way of rumor, about the character of the person case, because the same is hearsay, inadmissible, irrelevant and incompetent.

A. S. MCKEITHEN, of counsel for Applicants, being first duly sworn, makes the following statement:

I became a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1870. I was intimately acquainted with Doctor Arthur Baker, for many years. I knew him as well as I did anyone else. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, so recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a sober man, and never drank liquor.
I am a Christian and more in vindication of that good man's memory than for any other reason, because any imputation against his character is false.

BY MR. MCKEITHEN:

Q How long did you know him? A I resided in Carroll County until 1877 when I moved to Johnson County, Arkansas. During the time I was away from home, but I know him fully as well as if I resided in Carroll County.

Q Did you know him since 1877? A Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have relatives living in his home in Carroll County by relations to his wife such as to cause me always to inquire about Doctor Baker. I know his reputation as well after
I left there as I did when I lived there.

Q Did you know those facts in 1896 when you were a member of this commission? A Yes sir, I have known them all of my life and I know them now.

Q Do you know the name of a newspaper of this commission was of the Irene J. House case? A I know it every day of my life, in 1896 as well as now.

Q Suppose that Doctor Arthur Baker's daughter should appear and testify that she was born in the year 1809, and suppose he would then be 10 or 11 years of age that time. Suppose the wife of Samuel D. Brown, was a grown up girl going to school, when she was married to evidence shows that she had married Sam D. Brown prior to that time and had several children, the youngest of them was born in '35. Now would you say that that with a man who was as honest as I am and who knew the facts in the case? A Whatever Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was right or wrong; whether it was error or truth, he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.
He was capable of being in error. A Every man is.

Q I say to you, A. Yes sir, just as you and I and every man, he was. I honestly stated as to his character, what I thought of him, and every man would know as I think I know it.

Q The commission rejected Irene J. Brown's case, or was it not rejected? A I don't remember anything about that case.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

DAVID MEREDITH, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A David Meredith.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 60 years old.
Q Did you ever know James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I knew him probably 2 years.
Q Did you ever have any talk with him about his citizenship case.
A Very little.
Q You were at one time an applicant before the Dawes Commission for citizenship were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Well what did Mr. Dawson tell you with reference to his citizenship, as to the cost of his getting it, if anything? A Well he told me it cost him eleven or twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.
Q Where did that conversation take place? A At Afton.
Q At that time? A It was in '88, spring of '88.

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Where were you when he told you that? A I was working on a house in Afton, building 1 1/2 houses.
Q Those houses? A S. E. Buices.
Q Who else was present? A Buices was present.
Q Where is he now? A At Afton.
Q What age was James Dawson at that time? A I don't know, he was very old, probably 75 years old.
Q Was he not a very feeble man? A Yes sir.
Q Hardly able to get around? A No sir.
Q Was he not then regarded as feeble minded old man? A I can't know whether he was so regarded or not.
Q You don't know what he had to do with the case, in fact, himself, do you? A No, I judged it was himself and family that cost that much to get through; attorney's fees, etc. That is the way I took it anyway.
Q You were an applicant yourself were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Then? A At that time.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes sir.
Q They rejected you? A Yes sir.
Q You were an applicant then before the Dawes Commission were you not? A Yes sir, been rejected ever since.
Q Are you still an applicant? A Yes sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes sir.
Q Claiming by blood? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation? A 15 years.
Q Where did you take birth? A Indian.
Q Claiming to be a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Indian? A Yes sir.
Q James Dawson is dead is that? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably 10 or 12 years after that.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

F. H. DAWSON, being re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

- F. H. Dawson? A Yes sir.

- Q In Lawson, what member of your family came to the Cherokee Nation to file and prosecute the claim of your father, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?
- A My brother from Texas met me at Tallahassee.
- Q Tell his name? A Elbert Dawson, they all know him by Buck.
- Q When was that? A In '81 as well as I remember, or '82, I don't know which, it was in '81 or '82.
- Q Did you file your claim at that time? A My brother, yes, the application, my brother had Joel Hayes to take it out and file it. That is my understanding.
- Q Joel Hayes, was afterwards the chief of the Cherokee Nation?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Refer what court was that filed? A My understanding is the clerk of the court; Hastings can tell me what court he was clerk of.
- Q He was clerk of the Court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court; that's my understanding.
- Q What was done about the case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down here at that time, that trip.
- Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Berryville, Arkansas.
- Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I come back the next January, that was in September.
- Q Was your brother Buck here then? A I don't think he was, I don't remember.
- Q Well had he at any time of the Court or session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never set his any more until that case was decided.
- Q You conducted the business then after that did you not? A Yes sir.
- Q The case was finally determined January 1833? A Yes, sir, the 11th day as I remember.
- Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.
- Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one of record here? A I never heard of it if there was.
- Q Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the Court Book of that Commission now in the custody of the Daves Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know?
- A Yes sir, so far as I know, I never heard of it in that case.
- Q You then know of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.
- Q Who was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. H. Howwood.
- Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.
- Q Where did he live? A At Claremore, my understanding.
- Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never met me there before the Commission.
- Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
- Q How much? A Fifty dollars.
- Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never know it.
- Q Tell then who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Bryant.
- Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?
- A That is my understanding.
- Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
- Q What service did he render? A Well sir, I don't know whether he rendered any or not, only he met me at Tallahassee, and he was before the Commission; whether he rendered any services or not I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the Term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.

Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A Why I got a letter from Joel Bryant that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January Term and Campbell Taylor would see to my claim before the court.

Q Did he say that he had engaged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend to it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.

Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.

Q Well what did you do then? A When the time come I come down on the city to Muskogee here and I pass over from here to Fort Gibson and I pass down to see Uncle Houston Benje and I stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over and submit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Benje come over and the next morning after he come over the case was submitted.

Q Did he submit the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.

Q For you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, acting on the case.

Was Houston Benje present with you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.

Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.

Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.

Q How long after he made his argument he submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; when we were drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted me to get up the cigars to the court and the crowd in the house; after the decision was rendered then I was to get up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I don't go.

Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a big stick.

Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted my citizenship right and by the Commission.

Q What did you do about it then? A Why the clerk wrote me out my certificate.

Q That same day? A That same day.

Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Benje about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our cases; then he wanted me to pay, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.

Q What was the agreement about the latter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.

Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for me.

Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay his fee of fifty dollars?

A Yes sir.

Q Was that all that was to be said? A All that was to have; all he charged me.

Q You heard his statement when he gave his deposition at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever state that you paid him fifty dollars for the case?

A Yes, sir.

Q He said that you paid him fifty dollars after he got over to Tallapoosa, did you do that? A I never paid him, I sent him a letter.

Q After that judge was rendered he did you go to? A I went back home to Arles sas.

Q By what route? A I went by Silau Springs and on by Spring Dale and on to Rogers, took the railroad there and went on by Silau Springs and by River's Springs home.

Q You then did not return to Fort Gibson, is that correct? A Yes sir, I did not.

Q Why did you not return to Fort Gibson? A Well I should maybe the others was the cheap of road and struck a hack going out by Say Shables when I was boarding at, I could go to Silau Springs and I went by that route and then there was a hack going by Spring Dale, that was the best direct route.

Q That was the best direct route from your home was it not? A Yes sir.

Q And was cheaper? A And the shortest route.

Q Had you been coming back to Fort Gibson you would have been going directly away from home would you not? A Yes sir.

Q Your home was nearly a st. due east of Tallapoosa was it not? A Yes sir, little north of east, pretty near due east.

Q While Fort Gibson is almost due west is it not? A South west.

Q You heard his statement that you went to Fort Gibson which is, and if you care you stated to him that it was to reach the court was through Duncan and through the through Duncan with five hundred dollars, did you make that statement? A I never did, I didn't have the five hundred dollars to reach him.

Q Did he file at Tallapoosa in the court room on the evening before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell you what the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.

Q And did you then say to him, you would fix that? A I had a conversation with him.

Q Did you pay to D. E. C. Duncan, who was the Clerk of the Court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide in your favor? A No sir.

Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.

Q Did you pay him any money after that through Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q What amount? A 20 or 25 Dollars, I don't know which it was.

Q State what that money was paid for? A For a claim.

Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the public domain; he had a claim on the public domain; he had 20 or 25 Dollars for his claim on the public domain by the Cherokee Public Domain.

Q What did Campbell Taylor have to do with your case? A He had nothing to do with it.

Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.

Q Did he perform any services in that case for you as a representative of Mr. Roberts? A No sir.

Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.

Q On what account? A No account, he had the claim on the public domain for land through the Cherokee to pay him the money and I came to.

Q What amount? A Hundred dollars.

Q Did you ever see the money that was paid to Joel Bryant?

A Yes, I saw it. He had a check for it from Joel Bryant. Q Did he ever get the money to Joel Bryant, that you know of? A Joel Bryant told me he didn't, and he had to get it again, paid Joel Bryant the hundred dollars we owed him. E. Duncanson paid Joel Bryant after that, we never could get the money from Campbell Taylor, only this twenty dollars or twenty-five dollars, that is all I ever saw paid from him.

Q How did you get that 25 dollars out of Mr. E. Duncanson? A I went after him and tellin' him to pay that money back to me, he rendered no services to me, all that the money was to go to Joel Bryant, and I finally worked out the twenty or twenty-five dollars, that is all I ever did get back.

Q The amount that he paid to Duncanson? A Yes sir.

Q Was this money paid to him, this one hundred dollars, while you were there at the time the judge was presiding, or was it sent to him afterwards? A I think it was paid then, as well as I remember about it.

Q You think it was paid then? A Yes sir, that's my recollection now.

Q Did you send him one hundred dollars after you got away from there, he requested to see a check for that money, after that he returned I mean, directed him to pay fifty dollars of that or any other sum to D. W. C. Baker? A No sir.

Q Did he send him a second one hundred dollars with such direction? A No sir.

Q Mr. Duncanson, you say that he got the money daily in order to obtain their citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under this judgment? A Practically it is so.

Q Well about what sum? A About five hundred dollars, pretty near 500 dollars. That is what I considered, I was bent out of some of my money, that I was bent out of and expenses.

Q Now take a statement of what that money was paid for and how, so far as you remember, it is paid to you now? Tell the first fifty dollars how was that, the next fifty dollars how was that; what was the attorney's fees; I speak of the attorney's fees now; the next money was the hundred that Campbell Taylor got; the next attorney fees was Duncanson's one hundred dollars.

Q Was that all the attorney's fees? A I think it was, no, wait, I paid some 15 dollars for Taylor's Baker's commission.

Q What was the name of that? A The name of that, well now I think it was his name, William P. Ross.

Q He then, this Chief William P. Ross for Taylor, the commission of Taylor charged you fifteen dollars? A Yes sir.

Q Do you remember that that was paid to your attorney and examined his name? A Yes sir.

Q What other attorneys were there present? A None of them was present.

Q Well now, you say that the attorney of Taylor, Dr. Baker and he was a doctor, he will get you a check for 5 dollars a day and he was in and his expenses for that matter, so that through in a few days, Campbell Taylor, the attorney, he allowed, and he to get out of there, and I think you a couple of dollars that Taylor got for that. Maybe a little over that.

Q Did you pay for a day's work? A I paid him five dollars a day for his 15 and then his expenses.

Q Well, A Well I made several trips out here a different time, to Tahlequah before the Court began, and back, three or four times as well as I remember now, cost me 20 or 25 dollars each trip, as I remember about it.

Q Do you remember how many trips aside from the one in which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Claremore to see A. H. Norwood.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went in a wagon down there.

Q You went through and employed Senge, went by railroad; what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 22 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember what it was; Joe Dawson, my brother-in-law, gave me the money, it was either 21 or 22 dollars.

Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, or any other that you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now, I can't call to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considered poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.

Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I suppose Albert Dawson was better off than the others, Bud Dawson.

Q Do you know how much Buck H. was paid of these expenses? A I don't think he was paid, he paid the Senge debt and the Brent debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, that was paid up on one trip and taken some evidence with Joel Brent, and Joel Brent was clerk of the Court before this Tennes Court, I don't know what that cost him.

Q Care up here and took some testimony? A Yes, care up here and went back to Texas, filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I don't know what is told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q For what purpose they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told me they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tahlequah.

Q He had taken the testimony before you left him or afterwards? A He taken it afterwards; that was my understanding.

Q Did Buck furnish only the one hundred and fifty dollars that you do remember? A I think it was.

Q Was the expense of taking those witnesses there? A Yes sir, I was also furnished money out of the pocket of your family?

A My brother-in-law, father lived down in Pennsylvania, he and my brother-in-law, Alvin, we all gathered in together a few dollars from each family.

Q You heard the statement of S. B. Wright that in June 1860 you told him that you had what you had told him, did you not say that when he was in jail? A I never did.

Q And that you paid one witness 500 dollars? A I never paid any one 500 dollars.

Q Did you have any witness any such as? A No sir, I paid Dr. Brought for his time. He said his time was worth $ dollars a day, and I paid it.

Q Did you have any other witness any for that that? A No sir, he is the only witness I taken down there in my case.

Q Well, the Robert Dawson case? A Yes sir.

Q He says that you sold him this in your house there on your place, did you have any house there in June 1883? A I was not living on a farm at that time.

Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.

Q When did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Mr. Brought, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1883, and I camped in my wagon.

Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and built a log out and made a log cabin on the place by a spring, near Mr. Brought.

Q About what time did you finish that house? A I finished it some time.

Q How long after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it and had got it covered and the floor in it and I went back to Berea Springs after my wife.

Q How many children you have then? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, carrying with me; three little boys and one girl were with me, and one girl back in Arkansas.

Q Are you and C. G. Brought on good terms? A No sir.

Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A Trouble over our places first started it.

Q When did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he commenced kinder crowding me out to take my farm away from me, and he have been in a racket ever since.

Q Then his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it ain't correct.

Q He and you have never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house; I never was in his house.

Q Have you had any suits with each other? A Yes sir.

Q How many? A I don't know that we had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.

Q What was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Along last fall.

Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.

Q That was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.

Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had him arrested and carried before the County Jail at Vinita.

Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.

Q Jack Dawson is dead is not? A Yes sir.

Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.

Q And James Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.

Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.

Q When did James Dawson die? A I don't see that, been dead several years, I don't remember how long, 6 or 7 years, I couldn't state.

Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in '89 as I remember now, I want be positive.

Q Has all these moved to the Cherokee Nation before this? A No sir, father died in Arkansas.

Q Did they live here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation and go back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of the folks all lived here. That was James Dawson and Rich Dawson.
Robert Dawson, your father, never did come to the Territory, did he? A No.

Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Deavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at some church at night James Dawson came down there with someone else who was introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.

Q He says that your James Dawson was 70 or 80 years old; is there any James Dawson living below in your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.

Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family?
A There was my Uncle James Dawson and a brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.

Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.

Q About what age? A Just have been 60.

Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.

Q That was the age of your brother James? A At that time?

Q Yes sir, in '84? A In '84 I suppose he was about 18, he didn't live that.

Q Did he anything to do with the James Dawson case? A No sir.

Q Was he present at the time that the James Dawson case was under consideration? A No sir.

Q How many James Dawson, your Uncle James Dawson, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.

Q He never was present? A No sir, if Uncle Jim Dawson was ever in Tallahatchie I never knew it.

Q Who conducted the prosecution of the James Dawson case before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, who conducted it? A The James Dawson case?

Q Yes sir? A I think James Low and Will Jackson and Campbell
Taylor.

Q Were you acting with them? A Yes sir.

Q They employed Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q Then there was no James Dawson present during that session of the Commission? No sir.

Q What was the condition of James Dawson's health at that time?
A It was pretty poorly; was not good.

Q Was he at that time able to get about and attend to business?
A I don't think he was.

Q Was he not a very feeble minded old man at that time? A Yes sir, regarded as rather a silly man was he not? A Yes sir.

Q Did he attend to any kind of business of the family at that time?
A No sir, didn't.

Q What was his financial condition? A Pretty bad.

Q Did he have any money? A No sir.

Q Did he have any property? A None hardly at all; horse probably, or a cow or two, something that way.

Q Was that about all the property he had? A Yes sir.

Q How about the other members of his family that were admitted at that time; what was their financial condition? A They were in poor circumstances.

Q How then after those judgments were rendered that removed your family removed to the Territory, Cherokee Nation, I will say?

A Robert Dawson and family and James Dawson and family, that is, the old their children.

Q Robert Dawson didn't move here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.

Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.

Q Except himself? A Yes sir.

Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.

Q She has never moved here? A No sir.

Q Well all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the committee, rendered January 11th, 1894? A All but one.

Q That was the name of that one? A Edna.

Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.

Q Your sister? A Yes sir.

Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.

Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.

Q By a Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Spears Court, her and two of her nieces.

Q What are their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.

Q What became of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 and they was readmitted back by the act of Council.

Q That was in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted as they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernon, they have now the same names now except Vernon, it is not, Tob Robinson married the widow, a niece of mine.

Q How then was there any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two admissions in '87 and '94 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting those three that you have just named? A Yes sir.

Q Whom? A My two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1894 I think it was left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and saw High Court member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.

Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them? A Yes sir.

Q What is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY MR. DODD: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council making an appropriation of $2,000 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the Principal Chief shall draw warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated rolls of 1896 by the Principal Chief."

This act was approved December 31, 1891.

Approved and signed by Stephen James, Assistant Acting Principal Chief. List a Dowd the name of William F. Dawson for payment of $25.00, and of Marion Dawson, for a like sum. Are those

the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir.

(The paper above introduced, is filed and made a part of the records in this case.)

Q Was there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relating to members of your family? A Yes sir.

1894.

Q What is that? A Allowing the Cherokee money.

Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. MCKEITHEN: We offer in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 14, 1894, signed S. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 101, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the trust money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Haskinsgate family, William, Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Leslie, Pearl, Aaron, Myrtle, Annie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and there was a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.

Q Are these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.

Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.

Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee trust money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.

Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A My the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. The grand-children of E. Dawson.

Q When was that? A That, I think it was in '84.

Q Have you a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.

Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.

BY MR. MCKEITHEN: We now offer in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 9th, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q Those now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKEITHEN: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same handwriting as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, September 15th, 1883.

 above named Mrs. Dandberg and Dallas Dandberg are Cherokee by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby entitled to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

Witness my hand, at S.

John Lee,

John L. Adair,

Chief Clerk.

Andrew Young,

Commissioner of Citizenship.

Q. Now were there any other actions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?

A. I don't remember of any others.

Q. I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were called to the roll of 1886, in compliance with the request of the said Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A. Before the Deas Commission?

Q. No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1890, of which John T. Hunter was a member? A. Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of them at that time; this is what I understood.

Q. That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by the Commission? A. Yes.

Q. Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1837 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A. Yes sir.

Q. You and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.

Q. You have all drawn Cherokee moneys whenever payments were made?
 A. Yes sir.

Q. And have you all said members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A. Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the election that was held voting on the treaty.

Q. That treaty? A. The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Afton.

Q. In what year was that? A. I believe it was last spring or time, last April.

Q. Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes
 sir.

Q. What offices have the members of your family filled? A.
 Deputy Clerk, under Peter Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District, I was a candidate once for Council in the Downing Party.

... of deputy clerk to read any one place of a ... citizen? A Only as a citizen, yes sir.
Q Is that all? A (No reply).
Q Now the children of members of your family attended ... schools, and were of legal age? A Yes, sir.
Q Have the members of your family been all the while subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q How have they been tried for any offenses against the law of the Nation?
Q And have they instituted their civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A Yes, sir.
Q And of these suits have you been before a court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q And were called upon by a court to testify? A Yes, sir.
Q Is there anything else? A Nothing, your Honor, this is all. I ... head-ache so bad I can't testify any more.
THE COURT: TO THE WIT.
Q Now all these years since Robert B. Rogers has he died? A I don't know, I couldn't answer that.
Q Is he a very old man? A Yes, sir, he is getting to be old.
Q How old, tell me how old he is that you? A No I don't know.
Q Mr. James Watson in 1824 must have been a very old man, didn't he?
A Well he is old and he is a feeble.
Q Well you stated that he was a "silly" was it originally that was? A He used to live in Texas I don't know his family after he got to the Territory.
Q I say he had gotten so old, did he die because of that?
A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty Watson, that's my grandmother's sister.
Q And an older boy was John Dawson? A He always called me John.
Q John Dawson was the oldest? A Yes, sir.
Q And you the youngest? A Sam Riley.
Q And he the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes, sir.
Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? A Yes, sir, something about that, it was 1827, I think he died in 1827, I won't be positive; that is as far as I remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.
Q Now none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No, sir, not a one of them was.
Q Now a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their father, who she was or anything about it? A I don't know what they was.
Q Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of Big Joe Vann, wasn't it?
A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.
Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when
Dr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 10 years ago.
Q And nobody kin to the Rogers and Vanns was ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.
Q They were very well known Cherokee families in the country?
A I suppose so, I don't know.
Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify? A Not that I know of, I don't know what my brother done, he taken some of the evidence at Tahlequah
when I was not there; he first filed his claim.

Q You had spoken to Dr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.

Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was short time afterwards. I went back after him and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.

Q You had talked to your brother about that you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.

Q You had told him in general way you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.

Q You went off, come to Atlanta and left your brother at Tallahassee after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.

Q You and he however had trips back and forth to Tallahassee and home at different times, but you didn't happen to get together? A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.

Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.

Q Ask took his testimony a year or such a matter before ever you were admitted? A I think as well as I remember, yes sir.

Q Now the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't use him.

Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.

Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.

Q What did Bryant do? A I think he helped my brother take evidence by brother employed him.

Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.

Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.

Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.

Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.

Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.

Q E. Dawson, you remember, had his son his grand-children? A That is my understanding.

Q And your uncle James Dawson had him in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Dawson and Will Jackson got him that was by understanding of me employed him.

Q The records here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. M. Taylor and was finally admitted by his September 2nd, 1904, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny his being in that case.

Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the Bennett children's case.

Q The records show that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally admitted by him, and Mr. Bennett, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?

Q That was in the E. Dawson grand-children? A Elbert?

Q No, in the Bennett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Lary Dawson case, was he, and for the Adair court, the 4th of October, 1887, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.

Q And the case likewise of Piley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.

Q They are relations of yours? A Well I wouldn't say.

Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be a son of Piley Dawson? A Well if he is he is by connection then. There are so many Dawsons I don't know them all.

Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The Lawsons have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.

Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.

Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of P. Dawson, and yourself, who were admitted to citizenship by the Texas Court? A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.

Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about other people.

Q Old man Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.

Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.

Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over there in back from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.

Q Now didn't you come to this place up there joining Bronght's and work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.

Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.

Q And went back and got your wife and moved her to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Braka and got my wife.

Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Saw Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.

Q You remember do you of being with him much of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Piley Dawson, and he was there.

Q In '60 sometime? A '62, I reckon, or '63. Somewhere along there, it was in time of the war.

Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.

Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she got?

A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.

Q Who first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A Why it was me, and my brother together.

Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first conceived talking about it.

Q And sent down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas; I went backwards and forwards a time or two after the war.

Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas were trying to get some claim of kinship to Cherokees? A No sir, not at that time.

Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1880? A Well in '83 and '4 and '5 I think.

Q Been very excited about there to get yourselves on the roll? A Just got to be everybody; but it wasn't at the time we was admitted there was not such a stir about the rights here.

Q Well the water had been admitted before that? A I suppose they had; there was not such excitement over the water claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You did locate and board with Sam Shables when you first came to Tahlequah in '81? A I think I did.

Q Your brother Nick Dawson stayed there also? A Yes sir.

Q Sam Shables lived in the north end of town, old German? A Yes sir, old German, lived in the lower part of town.

Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A I have heard that but I have forgot them.

Q You don't recollect any name now? A I don't remember the name, sir.

Q In the Irene House case and Joanna Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that of record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find; no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.

Q Tell it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.

Q Well the certificate there does not bear by certificate does it?

A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.

Q Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of records?

A I didn't hunt for any; House hunted for them.

Q None of you have ever been able to find any other? A No, not even find our petition.

Q Samuel B. Dawson applied to what is the name the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.

Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.

Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning?

A Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never let them to know them.

Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Hayes Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.

Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might have done it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Hayes Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.

Q Did you testify in the Wiley Dawson case? A No sir, not that I remember.

Q Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.

Q You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1896, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tahlequah after some papers and came back and they told me about it.

Q You never found out that O. H. Taylor was a big rascal up until the present time have you? A (No response)

Q The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Yes it shows here from the record; I could rather be excused for my part of it.

Q You were the man that had the most to do with it? A I never employed him, I saw any that.

Q You are the man that had most to do with the records? A In my case and in my father's case.

Q Didn't you testify for your uncle J. B. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he employed by J. H. Dawson's firm at your father's house?
A Why not but the grand-children.

Q J. H. Dawson's petition was filed in September last, is that right?
A Yes sir.

Q G. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed the petition? Did he right have filed it for a while?

Q Well you hadn't at that time fallen out with G. H. Taylor?
A No. Why no, we never did have any trouble, although I suppose
I never would give it back to us or give it to Bryant.

Q You never discovered that he was signing until after your judgment was rendered? A I don't know of any of your father's.

Q Are you and Bryant, in any way testifying for the Church petition, or speaking to us? A Partly so.

Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A No sir, he does not.

Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been speaking to him since the last time you were out?
A I have not and do not intend to do so here or elsewhere the other day.

Q First time you spoke to him since he left the boy arrested? A Yes
sir.

Q When did he have the boy arrested? A About the 1st day of October, September I think.

Q Then did Mr. Baker die? A I don't remember.

Q You don't remember how long after your father's death?

A No, I don't know.

Q That is your age? A I will be 60 in May.

Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, 12 according to the record.

Q Was your father as much as 2 years old when you were born?
A I couldn't say.

Q What was your best judgment? A I don't know, he was 20 or 25 years old. My understanding he was 20 years old.

Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.

Q Your father was born say, 25 from 42 would make him be born in 1817; now had your father any other brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, he, Peter, and was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father and all.

Q There are two girls older? A No, only the girls I never met.

Q Then you think there are only 3 older than you? A Yes, but I don't understand of the family.

Q Mr. Baker gives his age 77 in '82. If he would make him be born in '89, now it states that he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1809, will make 1824, that your grandfather Anna Priett, as a school girl; whereas from your testimony and that of the family history introduced here shows that your grandfather Anna Priett was the mother of seven children, the youngest being born in 1837, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the statement of Mr. Baker; I don't know what he would do such a statement that,

I don't remember about it.

Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the members of the Court that admitted you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.

Q You know whether they were old or young men? A They were old men like Steve Tches. I got acquainted with him afterwards, and to be Thornton, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

- Q That was the fellow that was on the Court? A Yes sir.
- Q He was afterwards assistant chief of the Cherokee Nation?
- A I think so.
- Q Steven Teece, that's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just knew the man; I had no acquaintance with him at all.
- Q D. W. C. Duncan boarded when you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember now when we were admitted.
- Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
- Q Were not you over there to his room? A I think I was.
- Q You remember when it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to make a statement before the Court? A It was in January, Tex., was in January Term of 1882 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
- Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified?
- A No sir, I didn't.
- Q But your case was not submitted or passed upon for a year?
- A I think it was, yes sir, as well as I remember.
- Q I would like to ask you when the Blasingame family came to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Blasingame came with us when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved that fall.
- Q Did he move his family here that same fall? A Yes sir.
- Q What year was that? A In the fall of '83 I believe it was, as well as I remember now.
- Q When did the Bulaska family come? A I think the girl and the old lady came in the next spring.
- Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but the girl went back and in a short time her husband come back.
- Q Did she come back until after her marriage? A No, she was married when she come first.
- Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she come out.
- Q How long has August Bulaska been a permanent and continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A I think he come there in the fall of 1884 or 1885, I wont say which.
- Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
- Q What was that? A '83.
- Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
- Q Who is Arizona Alrey? A That is my daughter.
- Q Did you bring her with you? A No not when I moved.
- Q When did she come? A She come out in a year or two after I moved here.
- Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
- Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
- Q When did Jim Lowe come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
- Q What was his mother's name? A Melvina Dawson.
- Q You know Jim Lowe's age? A No sir.
- Q Don't know how old he was in '83? A No sir.
- Q Was he grown? A I think he was.
- Q Married? A No no.
- Q Married in this country? A Yes sir.
- Q Who is James H. Hanson? A Married one of the Jackson girls.

Q When did they come to this country? A Right away after they was admitted.

Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, spring or winter of '94.

Q You know Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.

Q Who is his mother? A Minsami Ann Graham, formerly Minsami Ann Dawson.

Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Come from Texas.

Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.

Q You never knew them until they come to this country? A I never knew him.

Q When did you see him here? A I think they come here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '95.

Q He was married then? A I think he was.

Q Brought his wife? A I think he did, I don't know.

Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He come to my home and I never saw his family for-I don't know, for several years.

Q You understand he had a family? A Yes sir.

BY MR. LOCKENHON:

Q Did you want to say '84 or '94? A '84.

Q Did you see Gid Graham in '84? A '84, let me study, March '85.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.

Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I want positive swear it, but I think it was, or I remember or it was; I couldn't say positive.

Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizenized by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have narrated here about going to school and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? Ask the question again.

Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenized by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they was.

Q They all dressed money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.

Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges as native born Cherokees.

Q Well I say there is other special about it? A No, I don't know where there is.

Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with him, I know him, when I saw him.

Q Mr. Will How did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.

Q Did you file any other paper before the court other than your petition and then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.

Q How many? A I can't remember any.

Q Well you never had occasion to file any papers before the court? A I got him to do some writing for me.

Q That's a letter to my brother in Texas.

Q Nick Dawson? A Yes sir, E. Dawson.

Q What? A Yes sir, Rich Dawson.

Q What is that all he did for you? A I don't remember about it.

Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do that letter writing? A There was not any there.

Q Taylor nor Benge was not there then? A No sir.

Q That is what you paid the 20 or 25 dollars for, was writing the letter back to your brother? A I paid him for that claim.

Q When did you pay that? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly when, Camp Taylor paid it a year or two after I moved out here and set it where I did; might have been 2 years. I don't remember.

Q There was Duncan living then? A I couldn't say there.

Q Was he still clerk of this Court? A No sir, not when the money was paid; that is, when Camp Taylor's money was paid it.

Q You did send Camp Taylor some money? A I sent some money to him for Joel Bryant.

Q You knew Joel Bryant's address didn't you? A No, I don't know that I did, No I didn't send Camp Taylor any money, I gave it to him.

Q How much did you give him? A One hundred dollars.

Q When? A Right at that time; he said it should be given to me for my papers; he came into me and demanded it for Bryant.

Q You never sent him any then after that? A No sir.

Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir.

Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterwards.

Q A year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Camp Taylor money and he went once my brother about it and he never paid him until he moved out to this country.

Q After all that you let him to attend to your uncle J. Dawson's and the other relatives cases? A The other parties did.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by their representatives of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgment admitting members of the James and Robert Dawson families were admitted, and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q One question I omitted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolfe, Tehee and Therpeon.

Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.

Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Dawes Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated that they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?

Q Andrew J. Dawson, who claimed to be from Missouri? A How was the question?

Q You do not know them do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to us.

Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.

Q This Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family? A No sir, I don't.

Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.

Q The Rebecca Dawson case? A I don't know her either.

Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.

Q If any of these persons are related to you or your family did you have any knowledge of it? A Not as I know of.

Q. Now Mr. Barber, do you know anything about them? A. They claim to be kin to us.

Q. Where are they from? A. They are from Texas.

Q. Do you know they are related to you? A. They claim to be kin.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q. Will you swear for them before the Commission? A. Yes, they claim to be Minfolks of mine.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q. Irene J. House, who is that? A. That is a cousin of mine; claims to be.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q. You testified for her didn't you before the Commission? A. I think I did as well as I remember.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q. Before the Court that admitted James Dawson and family, who were the witnesses there? A. Oliver Miller, from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q. Who were the others? A. Myself and J. Dawson and there were two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.

Q. Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q. You don't remember their names? A. Which?

Q. Of these other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who were witnesses? A. I said about the J. Dawson case was citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q. You only proved that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Barber before the Court? A. Yes sir.

Q. And then referred back to the decision in the Court before? A. We proved that they were citizens, and he had folks before me ever come here.

Q. Was he older than Dr. Baker? A. About the same age.

Q. Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the House case?

Q. He was dead.

Q. You and no member of your family in the Irene House case or the James Barber case or any of those cases that were tried before the Dawes Commission in your affidavits ever had reference to the fact that Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case in '84 did you?

A. I don't remember about that.

Q. You did make reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '83, didn't you? A. I don't remember about that now.

Q. You never made reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A. I don't remember about it now.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q. Now just one other question: All of those papers in the original application and everything, so far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the James Dawson family, are lost or misplaced are they not? A. I assume they are, I don't know, I never saw them.

Q. Have you tried to get copies of them? A. Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

BY COMMISSIONER: This case is continued until 8:30 a.m., tomorrow morning, March 20th, 1902, it now being the hour for adjournment.

MARCH 20, 1902, - 8:30 A. M. - P. 12, DAWSON again on the stand, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q. Where was your brother Jim Dawson raised? A. In Arkansas.

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Did Josephine Pierce have a daughter who married Mr. Bogle?
A Yes sir.
Q What was her name? A I always known her by Bode Pierce; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.
Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?
A Yes sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Afton.
Q When? A I couldn't state.
Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.
Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.
Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.
Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.
Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you? (Showing witness document.)
A Yes sir.
Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Bengel near Fort Gibson.
Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.
Q That day of the week was that? A On Saturday.
Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.
Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.
Q Then when Judge Bengel stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?
A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.
Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.
Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.
BY MR. McKENNON:
Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A No sir.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.
Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you? A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.
Q What is your age? A My age is something close to 30 years old, I am 29 past.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Buck Dawson?
A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and he looking over them I saw this letter.

Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.

Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not. (Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here applicants' attorney hands letter and envelope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. MCKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case; it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BENGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.

Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know his handwriting? A I believe so.

Q Is that his handwriting? (Shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.

Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?
A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSION: (Reading letter)

Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor, so you all are citizens of this Nation. F. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,

S. H. Benge,

Attorney at Law.

Enclosed in envelope, as follows:

Card in upper corner, left hand:

"Refer in last case to C. H. Taylor.

Attorney at Law,

Tahlequah, Ind. Terr."

Addressed: Mr. E. Dawson,

Henry ~~...~~,
Clay Co., Texas."

Post-marked: "Chouteau, Jan 17 Ind T."

ROBERT L. DAWSON, -re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now examine that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Along the same that you found the Benge letter? A Yes sir.
BY MR. MCKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to E. Dawson, dated at Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicants' attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSION: (reads letter)

"Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation.
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 30th inst in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim so there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to answer for me when the case came up, for which I was to pay him $20 out of my fee.

This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him $100- and that you had offered him a check on some bank in Texas.

That $100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you, Please write to me.

Very respectfully,

Very truly,

J. M. Bryan."

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A He, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I couldn't have no reason to know his age; never asked for his age; of course I guess by other know.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never paid enough attent on to it.

Gid Graham, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Gid Graham.

Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.

Q How long have you been living in the Territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.

Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '8? A Yes sir.

Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.

Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.

Q Where did you go then? A Wagoner.

Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.

Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.

Q In business? A Yes sir.

Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Bengé? A Yes sir.

Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.

Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.

Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship commission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.

Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.

Q That did he tell you about it; well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A He did.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?

Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.

Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Bengé was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him; possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.

Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.

Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.

Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.

Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted?

A There were not any of them married.

Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.

Q Was she married at that time? In 1888? A Yes sir.

Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.

Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

Q Can you give us the exact date of his birth? A Yes sir.

Q And so, please? A January 11, 1897.

Q And you care to be sworn in as a citizen? A In 1907 or '08.

Q You can't have a citizen's certificate? A Well, sir, I was in a good while ago, but I don't know where it is, to cause I do

Q Well, I don't know where it is, but I would have an affidavit made

Q Now, do you recall the name of the Q You were born in the Territory? A Yes sir.

Q Now, first child of your father? A Yes sir.

Q What is his name? A Julius.

Q And you were married, and you had children, from the year of 1897

Q Since then, in 1897, you had children.

Q And to your common-law wife, is it not?

Q That is the only child you had that was born any from here?

Q No sir, Julius.

Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.

Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.

Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on"? A Well now as to the first part of that question, where you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that we were; he asked me if I didn't want to employ him, stating that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.

Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him?

A I never met him before as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavit as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.

Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit; that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.

Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see us were all put off the rolls.

Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't say I did or I did not; I neither affirm it or deny the question.

Q You went to Captain Renge and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not, I said I was under the impression I wrote his son.

Q You went to see Aaron Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.

Q And you went with Aaron Butler to see Jim Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.

Q And you either wrote or went to see everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.

Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q That was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof such as had appeared before the Commission had been placed upon a doubtful card? A Yes sir.

Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.

Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.

Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1834, wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.

Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.

Q Well what other James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never knew of but two James Dawsons.

Q Who were the others? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here; my grandfather, James Dawson.

Q Was there in '34 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old, that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?

A No sir.

Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that that time?

A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R. Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Low and Bill Jackson, son of Ellen Jackson.

Q Who was W. A. Dawson? A That is Wilburn, my uncle.

Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.

Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.

Q You knew your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I knew him well.

Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After when, Mr. Hutchings?

Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '91 or '90, several years after.

Q Very old, how old was he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q About what age? A He was approximately 80 years old.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q When he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q That about 1891? A I think so, yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to the testimony of the witness elicited by interrogatories of Counsel for the Cherokee Nation relating to his family, their history, etc, as being immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

James R. Dawson, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Your name is James R. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Where do you live? A Acton, Indian Territory.

Q What is your age? A 45.

Q You are a physician, are you not? A Yes sir.

Q Was James Dawson, whose family was admitted in 1884, an uncle of yours? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know what his age was at that time? A No sir, I do not, only approximately.

Q State as nearly as you can? A At the time of the admission?

Q Yes sir? A About 70, I don't know exactly.

Q How old was he when he died? A I would suppose he was about 78.

Q What was your age in 1884? A I was 45.

Q What year were you born, Doctor? A I was born in '50.

Q That would have been '50? A Yes sir, that's right.

Q What was your age then? A In '84?

Q Yes sir? A About 22.

Q Were you present at the time that James Dawson family was admitted, or at any time while their case was pending before the Cherokee citizenship commission? A Not while the James Dawson case was, no sir.

Q You were present during your father's case? A I was there at the time.

Q When was that? A The dates I don't remember; when the case first came up, I don't remember the exact date.

Q How long were you there? A I was there about a week.

Q Was that when it first came up you say? A Yes sir.

Q Nothing was done? A No sir.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q You never saw Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.

Q Did he and your uncle Jimmie use to talk about how they played together when they were boys? A My uncle Jim and Dr. Baker talk?

Q Yes? A I never saw them together.

Q They were about the same age? A Yes sir, I believe Dr. Baker was 15 years older probably.

Q Dr. Baker must have been mistaken about his own age? A Guessing, that's all I know about his age.

Q The Doctor had been paralyzed, rather a decrepit looking man at the time he was over here at this citizenship business? A No sir, but as I know anything about.

Q He was about 70 then? A I couldn't tell you, he was an old looking man.

Q Your uncle Jimmie was about 70? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.

Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 35.

Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.

Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?

A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 10th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote C. H. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him. I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in; that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I know, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summoned him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that is he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length; I asked him what he knew about it; of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him.

Well we talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand; I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that time and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by examination; but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I suppose they did know about the case.

With reference to S. H. Bengé, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. C. Starr over to S. H. Bengé's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 14, in the W. H. and J. W. Shoemaker case, and to descendants. I had heard that Mr. Bengé knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemaker case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit; and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit, in the Shoemaker case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Bengé knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly, gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seeking anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, or counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. C. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and

I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuasion that I brought to use.

Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuasion? A Yes sir.

Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for those parties?

A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did so.

Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSIONER: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted copies from the records of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) M. D. Green.

I, Arthur G. Evans, being duly sworn, state that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I copied the foregoing, and that the same is a true and complete copy of the original.

All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Teehee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Spears Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1886, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, Jane Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Joseph Dawson and John Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883, 1886 and 1894, Ella Dawson and W.A.

Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1894.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 324, D 580, D 581, D 584, D 588 and D 835.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. F. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis H. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Alfred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip Payroll roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Alfred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew G. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 29, 1891, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and hereinbefore named are the issue of that marriage. The oldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Len Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Paragraph 9, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) provides:

"No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William R. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew G. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the minor children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 350, D 352, D 358, D 365, D 482 and D 402.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1866. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Balawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Balawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 23, 1893, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage.

four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the Strip Payment roll of 1894. May Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Hannie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John F. Dawson on September 2, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1896, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1892, and Sarah F. and Hannie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 578, D 380 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated, Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. F. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas P. Dawson and Orle H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are both identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Allison, and Mariee J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orle H. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Adlie York, and Burr R. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1889. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 408, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (no: Effie Akins) and Nancy J. Bogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Nellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 15, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Myrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Nellie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Oma Gray was married to John B. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Cecil and Walton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Oma Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 5, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Oma Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akins was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1886 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akins, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 364, D 475 and D 526.

Joseph R. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He was married to Florence Jackson on May 16, 1880, and they have lived together since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Ella Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and her inbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1886, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VI, includes the application of Nellie Dawson and those claiming through her and embraces case numbered D 518.

The evidence shows that Nellie Moore, formerly Dawson, is identified as the Nellie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 6, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1895. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 435, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 609, D 617, D 626 and D 627.

The evidence shows that Zona Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zona Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1890, to the said Zona Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William G. Dawson on November 18, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert B. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1896. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Hellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship

1813 in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spiekerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the state of Texas in 1868, and has lived with her since that time. Tampa V. and Robert E. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1898.

ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis K. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard T. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1886, and has lived with her since that time. Tomp V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of Joe E. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892, to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe E. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green W. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 395, D 476, D 508, D 830 and D 847.

The evidence shows that Green W. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1887 to the said Ella Dawson. He had been previously married to her in some State prior to her admission to citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Tashie A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lenox, formerly Jackson are the children of said Ella Dawson, now Ella Jackson. Flora Harmon, Tashie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three elder children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Lissie Jackson claims to have been married in 1888 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896, (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and hereinbefore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495) heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Tashio A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William C. Lennox, and his wife, Fannie Lennox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 839.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Mollie Knight, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been acquired by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is derived in Section 11 of the Act of Congress approved June 27, 1896 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 715, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene W. and Wilburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1886, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1892. On September 23, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children heretofore applied for, Della F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Finis T. Richardson and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife Kitty. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Leona, Conroy, Clifton and Miss Flournoy are the children of the applicant and Kitty Flournoy.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Flournoy was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Delia T. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 26, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Texanna Welley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Millie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XIII, includes the following applications: Hiram T. Waddle, et al D 521; William B. Douthitt, R 522; Alonzo M. Fitchback, D 343; Florence Morgan, et al D 737; John T. Fitchback, D 645 and George A. Mabry, et al D 979. The persons embraced in these applientions are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram F. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 13, 1884, to Lula P. Douthitt, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 18, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram F. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William B. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula P. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 15, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonso M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1895, to Laverna A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Laverna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of said marriage. Alonso M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Elbert L. Morgan, is the daughter of the Kitty Richardson heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December, 1, 1894 with the said Kitty Richardson as a member of her family. Glide and Alice A. Morgan are her children by her said husband. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John E. Fishback is the son of Laverna Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1883, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John E. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children advanced in this decision, and heretofore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Commission on citizenship admitting Robert Dawson and his family was obtained by fraud on the part of said persons.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1881, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. C. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawson case was continued several times before final decision. J. H. Bryan appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified Samuel H. Dawson that the case would be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1882, and that afterwards that C. H. Taylor would look after Dawson's interests as to the same.

would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel L. Bange to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Bange who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1885, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Tosh Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon motion of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Bange but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Teehee and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know when any large citizenship cases came up; that he introduced F. M. Dawson to Duncan on the evening of January 10th, heard part of a conversation between them in which Duncan addressing Dawson said, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if what was straightened out it will be all right." Next morning witness says Dawson told him to call up the case, which he did. That there was no challenge.

evidence introduced and no argument made, and that the case was then decided in favor of the Dawsons. Witness further testifies that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he would send him the balance in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instruction to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a land claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. M. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud is the testimony of S. H. Deuge, C. H. Taylor, Thomas E. Babcart, J. E. Clinkenbeard, James W. Lewis, C. G. Drought and David Meredith.

S. H. Deuge testifies that a judgment adverse to the Dawsons was rendered by the Commission on the evening of one day and without any additional proceedings in the case that judgment was reversed on the morning of the next day.

Even if this were a material fact, there is no other proof that two judgments in the case were ever rendered. The record of the proceedings and judgment in the Commission's books is all on one page, the entry of the application is 1881 and the first continuance being entered under authority of a former Commission and by a different clerk, and there is no evidence of erasure on that page. It is not an unusual thing for a Court to change its judgment, and this fact, if it is a fact, is not in itself any evidence of fraud.

Thomas B. Dabeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1883, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Elbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 85 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into the question of perjury in connection with evidence in that case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard establishes, if anything, only the facts stated, and does not prove that Dr. Baker committed perjury in giving his testimony before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Benge stated that Tash Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners, states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker, seems, however, to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McKennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1863, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Draught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1861 or 1862, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever got in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with old James Dawson in 1868, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Tennesse Commission were corrupted by the fraudulent use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to testify the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for proper and legitimate purposes. F. M. Dawson gives a detailed statement of what the case cost him and his brother in a legitimate way. The presumption can not be indulged that such money was used for fraudulent purposes and the proof to the contrary must be very clear.

before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Duncan, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Duncan signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Duncan testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Such evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawson family, claiming from the same source, have been denied Cherokee citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by this Commission and by the United States Court. Such evidence, in the opinion of this Commission, is not competent for any purpose in this proceeding. The only question before this Commission is whether there was fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Teehee Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants were never lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has not authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1863, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts, applied with equal force can for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1865; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1862, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to set aside a judgment so obtained. No such action appears to have been taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that, enrolled as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of said Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress, and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of this Commission that, for the reasons heretofore stated, the applications for the enrollment of Arizona Allred and William C. Allred, (embraced in D 835); Francis L. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, (embraced in D 627); Osie Jackson, Lizzie Jackson, Jessie Jackson, Ray Jackson, and Clyde Jackson, the children of William and Lizzie Jackson, (embraced in D 830); James Lowe, May Lowe, Zelma Lowe, Roberta Lowe and Rosa Lowe, (embraced in D 839), as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that the applications of Lizzie Jackson, widow of William Jackson, (embraced in D 830), and George A. Mabry (embraced in D 979), as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied, in accordance with the provisions of the law heretofore quoted, and it is so ordered.

As hereinbefore stated William Pierce (D 409) and Cecil Dawson (D 358) and Green W. Jackson (D 395), died prior to September 1, 1902. It further appears from affidavits, made a part of this record that Liddle and Margaret Graham (D 1128) have died since the date of the application for their enrollment and prior to September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, ordered that the applications for the enrollment of said William Pierce, Cecil Dawson, Green W. Jackson, Liddle Graham and Margaret Graham be, and the same are hereby dismissed.

In the matter of the application of Arizona Allred, et al., for enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, consolidating the applications of--

Arizona Allred, et al.,
Effie Akin, et al.,
Florence Dawson,
Francis Marion Dawson,

Cherokee D-836,
Cherokee D-472,
Cherokee D-364,
Cherokee D-627.

This decision is supplemental to the decision rendered by this Commission on December 23, 1902, in the case of Francis M. Dawson, et al., and is amendatory to Groups I., IV., V. and VIII., of said decision.

-:-

D E C I S I O N .

The record herein shows that applications for enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, were made to this Commission as follows:

D 836 Group I. By Francis Marion Dawson for Arizona Allred and her minor child, William Clinton Allred.

D 472 Group IV. By John B. Gray for Effie Pierce. Subsequent to the filing of the original application wherein the said Effie Pierce married one Will Akin, and she will now be listed for enrollment as Effie Akin. October 29, 1902, an affidavit was filed showing the birth of Velva Kay Akin on June 16, 1902.

D 364 Group V. By Joseph R. Dawson for his wife, Florence Dawson, nee Jackson.

D 627 Group VIII., By Francis Marion Dawson for himself.

The record further shows that on December 23, 1902, this Commission rendered a decision herein denying Arizona Allred, William Clinton Allred and Francis Marion Dawson, the right to enrollment, and enrolling Effie Akin (said decision did not include Velva May Akin,) as citizens by blood, and enrolling Florence Dawson as a citizen by intermarriage, of the Cherokee Nation.

D 836, Group I., Departmental letter of March 31, 1904 (I. T. D. 7442-03), remanded the record in re Arizona and William Clinton Allred for further investigation as to their rights to enrollment. Supplemental testimony in the matter of said application was taken at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, May 14, 1904.

D 472, Group IV., Departmental letter of April 13, 1904, (I. T. D. 7444-03), remanded the record in re application of Effie Akin for further investigation as to her rights to enrollment. Supplemental testimony in the matter of said application was taken at Muskogee, Indian Territory, June 20, 1904.

D 364, Group V., Departmental letter of March 31, 1904, (I. T. D. 7464-03), remanded the record in re application of Florence Dawson for further consideration by the Commission.

D 627, Group VIII., Departmental letter of March 31, 1904, (I. T. D. 7906-03), remanded the record in re application of Francis Marion Dawson for further investigation as to his rights to enrollment. Supplemental testimony in the matter of said application was taken at Tahlequah, Indian Territory, May 14, 1904.

The testimony taken in re application of Francis M. Dawson, et al., Cherokee D 324, for enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, is filed with and made a part of the record in this case.

D 835, Group I. The evidence shows that Arizona Allred died on January 8, 1901. An affidavit to that effect is filed with and made a part of the record herein.

Section twenty-five of the Act of Congress approved July 1, 1902, (32 Stat., 716) provides:

"The roll of citizens of the Cherokee Nation shall be made as of September first, nineteen hundred and two and the names of all persons then living and entitled to enrollment on that date shall be placed on said roll by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes."

The evidence further shows that the minor applicant, William Clinton Allred, is the child of Arizona Allred, deceased, and possesses no rights to enrollment except as her descendant; that he was born in the state of Arkansas, and, with the exception below noted, has resided therein since birth. The said William Clinton Allred is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896.

The evidence further shows that the said Arizona Allred was a Cherokee by blood, and that prior to reaching her majority, she was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation; that after reaching her majority she removed to the state of Arkansas, where she married one Lee Allred, and, with the exception below noted, resided in said state until her death in January, 1901. In September, 1898, Arizona Allred, with her husband and child, William Clinton Allred, moved to the Cherokee Nation, remaining there about one year, when, taking with them their effects, they returned to the state of Arkansas.

Article one, section two, Cherokee Constitution, provides "Whenever any citizen shall remove with his effects out of the limits of this nation, and becomes a citizen of any other government, all his rights and privileges as a citizen of this nation shall cease; . . . ."

D-472, Group IV. The evidence herein shows that Effie Akin, nee Pierce, is the daughter of one Josephine Dawson, who, on January 11, 1883, by the properly constituted authorities, was admitted as a Cherokee by blood, to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that at the time of said admission Effie Akin, nee Pierce, was a minor member of her mother's family, and that, with the exception below noted, she has since said date of admission, continuously resided in the Cherokee Nation. In the year 1901 the said Effie Pierce was married to one Will Akin, a resident of Colorado, and since said marriage she has, during a part of the time, resided outside the limits of the Indian Territory. It further appears that for a number of years past the said Effie Akin has owned and controlled valuable property in the Cherokee Nation, and it does not appear that she has forfeited her rights to citizenship therein.

Velva May Akin is the daughter of the said Effie and Will Akin, and has resided with her parents since birth.

D 364, Group V. The evidence herein shows that the said Florence Dawson, nee Jackson, is the daughter of Green W., and Ellen Jackson, who, on September 14, 1883, by the properly constituted authorities, were admitted as Cherokees by blood to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that at the time of said admission the said Florence Dawson was a member of her father's family, and that she has continuously resided in the Cherokee Nation since the date of said admission.

D 627, Group VIII. The evidence herein shows that the applicant, Francis Marion Dawson, is the son of one Elbert Dawson, who, on January 11, 1883, by the properly constituted authorities, was admitted as a Cherokee by blood, to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that at the time of said admission the applicant, Francis Marion Dawson, was member of his father's family, and has continuously resided in the Cherokee Nation since the date of said admission. The applicant herein is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890 and the Cherokee Strip payment roll of 1894.

It is, therefore, ordered by this Commission that the application for the enrollment of Arisena Allred as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, be, and the same is, hereby dismissed under the provisions of section twenty-five of the Act above noted; and it is the opinion of this Commission that the name of William Clinton Allred appears upon the 1896 census roll of the Cherokee Nation without authority of law, and that the application for the enrollment of the said William Clinton Allred as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation, should be denied; and that, following the rulings of the Department in the cases of Clement G. Clarke, et al., (I. T. D. 1376-03), and Joseph D. Yeargain, et al., (I. T. D. 2900-03), as to Effie and Velva May Akin; and following the rulings of the Department in the cases of Martha Hill et al., (I. T. D. 3886-03) Guss Caldwell et al., (I. T. D. 7786-03), and Sarah A. Betser et al., (I. T. D. 8688-03), as

SECRETARY

ADDRESS ONLY TO THE
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES

Muskogee, Indian Territory,

February 1st

1902

Joseph R. Dawson,

Afton, Indian Territory

Sir:-

You are hereby notified that the application of yourself, your wife and six

minor children

for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 17th day of March, 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

Yours truly,

Acting Chairman.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior,

Sir:

There is herewith transmitted the record of proceedings had in the consolidated case of Arizona Allred, et al., citing the Commission's decision dated November 2, 1904, dismissing the application for the enrollment of Arizona Allred, rejecting the application for the enrollment of William C. Allred, and granting the applications for the enrollment of John and Walter May Allred, and Florence and Francis Marvin May as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

You are advised that, on November 2, 1904, the Commission set aside the Cherokee Roll and gave Allred and his heirs time within which to file such protest as they might desire against the rolls of the Commission. In that case, no protest has been filed.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

OFFICE OF INDIAN AFFAIRS,

WASHINGTON, February 15, 1906.

Refer in reply to the following:
Land,
25052-1904.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I enclose a report from the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, dated December 3, 1904, transmitting the record of the consolidated applications for enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, (group 1) by Arizona Allred for herself and her minor child, William Clinton Allred; (group 4) by Effie Akin for herself and her minor child, Velva May Akin; (group 5) by Florence Dawson for herself, and (group 3) by Francis Marion Dawson for himself.

November 5, 1904, the Commission decided adversely to Arizona and William Clinton Allred and favorably to Effie Akin, Velva May Akin, Florence Dawson and Francis Marion Dawson.

The record shows that the names of these applicants are found in the record of the application of Francis M. Dawson et al. and the record in the case of these applicants was remanded to the Commission for readjudication.

The decision of the Department in the Francis M. Dawson case et al., was made by groups, Arizona Allred et al. being in group 1, Effie Akin et al. in group 4, Florence Dawson in group

5 and Francis Marion Dawson in group 5.

In group 1, the record shows that Arisena Allred died January 8, 1901; that the minor applicant, William Clinton Allred is the child of Arisena Allred and possesses no rights to enrollment except as her descendant; that he was born in the State of Arkansas, and with the exception of one year has resided there since his birth. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The evidence further shows that Arisena Allred was a Cherokee by blood and that prior to her majority she was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation; that after reaching her majority she removed to the State of Arkansas where she married one Lee Allred and, with the exception of about one year resided in that State until her death in January, 1901. In September, 1898, with her husband and child, William Clinton Allred she moved to the Cherokee Nation, remained about one year when, taking with them their effects, they returned to the State of Arkansas.

In group 4 the evidence shows that Effie Akin is the daughter of Josephine Dawson who was on January 11, 1888, duly admitted to citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that at the time of such admission Effie Akin was a minor member of her mother's family. In the year 1901, she married a resident of Colorado and has during a part of the time resided outside of the Cherokee Nation but has owned and controlled valuable property in said Nation.

Velva May Akin is a daughter of Effie Akin and has resided with her parents since birth.

In group 5 the evidence shows that Florence Dawson, born Jackson is the daughter of Green W. and Ellen Jackson who, on September 14, 1883, were duly admitted as Cherokees by blood to citizenship by blood in the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that at the time of such admission Florence Dawson was a member of her father's family and that she has continuously resided in the Cherokee Nation.

In group 6 the evidence shows that the applicant, Francis Marion Dawson is the son of Hilbert Dawson, who, on January 11, 1883, was duly admitted as a Cherokee by blood to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation. It further appears that at the time of such admission Francis Marion Dawson was a member of his father's family and has continuously resided in the Cherokee Nation. He is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890 and the Cherokee Strip roll of 1894.

In view of the record the approval of the Commission's decision adverse to Arizona and William Clinton Alford and favorable to the other applicants is recommended.

Very respectfully,

G. F. Larrabee

Acting Commissioner.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

On February 25, 1905, you transmitted the record in the matter of the applications of Francis M. Dawson, et al, for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

In your decision of December 23, 1902, the applications were disposed of by groups, including in each group or class all those persons depending upon the same ancestry and source of rights.

On March 31, 1904, the Department rendered decisions disposing of each group with a separate letter. In said letters the Department approved your decision, except as to the following groups, concerning which groups the record was remanded and you were instructed to readjudicate the case as to the rights of the applicants mentioned below, viz: D-335, Group I, Arisena and William Clinton Allred; D-472, Group IV, Effie King; D-344, Group V, Florence Dawson; D-427, Group VIII, Francis Marion Dawson,

On December 23, 1904, you returned the record in said cases, which record also includes the application for the enrollment of Velva May Akin, minor child of Effie Akin. The record shows that further testimony was taken subsequent to the remanding of the cases by the Department, in all of the cases remanded, except as to the applicant Florence Dawson. On May 5, 1904, you decided that the application for the enrollment of Arizona Allred should be dismissed, under the provisions of Section 28 of the act of Congress approved July 1, 1902; that the application for the enrollment of William Clinton Allred should be denied, and that the applicants Effie and Velva May Akin, Florence Dawson and Francis Marion Dawson, should be enrolled as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

Reporting February 15, 1906, the Indian Office recommended that your decision be approved. A copy of its letter is inclosed.

The Department concurs in said recommendation, and your decision is hereby affirmed.

Respectfully,

(Signed) E. A. Hitchcock.

Wilborn Dawson

Trans. from D475

Cher 10744

Department of the Interior,
Commissioner to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Winita, I.T., September 29, 1900.

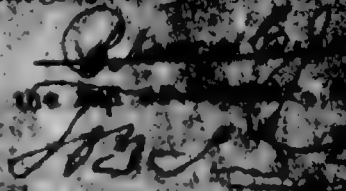

In the matter of the application of WILBORN DAWSON for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood: being sworn and examined by Commissioner Needles, he testified as follows:

- Q What is your name? A Wilborn Dawson.
Q What is your age? A 34 years old.
Q What is your post office address? A Arton.
Q What district do you live in? A Delaware.
Q Are you a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q By blood? A Yes, sir.
Q What degree of blood? A I don't know, I guess about 1/16.
Q Your name on the roll of 1880? A No, sir.
Q By what right do you claim citizenship? A (Exhibit its paper.)
(The applicant presents a certificate issued from the office of the Commission on Citizenship, January 11, 1883, said certificate being signed by Thomas Tsches, President of the Commission, Alex Wolff and T. F. Thompson, Commissioners, certified to by B. W. C. Duncan, Clerk of the Commission, under date of January 11, 1883, admitting among others to Cherokee citizenship one Wilborn Dawson.)
Q Are you the identical Wilborn Dawson mentioned in this certificate?
A Yes, sir.
Q For whom do you apply for enrollment? A Myself only.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1888 I believe.
Q Been living here continuously since that time? A Yes, sir.
Q You were admitted in 1883? A Yes, sir.
Q You didn't remove to the Territory till 1888? A No, sir, I had been here, but I never came here permanently until 1888.

The name of Wilborn Dawson appears upon the census roll of 1888, and he also presents a certificate of admission more particularly described in the testimony, certifying that he was admitted to citizenship on the 11th day of January, 1883. He swears that he did not remove to the Territory until 1888. Another cause of complaint of the Cherokee Nation was protest against the admission of the said Wilborn Dawson on the ground that his admission was by fraud. Consequently, final judgment as to the enrollment of said Wilborn Dawson will be suspended and his name will be upon a doubtful card.

Krueger E. Jones, being duly sworn, says that as Commissioner to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes he examined the proceedings and testimony in the above case, and that he has true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this the 29th day of September, 1900.

RECORDED INDEX
MAR 1907
MISSISSIPPI
MISSISSIPPI

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES,
VINNIE, I. T., SEPTEMBER 17th, 1900.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF Francis Marion Dawson, wife and children for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and he being sworn by Commissioner, S. B. Brockbridge, testified as follows:

- Q What is your full name? A Francis Marion Dawson.
Q What is your age? A I am fifty eight years old.
Q What is your father's name? A George.
Q What district do you live in? A Vinnico.
Q Who is it you wish to have enrolled? A Myself and family.
Q Your wife? A Yes, sir.
Q How many children? A Two.
Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.

Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1883.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.

The applicant presents a fully authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 15th day of January, 1883, certain papers were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

Q What is your name in it? A Yes, sir.
The following is a copy of the certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 15th day of January, 1883, certain papers were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

Q You have not married since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.
The applicant presents a fully authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1889, at Vinnico, I. T., Cherokee, in Indian Territory, Arkansas, the license being issued by the Clerk of that County.

These papers are as follows:
Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, was she not? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
Q Has not your wife been admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A No, sir; she was never on the rolls.
Q On the 15th day of January, 1883, was she not? A Yes, sir.
Q Give me the name of the witness, please? A Laid.
Q How many witnesses? A Two.
Q What are their names?
Q How old?
Q How old?
Q How old?

- Q Next child? A Laura.
- Q How old is that child? A Six or seven years old.
- Q Is that all? A Yes, sir, six of them. I have others, but they are not at home.
- Q Are they married? A No, sir.
- Q Are they over age? A Yes, sir.

- (1896 Roll, Page 461, #908, Laura Albertic Dawson, " " )

- Q Is this Lula or Lily? A Lily.
- The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children:
- Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by the certificate of admission, either in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship, by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1883; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission; she has never been remarried according to Cherokee law. She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896: They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment :
of F. M. Dawson and others as :
Cherokee citizens. :
----- :

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. B. Denison in the Gray-Halsell building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

- Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 53 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some tin in 1880 or 1881, I think, it my have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tehee, Wolf and myself, Tehee was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a clock? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two, sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard by the Commission?
A Yes, sir.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, yes. The judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.

Q What you intended to convey by you answer to the former question was that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.

Q I will present you with a paper which the Notary will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?

A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.

Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.

Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, President of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.

Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?

A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by touching the pen.

Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Commission?

A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.

Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?

A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.

Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation by that Commission?

A I remember F. M. Dawson and his partner, that is about the only ones I remember.

Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?

A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.

Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?

A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood besides.

Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?

A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.

Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or impropriety of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?

A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY U. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shows you is in your handwriting?

A Yes, sir.

Q When Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the fact?

A No, I don't know, that is the fact, but I don't know if it is the original, I did not sign it, if it is the original I signed it.

Q You state that the witnesses were sworn orally before the Court, don't you know that is against the law as you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled experts evidence out, as well as I remember.

Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence? Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.

Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?

A Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?

A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.

Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?

A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.

Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?

No, sir.

Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?

A No, sir.

Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.

Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.

Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.

Q How could your court determine when they claimed descent through some former family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The court would determine by the evidence produced in answer to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.

Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.

Q Who was the attorney for the Dawson? A Old man Houston Bengo.

Q Could either Teehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.

Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for deciding this case? A No, sir.

Q How long were you considering the case altogether?

A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively how, they were a long time getting in testimony.

Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?

A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.

Q Well the court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence as closed?

A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember the the interpreter the Commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case.

A His name was Stone, I don't remember his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?

A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case on, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.

Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?

A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.

Q Do you know where he lived at that time?

A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

D. V. C. Duncan being produced by the applicants after being sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?

A My name is D. V. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Vinita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.

Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.

Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?

A Yes, sir.

Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?

A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.

Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?

A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.

Q If you remember the names of the members of that Commission or Court, please give them?

A The President of the Commission was Tchen I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.

Q T. F. Thompson?

A Yes.

Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?

A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.

Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's deposition, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Asair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?

A Yes, I think I have seen this before.

Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?

A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.

Q Looking at its date, was it drawn up by you at the time it bears date?

A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.

Q Do you recognize the signature in the certificate attached to that paper?

A Yes, that is my signature.

Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?

A It is in my own handwriting.

Q And at that time you were clerk of the said court? A Yes.

Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and write if you can, by what they were written?

A I think the first two are in my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.

Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tchen and Alex Wolfe to that paper?

A Thomas Tchen and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?

A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was admitted by that court for the Clerk to sign Tanne's and Wolf's names and F. M. Dawson to sign his own name.

Q You didn't catch exactly my issue, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call your attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?

A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.

Q If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. M. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. M. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?

A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the excellent business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION OF F. M. DAWSON

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the proceedings why did you have the judges sign it?

A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signatures of the Court.

Q Examine that signature of Mr. Tanne's, examine the first F in his name and the T in Tanne's name and say if it is not all your own handwriting?

A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is not my handwriting.

Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?

A It was taken by the witness being sworn and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down as dictated by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existence or not?

A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.

Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?

A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recall his first name.

Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A I do.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of
FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings were had:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of this paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge, if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:

The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing counsel, their agent and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tenuous. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existence anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness

- Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
- Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I don't read nor write; I can barely write my name.
- Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
- Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
- Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
- Q I will read this paper to you and desire for you to say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
- Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
- Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
- Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
- Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jessy, Francis Marion-
- Q That is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
- Q Thirteen? (No response.)
- Q Now, Robert Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
- Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
- Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
- Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
- Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
- Q Your grandmother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
- Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
- Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
- Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
- Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
- Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
- Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '43.
- Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
- Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and aunts? I didn't see all of them.
- Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
- Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsey Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
- Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
- Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
- Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Lila Dawson.
- Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
- Q Well sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him; Riley Dawson.

- Q That is Samuel E. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other ones? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack replaced with Spot? A No, it was just I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have more children? A I never see them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I see uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson and Jack Dawson and Betsey Ann Petty; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi I think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Pollie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Hiller that testified in your case? A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of them was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A We always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time I lived my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q A C he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now.
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKeon: Applicants by their counsel object to the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Board of Citizenship Inquiry and the history of the family as detailed by the witness as being incompetent and irrelevant, and request the Court to find of incompetency the last part of the statement of said witness or either of the Board's findings in admitting evidence of the Dawson family.

Objection: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

C. W. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows as part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. TAYLOR:

Q What is your name? A C. H. Taylor.
Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A Near Coffeyville.
Q Were you an attorney before various citizen courts along in the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you attorney for F. W. Danson commonly known as Bid Danson?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.
Q Do you know who composed the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Who were they? A Tom Tehee and Alex Wolfe and Tolly Thompson.
Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there were only two of them present.
Q Which two? A Tehee and Wolfe.
Q Who was the clerk of the court at that time? A Mr. Duncan,
D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bid Danson?
A No, sir; now I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the court.
Q When did you read attorney? A I was only called in as an attorney at the-- Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.
Q Did you read the evidence in this case? A No, sir.
Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.
Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Danson ever send you any money with the direction to pay it to either member of the court or the clerk of the court, D. W. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a heap of trouble over this matter.
Commissioner: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.
A Being the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.
Commissioner: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.
Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards?
(No response)
COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:
Q Do you desire to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.
Q Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.
Q You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, but it is at this point that you prefer to plead your privileges, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Com'r Breckinridge: The power in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to matters which arise through this Commission. Of course the Commission desires and the Government needs for the making of a correct roll the fullest information possible, but it is subject to the limitations of law, and it is not for this Commission to decide the law in a matter of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, but to report the matter to the United States Court and let the Court pass judgment.

Under Section 21 of the Curtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 23 1898, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and send for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain offenses does not go so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to make rolls as herein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are in your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of the answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court; do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any officials of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.

Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at due time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever; they only want to object to the incompetency and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE:

Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until in the morning at its present status; it is after business hours now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.

(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, March 13, 1902.)

Q Now, Wilson Sanders: was it Wilson Sanders?

A Yes, sir. He was the one who was talking about the matter having cost him a right start. He asked me if I thought the case was essentially and I told him I didn't know.

Q Now, after the case on came, Judge, in any of your conversations with him since that time? A I never called it a witness; that young man came to me and asked me to help him up there that the day after the trial, and he and his father and all was about the case, and he asked me if I could there be to a witness but he is not at I don't for him.

Q Now, after that, wasn't it? A Yes, sir. I never had any relations with Mr. Graham since that time about the case, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations.

Q Now, after the census Commission began taking a census of the people of the State, did you have any conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?

A Yes, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.

Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all I know is that is all I have stated he talked to me in regard to the case, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't know what words there were, but he told me they were rejected, that was the words he used.

Q Now, after that has been sorely go.

Q Now, after that, did you see him here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.

Q Now, did you here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?

A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the case.

Q Now, as to the principal Dawson family? A Yes.

Q Now, was there any other written statement here made, when was this made? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)

A I don't know.

Q Now, who took this? A Mr. Starr.

Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.

Q Now, did you tell about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.

Q Now, when was it that they know that you know this?

A No.

Q Now, did you make any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of; I might have talked with Scales, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scales.

Q Now, did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

Q He came alone here as a Notary Public? A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he come, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said "what" and he went to work and named Shoemaker case and Dawson case. And thereupon you made this statement? A He said he wanted to see me.

Q And you certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
A Yes, sir; we was together.

Q Did he ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here?
A He went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I together.

Q Did he returned here together? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
A No, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.

Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.

Q How did they pay you? A Paid me the money.

Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young fellow paid me some.

Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.

Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.

Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over in Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.

Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.

Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yander he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundred dollars.

Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.

Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered?
A In his case?

Q Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Tom and Wolfe.

Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.

Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.

Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.

Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.

Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.

Q How long did you remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?

A I guess I was there about three days.

... A No,
...

BY THE COURT:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held in contempt of the Court.

Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being the case of course I would make a statement.

Q Are you acquainted with H. W. C. Lancon, the Clerk of what is known as the 10th Circuit Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that he knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, sir, I don't think that ever came up in that respect; he asked me if whatever cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.

Q Did you have any conversation with him about the Dawson case during the progress of the trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. H. Dawson to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to the Court and he said that he would take the case down to his room, that is all.

Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir, after supper I went down to his room.

Q Did he ask you about the Dawson or Lawson case? A He asked me where he could find it.

Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. H. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.

Q Well, what did you reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.

Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Lawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.

Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

- Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1874.
- Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation? A I think since 1874.
- Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you? A Yes, sir.
- Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on a very easy case.
- Q And sentenced to jail of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for 120 days and I stayed in about 30 or 39 days, and I was released.
- Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
- Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the cause of that action; Jim Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
- Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the rail for fraudulent purposes.
- Q Sending out propositions and obtaining case for citizenship for people in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspondence.
- Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
- Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the rail for fraudulent purposes.
- Q The use of the rails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
- Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
- Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
- Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
- Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
- Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occurred between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
- Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
- Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
- Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
- Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

A: Did you not yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with U. S. Shoemaker say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it"? Q: No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemaker, I says: "Who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came a fair and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q: You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A: Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I went if I can possible avoid it."

Q: Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A: It was afterwards.

Q: You heard what if you had refused to answer you could have gone to jail? A: No, sir; if they had employed me before and I had not now.

Q: You mean that if they had employed you before had you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A: I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q: Were you required to give him the information; did you think that you had to give him any information? A: Who do you mean.

Q: Mr. Hastings. A: I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q: Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A: No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q: As a lawyer you think that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A: I told him that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q: Why did you do it? A: Well, he intimated to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter -- I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q: And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A: Well, told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q: Well, that did he reply, as you said just now? A: Oh, he says "I do the statement and then I told him--I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q: You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A: Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it won't make any difference or so with me to that effect.

Q: Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that if the statement he was asking you to make would not be used?

A: Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q: Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A: No, sir.

Q: Now, in this conversation with Shoemaker to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A: No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with his lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

- Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
- Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
- Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
- Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
- Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
- Q You say that after the judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $200? A Yes, sir.
- Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
- Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
- Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
- Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
- Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
- Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
- Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
- Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
- Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
- Q And for that you say they paid you $120? A Yes, sir; $120.
- Q Was Houston Benjo present when that was one? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
- Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
- Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
- Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
- Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
- Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
- Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Bellette can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
- Q Was it about 1883? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1880 somewhere.
- Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
- Q You have never practiced such in any other way have you? A Very little.
- Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q Was there an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.

Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family."

MR. HASTINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemaker case didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemaker case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.

Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim your privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.

Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.

Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.

Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.

Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.

Q How old are you? A 73 years old.

Q What is your business? A I work at the tin business and gun work.

Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. H. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.

Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years.

I guess.

Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 or 75 years.

Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A Along about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.

Q How did you happen to get acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.

Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.

Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?

A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.

Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

FR. MCKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewhere near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.

Q How was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.

Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.

Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

LR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 56.

Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Tehee citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.

Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, ran's by the name of Sharbow.

Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A

Yes, sir.

Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.

Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you two time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witness I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 35 or 30 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he hadn't come.

Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's knowing anything?

A Well, he said he was 35 or 30 years old and didn't know straight way.

Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?

A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arlansens whickey and he would swear that black was white.

Q How long did you stay in about that money would go in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, is talking about the evidence, he said. I don't know what money would go down in Texas or he said "I come to get the land of the land" and he says "I found out it got here," or words to that effect.

Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.

Q Did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.

Q Well, where did he go to, there? A He and I left there together; he rode to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.

Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.

Q Where? A Vinita.

Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he came out and he said all right.

Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.

J. R. McKEEHOE:

Q Your first conversation with him was in '01 was it? A Yes, sir.

Q What time in '01? A September.

Q You went on an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you admitted? A No, sir.

Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.

Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.

Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita. Q What did you make representations now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.

Q How did they ever know that you had had these conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.

Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.

Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.

Q How, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.

Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have seen Mr. Hastings for years.

Q Now, you say—how was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know what it was; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.

Q Now, he said that didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.

Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.

Q Did he have to live in the Territory? A Yes, sir he lived at Vinita at one time.

- Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
- Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
- Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
- Q Generally? No, sir.
- Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. G. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Beroke Motion:
MR. HITCHINGS:

- Q What is your name? A C. G. Braught.
- Q What is your age? A 62 29th day of last January.
- Q What is your post office? A Fairland.
- Q How long have you been living in the neighborhood of Fairland?
A I have been living there 19 years.
- Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. L. Dawson as his name is?
A I do.
- Q How long have you known him? A About 13 years.
- Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile or him.
- Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
- Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '2 at Fairland? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
- Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the first that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
- Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
- Q What did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
- Q Do you know what time of the year that was, whether it was in the fall or not? A I think it was in June.
- Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time?
A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
- Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.
- MR. MCKENNON:
- Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June.
- Q Now, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
- Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
- Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
- Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
- Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
- Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence?
A Yes, sir.
- Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
- Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
- Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty?
A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him?
A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at odds? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 8:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1902.

Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. G. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Mr. Braught, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewhere between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time?
A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him?
A It was in '81 or '82, I think I knew him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Jiles Flippin and Joe Pleaton about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Flippin were talking in regard to grass down there before we one time and

It was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be purchasing cattle, I would have stock eating my grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.

Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.

Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."

Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Flipin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."

Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him: "Hookey Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."

Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or whether he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian? A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKemon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKemon:

Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Russ County, Texas. B. W. Alberty was my guardian.

Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.

Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.

Q That tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.

Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.

Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?

A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.

Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.

MR. HASTINGS, of Council for Cherokee Nation:

Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKemon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABEART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

LP. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babeart.

Q What is your post office? A Melvin.

Q What is your age? A 49.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him two or three times.
Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Puppy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler or Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had more money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKENNON:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?
A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.
Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody?
A I guess—I don't remember when.
Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?
A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.
Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it has been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Council?
A No, sir.
Q You have been living on the Cherokee Nation all your life?
A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that ran Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.

Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.

Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was C. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.

Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was Delia altogether in my young days.

Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.

Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what? A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.

Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.

Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know;

he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.

Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.

Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.

Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.

Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.

Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?

A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.

Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.

Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SAMUEL TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relation are you to the Dawsons? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.

Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What did you say your father's name was? A Mile Dawson.

Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What children had your father? A Why, he had a lot, you mean his first children or his whole family?

Q I ask all of his children? A I don't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.

Q Just one or two of them I care for: is Mrs. Lewis your sister?

A Yes, sir.

Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.

Q Now who were the parents of your father, Samuel Dawson?

A My Sam Dawson was his father.

Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.

Q That was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that she was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.

Q What was her given name? A Annie.

Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q Saw him? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.

Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.

Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.

Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?

A Yes, sir.

Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had, that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.

Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?

A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandfather say anything about it.

Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.

Q Did you father come here and apply once for citizenship?

A Yes, sir.

Q Was he admitted? A I think not.

Q Did you hear him make any statements about the ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.

Q Well, in that connection did he say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKernon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

- Q About how old were you you suppose when your grandfather died?
- A About 6.
- Q Was your father's birth recorded in the family Bible? A Yes, sir.
- Q You know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and deaths were recorded in any Bible or not? A I was, but we haven't it.
- Q What became of it? A Got burned.
- Q Well, about what year do you remember that your father, Samuel Dawson was born? A I believe it was '23.
- Q In 1823? A Yes, sir.
- Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and '7.
- Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians?
- A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q And how many other in the family you can both remember spoken of by my wife, Annie, always? A Yes, sir.

MR. McKEE: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, born _____, his work and name examined, testifies as follows:

BY MR. BUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alex S. Lewis.

Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.

Q How old are you? A 59 years.

Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Parale Dawson.

Q What was your wife's father's name? A Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel L. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?

Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's father, state how you know it? A Well she called Margaret, Margaret Queen was her maiden name.

Q The maiden name of your wife's father's mother? A My wife maiden name of my wife's father's mother?

Q Yes, sir? A From her husband and my father-in-law he is my Annie Pruett.

Q What was the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife father on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.

Q And his wife's name, was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know the old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, your wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.

Q Personally? A Yes, sir.

Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited me, my wife and I, after we were married, did not visit quite a while; I lived in my father-in-law and he visited very often.

Q When did he die? A '74.

Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well,
I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had come to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my wife was a baby at that time.

Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.

Q You do not know of your wife's father when he died? A My wife was up in CO, but I don't remember his age.

Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.

Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was past 94.

Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.

Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he named one of his, - oldest child for this brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.

Q Now, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understood it was on account of his grandfather thinking of Bob Pruett.

Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A How many did I know personally?

Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.

Q Well, remember what you know of the family, who other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.

Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q Which was the oldest girl? What is she known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Petty, nee Bettie Dawson.

Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q You know anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any way of coming at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know that the oldest son and his life told me.

Q What was that? A They said he was born in 1811.

Q Who was his oldest son? A Toliver H. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.

Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know that the old man said that she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.

Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.

Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.

Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.

Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. McKEMMON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Have you ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir; for my wife.

Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say as to the date.

Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.

Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.

Q Did you? A I did.

Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you take affidavit to that application? A No, sir.

Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.

Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not?

A Yes, sir.

Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.

Q Is she? A No, sir.

Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.

Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q In a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family?
A Well personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir. I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation?
A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find these papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation here introduces in evidence an envelope marked No. 108, the names on the back of it are Robert, Albert, Jasper, John, Frances, Marion, Josephine, Joseph, Jane, Mollie, Wilburn, James, Rial Dawson, versus the Cherokee Nation: the envelope and its contents.

BY MR. McKENNON: To the introduction of all of which the applicants object, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

The envelope above introduced by the Cherokee Nation is indorsed as follows:

To wit: For Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker was testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Berryville, Arkansas, Carroll County, my age is 77 years, I am not a Cherokee, I lived in the Cherokee about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County some thirty five years (line drawn through the last three words.) 32 years at my mother's house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson's grand old father's side, and frequently at my mother's house; when she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a Cherokee; the first time she married the claimant's mother to my mother's father's side, the claimant's mother's mother's name, when I was a child I was called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers was the first boat pilot on the river in the Nation of her child; I was a child frequently there at my mother's house in Louisiana, so Stone I was there occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years old, I think when Old John Rogers took her off to school. I do not know her from the time she left. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of Old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and she and I had a talk over our old fathers, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words she used.

Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee, the claimant is the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Mississippi River.

Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them in Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawson's children is Buck, John, Marion, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

- Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
- Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.
- Ques. 2 Did you say something about someone being married twice?
- Ans. 2 The claimant was married twice.
- Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?
- Ans. 3 Yes she could speak it well
- Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
- Ans. 4 She could when she was young.
- Ques. 5 How far do you live from Anna Pruet?
- Ans. 5 Just across the river about 3/4 of a mile.
- Ques. 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
- Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river, part in the Nation and part out in the State.

Ques. 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?

Ans. 7 George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Harnage that lived up here near the line.

Ques. 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?

Ans. 8 No the claimant didn't go to Texas.

Ques. 9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?

Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.

Ques. 10 Where does claimant now live?

Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.

Ques. 11 Do you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charlotte Rogers here in Coocoo-coowee?

Ans. 11 They claimed kin but what kin I don't know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 country about the year 1830.

Ques. 12 Was Ann a Pruet the maiden name of claimant's grandmother?

Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her since.

Joe. Dawson, an Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, an 31 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the claimants are Cherokees. Fannie Dawson was their mother. Fannie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I wa always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lulu, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognizes them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.

My Solicitor:
Lulu is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation, E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother has been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fannie, Francis, Cartenas, Zanio, Bob, Smith, Coran, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fannie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. L. Dawson, we are full brothers. "Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Chilkey Pruitt, said to be a daughter of Joseph Vann, co. only known as Rich and he is of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Chilkey Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 22d, 1836, creating the Commission on Citizenship, were made but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and Dill brothers of the applicant were re-admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship on only known as "The Teebe Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of those Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 20th, 1836, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States," As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls the Commission do judge and decree that Samuel K. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Journah Barber nee Journah Dawson and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applications.

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and reside in Cooweescoowee Dist. and am 53 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I have known him personally about three (3) years. He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a relation of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hiwassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I never saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Jou Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of my Uncle Jou Dawson, is from what he himself has told me, - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me - My grandfather being a Dawson and a white man.

Your respondent, S. H. Hayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, . . .
and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as

Filed Aug. 11, 1887. John Rogers
 Rejected April 20, 1889.

Note: This day comes the above case for final hearing. Samuel E. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a white man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Chiley Pruet said to be half sister of Joseph Vann or one known as Rich and was pure of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers ... of the Act of October 3, 1886, providing for the admission of persons of African blood, but in support of the application it is urged that certain forefathers of the Dawson family the full brothers of the applicant were admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tahoe Court" and "Spears Court" and are not residing in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the affidavits on which determined the decisions of these Commissions or the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relevant to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of October 3, 1886, as amended provides that the Commission can issue to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of the Cherokee Nation by the United States, and hereafter understood, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission do judge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the case of Andrew J. Dawson, James H. P. Dawson, Joannah Barber, nee Joannah Dawson, and Jane Queen, nee Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective applications.

W. C. Rogers being duly sworn on oath deposes and says: that he is a citizen and resident of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. That his post-office address is Skia-atook, Ind. Ter. that he was born and raised in the above said Nation and Territory; that he is 46 years of age:

Affiant further states that he is slightly acquainted with Irena J. House, an applicant for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as shown by copy of her application.

Affiant further states that his father's name was Charlie Rogers and was a son of Captain John Rogers and the said Capt. John Rogers was the only man of that name that ever lived in the Cherokee Nation that this affiant ever heard of; that the said Capt. John Rogers this affiant's grandfather lived at Grand Saline, I. T. and died in Washington, D. C.

This affiant states that his father Charlie Rogers had one sister and five brothers viz. Cynthia Rogers, Lewis Rogers, George Rogers, Nelson Rogers, Granvil Rogers and Rudolph Rogers; that he (this affiant) was well and personally acquainted with the above said parties except Granvil and Rudolph Rogers who were killed upon this affiant was quite young.

This affidavit was made by the said Charles Rogers, of the County of Cherokee, State of Oklahoma, who is a member of the said family (11 years of age) and who is a citizen of the said State and that the only other person named in the application for citizenship of the said Polly Rogers named in the application for citizenship of the said State of Oklahoma, was not a sister of the said Charles Rogers, but a sister-in-law of the said Charles Rogers, and that the said Charles Rogers never heard of that said affiant or of any other person named in the said application for citizenship of the said State of Oklahoma.

Last page the following is the text of the said affidavit:

"EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF

CHEROKEE NATION, I, John L. Adair, Executive
Secretary of the Cherokee Nation, do hereby certify that I

Then the above affidavit continues:

"(now) Rogers that she lived with this affiant's father for a number of years prior to her death.

Affiant states that he knows that the said Charles Rogers, Charles Rogers and his wife and child (now Rogers) about his relatives; that they never spoke of any other sister in their family; that his affiant was born 70 years of age when his aunt, Cynthia Crum died; that they told him there never was (words "never was" marked by red ink) father never had any other daughter or daughter other than Cynthia Rogers.

Affiant states that his father told him a number of times, that this affiant's grandfather, Charles Rogers never had any other family other than the one above mentioned; that this affiant never heard his father, Charles Rogers or any of his relatives speak of his grandfather or Carl John Rogers owning, or possessing, any river.

Affiant states his father, Charles Rogers, was born on 21st July, South-east of Muskogee, Arkansas, in the year
of 1817.

Further affiant said not.

Joannah Barber Commissioner's No. ... et al.
For citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Hayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now to denure the said application, and to withdraw therefrom as follows:

1st. That the Commission has no jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy, and no legal right, power, or authority to hear and determine the same.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient, if true, to show that the applicants are entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving the aforesaid denurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says the John Rogers through whom the petitioners claim to derive their right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear upon any of the authenticated rolls of said Nation; that neither he nor any of his ancestors now reside or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

Joshua Barber, Orie E. Barber, William P. Barber, James T. Barber, Jennie Barber, Joel A. Barber, Mary A. Barber, Elizabeth, Adie L. Kent, Alcor J. Spant, APPELLANTS.
VS
CHEROKEE NATION, APPELLEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Cometh the appellants in the above entitled cause and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said case from the decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and empowered to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to make up and decide applications for citizenship in the said Five Civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, but not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. S. Dawson, F. A. Dawson, F. M. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establish the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians, of blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application, of said appellants, were, prior to September the 10th, 1896, filed with and submitted to said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the accompanying affidavits, were served upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September the 10th, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in rejecting the claims for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal to this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in refusing its decision and order adversely to the appellants and in not to be so dictated by said appellants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in insisting that the appellants deny the right to a hearing to the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing to allow the appellants the right of privilege of examination of the records submitted by appellee in support of the claims filed by the appellants, and in denying the appellants the right of Bill of Rights to examine appellee's answer or production of records submitted by appellee.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as required by the laws and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in refusing appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claims before the said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for and produce and return records to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a test of right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the location of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the grounds upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to send by mail to appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims and deny the same.

TWELFTH. That the Act of Congress approved June 14, 1860, was unconstitutional and had no power or legal right to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Therefore, the appellants of this cause pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a writ, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send and pleadings, papers and records filed before it in this cause to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee in this case, be cited and ordered

I, H. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the report of the Special Master herein, which is hereto attached and have a true and correct copy of the same as follows:

I

This case arose by application on September 25th, 1896, under the Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Joanna Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their children, Ouis E., William E., James E., Joanna and Joel A. Barber. That Joel A. Barber has the following children, Mattie Toliver, George A., Frankie C., Joseph K. and Joel Barber. That the application included also Mary A. Taylor and her child Inez Taylor, Emma L. Murphy and her child Glad Murphy, Ella Moore and her children Anna J., Jackson B., Ruby and Gladys, Attie L. Hunt and her child Dorcas Hunt, Alvey J. Smart and her children Georgia A. and Erzey L. Smart, John J. Carlighouse and her children Myrtle C., Cora L. and Berneice Carlighouse. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 29th, 1896, with no reasons given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 27, 1896, the plaintiffs appealed to this Court. That the parties all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That the parties filed in support of their application the affidavits of S. B. Dawson, E. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, and V. A. Dawson, who testify that Joanna Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Peck, nee Dawson, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, who was a white man by the son of Samuel Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsay Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, acquainted with the

C. ... a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers is his only daughter.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, and are relatives of the Dawson family, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, and entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens of blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the claimants claim, is not recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal West; that he has never appeared on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when Captain John Rogers, the ancestors through whom these claimants trace their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, I am of the opinion that these claimants have proved that they are descended from Capt. John Rogers, who resided in the Cherokee Nation, and was a recognized citizen, though they do not show that he was ever enrolled as such, and I therefore find that the claimants are all residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, and that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. That they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1857, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.
Respectfully submitted this 10 day of August, 1897.

SPECIAL MASTER.

BY THE COURT.

From this report it appears that the claimants base their right to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood, but their ancestors through whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It appears that they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1857, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided. It does not appear that the applicants or any of their ancestors have ever been recognized as members of the Cherokee Nation.

The judgment of the United States Commission rejecting this case is affirmed, and the application of the claimants

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

We do not introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1890, the court number of same being 238, said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case we desire to call especial attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Baker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Baker in the case of Robert Dawson against the Nation, number 100, before the citizenship Commission, and which was made January 19, 1892.

BY MR. McKENNON: To all of which the applicants object, because the same is immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

The undersigned, Clerk of the Court, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the original:

vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Testimony for Plaintiffs

Witness, Dr. Arthur Baker sworn testifies as follows:
My name is Arthur A. Baker I reside at Ferryville Arkansas Carroll County 7 years is 37 years I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carroll County some 25 years - At my fathers house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson grandnother on mother's side she was frequently at my fathers house though a Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side; she claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee, the first time she brought the claimants mother to my fathers house she the mother's mother was about 70 when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, said Captain John Rogers who ran a boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my fathers and there at Louis Rancee store.

I saw her occasionally until I was about 10 years of age and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I stayed all night there at his and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then reside in the Cherokee Country about twenty (word "twenty" marked through) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River. Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawson when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls. The children named in the petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

- Q. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
- A. 1 Five I think that's all.
- Q. 2 Did you say anything about some one being married twice?
- A. 2 The claimant was married twice.
- Q. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?
- A. 3 Yes, she could speak it well.

- Ques 4 Polly Rogers, 1830?
- Ans. 4 She was born in 1800.
- Ques 5 How far did she live from the river?
- Ans. 5 Just across the river about 1/2 mile.
- Ques 6 Was Salmon in the Cherokee Nation?
- Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river and the land part out in the State.
- Ques 7 Which name was it sent to Texas?
- Ans. 7 George went first, then John, the son of old ran Farnage, that lived up near the river.
- Ques 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
- Ans. 8 No the claimant did not go to Texas.
- Ques 9 What connection was claimant to Polly Rogers?
- Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers.
- Ques 10 Where does claimant now live?
- Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll Co Arkansas.
- Ques 11 Do you know what relation old Capt John Rogers has to Charles Rogers here in Converse Co?
- Ans. 11 They claimed him but what kind I don't know there were two Capt John Rogers in the Nation I first saw of the time when I first came to this country about the year 1830.
- Ques 12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of claimants grand mother?
- Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indian called her since his

F. L. Dawson being duly sworn according to law
deposes and says:

My name is F. L. Dawson; I am 64 years of age; my office address is Afton Indian Territory, I am a farmer by occupation and reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I am born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandfather whose maiden name was Polly Rogers through my father Robert Dawson, by said mother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1838 and settled in Western Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the present Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Pety were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers. The said Elizabeth Pety was the mother of Joan Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian side. The said Joana Barber is the mother of Irene J. House who Barber she is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian side.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their per capita money all the last payments; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koozler, a Notary Public at Muskogee Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurring previous to my recollection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, to facts stated as occurring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irene J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

(Signed) F. L. Dawson.

WILLIE D.

E. Dawson, being duly sworn according to law on oath states: My name is E. Dawson; I am 61 years old; my best office address is Talala, Ind. Ter. I am a Farmer by Occupation, and reside in Coconino District- Cherokee Nation. I am a recognized Cherokee Indian by blood, and exercise all the rights and immunities of a Cherokee Citizen now living in the present Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my Grandmother Polly Rogers through my father, Robert Dawson. My Grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to my Grandfather Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My Grandparents, Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polley Sawyer both West from the Old Cherokee Country in about the year 1830, and settled in Western Arkansas, and later came to the Cherokee Nation. My father Robert Dawson was a recognized member of the Cherokee Nation when he died, by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of this affiant, and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson his wife she being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joannah Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joannah Barber is the mother of Irene J. House, whose maiden name was Irene J. Barber and a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the Strip money at the last per capita payment made by the Cherokee Nation.

Said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above named Irene J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barricklaw, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Ter, and affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of the claim for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of the said Irene J. House.

That the above facts which are within the personal knowledge of the affiant or within his years of discretion he knows personally, and the other facts which occurred before the recollection of affiant he testifies to from what he has been taught from his family history and traditions.

That the relationship existing among all his people in the Cherokee Nation he knows from his personal knowledge and that they are related to the Cherokee Indian side.

EXHIBIT E.

Before me the undersigned authority this day, personally appeared W. A. Dawson who is to me well and personally acquainted, and after being duly sworn; deposes and says, that he is well acquainted with Irena J. House and knows she is a Cherokee Indian, and that he knows she is the daughter of Joana Barber, who is a neice of Robt. & James Dawson, who are both Cherokee Indians and recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Affiant further states that Irena House is the grand daughter of Mrs. Petty, who was a full sister of Robt & James Dawson.

Affiant further says that he knows that Irena House is a lineal descendant of Amie Dawson whose children (line drawn through word "children") sons, Robt & James before

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY.

NORTHERN DISTRICT AT MUSCOGEE.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT

WEST VIRGINIA

CHAS. H. HART V.

... Court ...

I

This case is in respect a branch of ... Cherokee Nation, the principal claimant herein ...

That this case was tried by the said Commissioner on November 24, 1890 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and that on January 26, 1891, the applicant appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, of their children Chas., C. ... and Henry V. House. That they file in support of their application the affidavits of Joanna Barber, ... Arthur A. Baker, E. Fawson, and W. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimant herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Peck, who is the daughter of Polly Rogers, who is the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsay Mann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows that this Dawson family were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are cousins by blood upon the Indian side, and that all claim through a son or grandson, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsay Mann, who were all recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The appellee introduces in defense the record of the application of these claimants to the Cherokee Commissioner on citizenship in the year 1837, and the record of the rejection of the claimants, and further the affidavits of W. A. Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah Carter, a grand daughter both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that he had only one daughter, whose name was Cynthia.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of the Dawsons, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

TV

The papers considered, I find that the claimants are the issue of Captain John Rogers, and that it was established that in the condition of affairs at that time in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a large land of records pertaining to marriage, that such affidavits should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee have heard.

I find that the claimants are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1837, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I find that the claimants will be a reasonable fee for my services as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED IN BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. F. C. BUNCAN, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HERRINGS:

Q Please state your name, age and residence. A My name is D. F. C. Buncan, age 41 is 75 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.

Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.

Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Dawes Commission? A I did.

Q Before this Commission I did say, this Commission? A The Dawes Commission? A Yes, I don't recollect who the Commissioner was, that was taken at Vinita, in parts.

Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee Citizenship Commission and know of the "Teehee Commission"? A I was Clerk of that Commission.

Q ... least the exact length of ... during the continuance of ...
Q ... its existence were you?
A ...
Q ... it rendered a decision
... on page 114, of its
... (has been removed)
... now
... decision? A I never.
Q ... as shown by the
...
A Yes, sir.
Q ... Alex Wolfe and T. A.
...
A That's correct.
Q ... consideration by that ... in the case? A I was.
... Lawson, was only
... H. Benge, who were
...
A I might
... I saw
... Mr. Taylor and Mr. Benge
... number of years.
Q ... were they?
A They were.
Q ... size ship Attorney?
A I think he was.
Q ... Benge present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Why I do not recollect seeing Mr. Benge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing
Mr. Taylor about the Court room now and then.
Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?
Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.
Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision than that found upon the record in that case? A I never had any knowledge only that one decision.
Q Was that in favor of or against the applicants? A It was in favor of them; I will say that; that if there was another decision other than the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.
Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was recorded by you in this book as here shown, is it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.
Q Did Bud Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case?
A He did not.
Q Did he ever promise to pay you any money for your influence with the Court on the case? A Never.
Q Or did you pay money, either directly or through any other person? A For my influence in that case?
Q Yes, sir? A Never.
Q Did you have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court or to any member of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing their judgment in that case? A None whatever.
Q Did you have opportunity of observing his conduct during that Court at the time? A The only opportunity that I had was during the session of the Commission; I saw but very little of him during the recesses of the Commission; now and then I would see him in passing.
Q Did you see anything, in his conduct toward that Court which indicated that he had used undue influence in procuring that judg-

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking up claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is the sum and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Bud Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. MCKENNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim under it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President, Alex Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners, D. F. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

January 13th, 1883.

term. Agreed by the parties that the above shall not be taken up for final disposition before the 1st day of Oct. 1882, October 1st, 1882

It is agreed by the parties that this shall be finally disposed of at the next January term if the plaintiff be present demanding the same, if not, the case shall be taken on-tilled to the September term, 1883.

On this agreement Commission continues the case till the next January term, to-wit, January 1st, 1883.

And now this the 11th day of January A.D. 1883 this case coming on for final hearing, and all the evidence produced in the case being carefully read and duly considered by the Commission it was adjudged and determined by the Commission on citizenship that the claimants, Robert Dawson, F. H. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Joseph Dawson, James Dawson, Holly Dawson, Wilbron Dawson, James Dawson, and Piel Dawson, are Cherokee by blood; and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship within the Cherokee Nation, and that they should be, and they are, hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects as native born Cherokees.

Transcript issued to Claimants, January 11th, 1883, (signed) D. W. C. Duncan, Clerk.

Original Note: "Case submitted by Claimant January 11th 1883. Case submitted by Solicitor January 11th, 1883."

Q Do you remember how many members of the Court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A My recollection upon that point is not positive, but owing my attention upon what I know to be the transaction of the Court at the time, seeing the names of all these Commissioners there, I can say with great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners unless he was present, assisting to it or directing it.

Q The rendition of that judgment when was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.

Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day before in this case while the Court was in session, adverse to those claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly could have known it.

Q Was there any such decision of the Court? A None to my knowledge, I can say positively there was not.

Q How many of these judges are now living? A Only one.

Q Which is Mr. Thompson.

Q How long has Mr. Wolfe been dead? A Jones and Wolfe are dead.

Q How long has Mr. Thompson been dead, do you know? A I do not know.

quite a number of years. I can't living there, never lived near them when their death occurred, and their death occurred perhaps a long time before I got knowledge of it. It is generally understood that they are dead.

Q Do you describe to me such any other part of the law as family about the court at that time than Mr. Duncan? A I have been thinking, and I can't call to mind that I ever saw any other Duncan except Dad, until after they were into the country subsequent to the rendition of the judgment.

(At this point a party who has been sitting in the room, in which the examination is being held, is called forward, sworn on behalf of applicants, and asked to retire until called.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Duncan, when did you become clerk of the Texas Commission Court? A It just have been somewhere in December, 1884, at the time the Commission was organized immediately at the close of the Council in which they were appointed.

Q December 1884? A I think so.

Q What are you doing rendering judgments here in your handwriting in 1883? A The Commission held its court after they were elected somewhere.

Q The Court was elected in 1881 wasn't it? A Well, I don't know that,
I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I might have said at the time I was chosen clerk, I was chosen clerk just at the close of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q '84? A I think it was '84.

Q You entered on this judgment rendered January, 1883? A Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q That was before you were clerk of it? A Well I held my clerkship for some time you know continuously.

Q Well but when you refer to that you were their clerk when the day on case was passed on? A No, I don't mean to say that.

Q How could you be clerk when the day on case was passed on in 1883 when you were not elected until 1884? A I am mistaken in that, '84 comes after '83, - it was the year preceding 1883, it must have been '82.

Q Your first entry in the Nelson case is January 13, 1883, isn't it?
Q I don't recollect that my first entry was. (Attorneys show the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on that day.

Q And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk?
A I think so, yes; it was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q In whose handwriting was the names of the three commissioners signed to that judgment? A Nelson judgment?

(Attorney shows record to witness again) A That is by handwriting.
Q All three names? A All three names.

Q The record there shows that you immediately gave them that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A Signed the transcript?

Q Yes, sir. A I do not recollect now, this is, did the writing?
Q Signed the names to it? A Yes, that's it.

Q You always signed the names of Tokes and Wells didn't you?
A I think I did pretty generally; I don't know of their attempting to write their own names.

Q When Mr. Thompson was there didn't he sign his own name? A Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.

Q Have you any recollection of his authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you have done it on that court frequently?

A I can't recall the specific literal fact of authorization, but I can say positively that, consulting the record, that he authorized me to put his name there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and refer to in the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers shown to witness) A I signed them there.

Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.

Q What rule you were you were testifying at Visita before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished about entirely from my memory: I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Mr. Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served, by which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the lockets and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting; I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, better than your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony; I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you wouldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it, and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my handwriting, but if a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might make a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Tehen and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.

Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew that there was a resemblance; what led me of the opinion that that might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I know that he had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression—and I do not now think I am such deceived—that his orthography bore at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

January and a September term; and this decision was rendered at the January, 1832 term. The Baker's testimony taken during the January, 1832, term, at the time this decision was rendered? A I find it impossible for me to recall all those facts that are recorded there; although I can see about that, that the record shows the correct statement of the facts; but I can't recall those facts.

Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 13th day of January, 1832, until agreement that it should be taken upon the 4th day of October, 1832; your record shows that there was nothing done in the case from January 13th, 1832 until October 4th, 1832; would you say that was correct? A I should say it was correct if it so stands in the book; it is designed to be a correct entry of the facts.

Q I will let you see the book for yourself; I don't want to misrepresent your end of it at all. (Shows entry in book to witness.)

A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.

Q Who took down the testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.

Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.

Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nation? A As to that I don't recollect. He was present, he was always present; I think likely he was cross examined.

Q And that testimony was taken at the time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1832? A I think it was, by its position is to that effect.

Q Well the court seems to have had no session as to this case from January 13, 1832 up to October 4th, 1832, according to the record? A (No response.)

Q You don't recall taking down any other's also testimony in the case? A No sir, I don't.

Q And the probability is that he was the only witness examined isn't he? A It might have been so by recollection is that he was regarded as the main witness of the case.

Q He was quite an old man, about 77 at that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. KENNEDY:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been taken January 10th, 1832; is that correct as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney here shows witness papers) A It appears to be, yes; I don't think that was the testimony that the case was decided upon, because his testimony was taken orally before the Association, and I wrote it down; please let me see it. (Attorney hands said papers to witness.)

A Well, all I knew about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says may I say that the record was made correct, according to the fact. (Witness takes copy of the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't depend in reading that very clearly to my own understanding, but I gather from the subject matter in that testimony that it is in accord with Doctor Baker's statement; in exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q In taking the testimony you endeavored to get down all the material facts that you could in taking it in long hand? A Yes, very nearly word for word, as I could take it, so that as there was a little variation made necessary by the length of the witness' statement.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicant's object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

R. F. FORTNER, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q That is your name? A R. F. Fortner.
Q That is your age? A 34.
Q You are a physician are you not? A I am.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Do you hold any official position in your position? A Yes, I am President of the National Board of Health, Cherokee National Board of Health, and member of the Legislative Councils of the Indian Territory and of the American Medical Association,--those are some, and the most important positions I held at this time.
Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A I am.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Inter-marriage.
Q Your wife is a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know D. W. J. Driscoll? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About twelve or fifteen years, about twelve years I should say.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he resides for honesty and upright character? A I do, I think.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About six or eight years, don't know exactly how long; known of him for ten years and personally I have known him about say six or eight years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is bad.

BY MR. EASTINGS:

- Q Mr. Driscoll belongs to the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does; I have always so understood.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and my impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the Citizenship Court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a Court from 1882 to '83? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that Court? A Had no business before them, not while he was clerk to my knowledge.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q You spoke of his membership in the church; he is in good standing as a member of the church is he? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Campbell Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have so understood it.

BY MR. EASTINGS:

- Q I will ask you if it was notoriously bad in 1883, when those people employed him to represent them before the Court? A That was before...

Q But so far as you know his bad reputation dates back so far as you know him? A So far as I know him.

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 61.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 17 years I guess, or 14.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q What is your business? A Real estate and insurance agent.
Q Do you know Dr. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character where he lives? A Why yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 13 or 20 years, I guess.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Well yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

F. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A F. H. Curtis.
Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A '66.
Q Where do you reside? A Arton, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 20 years.
Q What is your business? A Lumber business.
Q Do you know Dr. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 20 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever know Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I know him in '68 and '69.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfulness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir. Good as any man's he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know, of sir, I never saw him take a drink in his life.

Q Was his character such as to preclude any such charge against him?

A It was, yes sir.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How long did you know Dr. Baker? A Two years.

Q What does he do there? A He was an old gentleman then, he lived right in the edge of Berryville, Dr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think it must have been 65 or 70 years old; an old gentleman.

Q That is in '18 what, 60? A No sir, it was in '68 and '69, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from business? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q What family did he have? A I don't know how much family he had, I was well acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q He wasn't doing any business with anybody? A No sir.

Q And his character was never called in question one way or the other was it? A No sir, no sir.

Q Campbell Taylor was a notorious racial protay such ever since you ever knew him wasn't he? A Yes sir, I never knew much good of him.

Q And whenever a man got a bad citizenship case he got Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a racial; that's it ain't it?

A Well a great many of them got him.

Q It was a notorious thing that they had a bad case they would get him, it would sort of give a case a bad odor to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never knew anything about Mr. Burman's connection with citizenship matters? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his changing some of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Deason case? A Yes sir.

Q Rumor had it all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That rumor got out from the first day they were whitelisted right up to the present? A Well I don't know not from the first day, I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who they fixed it on? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.

Q Got a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Had you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Dr. Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q What would you think of a man who would testify that he knew a girl that was single in 1825 when the youngest of her seven children was born in 1823; what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A -

BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicants object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proved or admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

Do you think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? (No response.)

Q You knew him in '68? A Yes sir.

Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite old, '68 and '69.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his dotage?
A I don't know, he was an old man when I knew him.
Q He was too old to work, and retired from business then? A Well he did not do a good deal, but wasn't doing any business particular that I knew of.
Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes, he would be getting old.

D. H. MARRS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q What is your name? A D. H. Marrs.
Q What is your age, Mr. Marrs? A I am 44.
Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
Q What paper? A "The Indian Champion."
Q Are you Editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Dawson? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A 10 or 12 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
Q Do you know Campbell Payton? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Why 15 years or longer.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How long has Campbell's reputation been bad, Mr. Marrs, quite a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
Q And it kind of began mostly with this citizenship business?
A Yes, so far as I know it did, yes sir.
Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through the mails, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by his helping the Dawsons in wasn't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawsons.
Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether he had that case or not. I know he had a great many cases.
Q That was the principal thing that concerned the firm Campbell out, was citizenship cases here? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
Q I say before that time nobody had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became pretty general that Campbell was handling shoddy citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
Q Now Mr. Dawson's connection with the Dawson case sort of been kept back; people never talked much about it? A I never heard anything about it, as I know of.
Q You have heard that there had been something wrong about the Dawson case, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh it has been a notorious case, yes sir.
Q Well the fact of Mr. Dawson's reputation for straightness has been somewhat even on himself, he confessed it frequently? A How is that?

Q His reputation for straightness is somewhat given by himself; he takes occasion to confess that very often himself; doesn't he?
A I don't know whether I am qualified to answer that.
Q Speaking of his own honesty, he does that very frequently?
A No sir, not that I know of.
Q Doesn't he write a good deal about that sort of thing? A About his reputation?
Q Why in speaking of his own integrity? A I don't remember that he does.
Q You were not about the citizenship courts along in 1881 '82 and '83 were you? A No sir.
Q Don't remember about the talk that was going on around the Capital over there about the citizenship cases? A Yes, no, don't remember anything special as I know of. I remember the citizenship court going on at different times.
Q How far were you living from Tallahassee in '87? A Well, I lived close to Vinita, I guess it is sixty miles probably.
Q Have you lived any nearer Tallahassee since that time? A No sir, never have.

H. L. BUTLER, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A H. L. Butler.
Q You are a minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.
Q M. E. Church, South? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been in the ministry? A I have been in the ministry 23 years, sir.
Q Did you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.
Q How long? A I was there four years, sir.
Q Do you know D. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known Mr. Duncan 21 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good, so far as I know.
Q You have had opportunity of knowing? A Yes sir.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
Q Mr. Duncan was a member of your church? A Yes sir.
Q That is the principal way you had of coming in contact with him?
A Yes sir, he was a member of my official board.
Q His connection with citizenship cases that were decided by the court of which he was clerk was never brought up in your presence anywhere? A No sir.
Q Or never discussed? A No, sir, I know nothing about the connection with it.
Q You didn't live about or near Tallahassee in '87? A Yes sir, I was pastor of the Methodist Church in '87 at Tallahassee.
Q Did you hear about the Dawson case, or other cases admitted over there by the citizenship court? A No sir, I know nothing about the cases; I don't remember when the Commission was in session, and in order that he was clerk of the Commission, but knew nothing about the cases that were decided at all.
Q Never heard anybody discuss the cases that were decided? A No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKINNON:

- Q What is your name? A Thomas A. Chandler.
Q What is your age, Mr. Chandler? A I am 70.
Q What is your business? A Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Vinita.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Do you know B. F. C. Hudson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Let me see, I have known him about nine or ten years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Bad so far as I know.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Well sir, I don't know how he did.
Q You never knew him until 1887? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.
Q He had a bad reputation before 1887? A Yes sir.
Q Bad reputation way back yonder? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people speaking bad of him, when I was a kid.
Q And everybody that came around the Nation and heard anything at all about Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, ever so far back as '79 or '80, that is as far back as I can remember; I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.
Q Mr. Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
Q You heard him spoken of as rascality and using the mails for those business? A Yes sir, I heard of him being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.
Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in these bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
Q And I also heard he had a bad reputation for owing his debts, also about the same time.
Q You don't know whether or not the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.
Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I am sure he could.
Q You never heard Mr. Hudson's name mentioned before in connection with the Dawson case, citizenship cases? A No sir, I can't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.
Q General impression that somebody had done something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the Dawson citizenship case.
Q That has always been in notoriety ever since they heard anything? A Yes sir, I have heard it talked around over the country that such was the case.
Q They had a pretty large volume of time and the matter was never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it was ever investigated, I never heard of it.

Q So they never had any endeavor to find out who the witness was?
A No sir.

Q Where did you live in '83? A In '83 I lived out on Dick Creek about 12 miles south-east of Vinita.

Q How far from Tulequah was that? A About 65 or 70 miles, I suppose.

Q You never were around before the citizenship courts any during that time? A No sir.

Q You don't know then whether or not Campbell had lost all the bad cases or not down there? A No sir, I do not, at that time.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what he heard by way of rumor, about the character of the person case, because the same is hearsay, immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

A. S. MCKENNON, of Counsel for Applicants, being first duly sworn, makes the following statement:

I became a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1890. I was intimately acquainted with Doctor Arthur Baker, for many years. Knew him as well as I did anyone else. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, so recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a sober man, and never drank liquor. I make this statement now in vindication of that good man's character for any other reason, because any imputation against his character is false.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How long did you know him? A I resided in Carroll County until 1897 when I removed to Johnson County, Arkansas; during the time I was away from home, but I know him intimately every year that I resided in Carroll County.

Q Did you know him since '87? A Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have relatives living in the town in which he lived; by relations to him, were such as to cause me always to inquire about Doctor Baker; I knew his reputation I think as well after I left there as I did when I lived there.

Q Did you know those facts in 1896 when you were a member of this Commission? A Yes sir, I have known them all my life as I know them now.

Q Did you know them when you as a member of this Commission passed on the Irene J. House case? A I knew it every day of my life, in 1896 as well as now.

Q Suppose that Doctor Arthur Baker's statement should appear that he was born in the year 1808, and suppose he said when he was 15 or 16 years of age that Ann Pruett the wife of Samuel Dawson, was a grown up girl going to school, when the other undisputed evidence shows that she had married Sam Dawson prior to that time and had seven children, the youngest of them was born in '33, how would you harmonize that with a man who was an honest man and knew the facts in the case? A Whatever Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was right or wrong; whether it was error or truth, he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.

Q He was capable of being in error? A Every man is.

Q I say he was? A Yes sir, just as you and I and every man, he was; I merely stated as to his high character, which could be proved, by every man who knows him. I think, I know it.

Q The Commission rejected Irene J. House in 1896, of which you were a member? A I can't remember anything about that personally.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

DAVID MEREDITH, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A David Meredith.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How old are you? A 60 years old.
Q Did you ever know James Dawson? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I knew him probably 2 years.
Q Did you ever have any talk with him about his citizenship case.
A Very little.
Q You were at one time an applicant before the Dawes Commission for citizenship were you not? A Yes sir.
Q Well what did Mr. Dawson tell you with reference to his citizenship, as to the cost of his getting it, if anything? A Well he told me it cost him eleven or twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.
Q Where did that conversation take place? A At Atton.
Q At what time? A It was in '88, spring of '88.
BY MR. MCKENNON:
Q Where were you when he told you that? A I was working on a house in Atton, building the house.
Q Whose house? A S. S. Haines.
Q Who else was present? A Haines was present.
Q Where is he? A At Atton.
Q What age was Mr. Dawson at that time? A I don't know, he was very old, probably 75 years old.
Q Was he not a very feeble man? A Yes sir.
Q Hardly able to get around? A No sir.
Q Was he not then regarded as feeble indeed old man? A I don't know whether he was so regarded or not.
Q You don't know what he had to do with the case, in fact, himself, do you? A No, I judged it was himself and family that cost that much to get through; attorney's fees, etc. That is the way I took it anyway.
Q You were an applicant yourself were you not? A Yes sir.
Q When? A At that time.
Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes sir.
Q They rejected you? A Yes sir.
Q You were an applicant then before the Dawes Commission were you?
A Yes sir, been rejected ever since.
Q Are you still an applicant? A Yes sir.
Q Still trying to get in? A Yes sir.
Q Claiming by blood? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation? A 15 years.
Q Where did you come from? A Indiana.
Q Claiming to be a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
Q Indian? A Yes sir.
Q James Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.
Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably within two years after that.

TESTIMONY TAKEN ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

F. M. DAWSON, being recalled and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

F. M. Dawson? A Yes sir.

- Q Mr. Lawson, what member of your family came to the Cherokee Nation to file and prosecute the claim of your father, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?
- A My brother from Texas got to at Tallahassee.
- Q Tell his name? A Elbert Dawson, they all know his by nick.
- Q When was that? A In '81 or '82 as I remember, or '82, I don't know which, it was in '81 or '82.
- Q Did you file your claim at that time? A My brother did, yes, the application, my brother had Joel Hayes to make it out and file it. That is my understanding.
- Q Joel Hayes, who afterwards was chief of the Cherokee Nation?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Before what court was that filed? A My understanding is he was clerk of the court; Hastings can tell me what court he was clerk of.
- Q He was clerk of the court at that time? A Yes sir, of the citizenship court; that's my understanding.
- Q That was done about the case at that time, if you remember? A I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.
- Q Where did you then live? A I lived at Berryville, Arkansas.
- Q When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A I believe I come back the next January, that was in September.
- Q Was your brother Buck here then? A I don't think he was, I don't remember.
- Q Well had he at any time of the court or session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A No sir, I never set his any more until that case was decided.
- Q You conducted the business then after that did you not? A Yes sir.
- Q The case was finally determined in January 1883? A '83, yes sir, the 11th day as I remember.
- Q Were you present at that session? A Yes sir.
- Q Was there any decision of that case other than the one of record here? A I never heard of it if there was.
- Q Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the record Book of that Commission now in the custody of the Dawson Commission the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know?
- A Yes sir, so far as I know, if there was any I never heard of it in that case.
- Q You then know of no decision against you in the case? A No sir.
- Q Who was your attorney employed at the beginning? A I employed A. E. Norwood.
- Q Was he a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir, I think so.
- Q Where did he live? A At Claremore, my understanding.
- Q Was he present at any time before the Commission? A I never saw him, he never got to there before the Commission.
- Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
- Q How much? A Fifty dollars.
- Q Did he ever render any services? A If he ever did I never knew it.
- Q Well then who did you employ? A My brother employed Joel Bryant.
- Q Was he a Cherokee citizen?
- A That is my understanding.
- Q Was he not a prominent Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
- Q What service did he render? A Well sir, I don't know whether he rendered any or not, only he got up a time or two at Tallahassee and he was before the Commission; whether he rendered any services or not I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the Term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.

Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A Why I got a letter from Joel Bryant that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January Term and Campbell Taylor would see to my claim before the court.

Q Did he say that he had engaged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend to it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.

Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.

Q Tell what did you do then? A Why when the time came I come down on the day to Muskogee here and I goes over from here to Fort Gibson and I goes down to see Uncle Houston Henge and stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got him to go over and submit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Henge come over and the next morning after he come over the case was submitted.

Q Did he submit the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.

Q For you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then we was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, actin' on the case.

Q Was Houston Henge present with you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.

Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.

Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.

Q How long after he made his argument and submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; when we were drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted me to set up the cigars to the court and the crowd in the house; after the decision was rendered then I was to set up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I done so.

Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a big smoke.

Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted my citizenship right and by the Commission.

Q What did you do about it then? A Was the Clerk wrote me out my certificate.

Q That was that day? A That same day.

Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Henge about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our case; then he wanted me to pay, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.

Q What was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.

Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for it.

Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay his fee of fifty dollars?

A Yes sir.

Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All he was to have; all he charged me.

Q You heard his statement when he gave his decision at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

Q Did you see any other people there? A No sir.

Q Did you see any other people there? A No sir.

Q He said that you paid him fifty dollars after he got over to Tablequah, did you do that? A I never paid him a cent in my life.

Q After that judge was rendered? A Did you see him? A I went to Ark. was.

Q By what route? A I went by Silo Springs and on by Spring Dale and then on to Peters, took the railroad there and went on by Seligman and by Table Springs home.

Q You then did not return to Fort Gibson with Louis Deje, is that correct? A No sir, I did not.

Q The day you returned by way of Fort Gibson? A Well I thought maybe the others was the cheapest road and struck a hack going out by Seligman when I was boarding it, I could go to Silo Springs and I went by that route and then there was a hack going by Spring Dale, that was the best direct route.

Q That was the best direct route from your home was it not? A Yes sir.

Q All the cheapest? A And the cheapest route.

Q Had you been going back to Fort Gibson you would have been going directly over from he called you not? A Yes sir.

Q Your home was nearly east, the east of Tablequah was it not? A Yes sir, little north of east, pretty near due east.

Q While Fort Gibson is almost due west is it not? A Southern.

Q You heard his statement that you went to Fort Gibson with him, and as you came you stated to him that it was to reach the court through Muskogee and you reached the court through Okfuskee with five hundred dollars, did you state that to him? A I never did, I didn't have the five hundred dollars to reach him.

Q Did he while at Tablequah in the court room on two evenings before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell you what the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.

Q And did you then say to him, you know, six that? A I had no such conversation with him.

Q Did you pay to B. W. G. Mahon, who was the clerk of the Court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide in your favor? A No sir.

Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.

Q Did you pay him any money after that through Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q That amount? A 20 or 25 dollars. I don't know which it was.

Q State what that money was paid for? A For a claim.

Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the public domain; he had a claim up there close to 10; paid him 20 or 25 dollars for his claim he had up there by me, on the Cherokee public domain.

Q What did Campbell Taylor have to do with your case? A He had nothing to do with it.

Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.

Q Did he perform any services in that case for you as a representative of Mr. Bryant? A No sir.

Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.

Q On what account? A He went to the court and he had the claim against me for Joel Bryant and wanted me to pay him the money and I done so.

Q What amount? A Hundred dollars.

Q How did you get that money? A I went to Joel Bryant, he was collecting it for Joel Bryant.
 Q Did he give that money to Joel Bryant, did he collect it? A Joel Bryant claimed he didn't, and he had to go back again, paid Joel Bryant the hundred dollars we made for his case. E. Davis paid Joel Bryant; after that we never could get the money from C. Bell Taylor, and this twenty dollars or twenty-five dollars; and in all we ever got back from him.

Q How did you get that 25 dollars out of D. W. Duncan? A I kept after him and telling him to pay that money back to me, he rendered no services to me at all and the money was to go to Joel Bryant, and I finally worked out the twenty or twenty-five dollars, that is all I ever did get back.

Q The amount that he paid to Duncan? A Yes sir.
 Q Was this money paid to him, this one hundred dollars, while you were there at the time the judgment was rendered, or was it sent to him afterwards? A I think it was paid then, as well as I remember about it.

Q You think it was paid then? A Yes sir, what's my recollection now.

Q Did you send him one hundred dollars after you got away from there, subsequent to the rendering of that judgment, after it was rendered in your direction for the fifty dollars of that or any other sum to D. W. Duncan? A No sir.

Q Did you send him a check or hundred dollars with a check directed? A No sir.

Q Mr. Davis, did you have to borrow it out of your family in order to obtain this citizenship in the Grand Nation under this judgment? A Pretty near it I do.

Q Well about what sum? A About five hundred dollars, pretty near 500 dollars. That is what I considered, I was bent out of some of my money, what I was bent out of and expenses.

Q Not make a statement of what that money was paid for and how, so far as you know now, at this time? Well the first fifty dollars Howard got; the next fifty dollars we got; that was the attorney's fees; I speak of the attorney's fees now; the next money was the hundred that Campbell Taylor got; the next attorney's fees was Bryant's one hundred dollars.

Q Was that all the attorney's fees? A I think it was, no, wait, I paid Ross 15 dollars for taking Baker's deposition.

Q Which Ross was that? A The one called "Bill Ross" I think it is his name, William P. Ross.

Q He then, this Chief William P. Ross for taking the deposition of Dr. Baker charged you fifteen dollars? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know by that that he acted as your attorney and examined him? A Yes, sir.

Q He examined him before the court, took his statements.

Q What other attorneys were there present? A None of them was present.

Q Well now, you say A For the expenses of taking Dr. Baker and Dr. Baker's doctor, he will not take a bar he charges 10 dollars a day and I was there and his expenses down there, we got a witness in a boat at Perryville, Arkansas, to Chicago, and we got on to the 14th of August, and all I think was about 75 dollars.

Q Did you hear it, have a little over that.

Q Did you pay him a fee? A I paid him five dollars a day for his time and then his expenses.

Q Well, A had made several trips out here in different times, to Tahlequah before the Commission, and back, three or four times as well as I remember now, cost of 20 or 25 dollars each trip, as I remember about it.

Q Do you remember now any trips aside from the one in which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Claremore to see A. H. Norwood.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went in a wagon down there.

Q You went through and employed Menge, went by railroad; what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 31 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember which it was; Joe Dawson, my brother-in-law, gave me the money, it was either 21 or 31 dollars.

Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, or any other that you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now; I can't call to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considered poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.

Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I suppose Albert Dawson was better off than the others, Rich Dawson.

Q Do you know now which Buck Dawson paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the Menge debt and the Bryant debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, that he came up on one trip and taken some evidence with Joel Bryant when Joel Bryant was clerk of the Court before this Texas Court, I don't know what that cost him.

Q Came up he said took some testimony? A Yes, came up and went back to Texas. Filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what he told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q You know whether they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told us they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tahlequah.

Q He had taken the testimony before you left him or afterwards?

A He taken it afterwards; that was my understanding.

Q Did Buck furnish only the one hundred fifty dollars that you now remember? A I think it was.

Q And the expense of taking these witnesses up there? A Yes sir.

Q Who else furnished money now of the members of your family?

A My brothers and father lived down in Berryville, Mo and my brother-in-law, Blessingame, we all chipped in together a few dollars from each family.

Q You heard the statement of C. C. Brought that in June 1863 you told him that it had cost you 700 dollars, did you make any such statement to him? A I never did.

Q And that you paid one witness 300 dollars? A I never made any such statement.

Q How much did you get for it? A No sir, I paid Dr. [unclear] for it, he paid me five dollars a day, [unclear] I paid it.

Q Did you get any more money for it than that? A No sir, he was the only witness I had there in the case.

Q Well, the Robert Dawson's son? A Yes sir.

Q He says that he sold you this in your house there on your place, did you have any house there in June 1883? A I was not living on that farm at that time.

Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.

Q When did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Mr. Brought, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1883, and I camped in my wagon.

Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and I let them out and made a log cabin on the place for a spring, near Mr. Brought.

Q About what time did you finish that house? A I was in some [unclear].

Q How long after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it up and got it covered and the floor in it and I went back to Pureka Springs after my wife.

Q What family did you have then? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, camping with me; three little boys and one girl were with me, and one girl back in Arkansas.

Q Are you and G. G. Brought on good terms? A No sir.

Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A Trouble over our places first started it.

Q When did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he cornered kinder crowding me out to take my farm away from me, and he have been in a racket ever since.

Q Then his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it ain't correct.

Q He and you have never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house; I never was in his house.

Q Have you had law suits with each other? A Yes sir.

Q How many? A I don't know that we had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.

Q That was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Along last fall.

Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.

Q What was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.

Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had him arrested and carried before the Commissioner at Vinita.

Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.

Q Nick Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.

Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.

Q And James Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.

Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.

Q When did James Dawson die? A I don't remember, been dead several years, I don't remember how long, 6 or 7 years, I couldn't state.

Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in '87 as I remember now, I won't be positive.

Q Had all these moved to the Cherokee Nation before their death? A No sir, father died in Arkansas.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation and went back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of my folks all lived here. That was James Dawson and Buck Dawson.

Q Robert Dawson, your father, never did move to the Territory, did he? A No.

Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Beavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at a Negro church at night James Dawson came down there with someone else and introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.

Q He says that when James Dawson was 35 or 40 years old; was there any James Dawson living belonging to your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.

Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family? A There was my uncle James Dawson and a brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.

Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.

Q About what age? A Just have been 60.

Q Between 60 and 70? A Yes sir.

Q That was the age of your brother James? A At that time?

Q Yes sir, in '84? A In '84 I suppose he was about 18, something like that.

Q Did he anything to do with the James Dawson case? A No sir.

Q Was he present at the time that the James Dawson case was under consideration? A No sir.

Q Was James Dawson, your uncle James Dawson, present at any time during the consideration of his case? A No sir.

Q He never was present? A No sir, if Uncle Jim Dawson was ever in Tahlequah I never knew it.

Q Who conducted the prosecution of the James Dawson case before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, who conducted it? A The James Dawson case?

Q Yes sir? A I think James Low and Bill Jackson and Campbell Taylor.

Q Were you acting with them? A Yes sir.

Q They employed Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.

Q Then there was no James Dawson present during that session of the Commission? A No sir.

Q What was the condition of James Dawson's health at that time? A It was pretty poorly; was not good.

Q Was he at that time able to get about and attend to business? A I don't think he was.

Q Was he not a very feeble, indeed old man at that time? A Yes sir.

Q Regarded as rather a silly man was he not? A Yes sir.

Q Did he attend to any kind of business of the family at that time? A No sir, didn't.

Q What was his financial condition? A Pretty bad.

Q Did he have any money? A No sir.

Q Did he have any property? A None hardly at all; horse probably, or a cow or two, something that way.

Q Was that about all the property he had? A Yes sir.

Q How about the other members of his family that were admitted at that time; what was their financial condition? A They were in poor circumstances.

Q How then after these judgments were rendered that members of your family removed to the territory, Cherokee Nation, I will say?

A Robert Dawson and family and James Dawson and family, that is, that and their children.

- Q Robert Dawson didn't move here? A No, I said except Robert Dawson.
- Q Did all the members of Robert Dawson family move here? A Yes sir.
- Q Except himself? A Yes sir.
- Q And all the members of James Dawson family? A No, not all the members, Melvina Low I don't think ever lived here.
- Q She had never lived here? A No sir.
- Q Well all the members of your family, your father's family included in that judgment of the committee, rendered January 11th, 1897? A All but one.
- Q What was the name of that one? A Mine.
- Q A daughter? A Daughter of Robert Dawson.
- Q Your sister? A Yes sir.
- Q Was she then of age or was she a minor? A I think she was a minor, as well as I can remember.
- Q Was she afterwards admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A She was.
- Q By a Commission or by the Cherokee Council? A She was first admitted by the Spears Court, her and two of my neighbors.
- Q What are their names? A Katie Vernon and Verna Fishback.
- Q What became of that? A The certificate papers they got was lost, and they went before the Council in 1894 and they was readmitted back by the act of Council.
- Q That was in 1894, the Cherokee Council admitted, re-admitted, and they called it, the three above named? A Yes sir. Mary and Verna Fishback and Katie Vernon, they have now the same names but except Vernon, it is not, Tob Robinson married the widow, a niece of mine.
- Q Now then you have any other consideration of the Dawson case by the Cherokee authorities at any time aside from these two judgments in '87 and '94 admitting the two families of Robert and James Dawson, and the act of Council of '94 admitting these three whom you have just named? A Yes sir.
- Q When? A My two of my sons was placed on the roll by the act of Council in 1892 I think it was; left off of the rolls in per capita payment and they was placed on the rolls I think, and Sam Hightough member of Council, got their draft or checks for the money.
- Q Have you got that copy of the act of Council admitting them?
- A Yes sir.
- Q Where is it? A (Produces papers.)

BY MR. WICKENS ON: We offer in evidence an act of the Cherokee National Council making an appropriation of 20,000 dollars belonging to the general fund for the payment of certain persons therein named a per capita payment, as per amount set opposite their respective names, provided that the Principal Chief shall draw warrants for such amounts, and further provided "That the names of the persons appearing on the per capita rolls in this act shall be placed (on) the authenticated roll of 1886 by the Principal Chief." This act was approved December 31, 1891. Approval signed by Stephen Tance, Assistant Acting Principal- In this list appear the names of William R. Dawson for payment of $17.90, and of Marion Dawson, for a like sum. Are these not the names of two of your sons? A Yes sir. (This paper above introduced, is filed and reads a part of the records in this case.)

Q Was there any other action of the Cherokee authorities relating to members of your family? A Yes sir.

Q Where? A In 1894.

Q What was that? A Allowing them their strip money.

Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKEMMON: We offer in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed C. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 19, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among these are members of the Missinger family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Lemie, Pearl, A. G., Artie, Timmie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and whose names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.

Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.

Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.

Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.

Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of E. Dawson.

Q When was that? A That, I think it was in '84.

Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.

Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.

BY MR. McKEMMON: We now offer in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1890 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 9th, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q These now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. McKEMMON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same handwriting as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, September 14th, 1883.

E. Dawson, for his grand-children, )
No. 181. )

Lula Fauthhitt, ) Dallas Dauthitt, )

vs
The Cherokee Nation. )

( C. H. Taylor, Att'y for Claim. )

( Petition filed September 14th, 1883. )

Case submitted by claimants Sept 14th, 1887.
Case submitted by Solicitor, Sept. 19th, 1887.
Continued by Petitioner Jan 23 1884 to September Court 1884.
Re-submitted September 2nd 1884, by Aloys Taylor and Bevert
submitted by defense Sept 9 1884.

And now on this the 13th day of September 1884 comes this case for final hearing and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read, and considered by the Commission on Citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett are Cherokees by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

Will Spears, Secy.
John Lee,

John L. Adair, Andrew Young,
Clk Com'n. Commission on Citizenship.

Q Now were there any other actions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?

A I don't remember of any others.

Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were called on to make the roll of 1896, in compliance with the request of the Dawes Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dawes Commission?

Q No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1896, of which John T. Guter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of what at that time; this is what I understood.

Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by the Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1837 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.

Q Yes and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q You have all drawn Cherokee money whenever payments were made? A Yes sir.

Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the elections that was held voting on the treaty.

Q What treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Afton.

Q I. what year was that? A I believe it was last spring now time, last April.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q What offices have the members of your family filled? A Deputy Clerk, under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Belgrave District, I was a candidate once for Council in the Downing Party.

Q How many of the Cherokee people were the extent of the recognized tribe? A Only the citizens, yes sir.

Q Is that all? A (Sighs).

Q Now the child of the deceased, as you have stated, that child, namely, the one who was named, was she, is, sir.

Q Have they been called upon by the court to the jurisdiction of the court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Have they been tried for any offenses against the law? A Yes sir.

Q And have they instituted their civil suits in the court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q And had suits instituted against them in such courts? A Yes sir.

Q Some of these suits have gone to the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q And were called upon by the court? A Yes sir.

Q Is there anything else? A Nothing more, I am afraid, because I have got a head-ache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. WITCHINGS:

Q Now all the four sons, Robert Dawson, has he died? A I don't know, I couldn't answer that.

Q He was a very old man? A Yes sir, he was getting old, really old.

Q How old would you tell him to be older than that you? A No I don't know.

Q Mr. James Dawson in 1834 must have been a very old man, didn't he?

A Well he was old and he was feeble.

Q Well you stated that he had been so silly; was he naturally that way? A He used to live in Texas; I didn't know him until after he came to the Territory.

Q I say he had gotten so old, that was the occasion of that?

A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty

Patton, that's my understanding.

Q And the oldest boy was John Dawson? A He always called him Jack.

Q Did Dawson he was the oldest? A Yes sir.

Q Sam was the youngest? A Sam Piley.

Q He was the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes sir.

Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1837, I think he died in 1837, I won't be positive; that is as best as I recollect now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.

Q Now none of the other members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No sir, not a one of them was.

Q Now a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their mother, the one was or anything about it? A I don't think they was.

Q Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of his Joe Vann, wasn't it?

A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.

Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when

Dr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 10 years ago.

Q And nobody kin to the Rogers and Vann was ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.

Q They were very well known Cherokee families in the country?

A I suppose so, I don't know.

Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify? A Not that I know of, I don't know what my brother done, he taken some of the evidence at Tahlequah

when I was not there; he first filed his claim.

- Q You had spoken to Dr. Baker about the testimony before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.
- Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards. I went back after and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.
- Q You had talked to your brother about what you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.
- Q You had told him in general way you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.
- Q You went off, came to Arkansas and left your brother at Tallahassee after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.
- Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.
- Q You and he however made trips back and forth to Tallahassee and home at different times, but you didn't happen to get together? A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.
- Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.
- Q And took his testimony a year or more or rather before ever you were admitted? A I think as well as I remember, yes sir.
- Q Now the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't use him.
- Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.
- Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.
- Q That did Bryant do? A I think he helped my brother take evidence my brother employed him.
- Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.
- Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.
- Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.
- Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.
- Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.
- Q E. Dawson, you remember, had him for his grand-children? A That is my understanding.
- Q And your uncle James Dawson had him in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Low and Bill Jackson got him; that was my understanding of who employed him.
- Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. E. Taylor and was finally submitted by him September 2nd, 1884, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny him being in that case.
- Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the DeBartlett children's case.
- Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally submitted by him, and Mr. Benwert, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?
- Q That was in the E. Dawson grand-children? A Elbert?
- Q No, in the DeBartlett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Navy Department, and was for the Adair court, the 4th of October, 1867, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.

Q And the case likewise of Wiley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.

Q They are relations of yours? A Well I don't want to say.

Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be a son of Wiley Dawson? A Well if he is he is by connection then. There are no other Dawsons I don't know that all.

Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The Dawsons have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.

Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.

Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of the applicant and your self, who were admitted to citizenship by the Federal Court?

A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.

Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about that people.

Q Clemon Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.

Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his limbs.

Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over from Arkansas back from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.

Q Now didn't you come to this place when they joining together and work on it some time before you bought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.

Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.

Q And went back and got your wife and moved her to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Florida and got my wife.

Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Sam Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.

Q You remember do you of being with him much of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Wiley Dawson, and he was there.

Q In '60 sometime? A '62, I reckon, or '63. Some here along there, in time of the war.

Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.

Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came?

A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.

Q Who first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A Why it was me, and my brother together.

Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first conceived talking about it.

Q And went down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas; I went backwards and forwards a time or two after the war.

Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas were tryin' to get some claim of kinship to Cherokee? A No sir, not at that time.

Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1860? A Well in '62 and '4 and '5 I think.

Q How was excitement over there to get yourselves on the rolls? A Just got to be everybody; but it wasn't at the time we were admitted there was not such stir about the rights here.

Q Well the Watts had been admitted before that? A I suppose they had; there was not such excitement over the Watts claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You did locate your own with Sam Shables when you first came to Tahlequah in '01? A I think I did.

Q Your brother Buck Dawson stayed there also? A Yes sir.

Q Sam Shables lived in the north end of town, old German? A Yes sir, old German, lived in the lower part of town.

Q Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A I have heard and but I have forgot them.

Q You don't recollect any name now? A I don't remember the name sir.

Q In the Irene House case and Joann Barber case, in which you testified before the Commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A That's all we could find; no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.

Q Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A I don't know; House got a copy of what claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.

Q Well the certificate there does not bear any certificate does it? A I don't know about that, I am no scholar.

Q Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of records?

A I didn't hunt for any; House hunted for them.

Q None of you have ever been able to find any other? A No. Not even find our petition.

Q Samuel R. Dawson applied to what is known as the Adair Court, didn't he? A I don't remember now.

Q He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A Yes sir, claimed to be.

Q The father of these two parties who testified here this morning?

A Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never let them to show them.

Q He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Hayes Court? A I don't know whether he filed his petition.

Q Did you testify in his case? A I don't remember; I might have done it.

Q Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Hayes Court? A I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.

Q Did you testify in the Miller Dawson case? A No sir, no; that I remember.

Q Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A I don't remember, sir.

Q You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1890, don't you? A No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tahlequah after some papers and come back and they told me about it.

Q You never found out that G. H. Taylor was a big rascal up until the present time have you? A (No response)

Q The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A Why it shows here from the record; I could neither be excuse for my part of it.

Q You were the man that had the loss to do with it? A I never employed him, I can say that.

Q You are the man that had gone to do with the records in my case and in my father's case.

Q Didn't you testify for your uncle J. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Wasn't he attorney for him? A Yes sir.

Q Wouldn't he have to be in the presence of your citizens ship?

A Why not, but the young children.

Q Did the boy's name ever appear in the October 1893, after census?

A Yes sir.

Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed his petition? A He might have filed it for a while.

Q Well you hadn't at that time. Taken out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over his money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.

Q You never discovered that he was such a bad man until after your judgment was rendered? A I know he was not of good character.

Q Are you and Bryant, this man, he testified for the Cherokee Nation, on speaking tax of? A Hardly speak.

Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A So often he does.

Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three months?

A I have not spoke to him until I met him here at the hotel the other day.

Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes sir.

Q When did he have the boy arrested? A About in the 10th or 11th of October, September I think.

Q When did Dr. Baker die? A I don't remember.

Q You don't remember how much older your father was than you?

A No, I don't know.

Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.

Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, '42 according to the record.

Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born?

A I couldn't say.

Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 20 or 25 years old. My understanding he married young.

Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.

Q Your father was born, say, 25 from 42 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I remember about it.

Q There are two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.

Q Then you think there are only 2 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.

Q Dr. Baker gives his age 73 in '82, which would make him be born in '89, now he states that when he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1809, will make 1824, what your grandfather Anna Pruitt, was a school girl; whereas from your testimony and that of the family history introduced here shows that your grandfather Anna Pruitt was the father of seven children, the youngest being born in 1827, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the statement of Dr. Baker; I don't know what he made such statement as that, I don't remember about it.

Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)

Q Did you talk to any of the members of the Court that admitted you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.

Q You know whether they were old or young man? A They were old men like; slave fence, I not acquainted with him afterwards, and to be that good, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

- Q That was the fellow that was on the Court? A Yes sir.
- Q He was afterwards assistant chief of the Cherokee Nation?
- A I think so.
- Q Steven Tense, that's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just knew the name; I had no acquaintance with him at all.
- Q D. W. C. Duncan boarded when you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember how they were admitted.
- Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
- Q Were not you over there to his room? A I think I was.
- Q You remember when it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to make a statement before the Court? A It was in January, Tex., was in January Term of 1882 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
- Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified?
- A No sir, I didn't.
- Q But your case was not submitted or passed upon for a year?
- A I think it was, yes sir, as well as I remember.
- Q I would like to ask you when the Blasingame family came to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Blasingame came with us when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved West Fall.
- Q Did he move his family here that same Fall? A Yes sir.
- Q That year as that? A In the Fall of '83 I believe it was, as well as I remember now.
- Q When did the Bulaska family come? A I think the girl and the old lady come in the next spring.
- Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but the girl went back and in a short time and her husband come back.
- Q Did she come back until after her marriage? A No, she was married when she come first.
- Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she come out.
- Q How long has August Bulaska been a permanent and continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A I think he come there in the Fall of 1884 or 1885, I don't say which.
- Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
- Q When was that? A '85.
- Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
- Q Who is Arizona Albey? A That is my daughter.
- Q Did you bring her with you? A No no, when I moved.
- Q When did she come? A She come out in a year or two after I moved here.
- Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
- Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
- Q When did Jim Lowe come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
- Q What was his father's name? A Melvin Dawson.
- Q You know Jim Lowe's age? A No sir.
- Q Don't know how old he was in '83? A No sir.
- Q Was he grown? A I think so now.
- Q Married? A No sir.
- Q Married in this country? A Yes sir.
- Q Who is James H. Morgan? A Married one of the Jackson girls.

Q Where did they come to this country? A I think after they were admitted.

Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, spring or winter of '94.

Q You know Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.

Q Who is his mother? A Missouri Ann Graham, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.

Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A So I know, I don't know.

Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.

Q You never knew them until they came to this country? A I never knew Gid.

Q When did you see him here? A I think they came here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '95.

Q He was married then? A I think he was.

Q Brought his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.

Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He came to my house and I never saw his family for—I don't know, for several years.

Q You understand he had a family? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Did you hear to say '84 or '94? A '84.

Q Did you see Gid Graham in '84? A '84, let me see, '84 or '85.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition? A I think so.

Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I want positive swear it, but I think it was, and I remember on it was; I couldn't say positive.

Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizenised by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have narrated here about going to school and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask me the question again.

Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenised by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they was.

Q They all drew money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.

Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges of native born Cherokees.

Q Well I say there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know if there is.

Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with him, I never knew him, when I saw him.

Q Mr. Will Ross did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.

Q Did you file any other paper before the Court other than your petition and then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.

Q None whatever? A I don't remember any.

Q Tell you never had occasion to file any papers before Mr.

Duncan? A I got him to do some writing for me.

Q That? A Letters to my brother in Texas.

Q Buck Dawson? A Yes sir, E. Dawson.

Q What County? A Carroll.

Q How old is your father? A Not well.

Q Did Dr. Baker live at Newville? A Yes sir.

Q How long has your father had acquaintance with him for many years?

A Yes sir.

Q Did he know him sufficiently to be cognizant with his character and habits of life? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know Josephine Pierce? A Yes sir.

Q Where did you see her? A Robert Dawson's.

Q Is she the same identical person who is called Josie Pierce, and Josie Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q Is there any other Josie Pierce or Josie Dawson or Josie King

Pierce or Josephine Dawson? A I don't know but the one.

Q She was also called Josephine or Josie Kelly? A Yes, after she married; her first husband was Pierce.

Q Another second husband? A Was Kelly.

Q There was another Josephine Dawson wasn't there, Salaska's wife?

A Yes they called her Jos, I suppose that's her name, I couldn't be positive, that was Hile Dawson's daughter, August Salaska's wife.

Q She is much younger than your sister, Josephine, above referred to? A Yes sir, oh yes.

BY MR. RUTCHINGS:

Q Where were you born, Mr. Dawson? A Carroll County, Arkansas.

Q You are how old you are? A 42.

Q 42? A I think so.

Q How many other children were there of your father and mother than yourself? A Three.

Q Which were they? A B. Dawson, Riley Dawson and Jasper Dawson.

Q You are the fourth child and the fourth boy? A Yes sir, fourth boy.

Q Where were your father and mother married, do you know, from family history? A I think it was in Arkansas, I couldn't be positive, I think they was.

Q Do you know how long your grandfather lived in Arkansas? A No sir I don't.

Q Don't know what year he came to Arkansas? A Only from statement.

Q Well what did they say about it? A I think they came here sometime in '30.

Q You know whether your father was born in Arkansas? No, any of your grandfather's children were born there? A There was none of him born in Arkansas according to history and according to what he always told me, they were born in Tennessee.

Q How many there in Tennessee, and all the other children were born on the Kansas River in Tennessee, before he ever came? A That is what I think, yes sir. But I'm not positive about that.

Q They were from Tennessee, but either Dr. Baker lived there or your father was there? A Don't know, but I remember that I was heard by father say that he was born in Tennessee.

Q In Tennessee or either he said he was a good big boy when he came to Arkansas? A I don't know as I ever heard him say.

Q Do you know the circumstances in the case of your father and your three other children? A No I don't.

Q Don't know the time that came in between you? A No I don't know that, I think it is about two years there.

Q That would make B. Dawson about eight years older than you, wouldn't it? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Did Josephine Pierre have a daughter who married J. C. Starr?
 A Yes sir.
 Q What was her name?
 A I always known her by Dede Pierre. I don't know whether that is her right name or not.
 Q What is Hoyle's name?
 A John Hoyle.
 Q She is the wife of Josephine Pierre who married John Hoyle?
 A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Where did she marry John Hoyle?
 A Near Arden.
 Q When?
 A I don't know.
 Q About what time?
 A You have got a copy of the marriage license.
 Q When did Josephine Pierre come to the Thomas Station?
 A 1871.
 Q Has she lived here continuously since that time?
 A Yes until her death; she is dead.
 Q Any of her children come with her at that time?
 A Yes sir.
 Q And have they lived here continuously since that time?
 A Yes sir, except Bill Pierre, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you?
 (Showing with the document.)
 A Yes sir.
 Q Where?
 A At the residence of S. R. Benge near Fort Gibson.
 Q When?
 A On the 15th day of this month.
 Q What day of the week was that?
 A On Saturday.
 Q Is that the day it was taken?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Did you go there on Saturday to take that?
 A Yes sir.
 Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was not it?
 A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.
 Q Was he mistaken or not?
 A It was not taken then.
 Q Then his statement made on Monday the 16th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?
 A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.
 Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th?
 A Yes sir.

Q Then of course his statement could not be correct?
 A I was not.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he?
 A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they were to go and take that on Monday to take that?
 A He said:

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q I sent you there last Saturday?
 A Yes sir.
 Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you?
 A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT I. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

Q What is your name?
 A My name is Robert I. Dawson.
 Q How old are you?
 A My age is something close to 30 years old.
 I. A. S. 119

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Mack Dawson?

A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the envelope and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death? A (Hands letter to witnesses who examine it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and he looked over them I saw this letter.

Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.

Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not. (Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here applicants' Attorney hands letter and envelope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. MCKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case; it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BERGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.

Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know his handwriting? A I believe so.

Q Is that his handwriting? (Shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.

Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?

A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSIONER: (Reading letter)

Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor, so you all are citizens of this Nation. F. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,

S. H. Benge,
Attorney at law.

Enclosed in envelope, as follows:

Card in upper corner, left hand:

"Return in ten days to C. H. Taylor,
Attorney at law,

Tahlequah, Ind. Ter."

Addressed: "Mr. E. Dawson,

Henryville,
Gray Co., Texas.

Postmarked: Tahlequah, Jan 21 1897.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now, was the hat and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Among the same that you found the Bangs letter? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: This is a letter reporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to B. Dawson, dated at Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicant's attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSIONER: (reads letter)

"Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation,
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 20th inst in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim on there would be little more to do I suppose Campbell Taylor to answer for me when the case came up, for which I was to pay him 100 out of my fee.

This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him 100- and that you had offered him a check on a bank in Texas.

That 100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are a friend of the deceased work I done for you. Please write to me.

Very respectfully,

Very truly,

J. M. Bryan.

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A He, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say. A I wouldn't say no person to know his age, what asked me his age, of course I don't know.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but that I never paid enough attention to it.

His name, being first duly sworn and being duly sworn and sworn to as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Do you swear that the above is true? A Yes, I do.

With reference to S. H. Bonge, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. O. Starr over to S. H. Bonge's home in Tallahassee, Florida, on Saturday, March 15, in the U. S. District Court, and after depositions. I had heard that Mr. Bonge knew some important facts in connection with the Underhill case and I was told that I was to take that affidavit, and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with the Underhill case, and I was surprised to find he had instead of me, and in the Underhill case, that he also had another affidavit in the Underhill case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Bonge knew anything whatever in connection with the Underhill case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly, gave me any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not making anything else out of Taylor, and didn't want him to tell anything but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that standing, and after Captain Robinson, or counsel for the Nation, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of those facts that he testified in on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. O. Starr in my office. I simply asked to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor had not voluntarily given me any information, and that he had made that statement for that purpose.

- BY THE COURT:
- Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuasion that I brought to him.
- Q He did not testify simply upon your persuasion? A Yes sir.
- Q You knew he had been acting as an attorney for these parties?
- A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.
- Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the commission.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I verbatim reported the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1865, and Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. M. Martin, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, John Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Tribal Court", and that on September 9, 1864, and James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Mollie Dawson, F. M. Dawson, Elbert Dawson and Joseph Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tribal Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee tax rolls of 1865 and 1866, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee tax roll of 1866, Mollie Dawson on the tax roll of 1866, Joseph Dawson on the tax rolls of 1867 and 1868, James Dawson on the tax rolls of 1868 and 1869, Rial Dawson on the tax rolls of 1869 and 1870, Josephine Dawson on the tax rolls of 1870 and 1871, Joseph Dawson on the tax rolls of 1871 and 1872, John Dawson on the tax rolls of 1872 and 1873, and John Dawson on the tax rolls of 1873 and 1874.

person on the Day roll of 1884, and the same person as the Day roll of 1894.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such persons as they may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 524, D 520, D 531, D 534, D 535 and D 535.

The evidence shows that Francis M. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F. M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Arisona Alfred are the children of said Francis M. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip Dayroll roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arisona Alfred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew G. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in 1894, the laws of the Cherokee Nation, which require a person to be born in the Nation or to have his wife or child born in the Nation, and to be included in the census of the Nation. The old roll of the Cherokee Nation, the Cherokee roll of 1894, and the laws of the Nation, are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Ben Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898.

Paragraph 9, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 25, 1898 (30 Stat., 495) provides:

"No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore resided in and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William R. Dawson, Francis M. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1863, and Andrew C. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the other children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, since none of them are living.

Group II, included the applications of Samuel E. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 300, D 302, D 304, D 305, D 400 and D 402.

The evidence shows that Samuel E. Dawson is identified as the said Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as herein before stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1866. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson hold that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Kate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel E. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Hulawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel E. Dawson. They were born at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Hulawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 10, 1895, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinafter named, are the issue of that marriage. The

Some other children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898, and the strip payment roll of 1904. My Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Marrie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John W. Dawson on September 2, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert R. Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1836, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1892, and Sarah F. and Harriet Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered B 578, B 580 and B 582. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas P. Dawson and Eric H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are herein identified on the Cherokee Genius roll of 1888.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Allard, and Marie J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orle H. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Lillie York, and Mary R. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 408, D 409, D 451, D 471, D 478 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie King) and Nancy J. Bagle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1888.

Hollie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 18, 1891. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Myrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Hollie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1888, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

and Ora Gray are the issue of that marriage. Ora Gray is identified as the wife of Robert Pierce on the 1890 census roll of 1890 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 2, 1884, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1890, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Ora Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akin was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1888 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akin, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbered 2 504, 2 505 and 2 506.

Joseph E. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as merchandise trader. He was married to Margaret Jackson on May 12, 1888, and they have lived in application of said Joseph R. Dawson, the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Dawson. The applicant, his wife and his three children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and heretofore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1888, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1890, excepting a temporary absence from 1890 to 1892. The residence of the minor children of said James R. Dawson is considered to be that of their parents, and their residence is as stated.

Therefore, the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, James R. Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, and the children of said James R. Dawson, and the children of said Joseph R. Dawson, is hereby approved and the same are hereby admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Marriage as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1888; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1885; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, wife, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James W. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birtie J., on December 5, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Est Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame, are the of that marriage. The said James R. Blasingame and her two children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1895. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Albert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, includes the applications of those claimants through the said Albert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered B 435, B 604, B 608, B 605, B 609, B 617, B 626 and B 627.

The evidence shows that Zora Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Albert E. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Albert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zora Patterson is identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Albert E. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee Marriage License, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1890, to the said Tom Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1898, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William G. Dawson on November 12, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Albert B. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Albert Dawson about 1884, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1890. His child Ida E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Hellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Albert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship, ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stat., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stat., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Kosa Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard T. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Albert B. Dawson, Sarah I. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 83, D 85, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John T. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1886, and has lived with her since that time. Joseph V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the former marriage. John T. Graham, his wife and the children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of Mr. F. Graham was married on August 10, 1888, to Mrs. Mary E. Graham, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on August 10, 1888, to Mrs. Mary E. Graham, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 8, 1888, to James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application and James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of their marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the State payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John P. Graham and J. Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and Joe E. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with those who are living.

Group X, included the application of the said Mrs. L. Graham, who is living through her. The said Mrs. L. Graham, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of John W. Graham, and she was married to him on August 10, 1888, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The said Mrs. L. Graham, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of John W. Graham, and she was married to him on August 10, 1888, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

citizenship. They are the children of Flora Jackson, a Cherokee woman, and James H. Harmon, a white man, and they are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

The children of Flora Jackson and James H. Harmon are Fannie Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Jackson. Fannie Jackson and William Jackson are the children of said Flora Jackson, and Fannie Jackson, Flora Jackson, Fannie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were citizens at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three elder children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children, Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Fannie Jackson claims to have been married in 1886 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his death was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, and that Fannie Jackson was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation at the date of her admission to citizenship. Fannie Jackson and her children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

The authority of the Commission herein is derived in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 718, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene T. and Willburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1894, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1898. On September 22, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children herein applied for, Della F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Fieid T. Richardson and Jasper C. Richardson are children by his wife Kitty. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flournoy are the children of his said wife Kitty by a former husband.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894, with their mother as the head of her family. The youngest child Paul Newman was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Maria F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Philip S. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth certificates on file with this Commission.

Etta Brewer is the daughter of said V. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said V. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 28, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. V. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, V. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said V. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that James Jackson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brewer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1894; that Willie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1893; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1893, and that Eliza Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1893. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Very truly yours,
Special Agent in Charge, Cherokee Nation

citizens are related to the above named Dawson. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram E. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 15, 1884, to Julia F. Douthitt, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Special Court" on September 15, 1884. Curtis, Morris G. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram E. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Julia F. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 15, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonso L. Fieback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1881, to Lavona A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1879, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Lavona Fieback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1884. William A. and Annie D. Fieback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonso L. Fieback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1896.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Albert E. Morgan, is the daughter of the "City Richmond" heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1884, and the said "City Richmond" is a member of her family. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her husband is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1896.

Identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John H. Fishback is the son of Lawrence Fishback, who was admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1895.

George A. Mabry was married to one Mina Deegan in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a State marriage license to his said wife in 1889, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Mina Deegan was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Mina Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John H. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children mentioned in this decision, and heretofore noted, are made a part of this report.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applications herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by any court of record, and that the fragments of the Cherokee Census rolls for 1894 and 1895, which were destroyed by fire in 1904, are the only evidence in the possession of the Cherokee Nation which would show that the said children were ever lawfully admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and set upon upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 38 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1861, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were James Teehee, Alex White and E. J. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. H. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawsons were there several times before final decision. J. H. Brown appeared to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified James M. Brown that the case would be taken up by the Commission at the session of January, 1862, and after some delay that J. H. Brown would have been present at the session of the Commission.

would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel M. Benge to go to Tahlequah and obtain the depositions. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was conversed with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881, that it was adjourned several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1883, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Tash Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon notice of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

E. H. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Tashco and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Dugan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know what got large citizenship cases come up; that he informed J. S. Dugan to Dugan on the evening of January 10th, 1883, that of a conversation between him and Tashco Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon notice of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship.

evidence introduced and the argument made, and that the case was then decided in favor of the Davsons. Witness further testified that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he would send him another hundred dollars in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instruction to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a legal claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. M. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud in the testimony of E. K. Beach, G. M. Taylor, Thomas L. Deheart, J. E. Glinkenshaw, James T. Davis, G. D. Strang and David Forsyth.

E. K. Beach testifies that a judgment entered in the case was rendered in the Davsons' favor as the result of the trial and that any additional proceedings in the case were discontinued as a result of the payment of the money.

There is no other evidence in the case which tends to support the charge of fraud in the testimony of E. K. Beach, G. M. Taylor, Thomas L. Deheart, J. E. Glinkenshaw, James T. Davis, G. D. Strang and David Forsyth.

Thomas B. Babhart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commissioner's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness home in Tallahassee the evening of January 10, 1933, to borrow some money; that Dawson was counted for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to take money that night, that his check was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case to the Senate, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person known in Tallahassee as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clintworth testifies that he had a talk with Robert Dawson about 1931; that Dawson told him he had paid two witnesses, Mr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 50 or 60 years old who did not look straight up" and that he would give Mr. Baker five dollars of Arkansas money and he would swear black was white. Although further testifying that Dawson told him that money was that was the more go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

According to the Commission the go into the Commission of money by bribery with testimony to that effect, the Commission is not satisfied, if anything, that the more money is given, the more likely it is to be given to the Commission.

before this Commission will carry out the right to be heard upon that point.

Adopting the truth of all the testimony in this case as the actual transcript of record in the Dawson case, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that case. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket about the signature of the three members of the Commission appeared therein. There is some conflict as to whether Dawson signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Dawson testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. V. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. V. Thompson testified that he remembers the Dawson case and recognized the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawson or by any one else so far as he knows.

This evidence has been considered by the Commission for the purpose of showing that the question, through what was known to him, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Commission, coming from the same source, were not denied the same rights as were granted Dawson. It is the duty of the Commission to see that the same rights are granted to all.

ground in the procurement of the Robert Dawson patents, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Federal Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1863, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts applies with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1863; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1863, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to sit aside a judgment so obtained. No such action appears to have been taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence is sufficient to show that the Dawsons secured their acquisition of land by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1884, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that,

COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES

Muskogee, Indian Territory, .....
February 1st, 1902

Wilbert Dawson,
Afton, Indian Territory

Sir:

You are hereby notified that the application of.....

for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the day of ..... 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

Yours truly,

Acting Chairman.

Francis M. Dawson, et al.,

Group V.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Referring to office report of even date transmitting Group 1 of the case of Francis M. Dawson, et al., applicants for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, there is transmitted herewith record relative to the applicants of Group V.—

Francis M. Dawson, et al.,

Joseph E. Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself and his five minor children, Clarence E., Council J., Elmer A., Elsie and Hattie T. Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of Marjorie Dawson, his wife, as a citizen by intermarriage. He also applies for the enrollment of his minor child, Edgar Dawson, who was born subsequent to the date of his original application. Edgar Dawson is properly qualified by a birth affidavit.

P. 178. Group V. page 11.

Wilhelm Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by blood.

P. 179. Group V. page 11.

James R. Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself and his three minor children, Virginia D., William C. and Elsie S. Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Florence Dawson, as a citizen by intermarriage. He also applies for the enrollment of his minor child, Ancil F. Dawson, who was born after his application.

-----

Joseph R. Dawson, (Group V. page 1), the record shows is a son of Robert Dawson. He was admitted to citizenship in the District of Columbia by the Supreme Court, January 11, 1883, under the name of Joseph Dawson. Joseph R. Dawson was married to Florence Dawson May 16, 1886. Florence Dawson is a daughter of Ellen or Eliza Jackson or Dawson, who was admitted generally by the Supreme Court, August 9, 1886. She seems to have been born on the date of her mother's admission. The minor children born to her by Joseph R. Dawson are the issue of the marriage between Joseph and Florence Dawson. Joseph R. Dawson, his wife and their minor children are identified by the marriage contract filed in 1886. The two younger children are identified by birth certificates.

William Dawson, (Group V. page 12), was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Takee Court, January 11, 1905. He is identified by the 1896 census roll.

John E. Dawson, (Group V. page 11), was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under the name of James Dawson, August 11, 1905. He was married to Martha A. Dawson February 20, 1890. The principal applicants, his wife and their three other minor children are identified by the 1896 census roll.

Joseph E. Dawson has lived in the Cherokee Nation since 1890, and Florence and Wilborn Dawson have lived in the Nation since 1890, and James E. Dawson has lived in the Cherokee Nation since 1890, except that he was absent therefrom from 1890 until sometime in 1895.

Joseph E. Dawson was married to Bern E. Dawson prior to his marriage to his present wife, Florence Dawson, but the record in this group shows that he was divorced from her before he married Florence Dawson.

The Commission in its decision of December 23, 1905, held that all of the applicants in this group were entitled to citizenship—Martha Dawson and Martha A. Dawson as citizens by Intermarriage, and the others as citizens by Blood.

Attention is respectfully invited to office report of even date transmitting group 1. of this case, and for the reasons set forth therein, the office believes that the Commission's decision should be sustained, except as to Martha and Florence Dawson, who should be considered as unmarried citizens. Their rights should be could have until the Court of Claims shall have made its findings and rendered an opinion in accordance with department request of January 24, last.

Very respectfully,

Wm. V. A. Jones

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
WASHINGTON.

March 21, 1904.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

On February 25, 1903, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Francis M. Dawson et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, with your decision of February 25, 1902, in the matter.

In said decision you disposed of those applications in five groups. Group V as disposed of by you will be considered as follows:

This group includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson, Wilburn Dawson and James R. Dawson, and those embraced therein, and embraced in cases designated by you as B. 244, B. 245 and B. 526. The record in this case forms a part of the record in the consolidated case of Francis M. Dawson et al., referred to above.

The application of Joseph R. Dawson, B. 244, was for the enrollment of himself and his six minor children, viz: Council J., Elmer A., Cleo, Rufus T. and John Dawson, all of the Cherokee Nation and for the enrollment of Florence Dawson, as a citizen thereof.

The said Joseph R. Dawson was admitted to Cherokee citizenship January 11, 1883, by a decree of the Indian Court. He was classified upon the Cherokee rolls of 1883, 1884, 1885 and 1886, and resided in said nation since 1883. May 16, 1888, he was married to Florence Jackson.

Under title D 364, you classified Florence Dawson, nee Jackson, as an applicant claiming enrollment by intermarriage. In your decision of December 28, 1903, you held that she was entitled to enrollment as such. It appears, however, from your field report of October 19, 1901, that a change was made in her classification, and that she was entered upon a doubtful card as an applicant for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

It appears, however, that her mother, Ella Jackson, was formerly a member of the Dawson family, was admitted to Cherokee citizenship September 9, 1884, by a decree of the Indian Court. The petition upon which that decree was founded was dated September 1, 1883. Doubt has been expressed as to whether Florence Dawson was a minor when her mother was admitted. From her testimony it appears that she was born December 11, 1883. This being true, she was under 21 years of age at the date of the decree referring to her, and under 20 years of age when said petition was filed. She was married and a member of her mother's household when her mother was admitted. She is identified upon the 1884 census roll, and resided in the Cherokee Nation with her husband since that date.

in 1866. The minor children named above are the issue of the marriage between Joseph R. and Florence Dawson. The two older children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1866, and two younger are identified by birth affidavit.

The application of Wilbur Dawson, D 478, was for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. He was admitted as such by the decree of the Tehee Court dated January 11, 1883. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1866 and is identified upon the 1866, 1884 and 1896 tribal rolls.

The application of James R. Dawson, D 526, is for the enrollment of himself and his four minor children, Viola E., Ernie C., Edwin C. and Anell F. Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Martha A. Dawson, as a citizen of said nation by intermarriage. The said James R. Dawson is the son of James Dawson who was admitted to Cherokee citizenship by decree of the Tehee Court dated January 11, 1883. He is identified upon the pay rolls of 1866 and 1884, and the census roll of 1866, and has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1866, except during a temporary absence from 1887 to 1891. He was married to the said Martha A. Dawson February 28, 1896. She is identified upon the 1866 census roll and has resided with her husband in the nation since their marriage. Their three older children named above are identified upon the 1866 census roll; their fourth child is identified by birth affidavit. It is considered that the residence of the said James R. Dawson is that of their parents.

In said decision of December 23, 1902, you held that all of the applicants named above, except Florence Dawson and Martha A. Dawson, were entitled to enrollment as citizens by blood, and that they were so entitled as citizens by intermarriage.

Reporting in reference to this group, October 19, 1903, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that your decision be approved, except as to Florence and Martha A. Dawson.

The attorney for the Cherokee Nation protests against the enrollment of these applicants, claiming that the decrees under which they were admitted were obtained through fraud. His contention was disposed of in an opinion dated 2 February 16, 1904, by the Assistant Attorney General, approved by the Department, relative to the application of Francis M. Dawson et al., copy of which was forwarded to you February 24, 1904.

The Department considers that your decision relative to these applicants named above who claim enrollment as citizens by blood is correct. Said decision is hereby affirmed as to them. The Department can discover no reason from the report record as it now stands why Florence Dawson should not be enrolled as a citizen by blood. Inasmuch, however, as neither your Commission nor the Commissioner of Indian Affairs discussed her rights as such, the case is herewith returned for further consideration, and (if necessary) further investigation. In this connection see Department's decision of even date concerning James Love and Lizzie Jackson (Group 1).

II of the Dawson case).

No action will be taken at this time respecting the rights, if any, of Florence Dawson and Martha A. Dawson, as acquired by intermarriage.

A copy of Indian Office letter of October 19, 1904, relating to this group, is inclosed.

Respectfully,

(signed) Theo Ryan,

Acting Secretary.

- Q This is returned to the applicant.
- Q Have you lived in the Cherokee nation ever since you were admitted in '83? A Except when I was in a medical college and under a preceptor. I was in medical college in '89, '90 and '91.
- Q Where did you go to college? A I went to St. Louis, Mo., first.
- Q What do you mean by a preceptor? A Reading medicine under a preceptor.
- Q Is that included in the three years you speak of being out at college?
- Q I was under a preceptor in '87 reading.
- Q Then you came back to the Cherokee nation in '91? A I came back in '89.
- Q Have you been here ever since? A I was not back to college in St. Louis again in the summer of '89.
- Q How long did you stay? A I stayed three months.
- Q Then came back here? A Yes.
- Q Been here ever since? A Yes sir, went back to medical college and was there 6 months in the summer of '89 and '90.
- Q Then did you come back here? A Yes.
- Q Stayed here that time? A I went to Louisville, Ky., to medical college and stayed six months and came back and have been here ever since.
- Q Finished your medical education in six months and came back here and been here ever since? A Yes.
- Q What is the name of your wife? A Maria Alice.
- Q How old is she? A 40.
- Q When did you marry her? A '80.
- Q Have you certificates of your marriage? A Yes.
- Q The applicant presents a license issued by the Clerk of Carroll county, Mississippi, to James R. Dawson and Maria Alice Dawson, dated the 11th day of January, 1883, and the same is returned to the applicant.
- Q And she is living with you?

Q Give me the names of your children? A Winnie B., 9 years old.

On '96 roll, page 463, number 956, as Winnie Dorcas.

Q Next? A Ermine C., 7 years old.

On '96 roll, page 463, number 967, as Ermine Carl.

Q Next? A Edwin C., 5 years old.

On '96 roll, page 463, number 956, as Edwin Carlyse.

Q They are all living now? A Yes.

Applicant on '96 roll, page 463, number 955, as James Dawson.

Applicant's wife on '96 roll, page 469, number 143, as Alice.

Q What is the name of your father? A Robert.

Q Dead or alive? A Dead.

Q What is your mother's name? A Nancy.

Q Dead, or alive? A Dead.

Q How long has your mother and father been dead? A They both died in '86.

Q They are not upon any roll of the Cherokee nation? A I don't think they are.

The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and three children. He claims to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship in '83, but does not present an official copy of the Act of admission at this time. He is identified on the roll of '96 and states that he has lived continuously in the Cherokee nation since '51. The Cherokee representative present objects to enrollment of persons admitted at the time that this applicant was admitted, and of the enrollment of this family, because of alleged fraud in the proceedings of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission at that time. For that reason, and also to await official evidence of the applicant's admission, his application at this time will be placed upon a doubtful card. He is shown to have married his wife in '90. She is identified with him on the roll of '96. He states that she has lived with him ever since their marriage, and her application at this time will be placed upon a doubtful card, she being classed as a Cherokee by adoption. The same disposition will be made of the three children who are identified with their parents on the rolls of '96, and are living at this time, they being classed as Cherokees by blood.

The undersigned, being first duly sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

- Q Is this Lula or Lulu? A Lulu.
 The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and six children:
 Q Were these children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is shown by his certificate of admission, and wife in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship, January 1st, 1896, 1896; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to have admitted into the Nation of that time, and for that reason, the enrollment of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful List".
 He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him in the State of States law, and was married prior to his admission to the never been remarried according to Cherokee law. He has lived with his wife since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful List".
 Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony, are identified on the roll of 1896; they are living at present, all having been born since his admission to citizenship. The children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful List".
 applicant's marriage the power of these children is lished by the marriage license and certificate files.
 If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he has recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenog-raphic notes thereof.

BEFORE THE HONORABLE COMMISSION TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

In the matter of the enrollment :
of F. M. Dawson and others as :
Cherokee citizens. :
-----

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. B. Denison in the Gray-Halsell building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth day of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

- Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 53 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation.
I. T. I am a farmer.
Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1876 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
Q Do you remember when that was? A Some time in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tebec, Wolf and myself, Tebec was President of the Court.
Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two sessions, and there was one session each year.
Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Judgments of the Court or Commission pronounced in open session?
A In case of decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, yes, the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.

Q What you intended to answer to your answer to the former question was that after hearing the case the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision or announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony we went into secret session.

Q I will present you with a paper which the witness will mark exhibit "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition, and will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record by M. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and John J. Adams Esq., Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?

A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.

Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.

Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether the said Judge, President of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could.

Q How as to Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?

A I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them ever wrote except by holding the pen.

Q Were you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of D. W. O. Duncan, the clerk of that Commission?

A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw any of it.

Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize his signature attached thereto?

A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.

Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. M. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation by the Commission?

A I remember F. M. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.

Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?

A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.

Q Can you state as to the citizenship of James Tabeo, whether he was a citizen of the Nation or not?

A Yes, sir, he was always a citizen, as well as full blood besides.

Q What is your knowledge of the said Tabeo?

A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.

Q Judge Thompson, if you remember or see, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery at the Court or Commission, or may member of it by F. M. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?

A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

EXHIBIT - EXAMINATION OF V. T. HITCHINGS.

Q Do you know of any Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate which you is in your handwriting?

A Yes, sir.

Q When Mr. Adams certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, is he not?

A No, I don't know, but I don't think so. If that is not the original I did not see it.

Q You state that the witness was speaking orally before the Court, don't you know that in cases every case you took on paper affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled experts evidence out, as well as I remember.

Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence? Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.

Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?

A Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?

A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.

Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read that evidence to you?

A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.

Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?

No, sir.

Q When you got ready to render your decisions did you then send for the applicants or their attorneys?

A No, sir.

Q And you rendered them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claims? A No, sir, I have not.

Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.

Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.

Q How would your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.

Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.

Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Bengo.

Q Could either Tenee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.

Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for deciding this case? A No, sir.

Q How long were you considering the case altogether?

A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively how, they were a long time getting in testimony.

Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?

A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.

Q Well the court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?

A Yes, quite a good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember the the interpreter the defendant had during the hearing of the Dawson case?

A His name was Benge, I forget his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
 A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but we and Mr. Duman.
 Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
 A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
 Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
 A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?

A Yes, sir.

Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?

A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.

Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?

A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.

Q If you remember the names of the members of that Commission or Court, please give them?

A The President of the Commission was Tehen I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson here.

Q T. F. Thompson?

A Yes.

Q Do you know whether those three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?

A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.

Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragdon, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?

A Yes, I think I have seen this before.

Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?

A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.

Q Looking at its date, was it drawn at you at the time it bears date?

A To the best of my recollection it was drawn at the date specified.

Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?

A Yes, that is my signature.

Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?

A It is in my handwriting.

Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.

Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?

A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.

Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tehen and Alex Wolfe to that paper?

A Thomas Tehen and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q Was that the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, when admitted?

A In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the clerk to sign Teehe's and Wolf's names and T. P. Thompson to sign his own name.

Q You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call you attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind now shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?

A My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was entered upon the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.

Q Did you have any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. H. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. H. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?

A I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?

A I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the clerk.

Q Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Teehe's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?

A No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.

Q How was the evidence taken in those cases?

A It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q Do you know whether that evidence is in existence or not?

A I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.

Q You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?

A Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross-examination.

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recall his first name.

Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A I do.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
INDIAN TERRITORY,
NORTHERN DISTRICT.

I, LEWIS T. MARTIN, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, do certify that the foregoing depositions of T. F. Thompson and D. W. C. Duncan were taken before me at the time and place and in the action mentioned in the caption, and said T. F. Thompson and D. W. C. Duncan, having been first by me sworn that the evidence they should give in this matter should be the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and that their statements were reduced to writing by me on the typewriter in their presence; the claimant being present in person and by their attorney G. B. Denison, and the Cherokee Nation being represented by W. T. Hutchings Esquire its attorney..

Given under my hand this 4th day of October, A. D. 1900.

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, I. T., March 17, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of
FRANCIS M. DAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

The case having been set for final hearing March 17, 1902, the following proceedings were had:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. A. S. McKernan, of counsel for applicants;
Mr. W. E. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Comes now the Nation on the calling of this case and announces that it is ready for trial, provided permission is given to hereafter examine before the Commission, either at this place or Fort Gibson, the witness S. H. Benge, who has been regularly summoned to attend at this day and time but who is too sick to travel at this time and probably will be for some time to come. As evidence of a good faith of the Nation we hereby present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said Benge. If the applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, either tomorrow or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and tomorrow, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKernan: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Benge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Benge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:

The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing Counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Fort Gibson.

Commissioner Breckinridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existence anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial, yet it is bodied with somewhat complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to do business of certain character, and it is ordered to make a correct roll, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that roll and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is

It is possible for some one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease and is unable to walk and he may never be able to get out of the house, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is deemed agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson tomorrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed then and arranged with an official of the Commission with a stenographer to leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at 2:30 tomorrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. BUTCHINGS:

- Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q Are you the one that is commonly called Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? No, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 11th of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in theirs to substantiate their cases was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Terr. Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and that they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is afterwards?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence offered in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q Who else? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case have been somewhat destroyed and mutilated? A Oliver Miller he lived in Arkansas.
Q What was he, who was he? A He is no kin to us at all.
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy; was he a farmer?
A Yes, sir, former.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

- Q Have you a fair recollection of the testimony of those two men?
A No, not at all.
- Q You don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I don't read nor write; I can barely write my name.
- Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.
- Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the room.
- Q You were in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.
- Q I will read this paper to you and desire for you to say whether or not it was the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(Affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be copied in the record later.)
- Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been so long ago, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it all.
- Q Does that state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know about it? A So far as I know.
- Q Now, you were a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.
- Q How many children did Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Elbert Dawson, the oldest; Lila, Jesper, Francis Marion.
- Q What is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Edna Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.
- Q Thirteen? (No response.)
- Q Now, Robert Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.
- Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
- Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.
- Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.
- Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country; I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.
- Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.
- Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
- Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes, sir.
- Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.
- Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.
- Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '48 or '49; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.
- Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.
- Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.
- Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and aunts? I didn't see all of them.
- Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes, sir.
- Q Will you give them to me?
A Betsey Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.
- Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.
- Q Your father? A Yes, sir.
- Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.
- Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.
- Q Tell sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him; Riley Dawson.

- Q That is Samuel R. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other one? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you get Jack replaced with Joe? A No, it was Joe, I have heard my father speak of him.
Q Then they have seven children? A I never see them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I see uncle Riley Dawson and James Dawson and Jack Dawson and Nancy Ann Petty; I don't think I saw but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi
I think.
Q Do you know what your family history says that the mother of your grandmother, Pollie Rogers' name was? A We have no history.
Q Well, as it was brought down to you; did you ever hear anybody say what your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What is that other man, Oliver Hill, that testified in your case?
A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my father's case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother got them witnesses around Tahlequah, old people.
Q Were you present? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistake in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of them was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A Why about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A He always called him Buck, it is Elbert, E. Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q That is Elbert or Sick? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now.
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three went there? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witness relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. This case will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

D. H. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. MURPHY:

Q State your name. A G. H. Taylor
Q Where do you reside, Sir? A 123 Main Street, New York
Q Were you in New York on the 1st of January 1912?

Q Were you attending the trial?
A Yes, Sir.
Q Where was the trial held?
A In the Court House.

Q Do you know the defendant in this case?
A Yes, Sir.
Q What name does he use?
A He uses the name of John Doe.

Q Do you know what evidence was used in the case of Mr. Doe?
A No, Sir; I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the court.

Q When was your case filed?
A I was called in as an attorney at the Court House on the 1st of January, and I had the case and several other cases assigned to me.

Q Did you read the evidence in this case?
A No, Sir.
Q Did you deliver any money?
A No, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Q Now, you have stated your name, and I have asked you questions. Did you ever give you any money?
A No, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Q Now, you have stated your name, and I have asked you questions. Did you ever give you any money?
A No, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Q Did the matter go to the Court?
A Yes, Sir; the matter was heard by the Court and I was the attorney for the defendant.

Q Do you want to testify in this case?
A I don't think it is right; I was not the party to the case.

Q Mr. Taylor, do you object to my asking you these questions?
A Yes, Sir; I object to your asking me these questions.
Q You refuse to answer my questions?
A Yes, Sir; I refuse to answer your questions.

Q Either answer me or say you don't know. I will not ask you any more questions.
A Yes, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Q Now, you have stated your name, and I have asked you questions. Did you ever give you any money?
A No, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Q Now, you have stated your name, and I have asked you questions. Did you ever give you any money?
A No, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Q Now, you have stated your name, and I have asked you questions. Did you ever give you any money?
A No, Sir; I was not the party to the case and I don't think it would do me any good to do so.

Under Section 81 of the Circuit Law as it is commonly called Act of June 23, 1838, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties imposed upon them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and for papers and records, and the court shall have authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as the court is concerned to enable said Commission to take oaths and examine witnesses, and to punish anyone who may in any manner be guilty of obstructing said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what what is commonly considered a matter of privilege—according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court: do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer: viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any of the judges of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.

Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently constitutes a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at due time of any proceedings in the matter. I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetency and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COMMISSIONER'S REPLY:

Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner's Reply: It will rest until in the morning at the present status; it is adjourned until now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicants, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.

(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, August 19, 1902.)

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRANCIS M. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

APPEARANCES:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENCE, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
W. T. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A Samuel H. Bence.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 70 years old, going in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what of local position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and what your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1868, I am the only one living that signed that treaty;
President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. M. Dawson, commonly called Bud
Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
Q State your connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court?
A Mr. Dawson come down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1881 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he knew the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after that we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the Court for trial, and the Court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson.
I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our cake is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach", but he reached his with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or? A Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Polke and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of these could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in these cases?
A Why Sanders.

Q. What was his given name? A. Wilson Sanders; was it Wilson Sanders?
A. Wilson Sanders.

Q. Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A. No, sir.

Q. Did Mr. Dawson say anything about the matters having cost him a good deal of money? A. He said it had cost him a right smart.

Q. Was any remark made on the way back about the opening up of the case, and if so, what? A. He asked me if I thought the case was ever investigated eventually and I told him I didn't know.

MR. McKEHNON:

Q. Were you ever a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of those investigations that have been made since that time? A. I don't know that you might call it a witness; that young man come to me once at Tahlequah, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, him and his mother and all was about knocked out and I interceded and done what I could there before a the committee. I was not a witness but that is what I don't for him.

Q. That was Mr. Graham, wasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you had conversations with Mr. Graham since that time about it? A. Now, I might, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.

Q. Well, after the Daves Commission began taking a census of the Cherokees and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have a conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?

A. Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions, but the conversations we might have had I can't state.

Q. To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know of you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A. Not as I recollect of; all he said that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his father, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected, that is just the words he used.

Q. What? A. It has been sometime ago.

Q. Here in Fort Gibson? A. Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and then I saw him in Tahlequah.

Q. Well, didn't he here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?

A. No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-

Q. What is the principal Dawson family? A. Yes.

Q. When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)

A. Yesterday I reckon.

Q. Who come to take this? A. Mr. Starr.

Q. Who else was present when this was taken? A. No, sir.

Q. Whom had you told about this matter, Judge? A. No one as I know of.

Q. Do you know how it was that they knew that you know this?

A. No, sir.

Q. You never made any statement? A. Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Seales, me and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Seales.

Q. How did Mr. Starr know? A. I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

- Q He came alone here as a Notary Public. A He came alone here as a Notary Public. All he said when he came, he says "we understand that you know something in regard to these cases", I said "what case," and he went to work and named Stockade case and Dawson case.
- Q And thereupon you made this statement? A He said he wanted to qualify me.
- Q Are you certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment Mr. Dawson came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
- A Yes, sir; we was together.
- Q Let me ask you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and he went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the next day or two after he left? A My recollection was he and I went together.
- Q And returned here together? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
- A No, sir, he came here together. If my memory serves me right, I might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Webbers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
- Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid me.
- Q How did they pay you? A Paid me the money.
- Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young fellow paid me some.
- Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.
- Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
- Q I will ask you if Mr. F. M. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, if I ever got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Old man paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over in Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
- Q Where did he pay you F. M.'s money? A Paid it here at home.
- Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went up and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; if you want to know what I got, I got one hundred dollars.
- Q You were acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
- Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered?
- A In his case?
- Q Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Tehee and Wolfe.
- Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.
- Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
- Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
- Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
- Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
- Q How long did you remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
- A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Tending to this case alone, or did you have other cases? A No, sir.

Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham present)?
A I don't know whether the judges received any or not.

—00000000—

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of counsel for Cherokee Nation.

G. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.

Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being the case of course I would make a statement.

Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thing that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.

Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. H. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.

Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.

Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.

Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. H. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.

Q Well, what did you reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.

Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.

Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

- Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
- Q What was said if anything while you were present? A Mr. Dunson spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "There is a witness in your evidence."
- Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "The case was straightened out it would be all right," and I looked and went away. I says, "gentlemen, I will go now."
- Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
- Q You left them there together, is that right? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call up the case.
- Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir, there was not additional testimony offered.
- Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
- Q Was it called up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, how many of the members of the court were present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blooded Indians.
- Q Could they speak english at all? A They could talk a little, talk some.
- Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or that is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that: it was generally when the case was submitted the attorney would go out. The parties would go out and they would determine the case.
- Q Well, did they go out into that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, we went out when the case was submitted.
- Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
- Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
- Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Dunson, the clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
- Q Well, did he send any money afterward? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
- Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Dunson half of it.
- Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundred dollars more.
- Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Dunson? A He told me to give him half of it.
- Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
- Q Do you remember whether on Mr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Deved case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
- Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
- Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.
- Q Are you a member of the Cheyenne Tribe? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you ever and named in the Cheyenne Nation? A No, sir, I was born in the old Nation.

Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A I came here in 1887.

Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?

A I think since '88.

Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business here, is that right?

A Yes, sir.

Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.

Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 29 of them, and I was released.

Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it was then.

Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Glen Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.

Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the rail for fraudulent purposes.

Q Sending out representations and obtaining cash for citizenship for people of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, I was for answering correspondents.

Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Glen Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred dollars, that they were these people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.

Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you went out to other people? A That was the charge for using the rail for fraudulent purposes.

Q The use of the rails for fraudulent purposes, but in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.

Q Then the trouble you had was the practice of Glen Rogers and others caused by your connection with the business case? That is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.

Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the practice goes out of this case.

Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q Yet when you came on the stand you seemed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occurred between you and your client, Rud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he authorized me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.

Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.

Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience did not hurt you, did it when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I would be put in jail here if I didn't.

Q But you had stated that with a conscience or with a good conscience you these questions when you came on the stand? A Yes, sir; Mr. Hastings.

Q You knew when you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that?
A No, I didn't know that I would be required to make a statement in the Nation, a sworn statement.

Q You thought you would not be required to answer?
A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.

Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.

Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him "I told Shoemaker I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this; I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemaker both.

Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.

Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.

Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?

A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your agent to you in one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.

Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.

Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Old Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500, I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on?" A No, sir; I got a letter from Old Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked, he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir," I didn't take any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.

Q You did not say to him then that I have embraced in that question here? A No, sir.

Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.

Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemaker say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping me your employment and we have the Dawsons and it will be hard for you and they will not do it?" No, sir; I say to Mr. Shoemaker, "I have kept you employed in your case," and he says "I have kept you in my case," I said "It might have been a advantage to you if they had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "I have kept you in my case" and I say "No, there is nothing wrong in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I say "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it and I am fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am cautioned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I won't if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had required to answer you would have gone to jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before hand I need not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before hand you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information did you know that you had to give him any information? A No, sir; I know that.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you knew that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told you that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go any further. He said to me "I will not make this matter -- I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, I told him I could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says "make the statement" and then I told him -- I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday.

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it won't make any difference or so on, to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was asking you to make would not be used?

A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemaker to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employed me in the matter "it would have been better for you." Now, he offered to when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with his lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

Q What was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage, I knew nothing against him.

Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Defendant? A I was not in the Court house.

Q You were present in jailhouse? A Yes, sir.

Q How long had you been at Fallowah? A I was living there at that time.

Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawson?

Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.

Q You say that after the judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.

Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.

Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you more more in a short time, week or so.

Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.

Q And wrote you to give B. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.

Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.

Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.

Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250. Now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "Have you got a letter from Dawson?" I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it signed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100-- I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.

Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.

Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.

Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing, only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.

Q Submitted it without reading? A Yes, sir.

Q And for that you say I got paid you $120? A Yes, sir; $120.

Q Was Houston Benge present when that was one? A No, sir; I don't think he was.

Q Did you see him then at that time in Fallowah? A I don't remember.

Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.

Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services?

A Yes, sir.

Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.

Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.

Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Hallett can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.

Q Was it about 1887? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1886 somewhere.

Q What has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not?

A Yes, sir.

Q You have never practiced much in any other way have you? A Very little.

Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case in by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; didn't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the grand jury.

Q And he agreed to pay you for a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family."

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemaker case didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemaker case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.

Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim your privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.

Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.

Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.

Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.

Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.

Q How old are you? A 75 years old.

Q What is your business? A I work at the tin business and gun work.

Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of F. M. Dawson and the other Dawson? A I knew old man James Dawson.

Q This is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I knew him.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, some four or five years.

I swear.

Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 70 or 75 years.

Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A About about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.

Q How did you happen to be acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.

Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.

Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A He, sir.

Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?

A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.

Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

I. R. MCKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, must have been somewhere near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.

Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.

Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.

Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBOARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows in and out of the Cherokee Nation:
I. R. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenboard.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 56.

Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Texas citizenship court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.

Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson?

A Yes, sir.

Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, ran by the name of Sharber.

Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.

Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A Well, we were there on the saw business and we talked about it at different times, all in talking about the evidence we had there I, of course, told him how many witness I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 35 or 36 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have got him there, but he hadn't come.

Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's knowing anything?

A Well, he said he was 35 or 36 years old or didn't, nor straight up.

Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?

A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear that black was white.

Q ... about ... in Texas or Indian ... A Well, he said ...

Q ... a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt ... A Well, he said ...

Q ... that he could stand more than that ... A Well, I don't know ...

Q ... where did he go from there? A He and I left there together ...

Q ... did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years ...

Q ... did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he ...

Q ... was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand ...

Q ... your first conversation with him was in '81 was it? A Yes, sir ...

Q ... were you an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir ...

Q ... were you still an applicant? A No, sir ...

Q ... you are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee ...

Q ... that business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita ...

Q ... when did you make these statements now to the representative of ...

Q ... how did they ever know that you had had these conversations with ...

Q ... you don't know how they found that out? A No, sir ...

Q ... you say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir ...

Q ... now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He ...

- Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
- Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
- Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the Petit jury there this winter.
- Q Generally? No, sir.
- Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

- Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
- Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '81 or '8 at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his and your citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
- Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the time that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
- Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
- Q Whom did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
- Q Do you know what time of the year that was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
- Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time? A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
- Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.
- MR. MCKENNON:
- Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
- Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
- Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
- Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
- Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
- Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence? A Yes, sir.
- Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
- Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
- Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
 Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
 Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
 Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir, we ain't had any trouble.
 Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty?
 A Yes, sir.
 Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him?
 A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
 Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at odds? A No, sir.
 Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
 Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1903.

Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

G. W. BRAUCH, re-called, further testified:

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Mr. Brauch, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
 (Witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation;
 MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenny.
 Q What is your post office? A D. Wood Now.
 Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
 Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
 Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewhere between 44 and 45 years old.
 Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson?
 A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
 Q Did you know him at the age of seven, if so state what time?
 A I know Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
 Q Well, in the year '81 in Uley County, Texas, did you ever see him?
 A He was in '81 or '82, I think I knew him in both years.
 Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of your uncle, Jiles Martin and Joe Plaster about his citizenship for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, known and I was there talking in regard to give down those lands to me and my son.

it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe is the way he spoke; "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have steak eating my grub."
Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.
Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.
Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nation?
A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe is the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."
Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Flipin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."
Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "who are your best lawyers up there, Kenney," and I told him "Hoolley Bell was counted the brainiest man in our country."
Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?
A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the state of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKemmon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKemmon:

Q "Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Ross County, Texas. B. F. Alberty was my guardian.
Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.
Q About what time? A It was sometime in '89 though.
Q That tribunal first? A I don't know; I can't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.
Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.
Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?
A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.
Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.
MR. HASTINGS, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation:
Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKemmon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BABEART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Babeart.
Q What is your post office? A Melvin.
Q What is your age? A 49.
Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him five or two.

Q Were you in Tallapoosa about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Paddy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.

Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.

Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.

Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.

Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler or Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.

Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.

Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had more money? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.

Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.

Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.

Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.

MR. MORENO:

Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case?

A Yes, best of my recollection that was.

Q How old a man was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.

Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.

Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.

Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tallapoosa.

Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.

Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.

Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.

Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.

Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody? A I guess—I don't remember when.

Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time?

A I have been here since, I was summoned here last Friday.

Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.

Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it has been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.

Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.

Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the Courts or Councils?

A No, sir.

Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life?

A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q We have never seen that man Brewer since? A If I have I have never known it, but I went with the next day.
 Q Your name was not on that list of names, was it?
 Q You think he was about 25 or 30 years old? A That would be my guess at it, by recollection.
 Mr. McKeman: Applicant's object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is totally incompetent and irrelevant.

CHARLES A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on behalf of the Cherokee Nation:
 MR. BREWER:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but personally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.
 Q What was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Young well it was really Delia but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in 7 years ago.
 Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.
 Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?
 A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Vann.
 Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.
 Q How big of a man was that Joe Vann? A I don't know.
 Q Was he larger than the other Joe Vann?
 A There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.
 Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.
 Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.
 Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.
 Q What did they marry? A Different persons; I know the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, Mrs. Iphis Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.
 Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Negro? A No, sir.
 Q Never had any Negro kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.
 Q The Dawson ones was talked of here for many years, they claiming kin?
 A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.
 Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.
 Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anne or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKeman: Applicant's object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

 MR. DAWSON:

Q State your name? A Charles Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relation are you to the Dawsons? A Well, I am not acquainted with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.

Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What did you say your father's name was? A Ellis Dawson.

Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What children had your father? A Why, he has got, you mean his first children or his whole family?

Q I want all of his children? A I don't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.

Q Just one or two of them I care for; is Mrs. Lewis your sister?

A Yes, sir.

Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.

Q How was she the parents of your father, Samuel Dawson?

A My Sam Dawson was his father.

Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that she was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.

Q What was her given name? A Annie.

Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q Saw him? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.

Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.

Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.

Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?

A Yes, sir.

Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had, that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.

Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?

A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know that I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.

Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.

Q Did your father come here and apply once for citizenship?

A Yes, sir.

Q Was he admitted? A I think not.

Q Did you hear him make any statements about he ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights here and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.

Q Well, in that connection did he say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKernon: Applicant's object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

- Q Then your father, if I understand you, was the son of Samuel Dawson and Annie Dawson, nee Pruett? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did your father have a brother named Robert, and a brother named James? A Yes, sir; that is what I was told.
- Q And had a sister named Mrs. Petty? A Yes, sir.
- Q And another one named Mrs. McGee? A Yes, sir.
- Q And another brother named John? A Yes, sir.
- Q What relation are you to Mrs. A. S. Lewis? A Sister.
- Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.
- Q You have a distinct recollection of him? A I, yes, I can remember him, but I was small.
- Q About how old were you you were when your grandfather died? A About 6.
- Q Was your father's birth recorded in the Family Bible? A Yes, sir.
- Q You know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and deaths were recorded in any Bible or not? A I was, but we haven't it.
- Q What became of it? A Got burned.
- Q Well, about what year do you remember that your father, Samuel Dawson was born? A I believe it was '25.
- Q In 1825? A Yes, sir.
- Q And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A He was between 64 and '7.
- Q Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians? A Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q. You know whether in the family you granddaddy was spoken of by the name of Annie, always? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. McKEMMON: Applicant's object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALEX S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alex S. Lewis.

Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.

Q How old are? A 59 years.

Q What was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Parales Dawson.

Q Who was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel R. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel R. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?

Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A Well she was called Margaret, Margaret Queen was her maiden name.

Q The maiden name now of your wife's father's mother? A Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?

Q Yes, sir? A From what her husband and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.

Q That is the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.

Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know the old gentleman, Samuel Dawson, your wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.

Q Personally? A Yes, sir.

Q What opportunities had you to get acquainted with him? A He lived with his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited me, my wife and I, after we were married, stayed with us quite a while; I lived near my father-in-law and he visited very often.

Q When did he die? A '74.

Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.

Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '73.

Q You know how old your wife's father was when he died? A Why he was up in 60, but I don't remember his age.

Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.

Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was past 94.

Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.

Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he had named one of his, - oldest child for this brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.

Q Now, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understood it was on account of his grandfather thinking so much of Robert Pruett.

Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long time; didn't know where he was, or whether he was alive or not.

Q Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A Well, now don't I know personally?

Q Yes, sir? A John James, and Samuel R. Dawson were the only ones of his children that I remember personally.

Q Well, remember what you know of his family, was other children did he have? A Well he had two girls, but I understand the father's history, he had two girls, first, and John James was the third child, and the oldest boy was John D. Dawson.

Q Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q Which was the oldest girl? That is not known by now? A I think it was Mrs. Potty, nee Battie Dawson.

Q And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A Yes, sir.

Q You know anything about the Mrs. John Dawson was born, have you any way of coming at it, the oldest boy? A Yes, sir, I know that the oldest son and his wife told me.

Q That was that? A They said he was born in 1811.

Q Who was his oldest son? A Tollyer E. Dawson; told me his father was born in 1811.

Q Do you remember now whether the old man had occasion to say whether his wife, Annie Pruett was an Indian or white woman, or ever said anything about it? A I know what the old man said that she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in that way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a different way that he reached it.

Q What blood did he say she was? A Well he said that she was the daughter of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and traded with them.

Q Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.

Q But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.

Q A white woman? A Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. ROSENTHAL:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Q Did ever you apply for citizenship here? A Yes, sir, for my wife.

Q When? A My father-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '88, I couldn't say as to the date.

Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A Him.

Q Yes, sir? A I don't think he did, no sir.

Q Did you? A I did.

Q On account of your wife? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you take affidavit to that application? A No, sir.

Q Who did? A I don't know, don't remember now.

Q You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q Are you still an applicant? A No, sir.

Q Is that? A No, sir.

Q She was denied was she? A Yes, sir.

Q Was there an appeal taken from that? A Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the same, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
 Q What? A Charge of murder.
 Q Anything else? A No, sir.
 Q Committed on the train? A Yes, sir.
 Q Is a train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
 Q How long did you remain in jail? A I appealed the case to the Supreme Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was acquitted on that charge.
 Q That all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
 Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family?
 A Well we personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one of my boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law are my friends.
 Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law Mr. Woolley, anyhow, don't speak, and I don't think his wife speaks to me either.
 Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Woolley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Woolley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
 Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
 Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation?
 A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
 Q As such have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
 Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
 Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and sends to Nation's attorney.)
 Q Where did you find those papers? A I found them in the case in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation here introduces in evidence an envelope marked No. 108, the names on the back of it are Robert, Albert, Jasper, John, Francis, Carlton, Josephine, Susan, Jane, Mollie, Wilburn, James, Rial Dawson, versus the Cherokee Nation; the envelope and its contents.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Is the introduction of all of which the applicants object, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

The envelope above introduced by the Cherokee Nation is indeed as follows:

 In Council: "Robt Dawson."

The said envelope contains a document as follows:

"Office of Commissioner on Citizenship, Cherokee Nation, Tahlequah, January 11th, 1893."

No. 103 Robert Dawson, "et al,"
vs.
Cherokee Nation.

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness:

Dr. Baker when testified as follows. My name is Arthur Baker I reside at Memphis, Arkansas in Carroll County, my age is 72 years, I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first of all saw the claimants. I have been acquainted with him since he lived in the town of Carroll County some thirty five years. (I live at Memphis the last three words.) 35 years at my place near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimant Mrs. Dawson grand mother on mother's side, she was frequently at my mother's house; though she Anna Pruitt lived in the Nation side. She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe. Mrs. also claimed to be half Cherokee; the first time she brought the claimant's mother to my mother's house was the claimant's mother was about grown, when I was a lit in boy she called her daughter Polly Rogers said Capt. John Rogers was ran a boat up the river was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my mother's and there at Louis Rogers store I saw her occasionally when I was 15 or 16 years old and I think then old Capt John Rogers took her off to school. I saw her no more from the time old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson. I stayed all night there and she and I had a talk over our old man's son, and I asked her when she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school. And she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that previously in the words she used.

Capt. John Rogers claimed to be the fourth of the claimant in the son of Polly Rogers and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruitt, and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson Capt Rogers then resided in the Cherokee Country about twelve miles from Calhoun on the Hiwassee River.

Anna Pruitt resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawsons when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees, Robt Dawson's children is Buck, John, Harrison, and two girls; the children named in the petition I recognize as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

- Ques. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
- Ans. 1 Five, I think that's all.
- Ques. 2 Did you say anything about someone being married twice?
- Ans. 2 The claimant was married once.
- Ques. 3 Could Anna Pruitt speak Cherokee?
- Ans. 3 Yes she could speak it well.
- Ques. 4 Did Polly Rogers speak Cherokee?
- Ans. 4 She could speak it well.
- Ques. 5 How far did you live from Mrs. Pruitt?
- Ans. 5 Just across the river about 12 or 15 miles.
- Ques. 6 Was Calhoun in the Cherokee Nation?
- Ans. 6 It was on both sides of the river, part in the Nation and part out in the State.

Ques. 7 Which Harnage was it went to Texas?
 Ans. 7 George went first then John went they were the sons of old man Harnage that lived up here near the line.
 Ques. 8 Did the claimant go to Texas?
 Ans. 8 No the claimant didn't go to Texas.
 Ques. 9 What connection was claimant and Polly Rogers?
 Ans. 9 The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers Marion here is the grandson of Polly Rogers.
 Ques. 10 Where does claimant now live?
 Ans. 10 He lives in Carroll County, Arkansas.
 Ques. 11 Do you know what relation old Captain John Rogers was to Charlotte Rogers here in Coovescoovee?
 Ans. 11 They claimed kin but what kin I dont know there were two Capt. John Rogers' in the Nation I am speaking of the time when I first came to this 1830 Country about the year 1830.
 Ques. 12 Was Anna Pruet the maiden name of claimant's grandmother?
 Ans. 12 Yes that was her maiden name the Indians called her Sinee.

My name is F. M. Dawson. Am Cherokee by blood reside in the Cherokee Nation or 30 (40 written over it) years old.

I saw the Claimants, Lulu Dauthet and Dallas Dauthet in Vinita, and know them to be the grandchildren of my brother E. Dawson who is a recognized Cherokee by blood. L. M. Dauthet, the father of the Claimants, Lulu and Dallas is a white man Dauthet's wife the mother of Lulu and Dallas was a Cherokee, the daughter of my brother E. Dawson, she is now dead. The oldest of these applicants is about 9 years old. I have known them about 8 years. These children is now living with their father. One is a girl and the other is a boy. I had been acquainted with her mother all her life. If she had been now living she would have been about 25 years old -- She has been dead about 4 years as well as I can recollect, she was about 17 years old when she was married.

Joseph Dawson introduced for Claimants. sworn in open Court testified as follows:
Jos. Dawson, an a Cherokee live in the Cherokee Nation, am 31 years old.

Lulu Dauthett and Dallas Dauthett, the Claimants are Cherokees. Fawnie Dawson was their mother. Fawnie Dawson was a Cherokee, that is what I was always told. Her father was E. Dawson. E. Dawson was my brother. Mrs. Dauthett is not living now: the last time I saw Lulu, and Dallas Dauthett, they were in Texas. But I have heard since that they are in the Cherokee Nation. E. Dawson recognized them as his grandchildren and I have known them ever since they were born.

By Solicitor:

Lulu is about 10 years old. The Dallas is about 5 or 6 years old. I heard that their father is now at Vinita Cherokee Nation, E. Dawson is Elbert Dawson. The applicants' mother had been dead about three or four years. She died at Hillsboro, Texas.

I was not present when their mother and E. Dawson had eight children to the best of my recollection, or 9. Fawnie, Francis, Cartenas, Zanio, Bob, Smith, Worth, Bert, Ella. All living but two, Fawnie and Smith. They are all living in Texas when I left there. I am a brother to F. L. Dawson, we are full brothers. "Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Gailney Pruitt, and so be a half white of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich man, who was of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Gailney Pruitt died before the fall upon which their names would appear if living at the time specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 29th, 1860, creating the Commission on Citizenship, whereupon the law in support of the application is urged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were so admitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship created upon the

"The Tohee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of those Commissions of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 21, 1886, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the Chief States." As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant a hearing upon either of said rolls the Commission judge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Jounnah Barber nee Jounnah Dawson and Jane Brown, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applications.

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and reside in Coowescoowee Dist, and am 53 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I have known him approximately about three (3) years. He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a relation of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hiwassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I never saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Joe Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of my Uncle Joe Dawson, is from what he himself has told me. - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me - My grandfather being a Dawson and a white man.

Before the Honorable Henry L. Dawes, Frank C. Armstrong, A. S. McKennon, T. B. Cabanis, A. B. Montgomery, Commissioners. In the matter of the application of Andrew J. Dawson, Nation's No. .... Commission's No. .... for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Hayes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

- 1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.
- 2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondant not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, . . . and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear on any of the authenticated rolls of said Nation; that neither he nor any of his ancestors ever resided, or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

See case Nation's No. 1077.

Having fully answered, your respondent's plea to be hence dismissed.

Filed Aug. 11, 1897. John Rogers

Rejected April 26, 1899.

Now this day comes the above case for final hearing. Samuel P. Dawson bases his application for re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson, a white man, Polly Rogers, the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers, and Ailey Pruitt said to be half sister of Joseph Vann's only known as rich and who were of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers

William Pratt, his wife, and their children, as provided in the Act of the Act of October 3rd, 1886, creating the Commission on Citizenship were made, but in support of the application it is urged that certain members of the Dawson family the full members of the applicant's ancestry to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Tolson Court" and "Spears Court" and are not residing or born in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the citizenship of the said applicant which determined the decision of the Commissions on the said application introduced by authority of the Commission of the present applicant is not subject to the issue of said. The 7th Section of the Act of October 3rd, 1886, before me provides that the jurisdiction of any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation is the group of Cherokee blood or descent, and the applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokee taken by the United States, and hereafter enumerated, neither the name of the applicant nor that of the person whose name appears to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls, the Commission adjudge and decree that Daniel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokee by blood. This opinion includes the names of Andrew J. Dawson, James M. Dawson, Joannah Barber, ne Joannah Dawson, ne Jane Owen, ne Jane Dawson and their families as enumerated in their respective censuses.

W. C. Rogers being duly sworn on oath swears and says: that he is a citizen and resident of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. That his post-office address is Skis-ah, I. T. That he was born and raised in the above said Indian Territory: that he is 40 years of age:

Affiant further states that he is slightly acquainted with Isena J. House, an applicant for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as shown by copy of her application.

Affiant further states that his father's name was Charles Rogers- who was a son of Captain John Rogers and the said Capt. John Rogers was the only man of that name that ever lived in the Cherokee Nation that this affiant ever heard of; that the said Capt. John Rogers this affiant's grandfather lived at Grand Saline, I. T. and died in Washington, D. C.

This affiant states that his father Charles Rogers had one sister and five brothers viz. Cynthia Rogers, Lewis Rogers, George Rogers, Nelson Rogers, Gravel Rogers and Randolph Rogers; that he (this affiant) was well and personally acquainted with the above said parties- except Gravel and Randolph Rogers, who were killed when this affiant was quite young.

Affiant states that she is the daughter of Maggie Rogers; that her grand father on her father's side was Capt John Rogers. Affiant further states that W. C. Rogers is her brother, and that she has read the foregoing affidavit of W. C. Rogers, and believes the contents thereof; that the facts therein set forth are true as she verily believes.

Cherokee Nation's No. 1573
Commissioner's No...

Your respondent, S. H. Layton, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now to answer the said application, and to set forth grounds thereof as follows:

1st. That the Commission has no jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy, and no legal right, therefore, to hear and determine the same.

2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient, in law, to show that the applicants are entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving the above said grounds, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says the John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive their right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory as it was then located and defined; that his name does not appear upon any of the authentic rolls of said Nation; that neither he nor any of his ancestors nor predecessors or heirs have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

VS

CHEROKEE NATION,

APPELLEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION
TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Cometh the appellants in the above entitled cause and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said cause from the decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and empowered to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes
of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to pass upon and decide applications for citizenship in the said Five Civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by authority of, and not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved
June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. E. Dawson, T. A. Dawson, F. M. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establish the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians, of blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship
in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application, of said
appellants, were, prior to September the 10th, 1896, filed with and submitted to said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the accompanying affidavits, were served upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September
the 10th, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in rejecting the claims for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal
to this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in holding that its jurisdiction over said claims adversely to the appellants was not the proper one for the trial of said claims.

SECOND. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right to be heard by the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right and privilege of examining the evidence introduced by the appellees in support of their claims, and in denying the appellants the right to cross-examine the appellees' answer or production.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial by jury, and in denying them the right to be heard by the law of the State of Georgia.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, at the trial and determination of their claims by the Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right to call and examine witnesses and to send them to the State of Georgia to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in denying a part blood, holding that blood was not a test of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the question of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their record or record the reasons on which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to advise appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims and deny the same.

TWELFTH. That the Act of Congress approved June the 10th, 1860, was unconstitutional and had no force or legal effect to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint, and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Therefore, the appellants of this case pray that an appeal be granted to this Court, that a writ, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send and plead a return and records filed before in this case to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, be a party in this case, and that the

Mr. H. A. Gibson, Special Master, to whom the case was referred, submit the following report:

IN THE UNITED STATES COURT IN THE INDIAN TERRITORY
NORTHERN DISTRICT, AT MUSKOGEE.

JOHANNA BARBER et al. )

CHEROKEE NATION. )

-----o00-----

I, H. A. Gibson, Special Master herein, show to the Court that under the general order herein, I have examined the application of Johanna Barber, et al. is hereto set forth and have returned hereto the following report:

I

The said case was instituted on September 29th, 1896, before the Dawes Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, by Johanna Barber, and Isaac J. Barber, her husband, and their children, Onis E., William E., James E., Johnnie and Joel A. Barber. That Joel A. Barber was the following children, Mattie Toliver, George A., Frankie C., Jesse and Ethel Barber. That the application included also Mary A. Barber and her child Inez Barber, Emma L. Murphy and her child Clara Murphy, Eliza Moore and her children Anna J., Jackson D., Mary M. Gladys, Attie L. Hunt and her child Herman Hunt, Alley J. Smart and her children Georgia A. and Elmer M. Smart, Joanna J. Carlisle and her children Lottie C., Cora L. and Bertha Carlisle. That this application was by the Commission tried and rejected on October 29th, 1896, with no reasons given for the decision, and that subsequently on December 27, 1896, the claimants appealed to this Court. That the parties all live in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

II

That the parties claim the right to be admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by reason of their descent from Polly Rogers, who is claimed to be a Cherokee Indian by blood. That they filed in support of their application the affidavits of S. B. Dawson, E. Dawson, Francis H. Dawson, and F. A. Dawson, who testify that Johanna Barber is the daughter of Elizabeth Rogers, nee Dawson, who was the daughter of Polly Rogers, who married a white man by the name of Samuel Dawson, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of certain John Rogers and Alley Vann. That these witnesses are all Cherokee citizens by blood, acquainted with the

...and according to their testimony, related to the ...

The above introduces to controversy this ...
... Cherokee Commission on citizenship, ...
... in the year 1857, in which these claimants ...
... by this Commission and also the affidavits of ...
... are a grandson of Captain John Rogers, and Mrs. Sarah ...
... granddaughter of Captain John Rogers, both of whom state ...
... they never heard of any daughter of said Captain John ...
... by the name of Polly Rogers, and that Cynthia Rogers ...
... his only daughter.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation, and are relatives of the Dawson family, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through the appellants' claim, is not now and has not been a member of the Cherokee Nation since the removal West; that he has never appeared on the rolls of the Cherokee Nation, and that he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation since the removal.

The premises considered, in view of the unsettled condition of affairs in the Cherokee Nation at the time when Captain John Rogers, the ancestors through whom these claimants trace their Cherokee blood, lived, and especially in view of the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, I am of the opinion that these claimants have proved that they are descended from Capt. John Rogers, who resided in the Cherokee Nation, and was a recognized citizen, though they do not show that he was ever enrolled as such, and I therefore find that the claimants are all residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, and that they are all Cherokee Indians by blood. That they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1837, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided.

I ask that the Court allow a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted this 10 day of August, 1857.

(signed) H. A. Gibson,
SPECIAL MASTER.

BY THE COURT.

The Court says that it appears that the claimants base their right to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation upon the grounds that they are the descendants of a Cherokee Indian by blood, but their ancestors through whom they claim have never resided in the Cherokee Nation as now constituted. It appears that they have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1837, and probably longer, though the proof does not state definitely how long they have so resided. It does not appear that the applicants or any of their ancestors have ever been recognized as members of the Cherokee Nation.

The judgment of the United States Commission rejecting this case is affirmed, and the application of the claimants be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, etc."

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

We now introduce the original record in the citizenship case of Irene J. House, et al., before the Commission in 1890, the court number of same being, 238, said case being denied by the Commission; appealed to the United States Court, and the decision of the Commission affirmed.

In this case we desire to call special attention to the certified copy filed therein of the testimony of Arthur Baker, the certified copy having been made in 1894, being the testimony of Dr. Baker in the case of Robert Dawson against the Nation, number 108, before the Citizenship Commission, and which was made January 19, 1892.

BY MR. MCKENNON: To all of which the applicants object, because the same is immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

The papers in Court No. 230, just introduced above, are as follows:

Testimony for Claimants.

Witness, Dr. Arthur Baker sworn testified as follows:

My name is Arthur A. Baker I reside at Berryville Arkansas Carroll County My age is 77 years I am not a Cherokee. I lived in the Cherokee Nation about three years when I first came to Arkansas I have been acquainted with him since he became a citizen of Carrolls County some 35 years - At my Mothers house near Calhoun I became acquainted with the claimants Robt Dawson grandnother on mother's side she was frequently at my Mothers house though she Anna Pruet lived in the Nation side; She claimed to be a half sister to Big Joe Vann, also claimed to be half Cherokee, the first time she brought the claimants mother to my Mothers house she the mothers mother was about grown when I was a little boy. She called her daughter Polly Rogers, said Captain John Rogers who ran a boat up the River was the father of the child; I saw the girl frequently there at my Mothers and there at Louis Runnes Store.

I saw her occasionally until I was 15 or 16 years of old and I think then Old Capt. John Rogers took her off to school, I saw her no more from the time Old Capt. John Rogers took her off till I saw her here in Arkansas the wife of old Samuel Dawson, I started all night there and she and I had a talk over our old matters and I asked her where she became acquainted with Dawson and she said at the time she was going to school and she said after she left school that Dawson followed her home, to the Nation and they were there married. I have told that precisely in the words that she used, Capt John Rogers claimed to be one fourth Cherokee. The claimant is the son of Polly Rogers, and I know Polly Rogers to be the daughter of Anna Pruet and I know the claimant to be the son of Polly Dawson.

Capt. Rogers then reside in the Cherokee Country about twenty (Word "twenty" marked through) twelve miles below Calhoun on the Hiwassee River Anna Pruet resided in the Cherokee Nation as long as I stayed there the Dawson when I got acquainted with them Arkansas were recognized where they were as Cherokees. Robert Dawson children is Buck, John, Marian and two girls. The children named in the petition I recognized as being the claimants.

Question by Solicitor:

- Q. 1 How many children did Polly Rogers have?
- A. 1 Five I think that's all.
- Q. 2 Did you say anything about some one being married twice?
- A. 2 The claimant was married twice.
- Q. 3 Could Anna Pruet speak Cherokee?
- A. 3 Yes, she could speak it well.

- Ques 4 How far did you live from A. J. Barber?
  - Ans 4 Just across the river about 4 miles.
  - Ques 5 Was Salmon Lake a Cherokee Nation?

F. H. Dawson being duly sworn according to law
deposes and says:

My name is F. M. Dawson; I am 64 years of age; my post office address is Afton Indian Territory, I am a farmer by occupation and reside in the Cherokee Nation.

I am a recognized Cherokee citizen by blood. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my grandmother whose maiden name Polly Rogers through my father Robert Dawson, my mother's name Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was married to Samuel Dawson my grand father in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee.

My grand parents Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly came west from the Old Cherokee Country in about 1832 and settled in Eastern Arkansas and later came on to the Indian Territory and the father of this affiant Robert Dawson and family settled in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, Robert Dawson, the father of the affiant was also a recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson father of this affiant and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of said Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joanna Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant in the Indian Nation. The said Joanna Barber is the mother of Irene J. House who is a second cousin of this affiant in the Indian Nation.

This affiant further states that he has seventy five to eighty blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians by blood and drew their homestead money all the last payment; said citizens and relatives derived their Indian blood from the same source that the above named Irene J. House, derives her Indian blood and right.

This statement I have made to John H. Koogler, a Notary Public at Afton of Indian Territory and it has been written down by him at my dictation. Such part of this testimony which refers to matters occurring previous to my recollection I know by means of family history and traditions which facts I have always been taught and told of by my parents and grand parents from childhood up, the facts stated as occurring since my childhood I know of my personal knowledge. Affiant further states that he is not personally interested in the prosecution of the application of said Irene J. House for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

EXHIBIT D.

E. Dawson, here duly sworn a solemn oath on oath stated by name E. Dawson; I am 61 years old; my post office address is Talala, Ind. Ter. I am a farmer by occupation, and reside in Coconococoo District- Cherokee Nation. I am a recognized Cherokee Indian of blood, and exercise all the rights and privileges of a Cherokee citizen now living in the present Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Berryville. I derived my Cherokee Indian blood from my Grandmother Polly Rogers through my father, Robert Dawson. My grandmother Polly Rogers was a Cherokee Indian and was carried to my grandfather Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation in Tennessee. My Grand Parents, Samuel Dawson and his wife Polly Dawson whose maiden name was Polly Rogers come West from the Old Cherokee Country in about the year 1832, and settled in Western Arkansas, and later came on to the Cherokee Nation. My father Robert Dawson was a recognized member of the Cherokee Nation when he died, by reason of his Cherokee Indian blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of this affiant, and Elizabeth Dawson who married John Petty were full brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson is wife she being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth Petty was the mother of Joannah Barber who is a full cousin by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joannah Barber is the mother of Irena J. House, whose maiden name was Irena J. Barber and a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further state that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and the recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the Strip Honey at the last per capita payment made by the Cherokee Nation.

Said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above named Irena J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barricklar, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Ter, and affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of the claim for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of the said Irena J. House.

That the above facts which are within the personal knowledge of the affiant or within his years of discretion he knows personally, and the other facts which occurred before the recollection of affiant he testifies to from what he has been taught from his family history and traditions.

That the relationship existing among all his people in the Cherokee Nation he knows from his personal knowledge and that they are related to the Cherokee Indian side.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

BUREAU OF INDIAN AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, D. C.

I, J. H. Gibson, Special Agent in Charge, do hereby certify that the following is a true and correct copy of the original file in the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C., in the case of the above entitled matter.

I

That this case is a result of a petition filed by J. H. Barber of Cherokee Nation, the principal of said petition, and Irene J. House and her son, John Barber.

That this case is a result of a petition filed by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, and their children Chas. C. Winston T., and Henry W. House. That they file in support of their application for citizenship by blood to the Cherokee Nation.

That this case was first brought to the attention of the said Commission on November 24, 1896 and the applicants denied, no reasons being given for the decision, and on January 20, 1897, the parties appealed from said decision to this Court.

That this application was made by Irene J. House, her husband, W. J. House, and their children Chas. C. Winston T., and Henry W. House. That they file in support of their application on the affidavits of John A. Barber, J. W. Dawson, Arthur A. Baker, E. Dawson, and W. A. Dawson. That these Dawson witnesses are citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and state that they are related by blood to the claimants herein on the Cherokee side. The claimants base their contention of a right to Cherokee citizenship upon the fact that the claimant Irene J. House is the daughter of Joanna Barber, who is the daughter of Elizabeth Pears, who is the daughter of Polly Rogers, and that Polly Rogers was the daughter of Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were recognized Cherokee citizens by blood. That the testimony shows that this Dawson family are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and that the claimants herein are cousins by blood upon the Indian side, and are all claim through a common ancestor, Polly Rogers and Captain John Rogers and Ailsey Vann, who were recognized Cherokee Indians.

II

The appellee introduced in defense a report of the application of these claimants to the Cherokee Commission on citizenship in the year 1897, and the report of the rejection of the claimants, and further the affidavits of W. A. Rogers, Mrs. Sarah Carter, a grand daughter both of whom state that they never heard of any daughter of Captain John Rogers by the name of Polly Rogers, and that she had only one daughter, whose name was Cynthia.

III

The claimants contend that they are residents of the Cherokee Nation and are relatives of the Dawsons, who are recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the petitioners claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the rolls of the Nation, and that neither he nor his ancestors ever resided in the Cherokee Nation as citizens thereof.

IV

The premises considered, I find that the claimants are the descendants of Captain John Rogers, and that it was entirely possible that in the condition of affairs at that early day in the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a marriage law and of records pertaining to marriage, that the claimants would be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Rogers, of whom the affiants for the appellee have never heard.

The claimants and the appellee are residents of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1837, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I ask that the Court allow me a reasonable fee for my services herein as Special Master.

Respectfully submitted, this 9 day of Nov 1897.

TESTIMONY INTRODUCED ON BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS:

D. W. C. DUNCAN, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HEDENSON:

- Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 72 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
- Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.
- Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Daves Commission? A I did.
- Q Before this Commission I will say, this Commission? A The Daves Commission? A Why I don't recollect was the Commissioner was, that was taken at Vinita, ex parte.
- Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee citizenship Commission in 1883 known as the "Tehee Commission"? A I was clerk of that Commission.

never saw or observed anything that would have awakened a suspicion in my mind that was not in that kind of practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the execution of that judgment pay to you any money as compensation for the services of Ed Dawson for any services which you had rendered to him at that time?

A Yes, he paid me some.

Q What amount? A My recollection is that it was a twenty dollar bill. I don't know but I had to state and state the transaction, all about it.

Q Yes, sir. A Mr. Dawson, Ed Dawson, I have known for a long case occasionally applied to me at my desk for a transcript of a subpoena or transcript, something of that kind. I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I had occasion to go to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Dawson, but I ought to pay you. I told him I had no money, and he would not take my hand. And in passing I might state that I had been paid for my share of that work which I had done for the State for various parties before the day.

After his trial was concluded, I went to the Hotel while before summer time I went to my room at the Hotel in the night, went to my room, and I went down upon the bed to rest. I recollect that I went into the room, drew a chair up to the bedside and I was engaged giving expression to my gratification at the manner in which he dwelt upon the testimony, and I was satisfied satisfactorily, establishing his Cherokee claim. I thought that he was entitled and that he had secured justice by the court. I listened to him, and we talked there for ten or fifteen minutes; after a little he says, I must go home, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home, - he then says in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Dawson, I believe you ought to pay me something. Aluding, as I had referred, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services, if I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you, I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly any money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last thing he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me. I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, oh it must have been a year afterwards; I had located a little claim on the public domain there in Delaware District, staked off what I intended to be a farm, nearly strikes, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Horse Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon me here; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim and we will settle the matter in that way, that he would satisfy me for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on then for a long time, I don't know how long, - I think I met him in Virginia, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, no, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing him those little services in the Court. Now that is the sum and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Mr. Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at one time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson? A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKEITHEN: To offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim under it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President, Alex Wolfe, T. F. Thompson, Commissioners. D. W. C. Duncan, Clerk Commission.

The said judgment just introduced is as follows:

"Office Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, C. N., September 24th, 1881.
No. 108

Robt Dawson,
Elbert Dawson,

Petition for Citizenship

vs.

Cherokee Nation.

Continued by the Plaintiffs, Oct. 5, 1881.

January 13th, 1882.

The above case continued by the Cherokee Nation till Sept.

Q. You are certain you saw any other clerk of the District Court about the court at that time than Ed Larson? A. I have been thinking, and I can't call to mind that I ever saw any other clerk except Ed, until after they have done the country subsequent to the rendition of the judgment.

(At this point a party who has been sitting in the room in which the examination is being held, is called forward, sworn on behalf of applicants, and asked to retire until called.)

W. E. HUTCHINGS:

Q. Mr. Duncan, when did you become clerk of the Texas Commission Court? A. It must have been somewhere in December, 1884, at the time the Commission was organized immediately at the close of the session in which they were appointed.

Q. December 1884? A. I think so.

Q. What are you doing rendering judgments here in your handwriting in 1887? A. The Commission held its Court after they were elected for three.

Q. The Court was elected in 1884 wasn't it? A. Well, I don't know the time,
I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I might have said at the time I was chosen clerk, I was chosen clerk just at the close of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q. '84? A. I think it was '84.

Q. You entered up this judgment rendered January, 1887? A. Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q. That was before you were clerk of it? A. Well I held my clerkship for some time you know continuously.

Q. Well but when you went to court that you were their clerk when the law on mass was passed on? A. No, I don't mean to say that.

Q. How could you be clerk when the law on mass was passed on in 1887 when you were not elected until 1884? A. I am mistaken in that, '84 comes after '83, - it was the year preceding 1883, it must have been '82.

Q. Your first entry in the Larson case is January 17, 1887, isn't it?

Q. I don't recollect what my first entry was. (Attorney shows the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on that day.

Q. And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A. Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q. The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk?

A. I think so, yes; it was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q. In those handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners signed to that judgment? A. Larson, Judge, right?

(Attorney shows record to witness again) A. That is my handwriting.

Q. All three names? A. All three names.

Q. The record there shows that you immediately gave them that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A.
I signed the transcript?

Q. Yes, sir. A. I do not recollect now, this is, did the writing?

Q. Signed the names to it? A. Yes, that's it.

Q. You always signed the names of Jones and Folger didn't you?

A. I think I did pretty generally; I don't know of their attempting to write their own names.

Q. When Mr. Thompson was there didn't he sign his own name? A. Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.

Q. Have you any recollection of his authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you have found it on that record frequently?

A. I can't recall the particular literal fact of authorization.

But I can say positively that, consulting the records, that he authorized me to put his name there.

Q Will you look at the original document hereby shown you and refer to it a jury and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Paper given to witness) A I signed them there.

Q Do you recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.

Q That made you when you were testifying at Vista before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had not seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court had vanished about entirely from my memory: I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a practice of the Court at the time I served by which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, and Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his own name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the rule or practice in the Court, without comparing the sheet and refreshing my memory. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting: I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, better than your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony: I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting; and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you wouldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting if it was not refreshed by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances, I think I should recognize my own handwriting, at least a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might make a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Tehee and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.

Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew that there was a resemblance; what made me of the opinion that that might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I knew that he had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression—and I do not now think of it with respect—that his orthography bore at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

THE COLLISSION

... HITCHINGS

Do you remember that ... the Court? ... I don't recollect ...

... the only witness there was? ... He is the only one now that I can recall ...

... I have no recollection ...

... the only man that ... I don't recall ...

... anybody else ...

... that was ...

... you ever see anybody's else testimony ...

... it was taken in the presence of the three Commissioners ...

... I do not recollect ...

... the same term of the Court or not? ...

... when and how did they ...

... you first ...

... they take testimony ...

... taken in this case ...

... the decision was made at ...

... the following entry reads: "It is agreed by the parties that this case shall be ..."

January and a September term, and this decision was rendered at the January, 1883 term. Was Baker's testimony taken during the January, 1883, term, at the time this decision was rendered? A I find it impossible for me to recollect those facts that are recorded there; although I can say about that, that the record shows the correct statement of the facts; but I can't recall those facts.

Q Well there is a record here that this case was continued on the 17th day of January, 1882, upon agreement that it should be taken upon the 4th day of October, 1882; your record shows that there was nothing done in the case from January 17th, 1882 until October 4th, 1882; would you say that was correct? A I should say it was correct if it so stands on the books; it is designed to be a correct entry of the facts.

Q I will let you see the book for yourself; I don't want to misrepresent your end of it at all. (Shows entry in book to witness.)

A I can't recall those facts in regard to the agreement.

Q The took down the testimony of the witnesses in court? A I took it down.

Q You took down the testimony of Dr. Baker? A Yes.

Q He was cross examined by counsel for the Nation? A As to that I don't recollect. He was present, he was always present; I think likely he was cross examined.

Q And that testimony was taken at or near the time when the judgment was rendered in January, 1883? A I think it was, by impression is to that effect.

Q Well the court seems to have had no session as to this case from January 13, 1882 up to October 4th, 1882, according to the records? A (No response.)

Q You don't recall taking down anybody's else testimony in the case? A No sir, I don't.

Q And the probability is that he was the only witness examined isn't he? A It might have been so, by recollection is that he was regarded as the main witness of the case.

Q He was quite an old man, about 73 at that time? A Yes, he was quite old.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q The testimony of Dr. Arthur Baker, from this record, appears to have been taken January 10th, 1883; is that correct, as far as you may know, or are able to state? A Is that Dr. Baker's testimony? (Attorney here shows witness papers) A It appears to be, now I don't think that was the testimony that the case was decided upon, because his testimony was taken orally before the Commission, and I wrote it down; please let me see it. (Attorney hands said papers to witness.)

A Well, all I know about this is as I stated before, I can't recall those facts, but whatever the record says why I say that the record was ~~not~~ correct, according to the fact. (Witness takes copy of the testimony referred to to refresh his memory.) I don't succeed in reading that very clearly to my own understanding, but I gather from the subject rather in that testimony that it is in accord with Doctor Baker's statement; in exactly word for word I am not able to say, but that is the tenor of the testimony.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q In taking the testimony you endeavored to get down all the material facts that you could in taking it in law, would you? A Yes, very nearly word for word, as I could take it, but all on there was a little variation made necessary by the length of the witness' statement.

BY MR. McKINNON: As I desire to object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

R. F. FORTNER, D. M., first called, sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. McKINNON:

- Q What is your name? A R. F. Fortner.
Q What is your age? A 54.
Q You are a physician are you not? A I am.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Do you hold any official position in your position? A Yes, I am President of the National Board of Health, Cherokee National Board of Health, and member of the Legislative Commissions of the Indian Territory and of the American Medical Association,--those are some, and the most important positions I hold at this time.
Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A I am.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Your wife is a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About twelve or fifteen years, about twelve years I should say.
Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he resides for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do, I think.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About six or eight years, don't know exactly how long; known of him for ten years and personally I have known him about say six or eight years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is bad.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q Mr. Duncan belongs to the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does; I have always so understood.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and my impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the citizenship court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a court from 1882 to '87? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that court? A Had no business before that, not while he was clerk to my knowledge.

BY MR. McKINNON:

- Q You spoke of his membership in the church; he is in good standing as a member of the church is he? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Campbell Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have so understood it.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q I will ask you if it was notoriously bad in 1883, when these people employed him to represent them before the Court? A That was before my knowledge of him.

Q That so far as you know his reputation dates back as far as you can find? A So far as I know him.

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. LAKEMAN:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
 Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 41.
 Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
 Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 13 years I guess, or 14.
 Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
 Q What is your business? A Real estate and insurance agent.
 Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
 Q How long have you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and upright character where he lives? A Yes, yes sir.
 Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
 Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
 Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 18 or 20 years, I guess.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Well yes.
 Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

F. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. LAKEMAN:

Q What is your name? A F. H. Curtis.
 Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A 36.
 Q Where do you reside? A Afton, Indian Territory.
 Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 20 years.
 Q What is your business? A Lumber business.
 Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
 Q How long have you known him? A About 20 years.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and upright character in the community where he lives? A I do.
 Q Is that good or bad? A It is good as any man's.
 Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
 Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes, sir.
 Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
 Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
 Q Did you ever know Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes, sir, I know him in 1888 and 1889.
 Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
 Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfulness? A Yes, sir.
 Q Is that good or bad? A Good, sir. Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
 Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes, sir.
 Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know of, sir, I never saw him take a drink in my life.

Q ... character such as to preclude any such charge against
A ... It was, yes sir.

Q ... WIFE IN 1907?

Q How long did you know Dr. Baker? A Two years.

Q What does he do there? A He was an old gentleman then, he lived right in the edge of Berneville, Dr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 60 or 70 years old; an old gentleman.

Q That is in 1907, 60? A No sir, it was in '63 and '64, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from business? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q What family did he have? A I don't know how many children he had, but we had acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q Wasn't doing any business with anybody? A No sir.

Q His character was never called in question at any of the times it? A No sir, no sir.

Q Campbell Taylor was a notorious racial proponent ever since you ever knew him wasn't he? A Yes sir, I never knew Campbell Taylor.

Q And the ever a man you had citizenship case he got Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a racial; that's it didn't it call a great many of them got hit.

Q It was a notorious thing; that they had a bad case they would get hit, it would sort of give a case a bad odor to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that would be right.

Q You never knew anything about Dr. Baker's connection with citizenship matters? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his changing some of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Dawson case? A Yes sir.

Q Rumor had it all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That rumor got out from the first day they were audited right to the present? A Well I don't know not from the first day,
I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who they fixed it on? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.

Q Cast a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Dr.
Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q What would you think of a man who would testify that he knew a girl that was single in 1885 when the youngest of her seven children was born in 1885; what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A

BY MR. McFARLANE: Application object to the question because it is wholly incompetent, or not based on any proof of admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

THE COURT: That was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? (No response.)

Q You knew him in '68? A Yes sir.

Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite old, '68 and '69.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his dotage?
 A I don't know, he was an old man which I knew him.
 Q He was too old to work, and retired from business then? A Well he did work a good deal, but wasn't doing any business particular that I know of.
 Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes,
 he would be getting old.

D. H. HARRIS, being first duly sworn and being examined,
 testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A D. H. Harris.
 Q What is your age, Mr. Harris? A I am 44.
 Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
 Q What paper? A "The Indian Chief."
 Q Are you Editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
 Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
 Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
 Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
 Q How long have you known him? A 13 or 19 years.
 Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
 Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
 Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
 Q How long have you known him? A Why 15 years or longer.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
 Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
 Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. BUTCHER:

Q How long has Campbell's reputation been bad, Mr. Harris, quite a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think no, yes sir.
 Q And it kind of began mostly with this citizenship business?
 A Yes, so far as I know it did, yes sir.
 Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through the mails, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
 Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by his helping the Dawsons in wasn't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawsons.
 Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether he had that case or not. I know he had a great many cases.
 Q That was the principal thing that concerned the civil Campbell out, the citizenship cases never? A I think that is what got him into the most trouble.
 Q I say before that time never had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became pretty general that Campbell was handling shady citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
 Q Now Mr. Duncan's connection with the Dawson case sort of been kept quiet; people never talked much about it? A I never heard and didn't know of it.
 Q You have heard that there had been something wrong about the Dawson case, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh it has been a notorious case, yes sir.
 Q Well the fact of Mr. Duncan's reputation for straightness and being so much given to himself, he confessed it frequently? A Yes in that?

Q His reputation for straightness is somewhat given by himself; he takes occasion to confess that very often himself doesn't see

A I don't know whether I am qualified to answer that.

Q Speaking of his own honesty, as does that very frequently?

A No sir, not that I know of.

Q Doesn't he write a good deal about that sort of thing? A About his reputation?

Q Why in speaking of his own integrity? A I don't remember that he does.

Q You were not about the citizenship courts along in 1931 '2 and '3 were you? A No sir.

Q Don't remember about the talk that was going on around the Capital over there about the citizenship cases? A Why no, don't remember anything special as I know of. I remember the citizenship court going on at different times.

Q How far were you living from Tahlequah in '33? A Well, I lived close to Vinita, I guess it is sixty miles probably.

Q Have you lived any nearer Tahlequah since that time? A No sir, never have.

H. L. SUGLER, sworn, first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HARRISON:

Q That is your name? A H. L. SUGLER.

Q You are a minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.

Q M. E. Church, South? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you been a minister? A I have been in the ministry 27 years, sir.

Q Do you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.

Q How long? A I was there four years, sir.

Q Do you know D. E. SUGLER? A I do.

Q How long have you known him? A I have known him, I guess 27 years.

Q Do you have any personal knowledge for or against him with respect to citizenship? A I do.

Q For or against him? A None, so far as I know.

Q Do you have an opportunity of knowing? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HARRISON:

Q Mr. Sugler was a member of your church? A Yes sir.

Q Was he the principal one you had in contact with? A Yes sir, he was a member of my church board.

Q His connection with citizenship cases that were decided by the court of which he was clerk was never brought up in your presence anywhere? A No sir.

Q Or ever discussed? A No sir, I know nothing about his connection with it.

Q You didn't live about or near Tahlequah in '33? A Yes sir, I was pastor of the Methodist Church in '33 at Tahlequah.

Q Did you hear about the Harmon case, and other cases admitted over there by the citizenship court? A No sir, I know nothing about the Harmon case when the conviction was in question, and I never had any part of the conviction, but know nothing about the case that was decided at all.

Q Never heard anybody discuss the cases that were decided? A No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A Thomas A. Chandler.
- Q What is your age, Mr. Chandler? A I am 39.
- Q What is your business? A Deputy Clerk of the United States Court at Vinita.
- Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
- Q Do you know D. C. Campbell? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A Let us see, I have known him about nine or ten years.
- Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightiness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.
- Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.
- Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.
- Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightiness? A Yes sir.
- Q Is it good or bad? A Bad so far as I know.

BY MR. HITCHINGS:

- Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Well sir, I don't know how he did.
- Q You never knew him until 1885? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.
- Q He had a bad reputation before '85? A Yes sir.
- Q Bad reputation way back you say? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people talking bad of him, when I was a kid.
- Q And everybody that came around the Nation and heard anything at all about Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, ever so far back as '79 or '80, what is as far back as I can remember I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.
- Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we began to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
- Q You heard his reason for irregularity and using the mails for these business? A Yes sir, I heard of his being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.
- Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in those bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
- Q And I also heard he had a bad reputation for paying his debts, about about the same time.
- Q You don't know whether he had the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.
- Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I suppose he could.
- Q You never heard Mr. Burton's name mentioned before in connection with the Burton case, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.
- Q General impression that everybody had some something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard some was spreading wrong in connection with the Burton citizenship cases.
- Q That has been known in history ever since they were admitted? A Yes sir, I have heard it covered around over the country that way as the case.
- Q They had a pretty large voting majority in those cases and yet was never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it was ever investigated, I never heard of it.

Q. They never in any endeavor to...
A. No sir.

Q. Where did you live in '87? A. In '87 I lived out on Dick Creek, about 12 miles south-east of Vinita.

Q. How far from Tallequah was that? A. About 4 or 50 miles, I suppose.

Q. You never were around before the...
that first? A. No sir.

Q. You don't know then whether or not Campbell had... pass or not down there? A. No sir, I do not, at that time.

BY MR. MCKERRINON: Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what is heard by way of rumor, and the character of the Dawson case, because the same is hearsay, material, irrelevant and incompetent.

BY MR. MCKERRINON, of Counsel for Applicants, being first called upon, makes the following statement:

I became a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1877. I was intimately acquainted with Doctor Arthur Baker, for many years. Knew him as well as I did anyone else. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, so recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a sober man, and never drank liquor.
I made this statement more in vindication of that good man's memory than for any other reason, because any reputation against his character is false.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q. How long did you know him? A. I resided in Carroll County until 1877 when I removed to Johnson County, Arkansas; during the war
I was away from home, but I knew him intimately every year that I resided in Carroll County.

Q. Did you know him since '67? A. Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have relatives living in the town in which he lived;
my relations to him were such as to cause me always to inquire about Doctor Baker; I knew his reputation I think as well after
I left there as I did when I lived there.

Q. Did you know those facts in 1896 when you were a member of this Commission? A. Yes sir, I have known them all my life as I know them now.

Q. Did you know them when you as a member of this Commission passed on the Irene J. House case? A. I knew it every day of my life, in 1896 as well as now.

Q. Suppose that Doctor Arthur Baker's statement should appear that he was born in the year 1809, and suppose he said when he was 15 or 16 years of age that Anna Pruitt the wife of Samuel Dawson, was a grown up girl going to school, when the other undisputed evidence shows that she had married Sam Dawson prior to that time and had seven children, the youngest of whom was born in '35, how would you harmonize that with a man who was an honest man and knew the facts in the case? A. Whatever Dr. Baker stated he honestly believed, whether it was right or wrong; whether it was error or truth, he honestly believed it, and stated it as he believed it.

Q. He was capable of being in error? A. Every man is.

Q. I say he was? A. Yes sir, just as you and I and every man, he was; I merely stated as to his high character, which could be proven, and very few men know as I think, I know it.

Q. The Commission rejected Irene J. House in 1896, of which you were a member? A. I don't remember anything about that personally.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF CHEROKEE NATION.

DAVID MEREDITH, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A David Meredith.
- Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
- Q How old are you? A 60 years old.
- Q Did you ever know James Dawson? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you known him? A I know him probably 2 years.
- Q Did you ever have any talk with him about his citizenship case.
- A Very little.
- Q You were at one time an applicant before the Dawes Commission for citizenship were you not? A Yes sir.
- Q Well what did Mr. Dawson tell you with reference to his citizenship, as to the cost of his getting it, if anything? A Well he told me it cost him eleven or twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.
- Q Where did that conversation take place? A At Afton.
- Q At what time? A It was in '88, spring of '88.

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Where were you when he told you that? A I was working on a house in Afton, building the house.
- Q Where house? A E. S. Baker.
- Q The place was then his? A Baker was tenant.
- Q Where is he? A At Afton.
- Q What age had James Dawson at that time? A I don't know, he was very old, probably 75 years old.
- Q Was he not a very feeble man? A Yes sir.
- Q Hardly able to get around? A No sir.
- Q Was he not then a feeble, almost blind old man? A I can't know whether he was blind or not.
- Q You don't know where he had to go with the case, in fact, do you? A No, I judged it was himself and family that cost that much to get through attorney's fees, etc. That is the way I took it myself.
- Q You were an applicant yourself were you not? A Yes sir.
- Q Then? A At that time.
- Q Before the Cherokee authorities? A Yes sir.
- Q They rejected you? A Yes sir.
- Q You were an applicant then before the Dawes Commission were you not? A Yes sir, been rejected ever since.
- Q Are you still an applicant? A Yes sir.
- Q Still trying to get in? A Yes sir.
- Q Claiming by blood? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation? A 15 years.
- Q Where did you come from? A Indiana.
- Q Claiming to be a Cherokee citizen? A Yes sir.
- Q Indiana? A Yes sir.
- Q James Dawson is now is not? A Yes sir.
- Q How long has he been dead? A I think he died probably 21 or 22 in the years after that.

TESTIMONY IN BEHALF OF THE APPLICANTS.

F. M. DAWSON, being first duly sworn and further examined, testified as follows:

- BY MR. McKENNON:
- Q F. M. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q. Mr. Dawson, what number of your family came to the Cherokee Nation to file and prosecute the claim of your father, Robert Dawson, and the members of his family, to Cherokee citizenship?

A. My brother Fred Dawson and I.

Q. Tell his name, Mr. Elbert Dawson, they all know his by nick.

Q. When was that? A. In '81, as well as I remember, or '82. I don't know which, it was in '81 or '82.

Q. Did you file your claim at that time? A. My brother was, yes, the application, my brother had Joel Hays to take it out and file it. That is my understanding.

Q. Joel Hays, was afterwards was Chief of the Cherokee Nation?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Before what court was that filed? A. My understanding was he was clerk of the court; Hastings can tell us what court he was clerk of.

Q. He was clerk of the court at that time? A. Yes sir, of the citizenship court; that's my understanding.

Q. That was done about the same at that time, if you remember? A. I went back home and left my brother down there at that time, that trip.

Q. Where did you then live? A. I lived at Newville, Arkansas.

Q. When did you next come to the Cherokee Nation? A. I believe I came back the next January, that was in October.

Q. Was your brother not there then? A. I don't think he was, I don't remember.

Q. Well had he at any time of the court or session of the Commission at any time after you first came here and filed the application until after it was decided? A. No sir, I never let him any more until that case was decided.

Q. You conducted the business then after that did you not? A. Yes sir.

Q. The case was finally decided in January 1887? A. '87, yes sir, the 11th day as I remember.

Q. Were you present at that session? A. Yes sir.

Q. Was there any decision of that case other than the one as reported here? A. I never heard of it if there was.

Q. Was the judgment rendered in that case as recorded in the record book of that Commission now in the custody of the State? A. I don't know the only judgment that was rendered in that case so far as you know?

A. Yes sir, so far as I know, I never heard of it in that case.

Q. You then know of no decision against you in the case? A. No sir.

Q. Was your attorney employed at the beginning? A. I employed A. H. Spawood.

Q. Was he a Cherokee citizen? A. Yes sir, I think so.

Q. Where did he live? A. At Glassboro, my understanding.

Q. Was he present at any time before the Commission? A. I never saw him, however, but he was there before the Commission.

Q. Did you say anything to him? A. Yes sir.

Q. How much? A. I don't know.

Q. Did he ever mention anything to you? A. If he ever did I never knew it.

Q. Well, then was that your brother? A. My brother employed Joel Hays.

Q. Was he a Cherokee citizen?

A. I don't know.

Q. Was he a Cherokee citizen? A. Yes sir.

Q. That was the only one? A. Well sir, I don't know whether he was or not, but he was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and he was the only one; whether he rendered any services or not I don't know; he was generally always at Washington City during the Term down there.

Q Well what did he do about it? A I don't know, I couldn't say whether he done anything about it. That is Mr. Bryant, he was always gone.

Q What next was done about the employment of an attorney? A Well I got a letter from Joel Bryant that he was going to Washington City and for me to come down in January Term and Campbell Taylor would see to my trial before the court.

Q Did he say that he had engaged the services of Campbell Taylor the attorney, to attend to it in his absence? A Yes sir, in his absence.

Q Have you got that letter? A I don't think I got the letter.

Q Tell what did you do then? A When the time come I come down on the day to Muskogee here and I goes over from here to Fort Gibson and I goes down to see Uncle Houston Benge and stays all night with him; it was very cold weather, and I got up to go over and submit my case to the court; I went over one day and the next day Uncle Houston Benge come over and the next morning after he come over the case was submitted.

Q Did he submit the case? A Yes sir, he told me so.

Q For you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you present? A I was present until they went to take the vote on the case and then he was drove out of their room and they had a secret session, acting on the case.

Was Uncle Houston Benge present with you? A Yes sir.

Q Were you in the court when he submitted it to them? A Yes sir, when he made his argument.

Q He made an argument before the Commission? A Yes sir.

Q Was the decision rendered on that day? A Yes sir.

Q How long after he made his argument and submitted the case? A Was not but a little bit; after we were drove out of the house the first time before they went into secret session they wanted to set up the cigars to the court and the crowd in the house; after the decision was rendered then I was to set up the cigars, and everybody come to me and told me to go and get the cigars and I don't so.

Q And you took the cigars there and all? A Yes sir, everybody, the attorneys and all that was in the house, all had a big smoke.

Q Did they then announce their finding in the case? A Yes sir, they told me that I was granted my citizenship right and by the Commission.

Q What did you do about it then? A Was the clerk wrote me out my certificate.

Q That same day? A That same day.

Q What arrangements did you make with Mr. Benge about his fee, and what was the amount of his fee? A There was no arrangement made until we got up there and he submitted our case; then he wanted me to pay, he charged me fifty dollars, that was his fee.

Q That was the agreement about the matter, the manner in which that fee should be paid? A My brother in Texas was to pay it.

Q Were you to write or was he to write? A He was to write for it.

Q Did your brother in Texas ever pay his fee of fifty dollars?

A Yes sir.

Q Was that all that was to be paid? A All that was to have; all he charged me.

Q You heard his statement when he gave his deposition at Fort Gibson the other day did you not? A Yes sir.

- Q How long since that judgment was rendered?
- A I never saw Taylor, did you do that? A No sir.
- Q You said that you paid him fifty dollars, after he got away to Tallapoosa, did you do that? A I never saw him, I don't know.
- Q After that judgment was rendered, did you go to it? A I went back home to Arkansas.
- Q By what route? A I went by Siloah Springs and on by Spring Dale and then on to Rogers, took the railroad there and went on by Seligman and by Little Springs home.
- Q You then did not return to Fort Gibson, did you, as he stated? A No sir, I did not.
- Q Did you ever return by way of Fort Gibson? A Well I thought maybe the others was the cheap or road and street a hack going out by Seligman when I was boarding at, I don't go to Siloah Springs, and I went by that route and then there was a hack going by Spring Dale, that was the most direct route.
- Q That was the most direct route from your home was it not? A Yes sir.
- Q And the cheapest? A And the shortest route.
- Q Had you been going back to Fort Gibson you would have been going directly away from home to it you not? A Yes sir.
- Q Your home is nearly a mile east of Tallapoosa was it not?
- A Yes sir, little north of east, pretty near due east.
- Q While Fort Gibson is almost due west is it not? A South west.
- Q You heard his statement that you went to Fort Gibson with him, and as you came you stated to him that the way to reach that court was through Seligman, and he asked you, through Dumas, which five hundred dollars, did you state that statement? A I never did, I didn't have the five hundred dollars to reach him.
- Q Did he file at Tallapoosa in the court room on the evening before this judgment was rendered in your favor, tell you what the court had rendered a judgment against you? A No sir.
- Q And did you then say to him, you heard that? A I had to have conversation with him.
- Q Did you pay to D. F. C. Duncan, who was the Clerk of the Court any sum of money, or agree to pay him any sum of money, directly or through any other person for any services he might render you by way of influencing the court to decide in your favor? A No sir.
- Q Or for any other purpose? A No sir.
- Q Did you pay him any money after that for Campbell Taylor?
- A Yes sir.
- Q That amount? A 20 or 25 Dollars, I don't know which it was.
- Q State what that money was paid for? A For a claim.
- Q What do you mean by a claim? A Claim on the public domain; he had a claim up there close to me; said he 20 or 25 Dollars for his claim he had up there by me, on the Cherokee public domain.
- Q What did Campbell Taylor have to do with your case?
- A He had nothing to do with it.
- Q Did you agree to pay him any money for his services as an attorney? A No sir.
- Q Did he perform any services in that case for you as a representative of Mr. Bryant? A No sir.
- Q Did you pay him any money? A Yes sir.
- Q On what account? A He went to me and said he had the claim against me for land without me, wanted me to pay him the money and I don't see.
- Q What amount? A Hundred Dollars.

Q Well, A Well I made several trips out here at different times, to Tallapoosa before the commission, and back, three or four times, as well as I remember now, cost me 20 or 25 dollars each trip, and I remember about it.

Q Do you remember how many trips aside from the one in which you brought Dr. Baker? A No, I think there was probably three trips I think it was, maybe more, and then I made one trip to Clarcona to see A. H. Horwood.

Q What did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it cost; I went in a wagon down there.

Q You went through and employed Senge, went by railroad; what did that trip cost you? A I don't remember what it was, whether it was 21 dollars or 31 dollars, one or the other, I don't remember which it was; Joe Dawson, my brother gave me the money, it was either 21 or 31 dollars.

Q Now then is there any other expense that you know of that was paid by you or your family, any members of your family, other than that you have mentioned? A I don't remember any other now; I can't tell to my memory right now.

Q What was the condition of the members of your family generally now, financially, at that time? A Well we were considered poor people; I don't know, we didn't have much money, scarcely any.

Q Was there any one of them that was better off than the others, and if so, which one? A I suppose Elbert Dawson was better off than the others, Buck Dawson.

Q Do you know how much Buck Dawson paid of these expenses? A I don't think he paid, he paid the Senge debt and the Bryant debt, I think it was.

Q That is one hundred and fifty dollars? A Yes sir, that was come up on one trip and taken some evidence with Jael Bryant with Joel Bryant was clerk of the court before this Tennesse court, I don't know what that cost him.

Q Came up he said took some to Tenny? A Yes, came up and went back to Texas. Filed his claim and took some testimony and went back to Texas and I didn't see him.

Q Did that testimony include Dr. Baker's testimony? A No sir.

Q You know how many witnesses were examined then? A I only know what he told me.

Q How many? A Four witnesses.

Q You know whether they were residence of the Cherokee Nation or not? A He told me they was.

Q Were you present on that trip in which he came there and took that testimony? A No, I met him there and then I went back home and left him at Tallapoosa.

Q He had taken the testimony before you left him or afterwards? A He taken it afterwards; that was my understanding.

Q Did Buck furnish only the one hundred fifty dollars that you now remember? A I think it was.

Q Was the expense of taking those witnesses up there? A Yes sir.

Q You also furnished money now of the members of your family? A My brothers and father lived down in Berryville, we had 50 dollars in the bank, Berryville, we all chipped in together a few dollars from each family.

Q You heard the statement of G. S. Brown that in June 1843 you told him that it had cost you 700 dollars, did you have any such statement in 1843? A I never did.

Q And that you paid one within 300 dollars? A I never had any such statement.

Q Did you see any witness any more? A No sir, I call Dr. Robert Brown to see he said his was worth 5 dollars a day, and I paid it.

Q Did you see any other witness any more than that? A No sir, he was the only witness I told you where in the case.

Q Well, the Robert Dawson case? A Yes sir.

Q He says that you told him this in your house there on your place, did you have any house there in June 1843? A I was not living on my farm at that time.

Q Did you have any farm? A Didn't have any.

Q When did you build a house there? A I built a house on the farm I live in now by Mr. Broughton, I moved on the farm the last of July, 1843, and I came in by wagon.

Q What did you do? A I went to the timber and cut poles and I had the cut poles made a log cabin on the place by a spring, by Mr. Broughton.

Q How long did it take you to finish that house? A I lived in it a year.

Q How long after you finished that house until you brought your family out? A I finished it and got it covered on the floor in it and I went back to Berea Springs after my wife.

Q How long did you have them? A I had my wife and she had one child; but my oldest children, by my first wife were with me in the Territory, carrying with her three little boys and one girl were with me, and one girl back in Arkansas.

Q Are you and C. C. Broughton on good terms? A No sir.

Q What has been the character of the trouble between you? A I had a quarrel over our places first started it.

Q How did it begin? A As soon as I got back from Arkansas he came over riding on his horse and he got on my farm and he had been in a racket ever since.

Q Now his statement that you were on friendly terms, is it correct or not? A No sir, it aint correct.

Q He and you have never been friendly as neighbors then since you first came back from Arkansas and settled in the Territory? A I don't remember ever being in his house; I never was in his house.

Q Have you had law suits with each other? A Yes sir.

Q How many? A I don't know that he had any particular law suits, but I have had law suits and he has been a witness against me.

Q What was your last trouble with him, when I mean? A Alone, last fall.

Q That was when your boys had a little racket and he had your boy arrested? A Yes sir.

Q What was the age of those boys? A Eleven years old.

Q He had him arrested down at Vinita? A Yes sir, had him arrested and carried before the Commissioner at Vinita.

Q He was discharged on account of his age? A Yes sir.

Q Jack Dawson is dead is he? A Yes sir.

Q How long has he been dead? A Three years, little over three years.

Q And James Dawson is dead? A Yes sir.

Q Is your father, Robert Dawson living? A No sir.

Q When did James Dawson die? A I don't remember, been dead several years, I don't remember how long, 5 or 7 years, I couldn't state.

Q When did your father, Robert Dawson die? A I believe it was in '07 as I remember now, I want to be positive.

Q Had all these men come to the Cherokee Nation before their deaths?

A No sir, father died in Arkansas.

Q Those that lived here in the Nation they lived here in the Nation but went back to Arkansas and died there? A Well the rest of my folks all lived here. That was James Dawson and Mark Dawson.

Q Robert Dawson, your father, never did move to the Territory, did he? A No.

Q Did you hear the statement of the witness Beavert this morning, that about the time of hearing of the James Dawson case, at a next church at night James Dawson came down there with someone else introduced to him, and he loaned him ten dollars; did you hear that statement this morning? A I heard the statement, yes sir, I heard it.

Q He says that James Dawson was 37 or 40 years old; was there any James Dawson living belonging to your family at that time of any such age? A No sir.

Q How many James Dawson's were there belonging to your family? A There was my uncle James Dawson and a brother James Dawson, the Doctor here.

Q How old was your brother James Dawson then? A He was a tolerable old man, I don't know his age.

Q About what age? A Must have been 20.

Q What year? A In 1894.

Q What was that? A Allowing them their strip money.

Q Have you a copy of that? A I think I have. (Produces papers.)

BY MR. McKENNON: We offer in evidence a duly certified copy of an act of the Cherokee National Council approved November 24, 1894, signed C. J. Harris, Principal Chief. Senate Bill No. 19, appropriating a sufficient amount of money to make payment per capita of what is known as the strip money to certain persons named therein. Among them are members of the Blessingame family, as follows: Jane, Elbert, Henry, James Ross Lemie, Pearl, Aros, Lyrtil, Winnie and Clifford; this act mentions these persons as Cherokees by blood, and who's names had been left off the pay roll approved May 3, 1894, providing a payment to each one of these a sum of $265.70.

Q Were these members of the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q Which one of the members of the family? A Jane.

Q This is Jane who was admitted by the judgment admitting the Robert Dawson family? A Yes sir.

Q And her children? A Her children, was not admitted, she was admitted.

Q I mean this mentions her children here? A Yes, that mentions her children.

(The paper last above introduced is filed and made a part of the record in this case.)

Q Do you know whether the payment of the Cherokee Strip money was to Cherokee citizens by blood only or not? A Yes sir.

Q Was there any other act of the Cherokee authorities passing upon the citizenship of members of your family? A Why the Douthett children, my brother's grand-children. Two grand-children of E. Dawson.

Q What was that? A That, I think it was in '84.

Q Have you got a copy of that act? A No, the record is here.

Q Was that by the Spears Court? A Yes sir, by the Spears Court.

BY MR. McKENNON: We now offer in evidence a judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, 1880 and 1884, found on page 190, case No. 181, dated September 9th, 1884, signed by Eli Spears, President, John Lee and Andrew Young, Commissioners, admitting to citizenship Lula Douthett and Dallas Douthett as Cherokees by blood.

Q These now are the Douthetts to which you refer, are they? Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON: Attention is called to the fact that the names of the Commissioners are all signed in the same handwriting as the record of the judgment.

The said judgment record above introduced, and found on page 190, No. 181, record of 1880 to 1884, is as follows:

"Office of Commission on Citizenship,
Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation, September 14th, 1883.

Submitted by defence Sept 1884.

And now on this the 13th day of September 1884 cover this case for final hearing and all the evidence in the case having been carefully read, and considered by the Commission on citizenship it has been decided by the Commission that the above named Lula Douthett and Dallas Bartlett are Cherokee by blood, and that they are entitled to all the rights and privileges of Cherokee citizenship in the Cherokee Nation and that they should be, and are hereby admitted to the full and complete enjoyment of the same in all respects, as native born Cherokees.

W. L. Spears, Secy.

John Lee,

John L. Adair,
Clk Com'n.

Andrew Young,

Commission on Citizenship."

Q Now are there any other actions of the Cherokee authorities of like character relating to the members of your family?

A I don't remember of any others.

Q I will ask you if when the Cherokee authorities were making the roll of 1896, in compliance with the request of the said Commission for a roll to be prepared by them for the use of the said Commission, the question of the citizenship of the members of your family was not then raised and an investigation had in regard to it? A Before the Dumas Commission?

Q No, before the Cherokee Commission making the roll of 1896, of which John T. Gutter was a member? A Yes sir, yes. I had forgot it, but since you have named it there was some investigation of what at that time; this is what I understood.

Q That roll shows that the members of your family were duly enrolled by that Commission? A Yes.

Q Have you and the other members of your family since your removal to the Territory in 1837 and immediately following been recognized as Cherokee citizens by blood? A Yes sir.

Q Have you been exercising and enjoying all the rights of Cherokee citizens by blood since that time? A Yes sir.

Q Yes and all the members of your family are living in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q You have all drawn Cherokee moneys whenever payments were made? A Yes sir.

Q And have you all male members been voting at the Cherokee elections or in the Cherokee elections? A Yes sir, I was one of the judges of the elections that was held voting on the treaty.

Q That treaty? A The treaty bill that was sent back here for the Cherokees to vote on; I was one of the judges at Affton.

Q In what year was that? A I believe it was last spring some time, 1st April.

Q Have any of you held any offices in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q What offices have the members of your family held? A I was a Deputy Clerk, under Pete Hastings, when he was clerk of Delaware District, I was a candidate once for Council in the Bowring party.

Q Now, if a child of yours were born, would any one else be a naturalized citizen? A Only by a citizen, yes sir.

Q Is that all? A (Sighs).

Q Now, your children, do you have any children at all?
A Yes, several, all are married and have no children, yes,
sir.

Q How long have you and your family been all the while subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

Q Have they been tried for any offenses against the law? Yes sir.

Q Have they instituted any civil suits in the courts of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q And had they instituted a suit there in a court? A Yes sir.

Q And of those courts have you to the Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

Q Were you ever called upon by that tribunal? A Yes sir.

Q Is there anything else? A Nothing, no; I a-said this evening; I got a bad headache so bad I can't hardly see.

BY MR. WITC HAMS:

Q Now, all of your children, Robert Dawson was he dead? A I don't know, I couldn't answer that.

Q Was he a very old man? A Yes sir, he was getting tolerably old.

Q How old would he be, older than you? A No I don't know.

Q Now, James Dawson in 1864 must have been a very old man, isn't he?

A Well, he was old and he was feeble.

Q Well, you stated that he was a silly; was he naturally that way? A He used to live in Texas; I didn't know him until after he came to the Territory.

Q I say he had gotten so old, what was the occasion of that?

A I suppose so, the oldest one of these children was Mrs. Betty

Peter, that's my grandmother's daughter.

Q And the oldest boy was John Dawson? A He always called me Jack.

Q And Dawson was the oldest? A Yes sir.

Q And was the youngest? A Sam Riley.

Q He was the youngest one of the crowd? A Yes sir.

Q Your father lived four or five years after he and you were admitted to citizenship? Yes sir, something about that, it was in 1867, I think he died in 1867, I won't be positive; that is as near as I can remember now. I have got a headache so bad that I can't remember anything.

Q He had none of the older members of the family were ever present at any of these trials of citizenship? A No sir, not a one of them, sir.

Q Now, a one of them was ever called upon to testify as to the blood of their father, who she was or anything about it? A I don't think they was.

Q Your claim of kinship was through Captain John Rogers and that your grandmother was the half sister of Big Joe Vann, wasn't it?

A I don't know, I couldn't answer the question.

Q You were there when they took the testimony? A I was there when

Dr. Baker's testimony was taken, that was about 16 years ago.

Q And nobody kin to the Rogers and Vann was ever called to testify in the case? A Not as I know of.

Q They were very well known Cherokee families in the country?

A I suppose so, I don't know.

Q And yet nobody on any side of the family connected with it was ever called to testify? A Not that I know of, I don't know what my brother done, he taken some of the evidence at Tahlequah which I was not there; he first filed his claim.

Q You had spoken to Dr. Baker about the testifying before you brought your case didn't you? A No sir.

Q Must have been a short time afterwards? A It was a short time afterwards. I went back after him and it was too late and I fetched him the next time.

Q You had talked to your brother and what you could prove by Dr. Baker? A I told him I thought Dr. Baker, I thought he knew about our folks.

Q You had told him in general way you expected to use Dr. Baker as a witness? A Yes sir.

Q You went off, came to Atlanta and left your brother at Tallapoosa after you told him that fact? A Yes sir.

Q You didn't see your brother any more until after you were admitted? A No sir.

Q You and he however made trips back and forth to Tallapoosa and Atlanta at different times, but you didn't happen to get together?

A No. I never met him any more and I don't know that he was there until after we were admitted.

Q But you were there and brought Dr. Baker over? A Yes sir.

Q Any took his testimony a year or such a matter before ever you were admitted? A I think as well as I remember, yes sir.

Q How the way you came to get Campbell Taylor was on the recommendation of old man Bryant? A I didn't get him, didn't use him.

Q The way he came into your case? A The way he claimed to come in.

Q He did more in your case than Bryant did? A Campbell didn't do anything.

Q What did Bryant do? A I think he helped my brother take evidence by another employed him.

Q How did you happen to be sending money by Campbell to Mr. Duncan? A I never sent him any money.

Q Then when he, Mr. Duncan, states that Campbell delivered the money as Campbell said he did, both were wrong? A Oh no, you are mistaken, Mr. Duncan got 20 or 25 dollars, which he stated, from Campbell Taylor, for me.

Q How did you happen to give it to Campbell? A I give the money to Campbell to give to Joel Bryant, and he wouldn't do it, and I tried to get the money back from him, and I finally worked the 20 or 25 dollars he gave to Duncan.

Q Then you didn't tell Duncan as he testified that you sent 20 or 25 dollars by Campbell Taylor? A Campbell Taylor agreed to pay Duncan 20 or 25 dollars for me of the money I give him to give to Joel Bryant.

Q The family kept Campbell Taylor employed though as their attorney after that? A In the James Dawson case I think so.

Q E. Dawson, you remember, had him for his grand-children? A That is my understanding.

Q And your uncle James Dawson had him in the case of his children? A Uncle James had nothing to do with it; James Low and Bill Jackson got him; that was my understanding of who employed him.

Q The record here shows that the case was originally instituted by C. E. Taylor and was finally submitted by him September 22d, 1884, in the James Dawson case? A I don't deny him being in that case.

Q You say he was employed in the E. Dawson case? A I don't know who was in the Dentsett children's case.

Q The record shows that Campbell Taylor instituted the case, and it was finally submitted by him, and Mr. Bevert, who testified a while ago? A That was in the James Dawson case, wasn't it?

Q That was in the E. Dawson grand-children? A Elbert?

Q No, in the Dentsett children's case? A Oh yes.

Q He was likewise attorney in the Mary Dawson case, was he, and for the Adair court, the 4th of October, 1887, in the case of James K. P. Dawson? A I don't know anything about that.

Q And the case likewise of Wiley Dawson? A I don't know anything about those.

Q They are relations of yours? A Well I wouldn't say.

Q James K. P. Dawson proves to be a son of Wiley Dawson? A Well if he is in any connection there. There are so many Dawsons I don't know them all.

Q You know Andrew J. Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The Dawsons have so many children their brothers didn't hardly know them did they? A That's it, I don't know them.

Q Well then you don't know who Andrew J. Dawson is? A No sir, I don't know.

Q He refers in his application as being a cousin of P. Dawson, and yourself, who were admitted to citizenship by the Texas Court? A He may be, I don't know nothing about it.

Q He resided I believe, at that time at Nevada, Missouri? A I don't know anything about these people.

Q Old man Baker was an old and paralyzed man at the time he testified wasn't he? A Getting old, he was not paralyzed.

Q Then the statement made that the reason he couldn't write his name and had to make his mark, because he was paralyzed, in the testimony isn't that true? A He didn't have good use of his fingers.

Q Then he was not paralyzed? A No, I brought him over there in a hack from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q Well I say he was a very old man? A Yes, getting old.

Q Now didn't you come to this place up there joining Broughton and work on it some time before you brought your family? A No, I brought my family with me, except my wife.

Q And you subsequently built a log house on it? A Yes sir.

Q And went back and got your wife and moved them to the log house? A Yes sir, went to Florida and got my wife.

Q You never saw your grandfather at all? A Saw Dawson, yes sir, I saw him.

Q You remember do you of being with him much of any at all? A I was in Texas in time of the war, with my uncle Wiley Dawson, and he was there.

Q In '60 sometime? A '68, I reckon, or '67. Somewhere along there, in the time of the war.

Q How old a man was he at that time? A Pretty old man.

Q You never saw your grandmother, she died before she came? A Yes sir, I never saw her at all.

Q The first started the citizenship matter, your brother in Texas or you? A Why it was us, and my brother together.

Q I mean who first conceived the idea? A I first conceived talking about it.

Q And went down for him? A I was in Texas with him and then in Arkansas, I went backwards and forwards a time or two after the war.

Q About that time nearly everybody in Arkansas were trying to get no claim of kinship to Cherokees? A No sir, not at that time.

Q They were getting pretty thick in there in 1880? A Well in '83 and '84 and '85 I think.

Q Some of them went over there to get yourselves on the rolls? A Just got to be everybody; but it wasn't at the time we were settled there was not much stir about the rights here.

Q Well the Wattle had been admitted before that? A I suppose they had, there was not much excitement over the Wattle claim at that time.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

- Q. That did locate you together with Sam Shables when you first came to Tallapoosa in '31? A. I think I did.
- Q. Your brother Buck Dawson stayed there also? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Sam Shables lived in the north end of town, old Gerran? A. Yes sir, old Gerran, lived in the lower part of town.
- Q. Did you ever hear the names of any other witnesses which you stated perhaps testified in your case? A. I have heard some but I have forgot them.
- Q. You can't recollect any name now? A. I don't remember the name sir.
- Q. In the Irene House case and Joann Barber case, in which you testified before the commission, when you were making search for this testimony you couldn't find any other testimony from that record except the Dr. Baker testimony, could you? A. That's all we could find; no we didn't find the testimony, we got a copy.
- Q. Well it must have been a copy of the original, the certificate shows that? A. I don't know; House got a copy of that claimed to be the affidavit of Baker and he told me to give it to him; that is all I know about it.
- Q. Well the certificate there does not bearly certificate does it? A. I don't know about that, I am no scholar.
- Q. Well you didn't get the testimony of any other witnesses except that of Dr. Baker; you couldn't find any other over there of records? A. I didn't hunt for any; House wrote for them.
- Q. None of you have ever been able to find any other? A. No. Not even find our petition.
- Q. Samuel P. Dawson applied to what is the name the Adair Court, didn't he? A. I don't remember name.
- Q. He was an uncle of yours wasn't he? A. Yes sir, claimed to be.
- Q. The father of these two parties who testified here isn't he? A. Well I don't know, they claimed to be, I never set them together.
- Q. He was rejected by the Adair Court, or Hayes Court? A. I don't know whether he filed his petition.
- Q. Did you testify in his case? A. I don't remember; I might have done it.
- Q. Didn't you testify in the Andrew J. Dawson case before what is known as the Hayes Court? A. I don't recollect, if I did I don't remember.
- Q. Did you testify in the Riley Dawson case? A. No sir, not that I remember.
- Q. Didn't you know of his being rejected by that court? A. I don't remember, sir.
- Q. You know that the Cherokee Council never authenticated the roll of 1896, don't you? A. No sir, I don't know it; I didn't know this was done until I went to Tallapoosa after some papers and come back and they told me about it.
- Q. You never found out that C. H. Taylor was a big rascal up until the present time have you? A. (No response)
- Q. The records here show that he has been in the constant employment of your family from that date up to this time? A. Why it shows here from the record; I could see there be excuse for my part of it.
- Q. You were the man that had the lost to do with it? A. I never employed him, I can say that.
- Q. You are the man that had went to do with the records? A. In my case and in my father's case.
- Q. Didn't you testify for your whole J. Dawson? A. Yes sir.
- Q. Can't he attorney for him? A. Yes sir.

- Q Wasn't he employed by J. L. Dawson after you got your citizenship?
A Why not but the grand-children.
- Q J. L. Dawson's petition was filed in September 1933, is that right?
A Yes sir.
- Q C. H. Taylor, attorney of record, filed his petition? A He might have filed it for all I know.
- Q Well, you hadn't at that time fallen out with C. H. Taylor had you? A Why no, we never did have any trouble, only over his money, he never would give it back to me or give it to Bryant.
- Q You never discovered that he was such a bad man until after your judgment was rendered? A I know he was not of good character.
- Q Are you and Bryant, this man who testified for the Cherokee Nation, on speaking terms? A Hardly speak.
- Q Does he refuse to speak to you? A Sometimes he does.
- Q Do you refuse to speak to him? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you been speaking to him for the last two or three months?
A I have not spoke to him until I met him here at the hotel the other day.
- Q First time you spoke to him since he had the boy arrested? A Yes
sir.
- Q When did he have the boy arrested? A About in September or October, September I think.
- Q When did Dr. Baker die? A I don't remember.
- Q You don't remember how much older your father was than you?
A No, I don't know.
- Q What is your age? A I will be 60 in May.
- Q Then you were born in '42? A Yes sir, '42 according to the record.
- Q Was your father as much as 25 years old when you were born?
A I couldn't say.
- Q What was your best judgment? A I suppose he was 20 or 25 years old. My understanding he was old young.
- Q Can't you give any better idea than 4 or 5 years of your father's age? A I say 25.
- Q Your father was born say, 25 from '42 would have made him be born in 1817; now had your father any older brothers or sisters? A I think Jack Dawson was the oldest of the family, no, Betty, the girl, was the oldest and Jack next, and then my father as well as I remember about it.
- Q There were two girls older? A No, one of the girls I never saw.
- Q Then you think there are only 2 older than your father? A Yes, that's my understanding of the family.
- Q Dr. Baker gives his age 75 in '32, which would make him be born in '39, now he states that when he was 15 or 16 years old, which added to 1869, will make 1824, that your grandmother Anna Pruitt, was a school girl; whereas from your testimony and what of the family history introduced here shows that your grandmother Anna Pruitt was the mother of seven children, the youngest being born in 1823, how do you reconcile that? A I don't remember about the statement of Dr. Baker; I don't know what he made such statement as that,
I don't remember about it.
- Q And if he did you don't know how to reconcile it? A (No response.)
- Q Did you talk to any of the members of the Court that admitted
you? A No sir, I was not acquainted with them.
- Q You know whether they were old or young men? A They were old men like Steve Vance, I got acquainted with him afterwards, and Tomie Thompson, at the Council you know I was there a good deal.

- Q That was the fellow that was on the Court? A Yes sir.
- Q He was afterwards assistant Chief of the Cherokee Nation?
- A I think so.
- Q Steven Tehee, that's the man you had reference to? A Yes sir, I think it was, I just knew the man; I had no acquaintance with him at all.
- Q D. W. C. Duncan boarded when you were down there at the National Hotel? A I think he did, as well as I remember now when we were admitted.
- Q Don't you know he did? A I think he did, as well as I remember.
- Q Were not you over there to his room? A I think I was.
- Q You remember when it was that you brought Dr. Baker down there to make a statement before the Court? A It was in January, Tex., was in January Term of 1882 I believe, it was, as well as I remember about it.
- Q Well you didn't take any more testimony after Dr. Baker testified?
- A No sir, I didn't.
- Q But your case was not admitted or passed upon for a time?
- A I think it was, yes sir, as well as I remember.
- Q I would like to ask you about the Blawingame family down to the Cherokee Nation? A Alex Blawingame came with us when we moved here, and went back and got his family and moved that fall.
- Q Did he have his family here that same fall? A Yes sir.
- Q That year as that? A In the fall of '83 I believe it was, as well as I remember now.
- Q When did the Sulaska family come? A I think the girl and the old lady come in the next spring.
- Q How long did they remain that time? A The old lady stayed here, but the girl went back and in a short time her and her husband come back.
- Q Did she come back until after her marriage? A No, she was married when she come first.
- Q The last time? A She was married I think, she was married when she come out.
- Q How long has August Sulaska been a permanent and continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A I think he come there in the fall of 1884 or 1885, I won't say which.
- Q How long has Robert Pierce been a continuous resident of the Cherokee Nation? A Ever since he was admitted.
- Q When was that? A '83.
- Q How long has Martin L. Patterson? A Ever since he married his wife, and he was living here before he married his wife.
- Q Who is Arizona Alrey? A That is my daughter.
- Q Did you bring her with you? A No not when I moved.
- Q When did she come? A She come out in a year or two after I moved here.
- Q Was she married when you moved here? A No sir, she was not married.
- Q She was not married when you were admitted? A No sir, she was a child.
- Q When did Jim Lowe come to this country? A With his grandfather, James Dawson.
- Q What was his mother's name? A Melvina Dawson.
- Q You know Jim Lowe's age? A No sir.
- Q Don't know how old he was in '83? A No sir.
- Q The 1st ground? A I think he was.
- Q Married? A No no.
- Q Married in this country? A Yes sir.
- Q Who is James H. Marmont? A Married one of the Jackson girls.

Q When did they come to this country? A Right away after they was admitted.

Q In what year? A I think the winter of '94, I think it was, spring or winter of '94.

Q You know Gideon Graham? A Yes sir.

Q Who is his mother? A Missouri Ann Graham, formerly Missouri Ann Dawson.

Q Did he come from Texas to Arkansas? A Come from Texas.

Q Did you know them in Texas? A I knew the girl.

Q You never knew them until they come to this country? A I never knew Gid.

Q When did you see him here? A I think they come here in the fall or winter of 1894 or '95.

Q He was married then? A I think he was.

Q Brought his wife? A I think he was, I don't know.

Q Did he have any children when you first saw him? A He come to my house and I never saw his family for-I don't know, for several years.

Q You understood he had a family? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Q Did you mean to say '84 or '94? A '84.

Q Did you see Gid Graham in '34? A '34, let me study, Feb '85.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Did you see him in '85, are you positive on that proposition?

A I think so.

Q Will you swear it? A No sir, I won't positive swear it, but I think it was, as I remember say it was; I couldn't say positive.

Q All the people Mr. Dawson that have been admitted to citizenship by courts of competent jurisdiction unless they were de-citizenised by courts of acquired jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you have narrated here about going to school and being tried in the courts? A Yes sir.

Q All that sort of thing that you have been telling here in your direct examination? A Ask the question again.

Q I say all people who were admitted here by courts of competent jurisdiction, until they were de-citizenised by courts of like jurisdiction, enjoyed the same privileges that you did? A So far as I know they was.

Q They all drawn money and all tried in the courts as long as we had tribal courts, were they not? A Yes sir, so far as I know.

Q There was no special privilege granted to you in preference to anybody else? A None but recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q Well you had been recognized since you were admitted? A Yes sir, I enjoyed the same privileges as native born Cherokee.

Q Well I say there is nothing special about it? A No, I don't know as there is.

Q You got acquainted with Mr. Duncan while you were up there during the hearing? A Yes sir, I was acquainted with him, I met him, then I saw him.

Q Mr. Will how did the examination of Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.

Q Did you file any other paper before the Court other than your petition and then Dr. Baker's statement? A I never filed any petition there at all.

Q None whatsoever? A I don't remember any.

Q Well you never had occasion to file any papers before Mr. Duncan? A I got him to do some writing for me.

Q What? A Letters to my brother in Texas.

Q What name? A Yes sir, E. Dawson.

Q That? A Yes sir, Mac Dawson.
Q Well is that all he did for you? A I don't remember about it.
Q Why didn't you get your attorney to do some letter writing? A There was not any here.
Q Taylor nor Beuge was not there then? A No sir.
Q That is what you paid the 20 or 25 dollars for, was writing this letter back to your brother? A I paid it for that claim.
Q When did you pay that? A I think I paid it, I don't exactly when, Camp Taylor paid it a year or two after I moved out here and settled where I did; right have been 2 years. I don't remember.
Q There was Duncan living then? A I couldn't say that.
Q Was he still clerk of this Court? A No sir, not when the money was paid; that is, when Camp Taylor said he paid it.
Q You did send Camp Taylor some money? A I sent some money to him for Joel Bryant.
Q You knew Joel Bryant's address didn't you? A No, I didn't know that I did, No I didn't send Camp Taylor any money, I gave it to him.
Q How much did you give him? A One hundred dollars.
Q That? A Right at that time; he claimed it from me as soon as he got our papers; he came onto me and demanded it for Bryant.
Q You never sent him any then after that? A No sir.
Q Did you ever see Bryant after that? A Yes sir.
Q How long after that? A I don't know, a year or two afterwards. A year I believe, my brother wrote, I wrote to my brother about paying Camp Taylor money and he went once my brother about it and he never paid him until he moved out to this country.
Q After all that you got him to attend to your uncle Jim Lawson's and the other relatives cases? A The other parties did.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to all that part of the witness' evidence in response to interrogatories by their attorneys of the Cherokee Nation which relates to the character of the evidence upon which the judgments admitting members of the James and Robert Dawson families were admitted, and to the history of the members of the Dawson family, because the same is immaterial, incompetent and irrelevant.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q One question I omitted to ask you Mr. Dawson, as to the Court at the time the judgment admitting Robert Dawson's family was rendered, who of the judges were present on that day? A They was all three of them, Wolfe, Tehee and Thompson.
Q Are you positive of that fact? A Yes sir.
Q You do not know this Andrew Dawson family who applied to the Dawes Commission for Cherokee citizenship, and who stated that they are cousins of some members of your family? A Andrew?
Q Andrew J. Dawson, who claimed to be from Missouri? A How was the question?
Q You do not know then do you? A I don't know that they are any kin to us.
Q You don't know that they are related to you at all? A No sir.
Q This Mary Dawson case, do you know the members of that family? A No sir, I don't.
Q Don't know who they are? A No sir.
Q The Rebecca Dawson case? A I don't know her either.
Q You don't know whether they are related to you or not? A No sir.
Q If any of these persons are related to you or your family did you have any knowledge of it? A Not as I know of.

Q Joanna Barber, do you know anything about them? A They claim to be kin to us.

Q Where are they from? A They are from Texas.

Q Do you know they are related to you? A They claim to be kin.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Well you swore for them before the Commission? A Yes, they claim to be kinfolks of mine.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Irene J. House, who is that? A That is a cousin of mine; claims to be.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You testified for her didn't you before the Commission? A I think I did as well as I remember.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Before the Court that admitted James Dawson and family, who were the witnesses there? A Oliver Miller, from Berryville, Arkansas.

Q Who were the others? A Myself and J. Dawson and there was two other witnesses, I don't remember who they are.

Q Were they Cherokee citizens and residents of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't remember their names? A Which?

Q Of these other people who claimed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and who were witnesses? A I said about me and J. Dawson was citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Q You only proved that Jim Dawson was a brother of Robert Dawson before the Court? A Yes sir.

Q And then referred back to the decision in the Court before? A We proved that they were citizens, and he knew by facts before us ever come here.

Q Was he older than Dr. Baker? A About the same age.

Q Why didn't you get Oliver Miller's testimony in the House case? A He was dead.

Q You and no member of your family in the Irene House case or the Joanna Barber case or any of these cases that were tried before the Dawes Commission in your affidavits ever had reference to the fact that Oliver Miller testified in Jim Dawson's case in '84 did you?

A I don't remember about that.

Q You did make reference to the fact that Dr. Baker testified there in '83, didn't you? A I don't remember about that now.

Q You never made reference to any other witness having testified other than Dr. Baker did you? A I don't remember about it now.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now just one other question: All of these papers in the original application and everything, so far as you know, in the James Dawson case, were filed before the Commission which admitted the James Dawson family, are lost or mislaid are they not? A I suppose they are, I don't know, I never saw them.

Q Have you tried to get copies of them? A Yes sir, I tried to get the original papers.

BY COMMISSIONER: This case is continued until 8:30 a.m., tomorrow morning, March 30th, 1902, it now being the hour for adjournment.

MARCH 30, 1902. - 11:10 a.m. - F. H. DAWSON again on the stand, testifies as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q There was your brother Rich Dawson raised? A In Arkansas,

- Q What county? A Carroll.
- Q Did you know him? A Yes, yes.
- Q Did Dr. Riley live at Rayville? A Yes, sir.
- Q Was your brother intimately acquainted with him for any length of time?
- A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he have any children? A Yes, he had a brother and a sister.
- Q Do you know Josephine Pierce? A Yes, sir.
- Q Whose daughter was she? A Robert Dawson's.
- Q Is she the same identical person who is called Jodie Pierce, and Jodie Dawson? A Yes, sir.
- Q Is there any other Jodie Pierce or Jodie Dawson or Josephine Pierce or Josephine Dawson? A I don't know but the one.
- Q She was also called Josephine or Josie Kelly? A Yes, after she married her first husband was Pierce.
- Q And her second husband? A Was Kelly.
- Q There was another Josephine Dawson wasn't there, Della Lee's wife?
- A Yes, they called her Joe, I suppose that's her name, I can't be positive; that was Ella Dawson's daughter, August Saltschick's wife.
- Q She is much younger than your sister, Josephine, above referred to? A Yes, sir, oh yes.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q Where were you born, Mr. Dawson? A Carroll County, Arkansas.
- Q You are how old you are? A 42.
- Q 42? A I think so.
- Q How many older children were there of your father and mother than yourself? A Three.
- Q Which were they? A E. Dawson, Percy Dawson and Jasper Dawson.
- Q You are the fourth child and the fourth boy? A Yes, sir, fourth boy.
- Q Where were your father and mother married, do you know, from family history? A I think it was in Arkansas, I couldn't be positive, I think they was.
- Q Do you know how long your grandfather lived in Arkansas? A No, sir I don't.
- Q Don't know what year he came to Arkansas? A Only from statement.
- Q What did they say about it? A I think they came there sometime in '30.
- Q You know whether your father was born in Arkansas? No, many of your grandfather's children were born there? A There was none of them born in Arkansas according to history and according to what he always told me, they were born in Tennessee.
- Q He came there in '30, and all the other children were born on the Hiwassee River in Tennessee, before he came here? A That is what I think, yes, sir. Now I am not positive about that.
- They were from Tennessee, but either Dr. Riley lived there or my folks came from there; I don't know as I've either that I've heard my father say where he was born at.
- Q In Tennessee so early; he said he was a good big boy when he came to Arkansas? A I don't know as I ever heard his way.
- Q Do you know the difference in the ages of yourself and your three older brothers? A No I don't.
- Q Don't know the time that comes in between you? A No I don't know that; I think it is about two years though.
- Q That would make E. Dawson about eight years older than you, probably? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Did Josephine Pierce have a daughter who married Mr. Bogle?

A Yes sir.

Q What is her name? A I don't know her name; I don't know whether that is her right name or not.

Q What is Bogle's name? A John Bogle.

Q She is the child of Josephine Pierce who married John Bogle?

A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q Where did she marry John Bogle? A Near Afton.

Q When? A I couldn't state.

Q About when? A You have got a copy of the marriage license.

Q When did Josephine Pierce come to the Cherokee Nation? A '83.

Q Has she lived here continuously since that time? A Up until her death; she is dead.

Q Any of her children come with her at that time? A Yes sir.

Q And have they lived here continuously since that time? A Yes sir, except Bill Pierce, he went to Colorado and died.

J. C. STARR, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Your name is J. C. Starr is it? A Yes sir.

Q Mr. Starr, was that instrument taken by you, or before you? (Showing witness document.)

A Yes sir.

Q Where? A At the residence of S. H. Benge near Fort Gibson.

Q When? A On the 15th day of this month.

Q What day of the week was that? A On Saturday.

Q Is that the day it was taken? A Yes sir.

Q Did you go there on Saturday to take this? A Yes sir.

Q Then when Judge Benge stated on Tuesday that it was taken "yesterday" meaning Monday, the 17th, he was mistaken, was he?

A It was taken Saturday, the 15th.

Q Was he mistaken or not? A It was not taken then.

Q Then his statement made on Tuesday the 18th that it was taken on "yesterday", meaning Monday, the 17th, was not correct, was it?

A I think not, because I was there, and it was taken on the 15th.

Q And it was taken on the 15th, you are positive it was taken on the 15th? A Yes sir.

Q Then of course his statement could not be correct? A I guess not.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q He was just mistaken about the date, wasn't he? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Did you tell Charles T. Moore who is now present, on last Tuesday that they sent you out there on Monday to take that? A No sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q I sent you there last Saturday? A Yes sir.

Q And you went there at my direction, didn't you? A Yes sir, and come back Saturday night.

ROBERT L. DAWSON, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A My name is Robert L. Dawson.

Q What is your age? A My age is something close to 30 years old, I am 28 past.

Q Are you a son of E. Dawson, commonly known as Buck Dawson?

A Yes sir.

Q I will ask you if you will examine this letter sent with the enclosure and state whether or not you found that among the papers of your father after his death. A (Benge's letter to witness who examines it) A Yes sir, I found this amongst the papers of my father. He always kept all his own papers, and he looking over them I saw this letter.

Q Has that been in your custody ever since you found it? A Yes sir, if that's the letter that was in the envelope.

Q Well that's what it is, you can tell whether it is or not.

(Witness further examines letter) Q That purports to be a letter from Samuel H. Benge, does it not, to your father? A Yes sir. (Here Applicants' attorney hands letter and envelope referred to to attorneys for Cherokee Nation.)

BY MR. MCKENNON: I want to offer this letter in evidence in this case: it is a letter signed by S. H. Benge, attorney at law, dated Fort Gibson, C. N., Jan. 13, 1883. Addressed to Mr. E. Dawson, Esq., together with the envelope, in which it was enclosed, with the card of C. H. Taylor upon it, attorney at law, Tahlequah, Indian Territory, and postmarked Tahlequah, Ind. T., January 13.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: The Nation objects to the introduction of this letter for the reason that S. H. Benge is living and has testified in this case, and his handwriting should be either proven or denied by himself.

G. W. BERGE, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Benge.

Q Are you a son of Samuel H. Benge? A Yes sir.

Q Do you know his handwriting? A I believe so.

Q Is that his handwriting? (Shows witness letter before referred to.) A Yes sir, it is either his or a resemblance of his.

Q To the best of your knowledge and belief is that his letter?

A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Now we offer it in evidence.

BY COMMISSIONER: (Reading letter)

"Fort Gibson, C. N.,
Jan 13th, 1883.

Mr. E. Dawson, Esq.,

Dear Sir:- I write this note to inform you that your case came off before the Court on Citizenship on the 11th inst, and was decided in your favor, so you all are citizens of this Nation. F. M. Dawson was furnished with a copy of the decision at the court. He will write to you also. You will please send me fifty dollars as my fee in your case according to contract. Send it to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation.

Respectfully yours,

S. H. Benge,
Attorney at law."

Enclose in envelope, as follows:

Card in upper corner, left hand:

"Return in ten days to C. H. Taylor,
Attorney at Law,

Tahlequah, Ind. Ter."

Addressed: "Mr. E. Dawson,

Henryetta,
Clay Co., Texas."

Post-marked: "Telegraph, Jan 17 Ind T."

ROBERT L. DAWSON, re-called and further examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now examining that and see if that is also a paper which you found among your father's papers after his death? (Hands papers to witness) A That is the same letter that I found.

Q Along the same that you found the Benge letter? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON: This is a letter purporting to have been written by J. M. Bryan, to E. Dawson, dated at Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation, and not dated, which we offer in evidence. (Applicants' attorney hands said paper to Nation's attorneys.)

Q Mr. Bryan is dead is he not? A I think so.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS: We have no objection.

BY COMMISSION: (reads letter)

"Chouteau Station, Cherokee Nation.
I. T., M. K. & T. R. R.

MR. Dawson:

Dear Sir:-

I am in receipt of your favor of the 30th inst in regard to our contract.

After I had got the claim so there would be little more to do I employed Campbell Taylor to answer for me when the case came up, for which I was to pay him $20 out of my fee.

This all the action I had in the matter with Taylor.

I saw Taylor in Washington last month, and he told me that your brother had made another contract with him, and paid him, or that you was to pay him $100- and that you had offered him a check on some bank in Texas.

That $100- matter with Taylor, I have nothing to do with, nor couldn't have if I wanted to.

I hope Mr. Dawson this letter will explain the matter fully.

And I am satisfied that you are apprised of the earnest work I done for you, Please write to me.

Very respectfully,

Very truly,

J. M. Bryan."

Q I will ask you if you know of your father having paid Bryan that money? A Yes sir, paid him a horse and some other money.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How old was your father when he died? A He, I don't know whether I know his age or not.

Q If you don't know you can't say? A I wouldn't have no reason to know his age; never asked his his age; of course I guess by other means.

Q Never had occasion to talk about his age at all? A Oh I have heard him speaking of his age at different times, but then I never paid enough attent on to it.

Gid Graham, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A Gid Graham.

- Q How old are you? A Mr. Graham? A I am 35 years old.
- Q How long have you been living in the Territory? A I came out here in 1887 or '88.
- Q To the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q How long have you been living in the Cherokee Nation, what year was that '87 or '8? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you resided here continuously from that time ever since in the Territory? A Yes sir.
- Q How long did you live in the Cherokee Nation? A About 6 years.
- Q Where did you go then? A Wagoner.
- Q In the Creek Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q And been residing there ever since? A Yes sir.
- Q In business? A Yes sir.
- Q Have you all the while been recognized as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
- Q Mr. Graham, do you know Judge Samuel H. Bengel? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you have a conversation with him in Fort Gibson about September of 1900? A Well as to the exact time I couldn't say, it was sometime about the time that the Dawes Commission were at Sallisaw, or possibly a little later, somewhere about there.
- Q Taking the census of the Cherokees? A Yes sir.
- Q At that time had the question of the validity of the judgment of the Cherokee citizenship commission admitting Robert Dawson and family been called in question? A Yes sir.
- Q Did you talk to him about the facts concerning the obtaining of that judgment? A I did.
- Q What did he tell you about it; well I will just ask you, did he then and there tell you that that judgment was regular and all right nothing wrong with it? A He did.
- BY MR. HUTCHINGS:
- Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, Mr. Graham, were you? A How was that?
- Q You were looking around for testimony at that time, expecting this case to be questioned? A Since the validity of that judgment had been attacked by the authorities of the Cherokee Nation, I thought it was well to look into the matter.
- Q And he told you the judgment was all right? A Having known that Mr. Bengel was connected with the case, I saw him in Fort Gibson, subsequent to that time and asked him about it, if there was anything wrong about the matter, and also that I might want his affidavit concerning the matter, and I also I think maybe wrote to him; possibly prior to that, I am not sure as to the writing, but I think possibly I did.
- Q Did he tell you he would make an affidavit? A I don't think at that time that I asked him for an affidavit. I thought as he lived right near here I would use him in person; he assured me that everything was all right.
- Q Your mother was Missouri Dawson was not she? A Yes sir.
- Q Her name was Missouri Graham when she was re-admitted to citizenship? A Yes sir.
- Q And was not Missouri Dawson as named in that judgment? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know whether the other children named in there had married and changed their names also at the time they were admitted? A There were not any of them married.
- Q Ella Dawson was your aunt? A Yes sir.
- Q Was she married at that time? In 1883? A Yes sir.
- Q Melvina Dawson, was she married at that time? A Yes sir.
- Q And the fourth one you have mentioned, Missouri Dawson, was your mother? A Yes sir.

- Q Can you give us the exact date of your birth? A Yes sir.
Q Do so, please? A January 21, 1867.
Q And you came to the Territory when? A In 1887 or 1888.
Q You can't vave that any more definite? A Well sir, it has been a good while ago, and I didn't have anything to cause me to.
Q Well I just want to know whether you did have or not? A No sir.
Q When were you married? A 1886.
Q You were married prior to coming here? A Yes sir.
Q Your first child born away from here? A Yes sir.
Q That is its name? A John W.
Q '86 you were married, and he was born about the spring of '87?
A Somewhere in 1887, I don't remember.
Q Prior to your coming here? A Yes sir.
Q That is the only child you had that was born away from here?
A No sir, Julius.
Q Julius was not born in the Territory? A No sir.
Q And prior to the time of your removing to the Territory? A Yes sir.
Q These are the only children born out? A Yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q I will ask you if about February 1901, he came to Wagoner, and sent his son to have you come to the hotel at night where he was, and if he then and there said to you "You people are on the doubtful list, and if you will give me five hundred dollars I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled, and if you don't I will see that you don't get on".? A Well now as to the first part of that question, where you say he sent his son; that is an error; I don't know whether he came to my house or sent some one; when I returned home that evening my wife told me there was some one there to see me, and was at the city hotel at Wagoner, and said come down and see him; I went down there; I never had met Taylor; he introduced himself to me and stated what his business was; asked me if I was on the doubtful list, etc., to which I replied that we were; he asked me if I didn't want to employ him, stating that if we would give him, our family would give him five hundred dollars he would see that we were placed on the rolls all right, but if we refused to give him five hundred dollars that he would use his influence against us and see that we were rejected.
Q You never had met him before, or had any communication with him?
A I never met him before; as to the communication, I may have written him something about his affidavit as to the validity of that judgment, I can't say as to that. He said in his testimony that I did; I don't know whether I did or not now.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q You knew he was the attorney in the case, originally? A After looking at the records I did.
Q I mean you knew it at the time you wrote to him about the affidavit; that was the reason why you thought he would know something? A Certainly.
Q He never told you he was going to swear against you or threatened to tell anything that was not true? A He just simply said unless we gave him that five hundred dollars he would see we were all put off the rolls.
Q Said he would use his influence against you, that is what he said? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q You don't deny writing to him then for the affidavit? A I don't say I did or I did not; I neither affirm it or deny the question.

Q You went to Captain Benge and also wrote him with reference to what he knew about the case? A I don't know whether I wrote him or not, I said I was under the impression I wrote his son.

Q You went to see Aaron Butler, who was interpreter before that court that admitted you? A Yes sir.

Q And you went with Aaron Butler to see Jir Smith, attorney before that court? A Yes sir.

Q And you either wrote or went to see everybody you knew of that was before that court then? A Yes sir.

Q That shows you used considerable activity? A Yes sir, I used such activity as was to my interest.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q That was all after the representatives of the Cherokee Nation objected to the enrollment of the Dawson family and by reason thereof such as had appeared before the Commission had been placed upon a doubtful card? A Yes sir.

Q Then you began to look up the evidence and see what there was in it? A Yes sir.

Q As Mr. Hastings has stated? A That's right.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q You are a grandson of James Dawson? A Yes sir.

Q The old gentleman? A Yes sir.

Q About what was his age when he was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, in 1834, wasn't it? A Yes sir, well I can't be exact as to that.

Q Well as nearly as you can? A He was somewhere about 70 or 72, years of age.

Q Well what other James Dawson did you know belonging to the families, either one of these families, Robert Dawson family or the James Dawson family? A I never knew of but two James Dawsons.

Q Who were the others? A Dr. James R. Dawson, who is present and standing right here; my grandfather, James Dawson.

Q Was there in '84 any James R. Dawson 35 or 40 or 45 years old, that you know of, belonging to either one of these families?

A No sir.

Q Do you know how old Dr. James R. Dawson was that that time?

A James Dawson? Q No I am speaking of Dr. James R. Dawson? A Oh, how old he was, no sir, I do not.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you know who was here attending to your mother's citizenship case at that time, at the time they were admitted? A Yes sir, James Lew and Bill Jackson, son of Ellen Jackson.

Q Who was W. A. Dawson? A That is Wilburn, my uncle.

Q Was he here? A I don't know sir.

Q You were not here any of the time? A No sir.

Q You knew your grandfather then, you had lived in the same neighborhood with him? A Yes sir, I knew him well.

Q He didn't die for a year or two after that did he? A After when, Mr. Hutchings?

Q After his admission to citizenship? A No sir, he didn't die I think until '91 or '90, several years after.

Q Very old man when he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q About what age? A He was approximately 80 years old.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q When he died? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

That about 1881? A I think so, yes sir.

BY MR. McKENNON:

Applicants object to the testimony of the witness elicited by interrogatories of Counsel for the Cherokee Nation relating to his family, their history, etc, as being immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.

James R. Dawson, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. McKENNON:

- Q Your name is James R. Dawson? A Yes sir.
- Q Where do you live? A Afton, Indian Territory.
- Q What is your age? A 43.
- Q You are a Physician are you not? A Yes sir.
- Q Was James Dawson, whose family was admitted in 1834, an uncle of yours? A Yes sir.
- Q Do you know what his age was at that time? A No sir, I do not, only approximately.
- Q State as nearly as you can? A At the time of the admission?
- Q Yes sir? A About 70, I don't know exactly.
- Q How old was he when he died? A I would suppose he was about 78.
- Q What was your age in 1834? A I was 45.
- Q What year were you born, Doctor? A I was born in '55.
- Q What year was '55? A Yes sir, that's right.
- Q What was your age then? A In '84?
- Q Yes sir? A About 28.
- Q Were you present at the time that James Dawson family was admitted, or at any time while their case was pending before the Cherokee officials or mission? A Not while the James Dawson case was, no sir.
- Q You were present during your father's case? A I was there at the time.
- Q When was that? A The date I don't remember, when the case first came up, I don't know the exact date.
- Q How long were you there? A I was there about a week.
- Q Was that when the first case came up you say? A Yes sir.
- Q Nothing was done? A No sir.
- BY MR. McKENNON:
- Q You never saw Dr. Baker? A Yes sir.
- Q Did he and your uncle James use to talk about how they played together when they were boys? A My uncle Jim and Dr. Baker talk?
- Q Yes? A I never saw them together.
- Q They were about the same age? A Yes sir, I believe Dr. Baker was 12 years older probably.
- Q Dr. Baker must have been mistaken about his own age? A Pleading, that's all I know about his age.
- Q The doctor had been diagnosed, rather a decrepit looking man at the time he was over here of late evidently insane? A No sir, not as I saw anything about.
- Q He was about 70 then? A I couldn't tell you, he was an old looking man.
- Q Your uncle Jim was about 70? A Yes sir.

TESTIMONY ON BEHALF OF THE CHEROKEE NATION.

W. W. HASTINGS, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A W. W. Hastings.
- Q Residence? A Tahlequah, age 35.
- Q You are attorney for the Cherokee Nation in the general preparation of these cases? A Yes sir.
- Q Just state how it happened that you summoned Mr. Campbell Taylor, and what occurred between you with reference to his testimony?
- A Well there had been some talk, as the testimony here indicates, that there was perhaps fraud in the admission of this family, and by agreement with counsel on the other side, and the Commission, this case was set for the 17th day of March, and some short time prior to that, as the attorney for the Nation I began to make some preparation or inquiry into the case, and I wrote a great many letters around to different people and among them I wrote C. H. Taylor to come down here. I don't think in that letter that I told him what I wanted with him. I don't think I told him the case that I wanted him to testify in; that is my recollection now. Mr. Taylor prior to that time, neither directly nor indirectly, so far as I know, ever gave me any information voluntarily against this family, or ever said anything that would lead me to believe that he knew anything of a fraudulent character connected with it. But I summoned him; perhaps the fact that I knew he had been connected with them in some way and that I perhaps also would get some information from him. Well he came in response to a letter that I wrote, and I took him up to my office. I talked to him quite a long while. He was exceedingly reluctant about giving any testimony whatever, he told me first and last that he didn't intend to testify before the Commission. He told me he had been attorney for these people, and he didn't believe he could be compelled to testify, and that is he was put upon the stand he would claim that privilege, and he didn't believe I could force him to testify. I talked to him at some considerable length; I asked him what he knew about it; of course he for a long time declined to tell me; and what information I did get from him was by piecemeal. He was exceedingly reluctant all through the interview to give any information. I asked him finally though that if the Court compelled him to testify when he got before the Commission, if he would tell the facts about it, and he said that he would. I told him then that I would subpoena him. Well we talked quite a good while and finally after always telling me that he intended to claim that privilege, and never wanting to testify, he detailed to me the facts just as he told them on the stand; I don't believe there is the slightest variation, except that he perhaps was not so full at that time and it was told by piecemeal, but I got all those facts out of him, or very nearly all those facts out of him. He may have elaborated a little more here by examination; but he never voluntarily gave me any information at all, either directly or so far as I know indirectly. I don't think he sent any one to me. I got his name because I heard he was connected with the case, and perhaps knew something about it, like I did a great many other people, some of whom I didn't bring, because they didn't know what I supposed they did know about the case.

With reference to S. H. Benge, I want to state that he never voluntarily gave me any information at all about this case, nor did I know that he knew anything in connection with this case until I sent J. C. Starr over to S. H. Benge's place to take his affidavit on Saturday, March 15, in the W. H. and J. W. Shoemaker case, and their descendants. I had heard that Mr. Benge knew some important facts in connection with the Shoemaker case and I sent him over there then to take that affidavit; and when Mr. Starr came back he told me that he knew some facts also in connection with these other cases, and I was surprised to find he had instead of one affidavit, in the Shoemaker case, that he also had another affidavit in the Dawson case. That is the first information I had that Mr. Benge knew anything whatever in connection with the Dawson case, and therefore he never voluntarily, either directly or indirectly gave any information prior to that time to me.

I impressed upon Mr. Taylor that the Nation only wanted the absolute truth in this matter; that it was not seeking anything else but the truth, and didn't want him to tell anything else but the truth.

I want to say again that after he was on the stand and left that evening, and after Captain McKennon, or counsel for the family, had indicated his willingness for Mr. Taylor to testify, that he went over all of these facts that he testified to on the stand subsequent to that time in the presence of J. C. Starr in my office. I simply wanted to go on the stand for the purpose of showing that Mr. Taylor hadn't voluntarily given me any information, and

I make this statement for that purpose.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q You had no power to compel him to give you any information at that time at all did you? A No sir, none other than the persuasion that I brought to use.

Q He therefore did it simply upon your persuasion? A Yes sir.

Q You knew he had been acting as attorney for these parties?

A Yes sir, I had seen from the record that he did too.

Q And he told you so? A Yes sir.

BY COMMISSION: The attorneys for the applicant and the representatives of the Cherokee Nation will be granted thirty days from the receipt of the transcript in this case in which to file a brief in this case with the Commission.

I, M. D. Green, do hereby certify that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) M. D. Green,

I, Arthur G. Evans, being duly sworn, state that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes I copied the foregoing, and that the same is a true and complete copy of the original.

Martin, a Notary Public on October 4, 1900, and further proceedings were had therein before the Commission at Muskogee, Indian Territory on March 17, 1902. All of these proceedings have been made a part of the record herein.

The evidence, and an examination of the records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission show that on January 11, 1883, one Robert Dawson and his adult children, F. L. Dawson, Elbert Dawson, Jasper Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilborn Dawson, James Dawson, Rial Dawson, Josephine Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson and John Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship, commonly known as the "Teehee Court", and that on September 9, 1884, one James Dawson, a brother of the Robert Dawson aforesaid, together with his adult children, Ella Dawson, W. A. Dawson, Malvina Dawson and Missouri Dawson were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship commonly known as the "Spears Court." In addition to their tribal enrollment as shown by the evidence herein, it also appears from an examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, that F. M. Dawson is identified on the Cherokee pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Elbert Dawson on the Cherokee pay roll of 1886, Mollie Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Wilborn Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, James Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883 and 1894, Rial Dawson on the pay rolls of 1886 and 1894, Josephine Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, Jane Dawson on the pay roll of 1883, Joseph Dawson and John Dawson on the pay rolls of 1883, 1886 and 1894, Ella Dawson and Dawson on the pay roll of 1886, and Missouri Dawson on the pay roll of 1894.

A majority of the above named persons, together with the descendants of the persons admitted as aforesaid and such white persons as may have intermarried with the said Dawsons or their descendants are the applicants herein.

For convenience, the applications are divided into groups:

Group 1, includes the applications of Francis M. Dawson and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 324, D 325, D 531, D 584, D 588 and D 835.

The evidence shows that Francis L. Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship as hereinbefore stated under the name of F.M. Dawson. Katie Dawson, his wife, was married to him on November 21, 1880. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and the six children included in the application of said Francis M. Dawson, and hereinbefore named are the issue of the marriage aforesaid. All the applicants herein are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, formerly Dawson, Francis L. Dawson, Jr., and Arizona Allred are the children of said Francis L. Dawson by a former wife, Julia Ann. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship. John Dawson, Lizzie Atkins and Francis M. Dawson, Jr., are identified on the Strip Payment roll of 1894, and William R. Dawson and Arizona Allred are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Andrew C. Atkins was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 29, 1891, to the above named Lizzie Dawson. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife since they were married, and the four children included in his application, and hereinbefore named are the issue of that marriage. The oldest child, Arthur, is identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1894, and the three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Arizona Allred, nee Dawson, came from Arkansas to the Cherokee Nation for the first time in 1894, remained there about two years and then returned to Arkansas, where she was married to Lea Allred. Such marriage was not in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation. Arizona Allred and her husband came to the Cherokee Nation in 1896, stayed there a month and returned to Arkansas where they remained until September, 1898, at which time they came to the Cherokee Nation, remained there about a year and returned to Arkansas in 1899, where they were living at the date of this application. William C. Allred is the child of said Arizona Allred and possesses no rights not acquired by his mother. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Paragraph 9, Section 21, of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stat., 495) provides:

"No person shall be enrolled who has not heretofore removed to and in good faith settled in the Nation in which he claims citizenship."

The evidence further shows that Francis M. Dawson, his wife, Katie and William R. Dawson, Francis H. Dawson, Jr., and Lizzie Atkins have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Andrew C. Atkins, the husband of said Lizzie Atkins, since 1891, and that John Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation for at least fourteen years prior to the date of his application. The residence of the minor children of the above named persons is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group II, includes the applications of Samuel R. Dawson, together with those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 350, D 352, D 358, D 365, D 482 and D 402.

The evidence shows that Samuel R. Dawson is identified as the Rial Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. His wife, Catherine, a white woman, was married to him on July 11, 1866. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since their marriage, and August and Mate Dawson are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. Samuel R. Dawson, his wife and children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, Josephine Bulawsky, formerly Josephine Dawson, John W. Dawson, and Katie Newman, formerly Katie Dawson are the children of said Samuel R. Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Sarah F. Dawson, nee Abbott, was married to the said Albert H. Dawson in October, 1894. She has lived with her said husband, since they were married. Ralph H., Alford and Cecil Dawson are the issue of that marriage. Sarah F. Dawson and her child Ralph H. are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. Alford is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission. The evidence further shows that the youngest child, Cecil Dawson, is dead.

August Bulawsky, was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 25, 1893, to the said Josephine Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. The four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and the Strin payment roll of 1894. May Bulawsky is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Oscar Bulawsky is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Hannie Dawson, nee Baugher, was married to the said John F. Dawson on September 2, 1894, and she has lived with her said husband since they were married.

The evidence further shows that Samuel R. Dawson, his wife, Catherine, and Robert Dawson, Albert H. Dawson, John F. Dawson, and Katie Newman have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, August Bulawsky and his wife Josephine, since 1892, and Sarah F. and Hannie Dawson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group III, includes the application of John Dawson, and those claiming through him and embraces cases numbered D 578, D 360 and D 530. The evidence shows that John Dawson is the same person admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Sarah J. Dawson, nee Wood, his wife, a white woman, was married to him on October 4, 1871. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the case of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the nine children included in the application of said John Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. John Dawson, his wife, and his seven older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Thomas P. Dawson and Eric H. Dawson are the children of said John Dawson. They were minors at the date of their father's admission to citizenship, and they are both identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Thomas P. Dawson was married on April 24, 1898, to Allen A. Allison, and Marice J. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Orle H. Dawson was married on December 28, 1899, to Willie York, and Rurr R. and James W. Dawson are the issue of that marriage. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John Dawson and his wife, Sarah J., have resided together in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that said Orle H. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and that Thomas P. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IV, includes the applications of those claiming through the said Josephine Dawson, now deceased. At the time of her admission she was the wife of one Thomas Pierce, but was admitted to citizenship under maiden name of Dawson. The group embraces cases numbered D 408, D 409, D 431, D 471, D 472 and D 479.

The evidence shows that Robert Pierce, William Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Oma Gray, formerly Oma Pierce, Effie Pierce (now Effie Akin) and Nancy J. Bogle, formerly Nancy J. Pierce are the children of said Josephine Dawson. They were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Nellie Pierce, a white woman, was married to said Robert Pierce on July 15, 1894. She has lived with her said husband since they were married, and Myrtle and Arthur Pierce are the issue of that marriage. Nellie Pierce is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and her two children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Ora Gray was married to John B. Gray on April 7, 1898, and Cecil and Walton Gray are the issue of that marriage. Ora Gray is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894 and her children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John S. Bogle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 5, 1894, to the above named Nancy J. Pierce. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. John S. Bogle and his two older children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896, and his four younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said William Pierce died in January, 1902.

It further appears that Robert Pierce, Charles E. Pierce, Nancy J. Bogle and Ora Gray have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that John S. Bogle, husband of Nancy J. Bogle, and Nellie Pierce, wife of Robert Pierce, have resided in said Nation ever since they were married, and the residence of the minor children herein is considered to be that of their parents with whom they are living. It appears that Effie Akin was seventeen years old at the date of the application for her enrollment, and it further appears that she resided in the Cherokee Nation from about 1886 up to December, 1900, when she went to Colorado, was married there to Will Akin, and is now living in that state with her said husband.

Group V, includes the application of the said Joseph Dawson, Wilborn Dawson and James Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 364, D 475 and D 526.

Joseph R. Dawson is identified as the Joseph Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He was married to Florence Jackson on May 16, 1886, and they have lived together since the date of their marriage. The said Florence Jackson is the daughter of Ella Dawson, but she was of age at the date of her mother's admission to citizenship. The six children included in the application of said Joseph R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the marriage between the said Joseph R. Dawson and Florence Jackson. The applicant, his said wife and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Wilborn Dawson is identified as the person of that name admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James R. Dawson is identified as the James Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as heretofore stated. His wife, Martha A. Dawson was married to him on February 20, 1890. She has lived with her said husband since the date of their marriage, and the four children included in the application of said James R. Dawson, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. The applicant, his said wife and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that Joseph R. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Florence Dawson and Wilborn Dawson have resided in said Nation since 1886, and that James R. Dawson has resided in said Nation since 1883, excepting a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VI, includes the application of Nellie Dawson and those claiming through her and embraces case numbered D 518.

The evidence shows that Nellie Moore, formerly Dawson, is identified as the Nellie Dawson admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as hereinbefore stated. Her husband, Charles T. Moore, was married to her under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on January 17, 1887. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of said marriage. Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie, and his four older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896; the two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that said Charles T. Moore, his wife Mollie and his oldest child have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; the younger children have resided in said nation all their lives.

Group VII, includes the applications of those claiming through the above named Jane Dawson, who, at the time of her admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as hereinbefore stated, was the wife of one Alexander Blasingame, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. Jane Dawson is a resident of Arkansas, and is not an applicant for enrollment. This group embraces cases numbered D 832, D 833 and D 834.

The evidence shows that Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame, and James R. Blasingame are the children of said Jane Dawson. They were minors at the time of their mother's admission to citizenship and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Henry A. Blasingame was married to his wife Birdie J., on December 6, 1896, and Vinnie C. Blasingame is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ida Blasingame, a white woman, was married to the said Elbert L. Blasingame on September 5, 1894. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married and the four minor children included in the application of said Elbert L. Blasingame are the issue of that marriage. The said Ida Blasingame and her two older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Mary A. Blasingame was married to the said James R. Blasingame on August 11, 1898. She has lived with her said husband since they were married and the three minor children included in the application of said James R. Blasingame, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Mary A. Blasingame and her oldest child are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The two younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said Henry A. Blasingame, Elbert L. Blasingame and James R. Blasingame removed to the Cherokee Nation in 1897 and have resided therein with their said wives ever since. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group VIII, included the applications of those claimants through the said Elbert Dawson, and embraces cases numbered D 635, D 604, D 608, D 605, D 609, D 617, D 626 and D 627.

The evidence shows that Zena Patterson, formerly Dawson, William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Richard W. Dawson, Ella L. Spickerman, formerly Dawson, and Francis M. Dawson are the children of the said Elbert Dawson. All of them, excepting the said Francis M. Dawson, were minors at the time of their father's admission to citizenship. Zena Patterson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and William C. Dawson, Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson are identified on the State Payment roll of 1894. An examination of the Cherokee tribal rolls, in the possession of this Commission, shows that the said Ella L. Spickerman is also identified on the State Payment roll of 1894.

Martin L. Patterson was married under a Cherokee Marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 13, 1890, to the said Zona Dawson. He has lived with his said wife since they were married and the six children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. Martin L. Patterson and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his three younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Alice Dawson, nee Alexander, was married to the said William C. Dawson on November 18, 1886. She has lived with her said husband ever since they were married.

Elbert B. Dawson was married on February 16, 1898, to Cora Bright, a non-citizen, and his child Ralph E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage. The said child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Sarah J. Dawson, nee Jones, was married to the above named Elbert Dawson about 1854, and lived with him as his wife until his death in February, 1899, and has not re-married since his death. The Cherokee Supreme Court in the cases of Cherokee Nation vs. Nancy Rogers and Melissa Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson held that a white woman married to a Cherokee Indian at the time of his admission to citizenship acquires thereby the rights of Cherokee citizenship.

Richard W. Dawson was married to Luella Mason, a white woman, on January 24, 1898. His child Ina E. Dawson is the issue of that marriage, and she is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

Ella L. Spickerman was married to John J. Spickerman, a white man on September 7, 1897. Her children Hellen J. and William Glenn are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

It further appears from the evidence that Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, at the time of his father's admission to citizenship ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321), Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William C. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Elbert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1836, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1868, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1866, and has lived with her since that time. Teoga V. and Robert S. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1890.

ship in the Cherokee Nation was twenty-two or twenty-three years old. There is no evidence that the said Francis M. Dawson has been admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress of June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), provides for the enrollment of,

"all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and who were minors when their parents were so admitted."

The evidence further shows that Zona Patterson, William O. Dawson and Richard W. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; Robert L. Dawson, Albert B. Dawson, Sarah J. Dawson, and Ella L. Spickerman since 1883; Alice Dawson since 1886, and Martin L. Patterson since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group IX, includes the applications of the said Missouri Dawson, and those claiming through her. The said Missouri Dawson at the time of her admission to citizenship was the wife of one John W. Graham, but she was admitted under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered, D 23, D 35, D 836, D 1124, D 1125, D 1126, D 1127 and D 1128.

The evidence shows that John W. Graham was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on February 12, 1888, to the said Missouri Dawson. He had been formerly married to her in the State of Texas in 1886, and has lived with her since that time. Tompa V. and Robert B. Graham are the issue of the aforesaid marriage. John W. Graham, his wife and two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Joe E. Graham was married to Mary Bradshaw, a non-citizen on January 6, 1898. William C. Graham is the issue of that marriage, and he is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

John F. Graham was married on February 11, 1900, to Mattie Lawson, a non-citizen, and Edna M. and Robert Lee are the issue of that marriage. Said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Bessie Graham was married on November 2, 1892, to the said James M. Graham. She has lived with him since the date of their marriage, and the six children included in the application of said James M. Graham, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. The oldest child Marion is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894, and the five younger children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

The evidence further shows that the said John W. Graham, his wife Missouri Graham, Gideon Graham, Mathew A. Painter, and his wife Laverna A. Painter, Florence P. Bradshaw, John F. Graham and Joe Willie Neal have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888, and that Joe E. Graham and James M. Graham have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group X, includes the application of the said Ella Dawson and those claiming through her. The said Ella Dawson, at the time of her admission to citizenship, was the wife of Green W. Jackson, but she was admitted to citizenship under her maiden name of Dawson. This group embraces cases numbered D 395, D 476, D 508, D 830 and D 847.

The evidence shows that Green W. Jackson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on March 24, 1887 to the said Ella Dawson. He had been previously married to her in Texas prior to her admission to citizenship. From an affidavit made a part of this record it appears that Green W. Jackson died subsequent to the date of this application, and prior to September 1, 1902.

The evidence further shows that Flora Harmon, formerly Jackson, Tashie A. Jackson, William Jackson and Fannie Lenox, formerly Jackson are the children of said Ella Dawson, now Ella Jackson. Flora Harmon, Tashie A. Jackson and Fannie Lenox were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship, and they are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

James H. Harmon was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 24, 1887, to the said Flora Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the four minor children included in his application, and hereinbefore named, are the issue of the said marriage. James H. Harmon and his three older children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896. The youngest child is identified by a birth affidavit on file with this Commission.

William C. Lenox was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on April 1, 1888, to the said Fannie Jackson. He has lived with his wife since the date of their marriage, and the two children Birtie E. and Myrtle Lenox, included in his application, are the issue of the said marriage. William C. Lenox and his two children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Lizzie Jackson claims to have been married in 1888 to the said William Jackson, who is now deceased. It appears that William Jackson at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship, was over twenty-one years old. There is no evidence that the said William Jackson was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). Lizzie Jackson and the five minor children included in her application, and hereinbefore named, are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and they take only such rights as may have been possessed by the said William Jackson. The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress approved June 28, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

The evidence further shows that the said Ella Jackson, the said Flora Harmon and the said Toshie A. Jackson have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that William C. Lenox, and his wife Fannie Lenox have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1888. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XI, includes the applications of those claiming through Malvina Dawson and embraces case numbered D 859.

The evidence shows that James Lowe is the son of the said Malvina Dawson, and that at the time of her admission to citizenship the said James Lowe was over 21 years old. There is no evidence that the said James Lowe was ever admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, by the duly constituted authorities of said Nation, or by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, or by the United States Court under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved June 10, 1896 (29 Stats., 321). It further appears that the said James Lowe was married on June 12, 1887, to Nellie Knight, a white woman, and the four minor children included in his application and hereinbefore named, are the issue of that marriage. James Lowe and his said children are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896 and said children take only the rights which may have been acquired by their father.

The authority of the Commission herein is defined in Section 21 of the Act of Congress approved June 27, 1898 (30 Stats., 495), heretofore quoted.

Group XII, includes the applications of those claiming through the said W. A. Dawson and embraces cases numbered D 405, D 406, D 715, R 12 and R 13.

The evidence shows that Millie T. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in 1892 and lived with him as his wife in the Cherokee Nation until his death in 1899, and that she has not re-married since his death. Texanna Woolley is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson and his former wife Melissa A. Dawson. Texanna Woolley was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the Strip payment roll of 1894. She was married on March 27, 1898, to James Woolley, and her children Irene W. and Willburn E. are the issue of that marriage. They are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Henry T. Richardson was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on July 11, 1886, to one Sellar Dawson, who was the daughter of the said W. A. Dawson by his first wife Melissa A. Sellar Dawson was a minor at the date of her father's admission to citizenship. Henry T. Richardson lived in the Cherokee Nation with his said wife Sellar from the date of their marriage until her death in 1892. On September 23, 1898, Henry T. Richardson married one Kitty Flournoy nee Dawson. The said Kitty Flournoy was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Of the children herein applied for, Delia F. Richardson is the child of the applicant by his first wife, Sellar. Finis F. Richardson and Jasper G. Richardson are children by his wife Kitty. Edgar, Walter, Alice, Laura, Oscar, Claude and Edna Flournoy are the children of his said wife Kitty by a former husband.

The six older children were admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894, with their mother as the members of her family. The youngest child Edna Flournoy was born in 1896 and was living at the date of this application. Delia F. Richardson is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and Finis T. and Jasper C. Richardson are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

Etta Brauer is the daughter of said W. A. Dawson, and was a minor at the date of her father's admission. She was married in 1892 to a non-citizen but such marriage was not in accordance with Cherokee laws. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Melissa A. Dawson was married to the said W. A. Dawson in the State of Texas on September 26, 1873. The Supreme Court of the Cherokee Nation in the case of Melissa A. Dawson vs. W. A. Dawson, decided that Melissa A. Dawson, the applicant herein was a citizen of the Cherokee Nation by virtue of intermarriage with her said husband, W. A. Dawson. She is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1894, and she has not re-married since her divorce from said W. A. Dawson.

The evidence shows that Texanna Holley has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884; that Etta Brauer and Melissa A. Dawson have resided in the Cherokee Nation, with the exception of temporary absences, since 1884; that Millie T. Dawson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1892; that Henry T. Richardson has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1886, and that Kitty Richardson, his wife, has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

Group XIII, includes the following applications: Wm. J. Venable, et al D 521; William D. Douthett, D 522; Alonzo H. Fiddell, D 523; Florence Morgan, et al D 527; John E. Fiddell, D 528 and George S. Hairy, et al D 570. The previous entries in this group cations are related to the above named Dawsons. They are not claiming the right to enrollment by virtue of such relationship, but rely upon a separate adjudication of their rights.

The evidence shows that Hiram F. Weddle was married under a Cherokee marriage license, and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on September 15, 1884, to Lula P. Douthitt, who was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the said "Spears Court" on September 15, 1884. Curtis, Morris O. and Roy Weddle are the issue of the said marriage. Hiram F. Weddle and his said wife are identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and their three children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

William D. Douthitt is the brother of said Lula P. Weddle, and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation with his said sister on September 15, 1884. He is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

Alonzo M. Fishback was married under a Cherokee marriage license and in accordance with the laws of the Cherokee Nation on May 17, 1891, to Laverna A. Dawson. He had been previously married to the same wife in Texas in 1877, and has lived with her ever since. It appears that Laverna Fishback was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. William A. and Annie B. Fishback are the issue of the said marriage. Alonzo M. Fishback and his said wife and children are all identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896, and his wife is also identified on the Cherokee pay roll of 1890.

Florence Morgan, the wife of Elbert L. Morgan, is the daughter of the Pitty Richardson heretofore mentioned and was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation on December 1, 1894 with the said Kitty Richardson as a member of her family. Clida and Alice L. Morgan are her children by her said husband. The said children are identified by birth affidavits on file with this Commission.

John R. Fishback is the son of Laverna Fishback, who was re-admitted to citizenship on December 1, 1894, as heretofore stated. He was a minor at the date of his mother's admission to citizenship and he is identified on the Cherokee Census roll of 1896.

George A. Mabry was married to one Edna Dawson in the State of Arkansas in 1884. He claims to have been married under a Cherokee marriage license to his said wife in 1889, but he presents no satisfactory proof of such marriage. Edna Dawson was re-admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by an Act of the Cherokee National Council on December 1, 1894. Roby and Charley Mabry are her children by her said husband, George A. Mabry. Edna Mabry is identified on the strip payment roll of 1894, and the two children were minors at the date of their mother's admission to citizenship.

The evidence further shows that Alonzo H. Fishback and his wife Laverna A. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883; that Lula P. Weddle, William D. Douthitt, and John R. Fishback have resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1884, and that Florence Morgan and Edna Mabry have resided in said Nation since 1894. The residence of the minor children included in this group is considered to be that of their parents, with whom they are living.

All birth affidavits for the minor children embraced in this decision, and hereinbefore noted, are made a part of this record.

It is contended by the Cherokee Nation that the applicants herein are not entitled to be enrolled by this Commission because they have never been lawfully admitted or enrolled by the Cherokee authorities, and that the judgment of the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship admitting Robert Barton and his family was obtained by fraud on the part of said Bureau.

In considering the question at issue, it is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 98 U.S. Page 61, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment assailed." Only such facts therefore, are considered by this Commission, as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teehee Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teehee Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

Briefly stated, the circumstances attending the admission of the Dawsons appear to be as follows:

On September 24, 1821, an application was made to the Cherokee Commission on Citizenship known as the "Teehee Court" for admission to Cherokee citizenship of Robert Dawson and the members of his family above mentioned. The members of that Commission were Thomas Teehee, Alex Wolfe and T. F. Thompson. The first two were full blood Cherokee Indians; they could understand, but could not talk English. One D. W. G. Duncan was the Clerk of the Commission. The Dawson case was continued several times before final decision. J. M. Bryan appears to have been an attorney in the case, and after some delay he notified Francis M. Dawson that the case would be taken up by the Commission at its session in January, 1823, and also informed him that C. H. Taylor would look after Dawson's interests as he, Bryan, would be in Washington. On receipt of this notice Francis M. Dawson went to Fort Gibson, Cherokee Nation, and made arrangements with his uncle Samuel H. Benge to go to Tahlequah and conduct the case. Benge who is a witness herein testifies that he was connected with the Dawson case when it was commenced in 1881; that it was continued several times for want of evidence, and that in January, 1885, in company with F. M. Dawson he went to Tahlequah and while there secured the testimony of Tosh Rogers, a negro, who knew the Dawson's ancestors, and that after getting his evidence the case was submitted to the Commission. He further testifies that the Commission rendered a decision against the Dawsons and that next morning the Commission reopened the case, but not upon motion of the witness, and rendered a judgment admitting the Dawsons to citizenship. He further states that on his way home to Fort Gibson with Dawson he remarked to the latter, "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered a decision against us," to which Dawson is alleged to have replied, "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach and he reached him with five hundred dollars."

Dawson denies ever having had such a conversation and says that he did not return to Fort Gibson with Benge but went home to Arkansas by a different route.

C. L. Taylor testifies that he was an attorney in the case and was present when the case was decided. He says there were only two Commissioners present, Teehee and Wolfe. He further testifies that D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of the Court asked the witness to let him know when any large citizenship cases came up; that he introduced F. M. Dawson to Duncan on the evening of January 10th, heard part of a conversation between them in which Duncan addressing Dawson said, "there is a hitch in your evidence, if that was straightened out it will be all right." Next morning witness says Dawson told him to call up the case, which he did. That there was no additional evidence introduced and no argument made, and that the case was then decided in favor of the Dawsons. Witness further testifies that Dawson gave him twenty dollars and said he would send him the balance in a short time, that in the course of ten days he sent him one hundred dollars with directions to pay over half of it to Duncan; that Dawson soon afterwards sent him another hundred dollars with the same instruction to give Duncan half of it.

Dawson denied the matters testified to by Taylor excepting in the matter of paying Taylor money, which he admits in part, but says that the twenty dollars mentioned was sent to Taylor about a year after the decision, and that he instructed Taylor to pay it over to Duncan to pay him for a land claim, and that the other money was in payment of J. M. Bryan's attorney fees which Taylor represented to Dawson he had for collection against him. Taylor's reputation for truth and veracity has been impeached by various disinterested witnesses.

The evidence which may be considered as tending to support the charge of fraud is the testimony of S. H. Benge, C. H. Taylor, Thomas L. Babhart, J. L. Clinkenbeard, James W. Lewis, G. G. Braught and David Meredith.

S. H. Benge testifies that a judgment adverse to the Dawsons was rendered by the Commission on the evening of one day and without any additional proceedings in the case that judgment was reversed on the morning of the next day.

Even if this were a material fact, there is no other proof that the judgments in this case were ever rendered. The record of the proceedings and judgment in the Commission's docket is all on one page, the entry of the application is 1861 and the first confirmation being entered under authority of a former Commission and by a different clerk, and there is no evidence of erasure on that page. It is not an unusual thing for a Commission to change its judgment, and that if it is a fact, it is in itself no evidence of fraud.

Thomas B. Dabeart testifies that one James Dawson, a man of forty or fifty years of age, in company with Butler, the Commission's interpreter and Jim Smith, solicitor for the Nation, came to the witness in Tahlequah the evening of January 10, 1883, to borrow some money; that Dawson was vouched for by Butler as a responsible party and that Dawson told the witness that he had to have money that night, that his case was to be submitted the next day if he could get some money, that Smith had agreed to submit the case without evidence, and that witness thereupon let Dawson have ten dollars.

Admitting all this to be true and that the influence of these officials was purchased for the sum of ten dollars, the Commission fails to see how these alleged facts show that the Court was imposed upon or misled. Bribery of officials to use their influence with the Commission would not necessarily vitiate the judgment, but it must appear that the fraud, or corruption reached the members of the Commission and tainted the judgment itself. The case was not submitted without evidence as appears from the record, and it is shown that such evidence was carefully considered by that Commission. Furthermore, the evidence shows that there was no such person then in Tahlequah as the James Dawson described by witness.

Clinkenbeard testifies that he had a talk with Elbert Dawson about 1881; that Dawson told him he had only one witness, Dr. Baker of Arkansas, "an old man 85 or 90 years old who did not know straight up" and that he could give Dr. Baker four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would swear black was white. Witness further testifies that Dawson told him that money was what made the mare go in Texas, and that he had found out that it goes here too.

Assuming that this Commission can go into the question of perjury in connection with evidence in that case, the testimony of Clinkenbeard notwithstanding, if anything, only the facts stated, and does not prove that Dr. Baker committed perjury in giving his testimony before the Commission. Further, it is not clear that Dr. Baker was the only witness in the case. Benge stated that Tom Rogers was a witness, Duncan is under that impression also, and T. F. Thompson, one of the Commissioners, states that he thinks there were three witnesses. The testimony of Dr. Baker, seems, however, to be the only testimony preserved of record. As to whether Doctor Baker offered perjured testimony by Dawson's procurement, it is proper to state that the evidence of W. H. Curtis and A. S. McKennon, witnesses for applicants, show that Doctor Baker was a man of integrity and was not addicted to drinking.

The testimony of James W. Lewis is to the effect that he had a conversation with F. M. Dawson about 1883, in which Dawson had told the witness that it had cost him seven hundred dollars to get his rights. Braught also testifies that he was an applicant for citizenship about 1881 or 1882, and that while his case was pending he had a talk with F. M. Dawson who told him that if he (the witness) ever got in, it would cost him seven hundred dollars, and that Dawson told him he had paid one witness three hundred dollars, and made arrangements with the Court to get the Dawsons in at one hundred dollars a family. David Meredith testifies that he had a talk with old James Dawson in 1886, and that the latter told the witness it cost him twelve hundred dollars to get his case through.

It can hardly be urged that such evidence is sufficient to show that the members of the Teesee Commission were corrupted by the fraudulent use of money. So far as these witnesses have been able to testify the money spent by the Dawsons might have been for proper and legitimate purposes. F. M. Dawson gives a detailed statement of what the case cost him and his brother in a legitimate way. The presumption can not be indulged that such moneys were used for fraudulent purposes and the proof to the contrary must be very clear.

before this Commission will deny applicants the right to be enrolled upon that ground.

Admitting the truth of all the testimony in this case as to the actual transfer of money by the Dawsons, it appears that Duncan, Butler and Smith were the only beneficiaries of that money. There is no evidence that the members of the Commission received or were offered any of it.

The judgment entered in the Commission's docket shows the signature of the three members of the Commission appended thereto. There is some conflict as to whether Duncan signed Thompson's name, or whether Thompson affixed his own signature. Duncan testified that all three signatures were made by him as Clerk under authority of the Commissioners present, the two full bloods being unable to sign their names. T. F. Thompson testifies that he signed the original transcript of the judgment, which was made on the day of its rendition. The question, however, is not considered to be very material. The signing of judgments by each Commissioner appears to have been a matter of custom only. T. F. Thompson testifies that he remembers the Dawson case and recognizes the judgment therein as the final judgment of the Commission, and that there was no fraud or corruption in the procurement of that judgment by the Dawsons or by any one else so far as he knew.

Such evidence has been introduced by the Cherokee Nation for the purpose of showing that the ancestor, through whom the Dawsons claim, was not a Cherokee, and that other members of the Dawson family, claiming from the same source, have been denied Cherokee citizenship by subsequent Cherokee tribunals, and also by this Commission and by the United States Court. Such evidence, in the opinion of this Commission, is not competent for any purpose in this proceeding. The only question before this Commission is whether there was fraud in the procurement of the Robert Dawson judgment, and not whether the applicants are Cherokee Indians, or whether they ought to have been admitted to citizenship upon the proof submitted. These were questions presented, considered and passed upon by the Teckee Commission. If their decision is a valid and regular judgment, it is binding on this Commission. If, on the contrary, the applicants have never been lawfully admitted to citizenship, because the judgment under which they claim is void, for fraud, then the question as to whether they are Cherokees by blood is not material, as this Commission has now no authority to admit them to citizenship.

While it is true, that since 1863, a number of applicants, members of the Dawson family, have been denied admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, no argument derived therefrom is of any force, for it is also true that other members of the same family have been admitted to citizenship, and the action of the Cherokee authorities in admitting them has never been questioned by the Cherokee Nation. Whatever inference, therefore, may be drawn from these facts, applied with equal force both for and against the validity of the judgment in question.

The Dawsons have lived in the Cherokee Nation, most of them since 1863; they have exercised the rights of Cherokee citizenship for many years, some of them occupying official positions in the Nation, and no protest seems to have been made against their citizenship until within the last few years. The records of the Cherokee Nation, in the possession of this Commission, show, that since 1863, there have been Commissions on citizenship charged with authority to investigate the judgments of former tribunals alleged to have been secured by fraud, and the Cherokee Legislature had power to order an investigation, and to create a tribunal with authority to set aside a judgment on evidence. It was not until 1883 that any steps were taken by the Cherokee authorities with reference to the judgment of the Teehee Commission in the Robert Dawson case.

After a careful consideration of all the facts in this case this Commission is of the opinion that the evidence fails to establish that the Dawsons secured their admission to citizenship by fraud or that the judgment of the Teehee Commission as rendered January 11, 1883, was fraudulent as the result of corruption, bribery, or deception upon the part of the Dawsons, or their agents, and that such judgment, and also the judgment of the Spears Commission in 1884, and the Act of the Cherokee National Council of December 1, 1894, which have not been attacked by the Cherokee Nation, being regular on their face, must therefore be accepted by this Commission as the valid judgments of the duly constituted Cherokee authorities.

It is, therefore, the opinion of this Commission that,

(Group I.) Francis H. Dawson, son of Robert Dawson, Lula Dawson, Ray Dawson, Jessie J. Dawson, Jacob L. Dawson, Hugh A. Dawson, Laura A. Dawson, John Dawson, William R. Dawson, Lizzie Atkins, Arthur Atkins, Edna E. Atkins, Edward C. Atkins, George J. F. Atkins, Francis H. Dawson, Jr., son of Francis H. Dawson and grand-son of Robert Dawson, (Group XII) Susan F. Weddle and Alonzo E. Fishback, should be enrolled as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation in accordance with the provisions of said Section twenty-one of the Act of Congress, and it is so ordered.

It is further the opinion of this Commission that, for the reasons heretofore stated, the applications for the enrollment of Arizona Allred and William C. Allred, (embraced in D 835); Francis M. Dawson, son of Elbert Dawson, (embraced in D 627); Osie Jackson, Lizzie Jackson, Jessie Jackson, Ray Jackson, and Clyde Jackson, the children of William and Lizzie Jackson, (embraced in D 830); James Lowe, May Lowe, Zelma Lowe, Roberta Love and Rosa Lowe, (embraced in D 839), as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, and that the applications of Lizzie Jackson, widow of William Jackson, (embraced in D 830), and George A. Mabry (embraced in D 979), as citizens by intermarriage of the Cherokee Nation should be denied, in accordance with the provisions of the law heretofore quoted, and it is so ordered.

As hereinbefore stated William Pierce (D 409) and Cecil Dawson (D 558) and Green W. Jackson (D 395), died prior to September 1, 1902. It further appears from affidavits, made a part of this record that Liddie and Margaret Graham (D 1128) have died since the date of the application for their enrollment and prior to September 1, 1902.

It is, therefore, ordered that the applications for the enrollment of said William Pierce, Cecil Dawson, Green W. Jackson, Liddie Graham and Margaret Graham be, and the same are hereby dismissed.

Muskogee, Indian Territory, February 1st

1902

James R. Dawson,

Aften, Indian Territory,

Sir:-

You are hereby notified that the application of yourself, your wife and four minor children

for enrollment as citizen of the Cherokee Nation will be taken up for final consideration by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, at its office in Muskogee, Indian Territory, on the 17th day of March, 1902.

On said date, you may, if you desire, appear before the Commission, in person or by attorney, when an opportunity will be given you to introduce any additional testimony affecting your application.

You are further notified that the Representatives of the Cherokee Nation will also, at the same time, be afforded an opportunity to introduce testimony tending to disprove your right to enrollment, but said Representatives will be required to notify you of their intention to introduce such testimony before they will be permitted to do so.

GROUP V.

The Honorable,

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

Referring to office report of even date transmitting Group 1 of the case of Francis M. Dawson, et al., applicants for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, there is transmitted herewith record relative to the applicants of Group V.---

D. 364, Group V. page 1.

Joseph R. Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself and his five minor children, Clarence B., Council J., Elmer A., Cleo and Rufus T. Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of Florence Dawson, his wife, as a citizen by intermarriage. He also applies for the enrollment of his minor child, Edgar Dawson, who was born subsequent to the date of his original application. Edgar Dawson is properly identified by a birth affidavit.

--1--

D. 475, Group V, page 10.

Wilborn Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by blood.

D. 526, Group V page 11.

James R. Dawson applies for the enrollment of himself and his three minor children, Vinnie D., Ermine C. and Edwin C. Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Martha Dawson, as a citizen by intermarriage. He also applies for the enrollment of his minor child, Ancil F. Dawson, who was born after his application.

-----

Joseph R. Dawson, (Group V. page 1), the record shows is a son of Robert Dawson. He was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Tehee Court, January 11, 1883, under the name of Joseph Dawson. Joseph R. Dawson was married to Florence Jackson May 16, 1886. Florence Dawson is a daughter of Ella or Ellen Jackson or Dawson, who was admitted apparently by the Spears Commission or Court, Sept. 9, 1884. She seems to have been of age at the date of her mother's admission. The minor children applied for by Joseph R. Dawson are the issue of the marriage between himself and Florence Dawson. Joseph R. Dawson, his wife and their four older children are identified by the Cherokee census roll of two 1896. The younger children are identified by birth affidavits.

Wilborn Dawson, (Group V. page 10), was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation by the Tehee Court, January 11, 1883. He is identified by the 1896 census roll.

James R. Dawson, (Group V. page 11), was admitted to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation under the name of James Dawson, January 11, 1883. He was married to Martha A. Dawson February 20, 1890. The principal applicant, his wife and their three older minor children are identified by the 1896 census roll.

Joseph R. Dawson has lived in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, and Florence and Wilborn Dawson have lived in the Nation since 1886, and James R. Dawson has lived in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, except that he was absent therefrom from 1883 until sometime in 1891.

Joseph R. Dawson was married to Dora L. Dawson prior to his marriage to his present wife, Florence Dawson, but the record in this group shows that he was divorced from her before he married Florence Dawson.

The Commission in its decision of December 23, 1902, held that all of the applicants to this Group were entitled to enrollment

--4--

--Florence Dawson and Martha A. Dawson as citizens by inter-marriage, and the others as citizens by blood.

Attention is respectfully invited to office report of even date, transmitting Group 1 of this case, and for the reasons set forth therein, the office believes that the Commission's decision should be approved, except as to Martha and Florence Dawson, who apply for enrollment as intermarried citizens. Their right should not be passed upon until the Court of Claims shall have made its findings and rendered an opinion in accordance with Department request of February 24, last.

Very respectfully,

(signed)

W. A. JONES,

Commissioner.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,

WASHINGTON. March 31, 1904.

Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Muskogee, Indian Territory.

Gentlemen:

On February 25, 1903, you transmitted the record in the matter of the application of Francis M. Dawson et al., for enrollment as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, with your decision of December 23, 1902, in the matter.

In said decision you disposed of these applications by groups. Group V as disposed of by you will be considered herein.

This group includes the applications of Joseph R. Dawson Wilborn Dawson and James R. Dawson, and those claiming through them, and embraced in cases designated by you as D. 364, D. 475 and D 526. The record in this case forms a part of the record in the consolidated case of Francis M. Dawson et al., referred to above.

The application of Joseph R. Dawson, D 364, was for the enrollment of himself and his six minor children, Clarence E., Council J., Elmer A., Cleo, Rufus T. and Edgar Dawson, as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation and for the enrollment of his wife, Florence Dawson, as a citizen thereof by intermarriage.

The said Joseph R. Dawson was admitted to Cherokee citizenship January 11, 1883, by a decree of the Teehee Court. He is identified upon the Cherokee rolls of 1883, 1886, 1894 and 1896, and has resided in said nation since 1883. May 16, 1886, he was married to Florence Jackson.

Under title D 364, you classified Florence Dawson, nee Jackson, as an applicant claiming enrollment by intermarriage, and in your decision of December 23, 1903, you held that she was entitled to enrollment as such. It appears, however, from your field notes of October 19, 1901, that a change was made in her classification, and that she was entered upon a doubtful card as an applicant for enrollment as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation.

It appears however, that her mother, Ella Jackson, who was formerly a member of the Dawson family, was admitted to Cherokee citizenship September 9, 1884, by a decree of the Spears Court. The petition upon which that decree was founded was dated September 14, 1883. Doubt has been expressed as to whether Florence Dawson was a minor when her mother was admitted. From her testimony it seems that she was born December 11, 1863. This being true she was under 21 years of age at the date of the decree referred to above, and under 20 years of age when said petition was filed. She was unmarried and a member of her mother's household when the latter was admitted. She is identified upon the 1896 census roll and has resided in the Cherokee Nation with her husband since their marriage in 1886. The minor children named above are the issue of the marriage between Joseph R. and Florence Dawson. The four older children are identified on the Cherokee census roll of 1896; the two younger are identified by birth affidavits.

The application of Wilborn Dawson, D 475, was for the enrollment of himself as a citizen by blood of the Cherokee Nation. He was admitted as such by the decree of the Teehee Court, dated January 11, 1883. He has resided in the Cherokee Nation, since 1886, and is identified upon the 1886, 1894 and 1896 tribal rolls.

The application of James R. Dawson, D 526, is for the enrollment of himself and his four minor children, Vinnie D., Ermine C., Edwin C., and Ancil F. Dawson, as citizens by blood, and for the enrollment of his wife, Martha A. Dawson, as a citizen of said nation by intermarriage. The said James R. Dawson is the James Dawson who was admitted to Cherokee citizenship by decree of the Teehee Court dated January 11, 1883. He is identified upon the payrolls of 1883 and 1894, and the census roll of 1896, and has resided in the Cherokee Nation since 1883, except during a temporary absence from 1889 to 1891. He was married to the said Martha A. Dawson February 20, 1890. She is identified upon the 1896 census roll and has resided with her husband in the nation since their marriage. Their older children named above are identified upon the 1896 census roll; their fourth child is identified by a birth affidavit. It is considered that the residence of all minor children is that of their parents.

In said decision of December 23, 1902, you held that all of the applicants named above, except Florence Dawson and Martha A. Dawson, were entitled to enrollment as citizens by blood, and that they were so entitled as citizens by intermarriage.

Reporting in reference to this group, October 16, 1903, the Commissioner of Indian Affairs recommended that your decision be approved, except as to Florence and Martha A. Dawson.

The attorney for the Cherokee Nation protests against the enrollment of these applicants claiming that the decrees under which they were admitted were obtained through fraud. His contention was disposed of in an opinion dated February 16, 1904, by the Assistant Attorney General, approved by the Department, relative to the application of Francis M. Dawson et al., copy of which was forwarded to you February 24, 1904.

The Department considers that your decision relative to those applicants named above who claim enrollment as citizens by blood is correct. Said decision is hereby affirmed as to them. The Department can discover no reason from the record as it now stands why Florence Dawson should not be enrolled as a citizen by blood. Inasmuch, however, as neither your Commission nor the Commissioner of Indian Affairs discussed her rights as such, the record is herewith returned for further consideration, and (if necessary) further investigation. In this connection see Department's decisions of even date concerning James Lowe and Lizzie Jackson (Groups I and II of the Dawson case).

No action will be taken at this time respecting the rights, if any, of Florence Dawson and Martha A. Dawson, as citizens by intermarriage.

A copy of Indian Office letter of October 16, 1903, relating to this group, is inclosed.

Respectfully,

(signed) Thos Ryan,
Acting Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL,

WASHINGTON, February 16, 1904.

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

I am in receipt, by reference of December 29, 1903, of the report, October 16, 1903, of the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, transmitting the proceedings of the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes upon the application of Francis M. Dawson and others (230 persons) for enrollment as citizens by blood of the Cherokee Nation, with request for my opinion---- as to the powers and duties of the Commission and the Department in cases of this class, that is, where persons have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship by tribal acts and decrees, where fraud is alleged.

If, in your opinion, the Department has the authority to investigate cases of this kind, it desires to be advised:

1. What character of evidence is sufficient to warrant such investigations?
2. If proper evidence of fraud exists, should applicants be rejected or allowed to rehear to show, if possible, other and lawful grounds for enrollment?
3. In this, the Dawson case, what action should now be taken by reason of the alleged fraud?

Part of the applicants claim under judgments of the Cherokee Citizenship Court of January 11, and September 14, 1903, admitting them or their ancestors to citizenship, and others claim, as stated by the letter of reference, under act of the National Council, approved December 1, 1894, granting such admission. Council for the Nation opposes enrollment of those claiming under the judgments, on the ground that they were procured, as it is claimed, by bribery of the clerk of the court and by perjured testimony.

The ground of objection to enrollment of those claiming under the act of the Council does not appear to be discussed in the briefs submitted in the cases based upon judgments of the citizenship court, which are transmitted with the papers.

The Commission admitted the applicants to enrollment, and states the ground of its decision, that:

It is the opinion of this Commission that it has no power, and that it is not the purpose of this proceeding, to review or to set aside the judgment in the Dawson case, or to determine such questions as were necessarily involved in the issues before the Cherokee Commission, and were passed upon by that Commission. In United States vs. Throckmorton, 30 U.S. page 41, it is stated, "the doctrine is well settled that the Court will not set aside a judgment because it was founded on perjured testimony or for any matter which was actually presented and considered in the judgment rendered. Only such facts therefore are considered by this Commission as were not part of the record in the Robert Dawson case before the Teahoe Commission, and which tend to show whether the judgment admitting the Dawsons was a bona fide judgment of the Teahoe Commission, or whether such judgment is void because of fraud, and upon this proposition the burden of proof is upon those attacking the judgment.

The duties of the Commission as to persons (not freedmen) enrollment are defined by the first paragraph of section 210 of the act of June 28, 1898 (30 Stat., 495) 502), which directed the Commission to enroll all Cherokees (except freedmen) found on the roll of 1860 and descendants afterward born to them, and all persons who have been enrolled by the tribal authorities who have heretofore made permanent settlement in the Cherokee Nation whose parents, by reason of their Cherokee blood, have been lawfully admitted to citizenship by the tribal authorities, and were minors when their parents were so admitted; and they shall investigate the right of all other persons whose names are found on any other rolls and quit all such as may have been placed there by fraud or without authority of law, enrolling only such as to its development and progress. They have built homes, improved lands, accumulated property, have always been recognized as Cherokees, been chosen to office, participated in the conduct of national affairs, been borne on its various rolls, participated in distribution of public moneys, and for twenty years have been in fact recognized as Cherokee citizens. When they apply for enrollment by the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes they are met by the objection that they have in fact no Cherokee blood; that the testimony upon which the original decree was rendered ( the witness being now dead) was perjured; that the first petitioner ( now dead) corrupted the court (two of whom are now dead), and the present applicants, none or few of whom are charged with wrong-doing, must give up their lands and homes to those who have not improved, cultivated or built them, lest the nationality to which many of them have been born, and all are loyal, and seek elsewhere a new nationality, establish new homes, and work out a new heritage.

Assuming for the moment that the charge were fully proven, the result contended for does not, in my opinion, follow: It is said by Freeman on Judgments, section 436, 4th edition, that "the defendant in an action upon a judgment is never permitted to show that it was procured by perjury," citing Demeritt v Igford (27 N.H. 541), and Cottle v Cole (20 Ia., 481). The same author says, section 503, that "equity will not relieve (against a judgment) on the ground of the absence of a witness who with diligence could have been procured, nor on the ground that a witness was guilty of perjury, nor because the suitor was absent from court, for it is his business to be there," citing Cott v Carr, 6 Gill & J.

(Md), 309, and Dilly v Bernard, 3 Gill & J., 171. Again, section 289, the author says:

The settled policy of the law forbidding that a matter once adjudicated shall be again drawn in issue while the former adjudication remains in force does not permit the prosecution of an action for obtaining a judgment by false and fraudulent practices, or by false and forged evidence. Neither can a party against whom judgment has been recovered sustain an action against his adversary and the witnesses for damages occasioned by their conspiring together and procuring a judgment by fraud or perjury as long as the judgment remains in force and unreversed; (citing)-

Hillsborough v Nichols, 46 N.H. 379; Engstrom v Sherburne, 137 Mass. 183; Note 266, by C.H. & E., to Phillips on Evidence; Dunlap v Glidden; 31 No. 435; 52 Am. Dec. 625, . . . Cunningham v Brown, 28 Vt. 123; 46 Am. Dec. 140; Smith v Lewis, 3 Johns. 187; 3 Am. Dec. 469.

The general rule is that judgments of every tribunal having jurisdiction, while remaining in force and not reversed or vacated, are conclusive upon the matters adjudged and not open to question in a collateral proceeding. This rule was fully sustained by the court in United States v Throckmorton (28 U.S., 61, et seq.) wherein the United States sought to cancel the patent to lands issued upon a decree for confirmation of a Mexican land grant, obtained as it was charged by a fraudulently antedated grant.

Nothing in the act in question indicates that a rule of law so wholesome, so essential to the stability of judgments, and to the peace of society, was intended by Congress to be abrogated. I am therefore of the opinion that judgments of the Indian tribal courts upon the question of Cherokee blood, left for years in force, unquestioned, and which never have been vacated, should be held conclusive upon the nation, and that the Commission correctly so held.

It is proper, however, here to remark, in justice to the dead applicant and the judges, that the evidence in the record, in my opinion, falls far short of showing improper conduct or motive on their part, or even to show error in their judgment. The strain of Cherokee blood claimed by the Dawson family originated in a marriage contracted prior to about 1823, so remote in time that it could only be established by persons already old in 1882. It could not be neither proved nor disproved by direct testimony of any one living, and is capable of proof only by family tradition, dimmed by the lapse of almost a century. It is obvious that judgments ought not to be brushed aside and rights supposed to be vested to be struck down on that kind of evidence and in a collateral proceeding. I am therefore of the opinion that no action for a correction of the alleged fraud ought to be taken as to those cases standing upon the adjudications.

As to the cases standing upon the acts of admission of the Cherokee Council, the same result follows, but for other reasons. This was a legislative grant. The Cherokee Council had plenary power to grant rights of citizenship. Being a legislative body, it was not bound by technical rules of evidence obligatory upon judicial tribunals. It might act on any evidence satisfactory to itself of the fact of Cherokee descent, or it might grant citizenship to one not of Cherokee descent. Having made the grant, neither its motive nor the sufficiency of the evidence moving it, is open to question. That it did not make the grant is alone and of itself sufficient.

Supplemental Proceedings.

CHARLES T. MOORE, being sworn, testified as follows:

By the Commission,

- Q What is your name? A Charles T. Moore.
Q What is your age, Mr. Moore? A Forty-seven.
Q What is your postoffice? A Vinita.
Q Are you the same Charles T. Moore that made application to the Commission for enrollment as an intermarried citizen in October, 1900? A Yes, sir.
Q What is your wife's name? A Her name is Mary, commonly called Molly on the rolls.
Q Commonly called Molly? A Yes, sir.
Q Who made application for her? A I did.
Q Give her name as Molly, did you? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q When were you married to your wife, Molly? A Well, I have been married twice, I was married in the States.
Q Well, give the first; what state were you married in? A I was married in Arkansas.
Q Married in Arkansas the first time? When did you come to the Nation? A I came to the Nation in March, '83.
Q And then were you married again to the same woman? A Yes, sir, married under the Cherokee law.
Q When? A Well, it is in the winter of '95 or '6, I am not certain which. In that winter '95 or '6, I don't remember now.
Q Was it before or after the law was repealed? A In '86.
Q '86, you mean? A Yes, sir, the winter of '85 or '6.
Q Then you mean instead of '95 and '96, '85 or '86? A Yes, sir.
Q Did you take out a Cherokee license? A Yes, sir, turned it over to the Commission when I made application.
Q Now, Mr. Moore, had you ever been married prior to your marriage to your wife, Mollie? A No, sir.
Q Had she ever been married prior to her marriage to you? A No, sir.
Q You're her first husband and she's your first wife? A Yes, sir.
Q After you and your wife moved from Arkansas to the Territory she was admitted to citizenship? A I can't understand.
Q I say, after you and your wife moved from Arkansas over here to the Territory, she was admitted to citizenship? A She was admitted before; admitted in January, '81, I believe, I am not right certain about the year but I think that's it.
Q Well, have you and your wife, Molly, lived together as husband and wife since you were married up to the present time? A Yes, sir.
Q Still living together? A Yes, sir.
Q Were living together as husband and wife on the first day of September, 1902? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never had any falling out or separation? A No, sir.

- Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation continuously from the time of your marriage in '85 or '6 up to the present time? A Yes, sir.
Q You have never lived out during that time? A No, sir.
Q Has your wife, Molly, lived here with you during all that time?
A Yes, sir.
Q Now, these children, Nora, Walter, Clara, Ora, James W. and Mina Edith, are your children by your wife, Molly? A Yes, sir, they're my children.
Q Are they all living at this time? A Yes, sir.
Q Have they lived in the Cherokee Nation all their lives? A Well one of them, the oldest, was born before we came here, Nora.
Q She has lived here ever since you came? A Yes, sir, ever since '83.

Q How many children? A Six.
Q Do you apply for enrollment as a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.
Q Is your wife a Cherokee by blood? A No, sir; she is a white woman.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A Since 1853.
Q Were you admitted by the Cherokee Commission? A Yes, sir.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated certificate of admission to citizenship, showing that on the 11th day of January, 1853, certain persons were admitted by the Commission on citizenship, and among them appears the name of F. M. Dawson.

- Q That is your name is it? A Yes, sir.
Q This is recognized as satisfactory evidence of the facts stated.
Q Have you lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since your admission?
A Yes, sir; in Delaware District ever since.
Q Give us the name of your wife? A Katie Dawson.
Q How old is she now? A Forty five.
Q Was she admitted with you? A No, sir.
Q Have you married her according to Cherokee law since your admission? A No, sir.

Q You have not remarried since your admission? A No, sir; it was not necessary.

The applicant presents a duly authenticated marriage license and certificate, showing that he was married to his wife, as stated by him, in 1880, by the Reverend R. S. Gaudelock, in Garret County, Arkansas, the license being issued by the clerk of that County.

These papers are filed herewith.

- Q Your wife was not admitted by the Cherokee Commission, when you were? A No, sir.
Q Or at any other time? A No, sir.
Q By act of the Commission or Council? A No, sir; she was placed on the rolls.

Q Is this Lula or Luly? A Luly.
 The applicant applies for the enrollment of himself, wife and
 six children:
 Q Were those children all born since you were admitted into the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.

The applicant is known by the certificate of admission, cited in the testimony, to have been admitted to Cherokee citizenship, by the Commission on Citizenship, January 11th, 1893; he is identified on the roll of 1896, but the representative of the Cherokee Nation desires to make inquiry into the methods of that time, and for that reason, the application of the applicant will at present be placed on a "Doubtful Card." He has lived in the Cherokee Nation ever since his admission to citizenship. His wife was married to him under United States law, and was married prior to his admission; she has never been remarried according to Cherokee law. She has lived with him ever since his admission to citizenship, and she is identified on the roll of 1896. The application for her enrollment will be placed on a "Doubtful Card".

Their six children, as enumerated in the testimony are identified on the roll of 1896: They are living at this time, all having been born since his admission (Applicant's). These children will be placed with him on a "Doubtful Card". The applicant's marriage to the mother of these children is established by the marriage license and certificate filed herewith. If any additional papers, adverse are developed in this case, he will be given timely notice thereof.

The undersigned, being sworn, states that as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes, he correctly recorded the testimony and proceedings in this case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of his stenographic notes thereof.

Cherokee citizens. :
----- :

Depositions of sundry persons in behalf of the applicants for enrollment mentioned in the title, taken before me, Lewis T. Martin, a Notary Public in and for the Northern District of the Indian Territory, duly appointed, qualified and acting as such, at the office of G. B. Demison in the Gray-Ralsoll building in the town of Vinita, Indian Territory, on Thursday the fourth of October 1900, between the hours of one and a half o'clock and six o'clock in the afternoon of said day, in accordance with the agreement to take testimony, entered into between the applicants and the Cherokee Nation, by their respective attorneys, which agreement is hereto attached.

T. F. Thompson, being produced by the applicants, being first duly sworn to testify to the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DEMISON:

- Q State your name, age, residence and occupation?
A T. F. Thompson, 53 years old, I live near Vinita, Cherokee Nation, I. T. I am a farmer.
- Q How long have resided in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
- Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation as now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
- Q Upon what is that citizenship based, blood or otherwise?
A Blood.
- Q What, if any official position have you held in the Cherokee Nation, and at what time?
A I was elected to the Cherokee Council in 1870 some odd, I don't remember the exact year, I was also on the Commission Court.
- Q Do you remember when that was? A Some tin in 1880 or 1881, I think, it may have been earlier.
- Q Did that Commission or Court have anything to do with admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q State, if you remember, how many members of that Commission or Court, there were, and who they were besides yourself?
A There were three, Tenec, Wolf and myself, Tenec was President of the Court.
- Q Where were the sessions of that body held? A Tahlequah, Cherokee Nation.
- Q Did you have a Clerk? A Yes, sir.
- Q Do you remember who that was? A D. W. C. Duncan.
- Q Do you know whether the members of that Commission beside yourself, are living or dead? A Yes, sir, they are both dead.
- Q Can you recollect now what period of time that Commission lasted?
A About two years I think, two, sessions, and there was one session each year.
- Q Were the sessions of that body held in Tahlequah, open to the public at all times when it was in session?
A Yes, sir.
- Q Were the cases coming before that body heard in open session?
A Yes.
- Q Witnesses examined orally? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the Court or Commission pronounce its open session?
A Yes, the decisions I think they sometimes had secret sessions, but the judgments of the Commission were pronounced openly.
Q Did you intend to convey by you answer to the former question that after hearing the proof the Commission or Court deliberated in secret session upon the testimony taken before reaching a decision in announcing it? A After hearing all the testimony in a secret session.

Q I present you with a paper which the Notary will mark with "A" and a copy of which he will attach to your deposition,
I will ask you if with the exception of the certificate of record of L. L. Praydon, Clerk, and John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize it as a paper you have ever seen before?

A I recognize the signature to it, but don't remember the instrument.

Q Which signature on that paper do you recognize? A My own.

Q That signature is in your own handwriting? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know whether Thomas Tehee, president of the Commission could write in English or not? A No, I don't think he could write in English or Alexander Wolfe, a member of the Commission?

Q I don't think he could write either, I don't think either of them wrote except by touching the pen.

Q Where you, and are you familiar with the handwriting of John L. Adair, the Clerk of that Commission?

A Tolerably well, but it has been a long time since I saw it.
Q Will you look at the paper again and say whether you recognize the signature attached thereto?

A Yes, that is his signature to the best of my knowledge.

Q Do you preserve any personal recollection of the application before that Commission of F. H. Dawson and other members of the Dawson family, to be admitted as citizens of the Cherokee Nation
by the Commission?

A I remember F. H. Dawson and his brother, that is about the only ones I remember.

Q The question was not as to the personal recollection of the individuals, but as to the claim being presented by the Dawsons for admission?

A Yes, there was such a claim before the Commission.

Q Can you state as to the citizenship of Thomas Tehee, whether he was a citizen of the Nation by blood or not?

A Yes, sir, he was always recognized as such, full blood besides.

Q What is your knowledge of Alexander Wolfe?

A About the same, he was also a full blood and recognized as a Cherokee.

Q Judge Thompson, if you possessed or had, or have now any knowledge of any corruption or bribery of the court or Commission, or any member of it by F. H. Dawson or any of the Dawson family or anybody connected with the presentation of their claim for citizenship, state it fully?

A None whatever as far as I was concerned, and I don't think there was by the balance of the Court.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q Do you mean to say Mr. Thompson that your name attached to the certificate shown you is in your handwriting?

A Yes, sir.

Q Now if Mr. Duncan certified that this is a transcript of the decision in the case, he is mistaken, that is the original?

A No, I don't know, that may be the original, if that is not the original I don't sign it, if it is the original I signed it.

Q You state that the witnesses were examined orally before the Court, don't you know that in almost every case you took ex parte affidavits of witnesses when those witnesses were not present?

A I think we ruled ex parte evidence out, as well as I remember.

Q Did you have any stenographer or anybody to copy the evidence?

A Mr. Duncan did all of the copying.

Q Was the evidence copied and preserved?

A Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q What was done with that evidence, where was any of it ever put?

A I suppose it is at Tahlequah in the office of the Treasurer or Secretary.

Q When you went into secret session did you have Mr. Duncan read the evidence to you?

A Yes, sir, we went over the evidence thoroughly.

Q Did you allow the applicants or their attorneys admission to any of your secret sessions?

A No, sir.

Q When you go ready to render your decisions did you then send the applicants or their attorneys?

A No, sir.

Q Did you render them in secret also, did you? A Yes, sir.

Q Have you any recollection who testified in the Dawson case, as to their claim? A No, sir, I have not.

Q Have you any recollection as to who they claimed their Cherokee ancestors were? A Yes, sir, they claimed the Rogers.

Q Did they claim relationship with any of the present families of Rogers residing in the Cherokee Nation?

The applicant objects to this question as tending to elicit testimony wholly incompetent and irrelevant to the issue, and not cross-examination of this witness.

A I don't know that they did, particularly.

Q How could your court determine when they claimed descent through some Rogers family, that that family was of Cherokee blood?

The applicant objects to the question upon the same grounds as their objection to the previous question.

A By the evidence they produced.

Q Didn't you make them prove that that family was well known at one time to be connected with the Cherokee Nation, and were citizens thereof? A Yes.

Q Who was the attorney for the Dawsons? A Old man Houston Bengo.

Q Could either Tehee or Wolfe speak English? A They could understand, but they never spoke English, they had an interpreter.

Q Did you ever talk to either of them as to whether they got anything for deciding this case? A No, sir.

Q How long were you considering the case altogether?

A I could not say as to that, I think we were on it two or three weeks anyhow, I could not say positively now, they were a long time sitting in testimony.

Q There were only two or three witnesses examined all told, were there not?

A I think so, three I think, they had quite a lot of affidavits, but we did not consider them.

Q Well the court was a good while arriving at its conclusion after the evidence was closed?

A Yes, quite good while, I don't remember the exact time.

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION:

Q Do you remember who the interpreter the commission had during the hearing of the Dawson case.

A His name was Reese, I forgot his given name.

Q Do you know whether he is living or dead?
A I don't know, he seemed to be in bad health at the time we had the case up, I think they are all dead but me and Mr. Duncan.
Q What was he, a Cherokee by blood?
A He was considered a Cherokee by blood.
Q Do you know where he lived at that time?
A No, sir, he lived in the South part of the Nation though, I think in Sequoyah.

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY G. B. DENISON:

- Q Please state your name, age, residence and occupation?
A My name is D. V. C. Duncan, my age is 70 years, my residence is Winita, Indian Territory, my occupation is a farmer.
- Q How long has that been your place of residence? A Since 1874.
- Q Are you a member of the Cherokee Nation as it is now constituted?
A Yes, sir.
- Q Upon what is your citizenship based, a Cherokee by blood?
A Yes, a Cherokee by blood.
- Q In January 1883, did you hold any official position in the Cherokee Nation, if so, what was it?
A About that time I held the position of Clerk of the Citizenship Court or Commission.
- Q If you remember the names of the members of that Commission or Court, please give them?
A The President of the Commission was Tachee I believe, and a member by the name of Wolfe whose first name I do not recollect, and Mr. Thompson.
- Q T. F. Thompson?
A Yes.
- Q Do you know whether these three members of that Commission were recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation, and whether their citizenship was based upon blood or not?
A They were supposed to be citizens of the Cherokee Nation and their citizenship was based upon their blood.
- Q Will you please look at the paper now handed you which the Notary has marked exhibit "A" to the deposition of Mr. T. F. Thompson, and a copy of which he will attach to Mr. Thompson's depositions, and state whether with the exception of the certificate of H. L. Bragden, Clerk, and of John L. Adair Asst. Ex. Secretary, you recognize the paper as one you have ever seen before?
A Yes, I think I have seen this before.
- Q When, and where, if you remember, did you first see that paper?
A This is a paper I drew up at the time I was acting as clerk of the said Citizenship Court.
- Q Looking at its date, was it drawn up at you at the time it bears date?
A To the best of my recollection it was drawn up at the date specified.
- Q Do you recognize the signature to the certificate attached to that paper?
A Yes, that is my signature.
- Q State if you know, in whose handwriting the body of the paper is?
A It is in my handwriting.
- Q And at that time you were Clerk of that Commission? A Yes.
- Q Will you please look at the signatures of the members of the Commission as they appear on that paper, and state if you can, by whom they were written?
A I think the first two is my handwriting, the last I recognize that as T. F. Thompson's.
- Q Explain please, how you came to write the signatures of Thomas Tachee and Alex Wolfe to that paper?
A Thomas Tachee and Alex Wolfe were full bloods and could not write, and in their presence, and at their request I wrote their signatures.

Q. That the usual manner of certifying to the action of the Commission to applicants as to the decision of their application for citizenship, where admitted?

A. In all instances where it was necessary for the Court to sign a paper of any kind it was adopted by that Court for the Clerk to sign Tehoo's and Wolf's names and T. P. Thompson to sign his own name.

Q. You didn't catch exactly my idea, but perhaps that answered it, what I intended to call your attention to, was whether when applicants had been admitted to citizenship a paper of this kind was shown you, signed by the judges as you have explained, and certified by you as a transcript of the proceedings was issued?

A. My recollection is that a transcript of the judgment was issued to the applicant when they were admitted at their request, the judgment was put on the record when they were admitted and signed by the judges, and whenever the transcript was delivered to the applicants I think it was signed by the judges.

Q. If you had any knowledge at the time the application of the Dawson family, F. H. and others whose names are mentioned in that paper, was pending before that Commission, or before or after, of any corruption or bribery, or attempted corruption or bribery of the Court or any of its officers, by F. H. Dawson, or any person connected in any manner with the claim of the Dawsons to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, state it fully?

A. I never heard a thing of the kind, I know nothing of the kind, all that I have ever heard about a question of that kind is what has originated recently, since the enrollment business has been inaugurated.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY W. T. HUTCHINGS:

Q. If as you certify, this paper was a transcript of the record, why did you have the judges sign it?

A. I know no reason further than that was the practice at that time, the members of the Court being present I presume it was thought it would be as good or better than the signature of the Clerk.

Q. Examine that signature of Mr. Thompson, examine the first T in his name and the T in Tehoo's name and see if it is not all your own handwriting?

A. No, I would not call that mine, there is a resemblance between the letters but I am satisfied it is a mere fortuity, accident.

Q. How was the evidence taken in those cases?

A. It was taken by the witness being present and detailing his knowledge of the case, I wrote it down sentence by sentence as it was delivered.

Q. Do you know whether that evidence is in existence or not?

A. I do not, the last I saw of it was when I turned the records over to the Executive office at Tahlequah, and I have not seen it since.

Q. You say you never heard any talk about this being an improper case until very recently?

A. Well, that would depend upon what you mean by recently, I don't think I ever heard of it prior to three years ago, I can safely say that did not.

Q Do you remember through what ancestor they claimed their right to citizenship here?

Objected to by applicants because the question tends to elicit testimony which is wholly incompetent and irrelevant, and because it is not proper cross examination

A They claimed their right of citizenship through a man by the name of Rogers, I don't recollect his first name.

Q Do you know how many Rogers families there are who have citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A I do.

SWORN AFFIRMATION TESTIMONY in the matter of the application of FRANCIS M. LAWSON, ET AL., as citizens of the Muskogee Tribe

The case having been set for final hearing on the following day the following proceedings were had:

APPEARANCE

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for the applicants, and Mr. J. H. Hutchings, of counsel for the Nation.

Mr. Hutchings: Does now the Nation object to the case being taken before the Commission at Muskogee, I. T., on the 18th of March, 1902, before the Commission at Muskogee, I. T., at the place of the witness Samuel H. Henge, as set forth in the affidavit of this day and if the Nation objects to the case being taken at this place and probably all the other places. As evidence of good faith of the Nation we present an affidavit of the facts sought to be proven by the said testimony. The applicant's counsel are willing to concede that the witness if present would testify to the facts herein set forth, the Nation is ready to proceed to trial without reservation of any kind. If they are not it desires to reserve this privilege of hereafter, at or before or otherwise, this case being set for to-day and for now, of examining before the Commission, or its authorized officer, this witness as above set forth.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the introduction of the paper presented and do not admit that the witness, Samuel H. Henge if present would testify to the facts therein stated. They consent and desire that the testimony of said Henge be taken before the Commission at its office in Muskogee but not elsewhere, and protest against it being taken at any other place, with the understanding, however, that when taken we have opportunity to introduce any evidence we may desire in rebuttal.

Mr. Hutchings:

The Nation will pay all the expenses of the opposing counsel, their client and Commission officers in taking the deposition at Port Gibson.

Commissioner Lockridge: The allegations of this witness are material in their character and are quite tangent. The Commission of its own volition would acquire information of that character if it knew of its existence anywhere. While the functions of the Commission, as well known are in many respects judicial yet it is bodied with a new set of complex powers, such as Congress creates from time to time to a business of certain character and it is ordered to make a correct call, which is a duty largely independent of hearing simply what is brought before them; it must be the architect and constructor of that call and if evidence is not brought before before the Commission it must go out and get it, to be uniform on that construction of the law. The Commission, therefore, desires this information independent of any counsel on either side both with respect to the applicant and to the Nation, and if this witness is

is not able to come one of the Commissioners will go to Fort Gibson and to his bed-side, or send a proper official, if necessary to take his testimony. The only matter to consider, therefore, is one of convenience with respect to getting this testimony. Now, I understand that this witness is an extreme sufferer from Bright's Disease; he is an old man and he may never be able to get out of the house, and it may be an injustice to him to subject him to a trip here, and therefore it seems to me better that counsel for plaintiff submit to a form of taking a deposition or else accompany an official of this Commission over to Fort Gibson and let his testimony be taken there.

After consultation with the attorneys upon the two sides it is found to be agreeable that the parties start to Fort Gibson tomorrow morning at half past eight o'clock, and it is agreed that the witness be accompanied with an official of the Commission with a stenographer leave from the office of the Commission for Fort Gibson at eight o'clock tomorrow morning.

FRANCIS M. DAWSON, the applicant, re-called for additional cross-examination on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HITCHINGS:

- Q What is your name? A Francis M. Dawson.
Q Where do you reside? A In Afton.
Q You have been examined in this case heretofore, have you?
A I don't know which case it is.
Q In your own case? A Yes, sir.
Q And you the one that is commonly called Bul Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q You made the original application in the Dawson Family for admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, didn't you? A Yes, sir; my brother.
Q What was his name? A A. E. Dawson.
Q You and Robert Dawson and Elbert Dawson and others applied September 24, '81, about that time? A Yes, sir.
Q And you were admitted about the 1st of January '83? A Yes, sir.
Q There were other members of your family that applied and were admitted after that time? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you or not remember the evidence offered in theirs to substantiate their cases was the relationship between yourself and Robert and others and the evidence of your admission by the Terr. Court. In all the subsequent admissions I mean the only evidence offered was the fact that you and your brothers had been admitted before and that they were kin to you; that was the only evidence offered in any subsequent cases, wasn't it; so far as you know?
A That is afterwards?
Q Yes, afterwards? A I think there was some other evidence introduced.
Q Don't you know that there was never any evidence offered in any other case except evidence of Dr. Baker of Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q Who else? A Oliver Miller.
Q Who was Oliver Miller; the records in this case have been somewhat destroyed and mutilated? A Oliver Miller, of Afton in Arkansas.
Q What was he, who was he? A He is no kin to me or any of us.
Q Well, what station in life did he occupy; was he a farmer?
A Yes, sir, farmer.
Q Were you present when he testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Were you present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you have a fair recollection of the testimony of those two boys, not at all.

Q Don't read do you, Mr. Dawson? A No, sir, I don't read nor write; I can barely write my name.

Q Do you think you would remember the testimony of Dr. Baker if your mind was refreshed on it? A Part of it I think.

Q Were you present when you were admitted? A I was not in the court in Tahlequah at the time? A I was in the town of Tahlequah at the time.

Q Do you read this paper to you and desire for you to say whether or not you believe the testimony of Dr. Baker in your case:
(The affidavit of Dr. Arthur Baker read to witness, and asked to be placed in the record later.)

Q Is that the correct transcript of the testimony? A It has been corrected, I could not say; a part of it is, I could not remember it.

Q Do you state the facts as to the family history correctly so far as you know? A So far as I know.

Q Do you have a son of what Dawson? A Robert Dawson.

Q Do you have any other children of Robert Dawson have, and give me their names?
A Robert Dawson, the eldest; Lila, Jesper, Francis Marionette, that is yourself? A Yes, sir; Elizabeth Dawson, Josephine Dawson, John Dawson, Joseph Dawson, Jane Dawson, James Dawson, Lena Dawson, Mollie Dawson, Wilburn Dawson.

Q Thirteen? (No response.)

Q Was Robert Dawson's father was whom? A Sam Dawson.

Q Who was Sam Dawson's wife, your grandmother? A I have been told.
Q By family history is all you know? A She was called Polly Dawson.

Q Who was Anna Pruitt? A I don't know.

Q Never heard of anybody in the family by the name of Anna Pruitt? A No, sir, that was away back in the old country;
I have heard talk about it, old Dr. Baker talked about it.

Q Your grand-mother's name was Polly Dawson? A Yes, sir; I don't remember seeing her but once, she died when I was small, died in Texas.

Q Pollie Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q And she was known to be Pollie Rogers, her maiden name? A Yes,
sir.

Q Daughter of Captain John Rogers? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, she died in Texas what time? A I don't remember.

Q Can't you guess at it? A Oh, I could guess.

Q Give your best recollection? A About '58 or '59, or no, '46 or '48; I don't say positive, just guessing at it.

Q How old a boy were you then? A I was born in '42.

Q Have you any distinct recollection of her? A No, sir.

Q Have you any recollection of all the children of Sam and Pollie Dawson; that is, your father, uncles and Aunts? I didn't see all of them.

Q Do you know by family history the names of all of them? A Yes,
sir.

Q Will you give them to me?

A Betsey Ann Dawson, I believe her name was.

Q Did she marry a Petty? A Yes, sir; the next is Robert Dawson.

Q Your father? A Yes, sir.

Q Next one? A I think the next was James Dawson, and I think the next one was a girl, Edna Dawson.

Q Did he have two daughters? A Yes, sir.

Q Well sir? A The next one was Joe Dawson; I never saw him; Riley
Dawson.

- Q What is Samuel I. Dawson, Riley Dawson? A Yes, sir.
Q Any other names? A That is all I know anything about.
Q Did he have any child by the name of John? A Yes, Jack.
Q Didn't you see Jack misplaced with Joe? A No, it was Joe; I heard my father speak of him.
Q How many have seven children? A I never see them all.
Q How many of them did you ever see? A I see uncle Riley Dawson and John Dawson and Jack Dawson and Betsy Ann Petty; I don't think I see but one of Pa's sisters and brother, they went to Mississippi.
Q How many of your family history says that the mother of your mother, Pottie Foster's name was? A We have no history.
Q How many of them is brought down to you; did you ever see anybody else?
Q What your great grandmother's name was? A No, I don't remember.
Q What about another man, Oliver Miller that testified in your case?
A He testified in James Dawson's case; he never testified in my case.
Q Well, didn't anybody testify in your case but Dr. Baker?
A Yes, sir, several other witnesses.
Q Who were they? A I don't remember; my mother and then father and grandma Samsel oh, old people.
Q How many of them? A No, sir.
Q You were only present when Dr. Baker testified? A Yes, sir.
Q Now, do you find any mistakes in Dr. Baker's statement there?
A I could not say all of them was correct or not, part of it is correct.
Q What part is correct? A My about knowing the family over there.
Q Who is Buck Dawson? A My brother.
Q What is his name? A He always called Mr. Buck, it is Albert, Dawson.
Q Who went with you the first time you went up to make application for citizenship do you remember? A With my brother.
Q The first time? A I met my brother in Texas.
Q Which one? A E. Dawson.
Q What is Albert or Buck? A Yes, sir.
Q You were living in Arkansas? A Yes, sir.
Q And he was living in Texas? A Yes, sir, and another one of little brothers, Dr. Dawson now.
Q Dr. Dawson now? A Yes, sir.
Q What is his name? A James.
Q And you three men, the other? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKenyon: Applicants by their counsel object to all the statement of the witnesses relating to the testimony introduced before the Cherokee Citizenship Commission, and the history of the family as detailed by him, because the same is incompetent and irrelevant, and cannot be used for the purpose of impeaching the integrity of the judgment of said Commission, or either of the Commissioners in admitting members of the Dawson family.

Commission: The objection of the Attorney for the applicants to the testimony above will be noted. The same will be filed and noted for what it is worth.

(Attorney for applicants waives examination.)

C. H. TAYLOR, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Who was your name? A G. E. Taylor.

Q Where do you reside, Mr. Taylor? A In near Coffeyville.

Q Were you an attorney before various citizenship Courts along in the State of Oklahoma the Cherokee Nation at Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q Was your attorney for E. L. Dawson commonly known as Bud Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q Were you present at the taking of testimony in that case? A No, sir; I wasn't present.

Q Do you know who composed the court that decided the case at that time? A Yes, sir.

Q Who were they? A Tom Tehee and Alex Wolfe and Tony Thompson.

Q Do you know whether or not they were all there when the case was decided? A No, sir, there were only two of them present.

Q Which two? A Tehee and Wolfe.

Q Who was the clerk of the Court at that time? A Mr. Duncan, D. A. C. Duncan.

Q Do you know what witnesses were used in the case of Bud Dawson? A No, sir; no; I was the attorney in the case and the evidence had already been filed before the Court.

Q When did you take it on? A I was only called in as an attorney at the-- Well, Mr. Duncan came down there, and Mr. Bryant had the case and several other attorneys had the case and he employed me.

Q Did you read the evidence in his case? A No, sir.

Q Did you deliver any money? A Now, I was the attorney in the case and I don't think it would be right for me to make any statement.

Q Now, you have claimed your privilege, I ask that you answer the question? Did Dawson ever send you any money with the direction to give it to one or member of the Court or the Clerk of the Court, D. A. C. Duncan, and if so state the amount? A I had a great deal of trouble over this matter.

Commissioner: Just answer the question, Mr. Taylor.

A Being the attorney I don't believe it is right for me to answer that question.

Commissioner: Do you refuse to answer? A Yes, sir.

Q Did the matter to which you object to testifying occur prior to the rendition of the decision admitting to citizenship or afterwards? (No response)

COMMISSIONER BRECKINRIDGE:

Q Do you desire to reply to the last question? A I don't think it is right; I was attorney in the case.

Mr. Taylor, do you object to answering that question? A Yes, sir.

Q You refuse to answer that question, do you? A I had rather not answer it.

Q Either answer it or say you won't answer it? A I had rather not answer it.

Mr. Taylor, you have answered a number of questions down to this point, but it is at this point that you prefer to plead your privileges, as an attorney, do you? A Yes, sir.

Comm'r Breckinridge: The power in regard to these matters is lodged in the United States. The Court is clothed with special power with reference to matters that arise through this Commission. Of course the Commission desires and the Government needs for the making of a correct roll the fullest information possible, but it is subject to the limitations of law, and it is not for this Commission to decide of the law in a matter of this character with any authority as I understand it at this time, and to report the matter to the United States Court and let the Court pass judgment.

Under Section 21 of the Cirtis law as it is commonly called Act of June 231898, the members of the Commission shall in performing all duties required of them by law, have authority to administer oaths, examine witnesses and read for papers and persons, and the court is clothed with authority to enforce obedience. The law having enumerated certain powers goes on to say so far as all others are concerned to enable said Commission to take rolls as herein required, and to punish anyone who may in any manner or by any means obstruct said work. Now, the Commission will report the facts to the United States Court and let the Court decide whether or not you are within your lawful privilege. It seems that you refuse to answer questions, or at least one question, which tends to establish as to whether or not you are claiming what is commonly considered a matter of privilege--according to an authority referred to by an attorney, but the enforcement of an answer seems clearly to be a matter for the Court to deal with.

Q Now, Mr. Taylor, in regard to the last question asked you by Mr. Hutchings, one of the Counsel for the Cherokee Nation, I direct that you make answer, and if you refuse I shall report the matter to the United States Court; do you refuse? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, you have read to you, Mr. Taylor, the first of the two questions propounded to you by Mr. Hutchings, and which you declined at the time to make answer; viz: as to whether Mr. Dawson sent you money to pay to the Court or to any of the judges of the Court, it seems to come to the question as to whether there was any collusion between you and Mr. Dawson and any member of the Court; now, I understand that you refuse to answer that question upon the grounds that you were Mr. Dawson's attorney? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, I require that you answer that question, do you refuse?
A Yes, sir.

Q I shall also report that refusal to the United States Court as it seems to come under the provision of law, relating to conspiracy between you and Mr. Dawson which apparently considered a privilege matter, and you base your refusal now, not upon the ground that you are incriminating yourself, but that you were counsel for Mr. Dawson. I will report the matter to the Court and you will be informed at the time of any proceedings in the matter I caution you not to talk with Mr. Dawson or any of the applicants in this case.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants do not object and have not objected to the witness answering on account of his privilege as an attorney or for any other cause whatever, they only want to object to the incompetence and irrelevancy of the testimony, with the privilege of cross-examining upon any testimony given by the witness.

COM'R BRECKINRIDGE:

Q You still refuse having the consent of the attorneys in the case to make answer? A I will just ask your Honor to let the matter go over until morning.

Commissioner Breckinridge: It will rest until in the morning at its present status; it is after business hours now.

As for the objection made by Captain McKennon, Counsel for the applicant, it will be taken into consideration, but will not be granted at the present.

(The Commission adjourns until 1:30 P. M. to-morrow afternoon, March 13, 1903.)

Department of the Interior,
Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes,
Fort Gibson, I. T., March 18, 1902.

SUPPLEMENTAL TESTIMONY in the matter of the enrollment of FRENCH H. DAWSON ET AL., as citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

SAMUEL H. BENGE, being duly sworn, testified as follows as part of the Cherokee Nation:
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A Samuel H. Benge.
Q Where do you reside? A Fort Gibson.
Q How old are you? A I am 72 years old, born in 71.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; Cherokee by blood.
Q State what official position you have held in the Cherokee Nation and set your general connection with the Nation officially in the last 40 years? A Well, I had several; I have been Sheriff, Councilman, Senator, Delegate to Washington; had a hand in making the treaty of 1868, I am the only one living that signed that treaty;
President of the National Council of different tribes of Indians.
Q Were you acquainted with F. H. Dawson, commonly called Bud
Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.
Q State your connection with and what you know about his citizenship case before what is known as the Thomas Tehee Citizenship Court?
A Mr. Dawson came down, I was living down below here, he come and employed me to tend to his case and we went to Tahlequah, I believe if I ain't mistaken in 1881 and filed his case there; we went several times and continued his case on for the want of evidence, and finally while we was up there we run across one old darkey by the name of Tosh Rogers; we got his testimony and after we got that testimony we concluded that it was sufficient to go into the trial with. Tosh lived here at Fort Gibson, he was a horse trainer down here and stayed here; he claimed that he know the Rogers and belonged to one of them and after what we thought we had sufficient evidence we submitted our case to the court for trial, and the court went to work and rendered a decision against Mr. Dawson.
I told Mr. Dawson right there that "our case is dough", just made that remark, and he just made the remark "never mind", and next morning they taken up his case again and they rendered a decision in his favor. I filed no motion nor any evidence at all whatever; I give the case up right there and the decision was then given in his favor, and on our way back from Tahlequah, why we got to talking about the case and I told him: "it was a pretty hard blow when they rendered that decision against us." He said: "yes, but Duncan was the man to reach", but he reached his with five hundred dollars.
Q What position did Duncan occupy? A He was Clerk of the Court.
Q Duncan an educated man or-? Yes, sir; he was an educated man.
Q Who were the members of the Court? A Tom Tehee, Alex Wolfe and Tom Thompson.
Q How many of those could speak English at all? A One.
Q Which one? A Thompson.
Q Who was the Attorney that represented the Nation in those cases?
A Why Sankers.

Q At what time did you see Mr. A. Wilson Sanders? A Wilson Sanders?
A Wilson Sanders.

Q Was he an educated man, or could speak English well? A No, sir.

Q How did you know anything about the officers having cost him a part of the money? A He said it had cost him a part of it.

Q How did you hear of it on the way back about the opening up of the case, I mean, sir? A He asked me if I thought the case was worth anything eventually and I told him I didn't know.

Q Now, Mr. Starr:

Q Did you ever act as a witness in the Dawson case, Judge, in any of your previous obligations? A I have been made since that time? A I don't know that you might call it a witness; that you may have come to be made a witness, and asked me to help him up there that the case was going against him, but my father said all was about nothing and I interrupted and went home. I could there be a witness. I was not a witness but I was not a witness for him.

Q That was Mr. Sanders, wasn't it? A Yes, sir.

Q How many conversations with Mr. Sanders since that time do you remember, I mean, I don't recollect, I might have had conversations with him.

Q Well, after the Dawsons' case began taking a census of the people and when they were about Sallisaw down here, did you have conversation with him here in Fort Gibson about the matter?

Q Now, I just can't tell you; I have seen him on several occasions,
but the conversations we might have had I can't state.

Q To refresh your memory I will ask you if he did not tell you that they were making a fight on the Dawson family and he wanted to know if you whether that judgment in favor of Robert Dawson's family was fairly rendered, and did you not then tell him that it was all right, that it was fairly obtained? A Not as I recollect of; all he said; that is as I have stated he talked to me in regard to his father, himself and probably his brothers and sisters, I don't recollect how many there were, but he told me they were rejected,
that is just the words he used.

Q Where? A It has been sometime ago.

Q Here in Fort Gibson? A Well, that is I saw him here in Fort Gibson, and on I saw him in Tahlequah.

Q Well, did you here in Fort Gibson ask you particularly about the Robert Dawson judgment, as to whether it was fairly obtained or not?

A No, sir; he was basing his claim on the Dawson case, that is the way he-

Q What is the principal Dawson family? A Yes.

Q When was this other written statement here made, when was this made by you? (referring to affidavit heretofore referred to.)

A Yesterday I reckon.

Q Who came to take this? A Mr. Starr.

Q Who else was present when this was taken? A No, sir.

Q How had you told about this matter, Judge? A No one as I know of.

Q Do you know how it was that they knew that you know this?

A No, sir.

Q You never made any statement? A Never made any statement that I recollect of except I might have talked with Scates, he and him talked about these cases a good many times; if I ever made a statement it was to Joe Ab Scates.

Q How did Mr. Starr know? A I could not tell you how Mr. Starr knew.

- Q How did you come along here on a military public? A He came alone here on a military public. All he said when he came, he says "we understand you know something in regard to these cases", I said "what?" and he went to work and named Shoemaker case and Dawson case. Q How did you make this statement? A He said he wanted to talk to me.
- Q You certain Judge that after the rendition of that judgment you came back here to Fort Gibson with you?
- A Yes, sir, we was together.
- Q Did he call you if it was not a very cold day when he came here and you went over ahead of you and you went over to Tahlequah the day after the other he left? A My recollection was he and I returned here together? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he not leave you there and go back direct to Arkansas?
- A No, sir, we came here together. If my memory serves me right, it might be mistaken but then I don't believe I am, he came from Rogers Falls up here to my house, that is according to his statement.
- Q What amount of fee did they pay you? A I don't know as that is in connection with the case whatever the money they paid is.
- Q How did they pay you? A Paid me the money.
- Q Who paid it to you? A Dawson there and that fellow, young Bellor paid me some.
- Q Mr. Graham? A Yes.
- Q At the same time? A Oh, no, he wanted me to intercede for him at Tahlequah and paid me to do something for him which I did.
- Q I will ask you if Mr. F. E. Dawson here did not obtain two copies of the judgment one of which you sent in a letter in which you wrote to his brother living in Texas and that brother in Texas, the one they called Buck, didn't send you $50 that they paid you? A No, I never got a letter of Buck whatever you might call him, I don't recollect it and if I ever got a nickel from him I don't recollect it. Q Did you paid me what money I got from it. I don't know nothing about his brothers; he told me he had an uncle living over in Arkansas, but not living down in Texas, I don't know about it.
- Q Where did he pay you the money? A Paid it here at home.
- Q Before you went out? A He paid me fifty dollars before we went down and when we went up yonder he paid me fifty dollars more; I don't want to know what I got, I got one hundred dollars.
- Q Was he acting as his attorney in the case? A Yes, sir.
- Q How many judges were there present when the judgment was rendered in his case?
- A Yes, sir. A Well, according to my recollect there was all there, but if they were not all there, Tom Thompson was sick. Q Who and Wolfe.
- Q Don't you remember that they were all present? A No, I think they were present though.
- Q Who else was present at the time? A Oh, I could not tell you, there were several people in the house; could not tell you at all.
- Q Were there several in the house the evening before the judgment was rendered against them as you say? A Yes, there were several in the house.
- Q And several in the house when the judgment was rendered the next day? A I don't know how many there was.
- Q Do you remember the names of any of them? A Why not exactly, mostly full bloods.
- Q How long did you remain out at Tahlequah on that trip?
- A I guess I was there about three days.

Q Working to this case alone, did you have other cases? A No, sir.

Q Do you know of your own knowledge that the judges received any money (this question asked at the instance of Mr. Graham Present)

A I don't know whether the judges received nay or not.

---ooo000ooo---

I, J. O. Rosson, do hereby certify upon my official oath, as stenographer to the Commission to the Five Civilized Tribes that I correctly recorded the testimony had this day in the above case, and that the foregoing is a true and complete transcript of my stenographic notes thereof.

(Signed) J. O. Rosson.

March 18, 1902. Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of counsel for applicants.

Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. H. TAYLOR takes the stand and continues his testimony.
BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q Mr. Taylor, you said you would consider the matter yesterday and let us know whether you would answer those questions today; have you decided what you would do about the matter? A Well, it is like this, of course I don't want to be held as in contempt of the Court.

Q You would be held in contempt and the other Court would make you answer? A That being the case of course I would make a statement.

Q Are you acquainted with D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of what is known as the Tehee Citizenship Commission Court? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you ever have any conversation with him about letting him know of the different character of cases that would come up before the Court that you knew of, whether they were good ones or bad ones? A No, the only thing that ever come up in that respect; he asked me if whatever large cases that would come up before the Court to let him know.

Q Did you have any talk with him about the Dawson case during the progress of its trial or before and ever introduced Mr. F. M. Dawson to him, or carry him to him? A I spoke to him when Mr. Dawson came to Tahlequah to see about his case, and he said that he would take the papers over to his room, the Dawson papers.

Q Did you see him again that night? A Yes, sir; after supper I went down to his room.

Q Did he ask you about the Dawsons or Dawson case? A He asked me where Dawson was.

Q Which Dawson are you referring to now, F. M. Dawson, known as Bud Dawson? A Bud Dawson.

Q Well, what did you reply to him? A I told him that I thought he had gone to church.

Q Did you find Dawson after church? A Yes, sir, he told me to come and bring Dawson down and I did so; Dawson was in church.

Q You carried Dawson to him? A Yes, sir.

- Q Did you remain during the conversation? A Only a minute.
- Q What was said if naything while you were present? A Mr. Duncan spoke to Mr. Dawson and says "there is a hitch in your evidence."
- Q Go ahead and state what else he said? A He said "if that was straightened out it would be all right," and I turned and went away, I says, "gentlemen, I will go home."
- Q Did you know of their having any other conversation or communication after that? A No, sir.
- Q You left them there together yourself? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did Mr. Dawson give you any directions the next morning about submitting the case? A Yes, sir, he asked me to call it up the case.
- Q The next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Had there been any additional evidence offered? A No, sir; there was not additional testimony offered.
- Q He told you the next morning to call up the case? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he call up and submitted the next morning? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, how many of the members of the Court were there present that morning? A There were only two, two full-blood Indians.
- Q Could they speak english at all? A Tehee could talk a little, talk some.
- Q Did that Court have open sessions all the time or what is called executive sessions sometimes? A Well, I don't remember about that; it was generally when the case was submitted the attorneys would go out. ~~The parties would go out and they would determine the case.~~
- Q Well, did they go out i to that sort of executive session the next morning on the Dawson case? A Well, he went out when the case was submitted.
- Q And was the decision rendered that morning in their favor?
- A Yes, sir.
- Q Who notified you of the decision of the Court? A Why, Mr. Dawson.
- Q Do you remember whether he went out with you or was in there during the consideration of the case? A I think he went out with me.
- Q Did you at any time thereafter receive any money, checks or other evidence money from Mr. Dawson with direction to turn it in part over to D. W. C. Duncan, the Clerk of that Court? A Mr. Dawson gave me 20 dollars and said he would send the balance in a short time, said he would send some more money in a short time.
- Q Well, did he send any money afterwards? A Yes, sir, in the course of ten days or two weeks he send a hundred dollar check, draft.
- Q What did he direct you to do with it? A He directed me to give D. W. C. Duncan half of it.
- Q Did you give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did he send you any at any other time after that? A Well, in the course of a couple of weeks he sent me a hundred dollars more.
- Q Did he direct you to turn any of that and if so how much, to D. W. C. Duncan? A He told me to give him half of it,
- Q Did you give him half of it? A I did, sir.
- Q Do you remember whether on Dr. Arthur Baker was the principal witness in behalf of the Dawson case? A No, sir, I don't because I never had any connection with the case, but I heard that he was a witness in the case.
- Q No argument was made when you submitted the case? A No, sir.
- Q Just submitted it on the testimony? A Yes, sir.
- MR. McKENNON:
- Q Are you a dtizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; I was bo n in the old Nation.

- Q When did you come to the Cherokee Nation? A Come here in 1855.
- Q How long have you been practicing law in the Cherokee Nation?
- A I think since '68.
- Q You have done a great deal of citizenship business haven't you?
- A Yes, sir.
- Q You were in the United States Court at Fort Smith on charges in regard to the citizenship business? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you convicted there? A Yes, sir; I was convicted there on this very case.
- Q And served a term of what length? A I was sent to the jail hospital for sixty days and I stayed in about 38 or 39 days, and I was released.
- Q When was that? A I don't remember how long ago it has been.
- Q You say it was in regard to this case? A Yes, sir; this case was the bone of contention; Clem Rogers and the Chief, they are the ones that had me arrested, carried to Fort Smith.
- Q Well, now, were you charged with an offense against the law in this case, or was it in regard to some other case? A Well, it was in regard to using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
- Q Sending out propositions and obtaining cases for citizenship for people of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir, it was for answering correspondence.
- Q Not relating to this case at all? A Well, this was the main charge, Clem Rogers went before the Court there and stated that I had got in at least three hundred Dawsons, that they were white people and not entitled to citizenship and that was the main trouble.
- Q Well, now, was the charge based upon that or was it based upon your letters you sent out to other people? A That was the charge for using the mail for fraudulent purposes.
- Q The use of the mails for fraudulent purposes not in connection of this case was it? A Not particular of this case.
- Q Then the trouble you had was the prejudice of Clem Rogers and others caused by your connection with the Dawson case; that is what you mean to say? A Yes, sir.
- Q Why did you say because you were charged with an offense based upon this case? A Well, the prejudice grew out of this case.
- Q Now, then, you had full conversation with the representatives of the Cherokee Nation as to your testimony in this case, did you not before you came on the stand? A Yes, sir.
- Q You had told them of these particulars before you came on the witness stand did you not? A Yes, sir.
- Q Yet when you came on the stand you assumed to have conscientious scruples as to answering as to matters which occurred between you and your client, Bud Dawson, in relation to this matter and declined to answer claiming your privilege as an attorney did you not? A Yes, sir; I didn't want to make a statement at all in the matter.
- Q You had voluntarily made a statement to the representatives of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; I had stated to Mr. Hastings; he summoned me and I come down here and I didn't want to make a statement to him but he insisted.
- Q He had no power to compel you to make a statement? A No, sir.
- Q You could then make it very freely and your conscience isn't hurt you, but when you came on the stand you were very conscientious about it? A I didn't want to make a statement at all unless I would be put in jail here if I didn't.
- Q But you had armed them with information by which they could ask you these questions when you came on the stand? A I had told Mr. Hastings.

Q You knew when you gave him that information that you would be brought on the stand as a witness, did you not, by reason of that?

A No, I didn't know that I would be compelled to make a statement in the matter, a sworn statement.

Q You thought you would not be compelled to answer?

A I didn't think the law would compel me to make a statement.

Q Why then did you make a statement to him about it? A Oh, he was asking me about it, and I told him that I didn't want to make a statement, and I didn't for quite a while after I came down here.

Q When the enrollment division of the Dawes Commission was in Tahlequah, in the winter of 1900, did you not there meet F. M. Dawson and did you not then and there say to him "I told Shoemaker I would be for him if he would employ me in his case and if he didn't I would be against him, and the same to you?" A No, sir; I said to him this; I says that if there is not something done that I will likely be summoned against you and Mr. Shoemaker both.

Q What did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant this, I just left the matter with him to say what he wanted to do in the matter; I only spoke a word or two about it. I was going out of town just as he came in.

Q When you told him if something was not done you would be summoned as a witness against him; what did you mean by that? A Well, I just meant that the chances were that the Nation would summon me against him.

Q What did you mean by the expression "if there was not something done" that you would be summoned as a witness?

A Well, I meant this, if I was re-employed in the matter if he was to have a case and I was re-employed I would not be required.

Q You could be required to make a statement as to declarations made to you by your client to you an one instance, but if a little more money was put up you could not be required to make a statement; is that what you mean? A I didn't think I could be forced to make a statement at all in the matter.

Q Why did you make that expression to him "if something wasn't done you might be summoned as a witness" if you believed you could not be made to make a statement? A I meant if I was employed in the case.

Q If he would put up you would not testify? A That they could not force me to testify.

Q About the month of February, 1901, in the town of Wagoner, Indian Territory, did you not send your son to get Graham to come to the hotel at night, and did you not then and there say to Sid Graham; "you people are on the doubtful list and if you will give me $500. I will make it all right and see that you are enrolled and if you don't I will see that you don't get on?" A No, sir; I got a letter from Sid Graham in which he asked me to certify that the case was all right and after I met him I told him that I could not do it, that the case was crooked, he then said to me, he says, "I will give you a hundred dollars", he says "will you take a hundred dollars," I said "no, sir." I didn't make any bid, that is I didn't set no price with him.

Q You did not say to him then what I have embraced in that question there? A No, sir.

Q You did have a conversation with him about that time and at that place, did you not? A Yes, sir.

Q You say you didn't make any bid or set any price? A No, sir; he offered me a hundred dollars.

Q Why did you send for him to come to the hotel? A In answer to his letter.

A Did you not see yesterday morning on the street in Muskogee, Indian Territory, in a conversation with W. H. Shoemaker say to him: "You have made a great mistake in not keeping in your employment and so have the Dawsons and it will go hard with you and you will see it?" No, sir; I says to Mr. Shoemaker, I says: "who have you employed in your case," and he says "Judge Thomas and Mr. Owen." I said "It might have been a advantage to you if you had retained me in your matter;" Well, he says "there was nothing wrong in my case" and I says "no, there is nothing wrong on earth in your case that I know of." He said all he wanted was justice and I said "I don't know a thing on earth against you," and I says "there is not a thing on earth wrong in your case as I know it came so fairly and squarely and decided in your favor."

Q You said nothing to him about the Dawson case? A Yes, I said to him "it might have been well if the Dawsons had retained me in their case." I said "I am summoned on the part of the Nation and I don't want to make a statement and I wont if I can possible avoid it."

Q Was that before or after you talked with Mr. Hastings, the representative of the Nation? A It was afterwards.

Q You meant by that if you had refused to answer you could have been in jail? A No, sir; if they had employed me before and I had not now.

Q You mean that if they had employed you before had you would not have given this information to Mr. Hastings? A I would not be required, being the attorney.

Q Were you required to give him the information; did you know that you had to give him any information? A Who do you mean.

Q Mr. Hastings. A I did refuse him and he insisted.

Q Well, he no authority to compel you to do it? A No, sir; I don't know whether he did or not.

Q As a lawyer you know that he did not have authority to compel you to make a statement to him? A I told him that I was an attorney in the case and I didn't want to make any statement at all.

Q Why did you do it? A Well, he intimated to me it would go further. He said to me "I will not make this matter — I will not use it;" that is, what I stated to him was part in confidence.

Q And he pledged you his word that it would not be used? A Well, he said he could make a statement in confidence, and that I didn't want to make a statement before the Court.

Q Well, what did he reply, as you said just now? A Oh, he says "I made the statement and then I told him—I regretted very much to do it, and I regret very much to make a statement here. I tried to avoid it yesterday."

Q You stated just now that he said it would not be used; did he say that or not? A Well, something to that amount; oh, he says it would make any difference or something to that effect.

Q Now, don't you know that Mr. Hastings did not intimate to you that the statement he was asking you to make would not be used?

A Well, I didn't think that I could be forced to make a qualified statement before the Court here, because I thought my license would protect me in that matter.

Q Yet it did not protect you or prevent you from making a statement to the attorneys for the Nation? A No, sir.

Q Now, in this conversation with Shoemaker to which I before referred did you not ask him to again employ you and tell him if he would you would make it all right for him? A No, sir; I didn't say that; no, I said if he had employed me in the matter "maybe it would have been better for you." Now, he offered me when I was down here last week, he offered me five dollars to go down and talk with his lawyers on the matter, I didn't go I was busy.

- Q That was not your price? A No, no, I had nothing to say in his case that would be to his advantage; I knew nothing against him.
- Q Now, then, you say that your were present on the morning that the judgment was rendered in favor of the Dawsons? A I was not in the Court house.
- Q You were present in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long had you been at Tahlequah? A I was living there at that time.
- Q When were you first employed by them? A By Dawsons?
- Q Yes, sir. A The evening before the case was tried.
- Q You say that after the judgment was rendered Dawson handed you $20? A Yes, sir.
- Q And told you to hand to Duncan? A No, sir.
- Q What was your statement? A That he paid me $20 and says "I will send you some more in a short time, week or so.
- Q And then he sent you $100? A Yes, sir.
- Q And wrote you to give D. W. C. Duncan $50 of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q And then sent you another $100 and told you to give him half of it? A Yes, sir.
- Q How much did they pay you? A Well, that was the agreement, was that he would pay me $50 a family.
- Q How much did he pay you? A I think there was $250; now I am not sure about the $50, but it appears to me like there was a $50 sent, and Mr. Duncan asked me, as well as I remember, says "have you got a letter from Dawson," I told him "yes, sir." It was either that or the $100, and he says "I would like to have some money", and I went to Stapler's and got it changed-- I won't be sure about it being $50 or $100--I went to Stapler's and got him to cash the check and give him his part of it.
- Q How much did they pay you for your services? A That is all I got.
- Q How much? A I think it was $100, $120.
- Q What did you do for them? A Didn't do a thing only called up the case and submitted it; never read the evidence.
- Q Submitted it without remarks? A Yes, sir.
- Q And for that you say they paid you $120? A Yes, sir; $120.
- Q Was Houston Benge present when that was done? A No, sir; I don't think he was.
- Q Did you see him then at that time in Tahlequah? A I don't remember.
- Q Were you associated with him in any manner in connection with the case? A No, sir.
- Q You had a great deal of business of that character, have you before the Courts? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you paid like fees in other cases for like services? A Yes, sir.
- Q In many of them? A Yes, sir, good many.
- Q All like cases? A Oh, citizenship cases.
- Q When was it you were in jail at Fort Smith? A I don't remember; Mr. Hallett can remember, he was there, he was my attorney.
- Q Was it about 1863? A It was somewhere along there, along in 1890 somewhere.
- Q That has been your principal business as a lawyer, has it not? A Yes, sir.
- Q You have never practiced much in any other way have you? A Very little.
- Q Were you in the habit of working your cases through in the same manner in which you state you worked this through? A No, sir.

Q This was an exception was it? A I never worked this case through. I simply called the case up by request of Mr. Dawson. I read the evidence; don't know what proof there was in it; he just asked me to call the case up.

Q And he agreed to pay you $50 a family for doing that? A Yes, sir.
Q Was that what you required of him? A That is what he agreed to pay. I says "what will you give?" He says "I will give you $50 a family."

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q At the same time that the attorney for the Nation was talking to you about the Dawson case he also made inquiries about the Shoemaker case didn't he? A Yes, sir.

Q And you told him at that time before you knew anything about whether you would be made or compelled to testify that so far as you knew there was nothing you knew detrimental to the Shoemaker case? A Yes, sir; that is what I said.

Q You told him at the same time that you not only expected to claim your privilege as an attorney in the case, but that you told him, Mr. Hastings, with the full belief that the Court would sustain your position? A Yes, sir.

Mr. McKennon: That is very leading.

Q Now, did you think that the re-employment, being the attorney in the pending case would strengthen your position or weaken it, when you spoke to Mr. Dawson? A What I thought in the matter was before ever I would be summoned in the matter, a long time ago, that if I had been employed in the matter of course my position would have been such that I would not have been required or could not have been forced.

Q Did you think under those circumstances that Mr. Hastings would approach you about the subject? A No, sir; I don't think I would be forced to, having license to practice law.

Q Did Mr. Hastings tell you at the time that he was going to put you on the stand? A Yes, sir.

Q And let the Court decide? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Now, have you a license to practice in the United States Courts? A Yes, sir.

Q In the Territory? A Yes, sir.

Q And also in the Indian Courts? A Yes, sir; do you want to see them?

JAMES W. LEWIS, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name please? A J. W. Lewis.

Q James W. Lewis? A Yes, sir.

Q Where is your postoffice, Mr. Lewis? A Afton.

Q How old are you? A 73 years old.

Q What is your business? A I work at the tin business and gun work.

Q Do you know one James Dawson, the brother of P. H. Dawson and the other Dawsons? A I know old man James Dawson.

Q That is the one I mean, old man James Dawson? A Yes, sir; I know him.

Q How long have you known him? A Well, more four or five years.

I guess.

Q How long? A Four or five years I think.

Q When did you come to the country? A I have been in the country 10 or 12 years.

Q Well, when did he come to the country, do you know? A About about somewhere in eighty if I recollect right, might have been later than that.

Q How did you happen to be acquainted with? A He lived right close by me and I built a house for him.

Q Did you have any conversation with him at the time you built that house? A Yes, several different times.

Q About how he became a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, about the circumstances? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he make any statement to you about the use of money in getting his citizenship, and if so, state what he said?

A Well, he told me that it cost him $700 to get his rights.

Q Didn't tell you to whom he paid it? A No, he didn't and I didn't ask any questions.

P. R. MCKENNON:

Q How old was he at that time, do you know? A I do not know exactly, just have been somewhere near about 70 years old, he might have been older than that, I don't know.

Q He was a very old and feeble man? A Yes, he was old and feeble.

Q He seldom ever got out away from his house? A No, sir, only short distance.

Q When you first knew him he was that kind of man? A Yes, sir.

J. L. CLINKENBEARD, being duly sworn, testified as follows on behalf of the Cherokee Nation:

P. R. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A J. L. Clinkenbeard.

Q What is your post office address? A Vinita.

Q How old are you? A 50.

Q Were you ever an applicant for citizenship before the Three Citizenship Court in Tahlequah? A Yes, sir.

Q About what time was that? A September '81, I think.

Q Did you meet there about that time, one Elbert or Buck Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q How did you happen to meet him? A He and I stopped at the same place, man's by the name of Sharbow.

Q You and he stopped there, did you, board there? A Yes, sir.

Q Well, did you have any talk about citizenship cases, yours and his? A

A Yes, sir.

Q Where did he state that he was from? A Texas.

Q Well, state what you can remember of the conversation between you from time to time about citizenship in the Cherokee Nation?

A Well, we were there on the same business and we talked about it at different times, and in talk about the evidence we had there

I, of course, told him how many witnesses I had and what I could prove and so on, and he said that he didn't have but one witness, Dr. Baker from Arkansas, a man that was 85 or 90 years old, he said, and he hadn't come and said he was to have met him there, but he didn't come.

Q Well, what did he say about the doctor's looking anything?

A Well, he said he was 85 or 90 years old and didn't look straight up.

Q Well, did he say anything about giving him whisky?

A Well, he said he could give him four drinks of Arkansas whisky and he would swear that black was white.

- Q Now, he says something about money would do in Texas or Indian Territory? A Well, in talking about the evidence, he said that money would make the sure go down in Texas and he said "I come to get the far of the land" and he says "I found out it got here," or words to that effect.
- Q Did he say what he had to spend on the question? A Well, he said that he could stand a thousand dollars on it and not be hurt very much; finally he said he could stand more than that.
- Q What did he tell you what he thought about the necessity of witnesses anyhow? A Well, I don't know as he said as to that, but I understood from what he said that he thought money would beat witnesses.
- Q Well, where did he go from there? A He and I left there together; we rode to Muskogee by way of Fort Gibson and there we parted.
- Q Did you ever see him after that? A I saw him about two years or something like that afterwards.
- Q Where? A Vinita.
- Q Did you refer to the citizenship matter? A I asked him how he came out and he said all right.
- Q Was he deformed in any way this man? A He had a crippled hand or stiff finger; I don't remember just what it was now.
- I. H. McKEEENON:
- Q Your first conversation with him was in '01 was it? A Yes, sir.
- Q What time in '01? A September.
- Q You were then an applicant for citizenship? A Yes, sir.
- Q Were you admitted? A No, sir.
- Q You are still an applicant? A No, sir.
- Q You are still working to get in as a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir; haven't quit it entirely.
- Q What business are you in now? A I am running a dairy in Vinita.
- Q When did you make representations now to the representative of the Cherokee Nation? A Well, sir, I haven't; I saw Mr. Hastings I believe here last Saturday the first time.
- Q How did they ever know that you had had those conversations with Mr. Dawson? A I don't know.
- Q You don't know how they found that out? A No, sir.
- Q You say you saw Mr. Hastings here last Saturday? A Yes, sir.
- Q Now, did you approach him or did he approach you? A He approached me.
- Q You know why? A No, sir; I suppose somebody I have told something at some time about this, I don't know when or who. I don't remember of having talked to anyone about it. I have saw Mr. Hastings for years.
- Q Now, you say—how was that expression about his giving Dr. Baker three or four drinks of liquor? A He said the old man; he said that Dr. Baker, he was expecting him there and he didn't come, and he said he didn't care where he did or not; he said he was 85 or 90 years old; he said he didn't know straight up; said he could give him three or four drinks of Arkansas whiskey and he would not know black or white.
- Q Now, he said that didn't he? A Yes, sir.
- Q You are just as positive of that as you are of any other statement he made are you? A Yes, sir.
- Q You say you next saw Dawson at Vinita? A Yes, sir.
- Q How long afterwards was that? A About two years, I think something near that.
- Q Did he move to the Territory? A Yes, sir; he lived at Vinita at one time.

- Q You speak about having a dairy business there at Vinita, to what extent? A I am only milking about four cows now, I sent the others to the country.
- Q Do you run a dairy wagon there? A No, sir.
- Q You serve on the jury a good deal? A I have been serving on the jury there this winter.
- Q Generally? No, sir.
- Q Are you a kind of a professional juror? A No, sir; I was on the regular petit jury, I was on the regular panel and served.

C. G. BRAUGHT, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A C. G. Braught.
- Q What is your age? A 62 29th day of last January.
- Q What is your post office? A Fairland.
- Q How long have you been living in the neighborhood of Fairland? A Living there 19 years.
- Q Do you know one Bud Dawson or F. L. Dawson as his name is? A I do.
- Q How long have you known him? A About 10 years.
- Q How close do you live from him? A Half a mile of him.
- Q Does he still own that place? A I think he does.
- Q Were you an applicant for citizenship along about '01 or '2 or 3 perhaps? A Yes, sir.
- Q Did you have at any time a conversation with Bud Dawson about his citizenship cases? A Yes, sir.
- Q State what he stated to you of citizenship cases in general and about his own in particular, you can state the way that you had these conversations as near as you can? A Well, I think it was in '83, he told me if I ever got in I would have to put up; he said it cost him $700 to get in; he said he paid one witness three hundred dollars.
- Q Did he state the name of that witness? A No, he did not.
- Q Then did he say he made arrangements with? A He said he made arrangements with the Court; that is, heads of families to get them in at one hundred dollars apiece.
- Q Do you know what time of the year that was, whether it was in the summer or not? A I think it was in June.
- Q Did he make any other statements to you at any other time? A No, sir, I don't think he has in regards to that matter.
- Q You have been living neighbors with him? A Yes, sir.

MR. MCKENNON:

- Q You say this was about June of '83? A I think it was in June, 1883, I won't be positive whether it was June or not.
- Q You were an applicant; were you admitted? A No, sir.
- Q Have you been admitted? A No, sir.
- Q You are still an applicant? A Yes, sir.
- Q Still trying to get in? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where was this conversation had? A Had at Bud Dawson's house.
- Q What part of the premises? that is, in his residence? A Yes, sir.
- Q In the house? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was present? A There wasn't anybody present; he just built the house and there wasn't anybody there.
- Q Was there more than one room? A I won't be positive but I don't think there was but one room, log house.
- Q Just one room? A Yes, sir.

Q And in that room he made this statement to you? A Yes, sir.
Q He and you are enemies are you not? A No, I don't think we are enemies.
Q You are not friendly at all? A Friendly part of the time, and part of the time we ain't.
Q Haven't you had considerable trouble about the lands between your farms? A No, sir; we ain't had any trouble.
Q Didn't you have his little boy arrested recently for a difficulty? A Yes, sir.
Q And you say that you are not on bad terms with him? A Why we speak, have conversation, have right right along all the time.
Q Is it not a fact now that you and he have been all the while at odds? A No, sir.
Q You don't have any unkind feeling towards him? A No, sir.
Q What were your other remarks? A I said no, sir, I didn't have any unkind feeling towards him.

(It being 5 o'clock, the Commission adjourns until 3:30 o'clock to-morrow morning.)

March 19, 1902.

Commission convened pursuant to adjournment.

Appearances:

Mr. A. S. McKennon, of Counsel for Applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, of Counsel for Cherokee Nation.

C. G. BRAUGH, re-called, further testified:

MR. MCKENNON:

Q Mr. Braught, you were a claimant under the Watts family are you not? A Yes, sir.
(witness excused.)

CHARLES D. KENNEY, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:
MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Charles D. Kenney.
Q What is your post office? A Dawson now.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes, sir; supposed to be.
Q Recognized as such are you? A Yes, sir.
Q How old are you? A There is no family record, my parents died when I was young, I just guess at my age, I am somewhere between 44 and 45 years old.
Q Were you personally acquainted with one Elbert or Buck Dawson? A I knew Buck Dawson when I saw him.
Q Did you know him in the state of Texas, if so state what time? A I knew Buck Dawson, knew him and saw him at different dates in Texas.
Q Well, in the year '81 in Clay County, Texas, did you ever see him? A It was in '81 or '82, I think I knew him in both years.
Q Did you ever have any conversation with him in the presence of Bill Smith, Jiles Flippin and Joe Fleston about his application for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation? A Mr. Dawson and Flippin were talking in regard to grasping down there before us one time and it was mentioned, I was going up on the strip and Buck Dawson says "he an Indian" and Jiles said "yes, he is an Indian", and "By God," I believe in the way he spoke, "if I was an Indian I would not be punching cattle, I would have stook eating by grass."

Q What did he say about making application? A He said he was going to the Chickasaw Nation and prove up and get him some grass.

Q Who was that? A Buck Dawson.

Q Well, did anybody suggest about his going to the Cherokee Nat on?

A Yes, sir, I told him, I says "why don't you go to the Cherokee Nation, why don't you go up home" I believe in the way I spoke it, "up amongst God's people;" and he says "are they all white like you?" and Jiles spoke up and says "majority of them."

Q Well, what did he say to Jiles then? A He says "let's go up Jiles", just in a whole crowd of cow punchers, and Mr. Flipin says "Hell, I am going; brother John is getting ready to go now."

Q Well, then what did he say to you? A He says "Who are your best lawyers up there, Kemney," and I told him "Hookey Bell was a pretty the brainiest man in our country."

Q Well, do you know whether he claimed to have any Indian blood or what he was claiming in that country, whether white man or Indian?

A No, sir, I could not say what he was; he was generally known down there as Buck Dawson, a citizen of the State of Texas, that is all I know of him.

Mr. McKennon: The applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

Mr. McKennon:

Q Were you born and reared in the Cherokee Nation? A I can't tell you where I was born; I was raised here part of the time and in Rust County, Texas. B. F. Alberty was my guardian.

Q Were you admitted to citizenship by the Council or Court? A I think both of them passed on me; I can't tell you the date.

Q About what time? A It was sometime in '80 though.

Q What tribunal first? A I don't know; I don't know either when I was admitted, I was re-instated at Council.

Q When? A I think it was in '87 or '88.

Q Haven't you been arrested for crime and charged with crime?

A Well, I didn't know that I was on trial; I have been arrested a hundred times I guess from here to the Rio Grande.

Q For what offense? A For gambling, stealing; if I am on trial I have had lots of them, I have been on the road.

MR. HASTINGS, of Council for Cherokee Nation:

Q Were you ever convicted? A No, sir.

Mr. McKennon: Applicant makes further objection to the testimony of this witness on account of his criminal character stated by him.

THOMAS B. BARBART, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name, please? A Thomas B. Barbart.

Q What is your post office? A Melvin.

Q What is your age? A 49.

Q Are you a Cherokee by blood? A Yes, sir.

- Q Did you know one James Dawson? A Well, yes; I did; I have seen him five or six.
- Q Were you in Tahlequah about the time he had an application before the Spears or Snake Paddy Citizenship Court? A Yes, sir; I was there about the time the case was settled.
- Q Did you know Aaron Butler? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was he? A He was a Cherokee Interpreter for the Court.
- Q Do you know James Smith? A Yes, sir.
- Q Who was he? A He was the Nation's attorney before the Court.
- Q Well, did you about that time have a conversation with either Aaron Butler or Jim Smith in company with Mr. James Dawson? A Yes.
- Q State the full particulars of it? A About that time this man Dawson and Butler come to me while they were all together, all three of them, and Butler come and called me off to one side, that was down at a colored church, it was after dark, and they called me off there and this man Dawson borrowed some money from me, he said he had to have it that night, his case was going to be submitted the next morning.
- Q Well, did he say anything about whether he could get his case submitted if he had some more? A Well, from the language to me and Butler, he wanted this money; Smith had agreed to submit the case without further evidence in the matter.
- Q Well, did you let him have the ten dollars? A Yes, sir.
- Q Where did they go then? A They walked off up towards town.
- Q Did they go together, those three? A Yes, sir.
- HI. McKEHNON:
- Q Was that James Dawson, the leading applicant in that case? A Yes, best of my recollection that was.
- Q How old was he? A I don't know; I could not tell you; he looked, I don't know, he might have been—could not tell you just about how old he was.
- Q Well, about how old was he, 25, 30 or 40? A Yes, he was older than that, from my judgment I guess he must have been 45 or 50 years old.
- Q Is he living or dead? A I don't know.
- Q Where have you been living? A I have been living down here near Tahlequah.
- Q What was the man's name, Dawson's name? A Jim Dawson I think.
- Q You are certain of that? A Yes, sir; I am pretty certain.
- Q They came to you with Smith, the Prosecuting Attorney, and Butler, the Interpreter? A Yes, sir.
- Q Dawson took you off to one side? A Butler took me to where Dawson was and introduced me to Dawson and vouched for Dawson being all right for the money.
- Q When did you first make a statement of this matter to anybody? A I guess—I don't remember when.
- Q How long have you been in Muskogee this time? A I have been here since, I was sentenced here last Friday.
- Q Did you ever make any statement to anybody about this before that time? A Yes, I talked to Butler about it.
- Q When? A Oh, about, first I remember it has been about two years ago, and Butler was talking to me about it; it was at my house.
- Q Were you born a citizen? A Yes, sir.
- Q You weren't admitted to citizenship by the courts or Council? A No, sir.
- Q You have been living in the Cherokee Nation all your life? A Well, I was born and raised here; I haven't been here all the time; I have been out and in.

Q You have never seen that man Dawson since? A If I have I have never known it, but I seen him the next day.

Q You saw him and took a good look at him, and know about what kind of man he was? I saw him around there about several times.

Q You think he was about 35 or 40 years old? A That would be my guess at it, my recollection.

Mr. McKemion: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness, all of it, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.

DELIA A. BREWER, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your full name? A My husband's name was O. P. Brewer, but generally I sign my name Mrs. D. A. Brewer.

Q That was your full maiden name? A Delia A. Vann; well it was really Delilah but I never was called by that name, it was De altogether in y yo n; days.

Q What was your father's name? A His name was Joseph Vann.

Q Was he called by any nicknames and if so how many, and what?

A None but the Cherokees, the full-bloods called him Joe Aney.

Q What does that name mean when you talk English? A Rich Joe.

Q Did any of them call him Big Joe Vann? A I don't know;

he was a large man; larger than the other Joe Vann.

Q There was another Joe Vann? A Yes, sir.

Q Did your father have any sisters and brothers? A He had quite a number of sisters.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had two half brothers.

Q Did he have a half sister? A Had several half sisters.

Q Who did they marry? A Different persons; I knew the names of all of them but I have a bad memory, but I know that there was one, a Mrs. Ibbie Wolfe, and Mrs. Lamer, she was first a Mrs. Nicholson and she became a Mrs. Lamer and lived in Alabama and never come to this country, but she has grandchildren in this country.

Q Well, did any of your father's sisters or half sisters ever marry a Rogers? A No, sir.

Q Never had any Rogers kin-folks? A No, sir, I certainly would have heard of them through my family, there was a great many of the kin-folks I never saw, but I heard of them.

Q The Dawson case was talked of here for many years, they claiming him?

A I never knew until I understood they claimed to be kin to the Vanns, and I flatter myself that my family was prominent enough that they never claimed kin.

Q They never claimed kin at all? A No, sir.

Q Did your father ever had a sister or half sister by the name of Annie, Anna or Alsey? A No, sir.

Mr. McKemion: Applicants object to all the testimony of this witness because it is incompetent and irrelevant.

SAMUEL TOLLIVER DAWSON, being duly sworn, testified as follows on part of the Cherokee Nation:

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Samuel Tolliver Dawson.

Q What relation are you to the Dawsons? A Well, I don't know anything with none of these Dawsons, I guess I am cousin, that is what he told me.

Q Who was your father? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What did you say your father's name was? A Riley Dawson.

Q Do you know what his full name was? A Samuel Riley Dawson.

Q What children had your father? A Why, he had got, you hear his first children or his whole family?

Q I don't know all of his children? A I don't know, I will have to count a while on them, there was nine or ten of them.

Q Just one or two of them I care for; is Mrs. Lewis your sister?

A Yes, sir.

Q Your full sister? A Yes, sir.

Q Was she a daughter of S. R. Dawson, Jr.? A Yes, sir.

Q How was she the parents of your father, Samuel Dawson?

A Why Sam Dawson was his father.

Q Sam Dawson was his father? A Yes, sir.

Q What was Sam Dawson's wife, if you know their family history, what your father said or what your grandfather said? A I have heard that at one was a Pruitt, my father said; of course I don't know.

Q What was her given name? A Annie.

Q Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A Yes, sir.

Q Saw him? Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about how old he was when he died? A He was somewhere up about 90.

Q About how old were you when your grandfather died? A I don't remember exactly how old I was, I must have been somewhere near 12 years old when my grandfather died.

Q Was your father his youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Do you know about when your father was born? A Well, no, I don't, he died in '90 and he was 67 years old.

Q He died in about '90 and was about 67 years old when he died?

A Yes, sir.

Q And he was the youngest child? A Yes, sir.

Q Now, do you know how many children your grandfather had, that is brothers and sisters of your father? A I heard him say seven.

Q Well, did you ever hear your father or grandfather speak of whether or not your grandmother was a white woman or an Indian?

A Well, I heard my father speak about it, I don't know but I ever heard my grandmother say anything about it.

Q Well, what did he say about it? A I have heard him say his mother was not an Indian.

Q Did you father come here and apply once for citizenship?

A Yes, sir.

Q Was he admitted? A I think not.

Q Did you hear him make any statements about the ground he expected to get in? A He said his brothers had proved their rights were and if his brothers had any rights he did, but I don't know.

Q Well, in that connection did he say whether his mother was an Indian or white woman? A Never heard him say that his mother was a white woman in speaking about that, I don't know whether he said anything about that or not; I have heard him say his mother wasn't no Indian.

Mr. McKennon: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

applicants.
Mr. W. T. Hutchings, Mr. J. C. Harrison, attorneys for the Cherokee Nation.

ELLA BRASHIERS, being first duly sworn, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q. State your name? A. Ella Brashiers.
Q. What was your maiden name? A. Ella Dawson.
Q. What was your father's name? A. Samuel Riley Dawson.
Q. What was his father's name? A. Samuel.
Q. What was your grandmother's name? So far as you know from family history? A. Her maiden name was Annie Pruett.
Q. Then your father, if I understand you, was the son of Samuel Dawson and Annie Dawson, nee Pruett? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did your father have a brother named Robert, and a brother named James? A. Yes, sir; that is all I was told.
Q. Did he have a sister named Mrs. Petty? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And another one named Mrs. McGee? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And another brother named John? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What relation are you to Mrs. A. S. Lewis? A. Sister.
Q. Did you ever see your grandfather, Samuel Dawson? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you have a distinct recollection of him? A. I, yes, I can remember him, but I'm small.
Q. About how old were you when your grandfather died?
A. About 6.
Q. Was your father's birth recorded in the Family Bible? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you know whether your grandfather's record of marriages and births were recorded in any Bible or not? A. I was, but we haven't it.
Q. What became of it? A. Got burned.
Q. Well, about what year do you remember that your father, Samuel Dawson, was born? A. I believe it was '23.
Q. In 1823? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And how old was he when he died, if you recollect? A. He was between 64 and 70.
Q. Did you ever hear your father speak of his relations, his father and mother, as to whether they were white people or Indians?
A. Yes, sir, they were white people.

Q Now, whether in the family you grandfather was spoken of by name of Annie, always? A Yes, sir.

BY MR. McSHERRY: Applicants object to the testimony of this witness because it is wholly irrelevant and incompetent.

ALMA S. LEWIS, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q State your name? A Alma S. Lewis.

Q What is your post-office? A Dawson, Indian Territory.

Q How old are you? A 59 years.

Q How was your wife's maiden name? A Elizabeth Parale Dawson.

Q How was your wife's father and mother? A Her father was Samuel E. Dawson and her mother was the wife of Samuel E. Dawson, did you want her maiden name?

Q Well, if you know the maiden name of your wife's mother, state how you know it? A Well, she was called Margaret, Margaret Queen was her maiden name.

Q The maiden name of your wife's father's mother? A Why the maiden name of my wife's father's mother?

Q Yes, sir? A From her father-in-law and my father-in-law told me it was Annie Pruett.

Q What is the name of your wife's father's father? A My wife's grandfather on her father's side, Samuel Dawson.

Q And his wife's maiden name was Annie Pruett? A Yes, sir.

Q Did you know that gentleman, Samuel Dawson, your wife's grandfather? A Yes, sir.

Q Personally? A Yes, sir.

Q What opportunities had you of becoming acquainted with him? A He liked his youngest son, my father-in-law, and visited me, my wife and I, after we were married, at intervals quite a while; I lived on my father-in-law and he visited very often.

Q How did he die? A '74.

Q Have you any particular method of recalling that date? A Well, I was away from the house when he was taken sick, and they sent for my wife and myself, and so when I got home my wife had gone to her father's to see her grandfather, he was sick, and I remember my first wife was a baby at that time.

Q And when was your first child born? A He was born December, '75.

Q You back how old your wife's father was when he died? A May be 60 or 61, but I don't remember his age.

Q Did the old original Samuel Dawson ever tell you his age? A Yes, sir, several times.

Q How old was he at the time of his death? A He was 94.

Q Did he ever tell you whether or not his wife Annie Pruett had any sister or brother? A Told me she only had one brother named Bob Pruett.

Q Have any of the members of the family named their children after him? A Make it a little plain, it is a little long; my wife's oldest brother was a particular favorite of his grandfather, and he always took this boy with him everywhere, and he had named one of his, - oldest child for his brother-in-law who was a particular favorite of his grandfather; named it for him I understood.

Q Now, what is his name? A Of course I don't know why he named it, but he gave him the name of Robert Pruett, and I understood it was on account of his grandfather thinking, on account of Robert Pruett.

Q Did you ever hear the old Samuel Dawson speak of his brother-in-law? A Yes, sir; I have heard him say that he wished he knew what had become of Bob Pruett, he never had heard of him for a long

Q: Didn't now here he was, or whether he is alive or not.
A: Now, I want the children of Samuel Dawson and Annie Pruett, how many of them did you know, first? A: How many did I know personally?
Q: Now, sir? A: John James, and Samuel R. Those were the only ones of their children that I remember personally.

Q: Well, remember what you know of the family, and other children you have? A: Well he had two girls, as I understand the family history, he had two girls, first, and John Dawson was the third child, and the oldest boy was John Dawson.

Q: Was John Dawson the oldest boy? A: Yes, sir.
Q: Was she the oldest girl? That is she known by now? A: I think it was Mrs. Patty, not Bessie Dawson.

Q: And John Dawson was the oldest boy? A: Yes, sir.
Q: And Samuel R. Dawson was the youngest boy? A: Yes, sir.

Q: Now, when anything about the time John Dawson was born, have you any recollection about it, the oldest boy? A: Yes, sir, I don't know the oldest boy and his life told me.

Q: How long did he live? A: They said he was born in 1811.

Q: How long did he live? A: Toliver H. Dawson told me his father was born in 1811.

Q: Now, do you remember no name of the old man, or of his wife, or of his wife, Annie Pruett, was an Indian or white woman, or did you know anything about it? A: I know that the old man said that she was, I don't know that I ever heard the question approached in any way, I have heard him speak as to her blood, but it was in a way that I don't remember.

Q: Now, did he say anything about the old man's wife, or of Mrs. Pruett, a white woman; and that her father was Captain John Rogers, a white man who lived with the Cherokee Indians, and married with them.

Q: Did he say who Captain John Rogers afterwards married? A: Said he had a wife in the Cherokee Nation.

Q: But that Annie Pruett was not her child? A: No, sir, she was the child of Mrs. Pruett.

Q: A white woman? A: Yes, sir, that was the half sister of Bob Pruett.

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness, because it is wholly incompetent and irrelevant.
Q: Now, ever you apply for citizenship here? A: Yes, sir; for my wife.
Q: When? A: My sister-in-law made the application, I don't know exactly when it was, I think probably about '86, I couldn't say

Q: On the date.

Q: Before the Cherokee authorities? A: Yes, sir.

Q: Did he file an application before the Dawes Commission in 1896 also? A: Sir.

Q: Yes, sir? A: I don't think he did, no sir.

Q: Did you? A: I did.

Q: On account of your wife? A: Yes, sir.

Q: Did you take affidavit to that application? A: No, sir.

Q: Who did? A: I don't know, don't remember now.

Q: You applied for your wife as an Indian by blood did you not?

A: Yes, sir.

Q: Are you still an applicant? A: No, sir.

Q: Is she? A: No, sir.

Q: She was denied was she? A: Yes, sir.

Q: Was there an appeal taken to that? A: Application was filed if I remember, before the Dawes Commission, and they rejected the case, and then I appealed it to the District Court, and it was rejected there and then I stopped.

- Q Have you ever been arrested for any crime? A Yes, sir.
Q What? A Charge of murder.
Q Anything else? A No, sir.
Q How did you get on the train? A Yes, sir.
Q How did you get on the train robbery? A Yes, sir, in a train robbery.
Q How long did you remain in jail? A Appealed the case to the Court, and it was reversed and sent back, and I was with the rest of the crew.
Q What all the crime you were ever charged with? A Yes, sir.
Q Haven't you been having some trouble with the Dawson family?
A Not personally I have no trouble with any of them, there is one or two boys and one of W. A. Dawson's sons-in-law had some trouble.
Q You are not friendly with the Dawson family? A That son-in-law
Mr. Wooley, and myself, don't speak, and I don't think his wife wants to be with it.
Q Well you are claiming some sort of lease on the Wooley farm, aren't you? A No, sir, I don't claim any lease on the Wooley farm.

B. W. ALBERTY, born, first day of month, being examined,
testified as follows:

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q State your name? A B. W. Alberty.
Q What is your post-office? A Tahlequah.
Q What is your present official position in the Cherokee Nation?
A Assistant Executive Secretary of the Cherokee Nation.
Q As much have you charge of the citizenship records and books etc. of the Nation? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you made search recently for the original records in the various cases of the Dawson family before citizenship courts in Council? A Yes, sir.
Q Have you got what records you found with you? A I find what's supposed to be the original papers in the case, all that I could find. (Produces papers and hands to Nation's attorney.)
Q Where did you find these papers? A I found them in the desk in which papers of that character are filed away in the Executive Office at Tahlequah. (Applicant's attorneys examine papers produced by witness.)

"Now this day comes the above case for final hearing, Samuel R. Dawson, bases his application for readmission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground that he is the son of Samuel Dawson a white man, Polly Rogers the alleged daughter of Captain John Rogers and Chilley Pruitt, and so be a half sister of Joseph Vann, commonly known as Rich and who was of Cherokee blood. It is admitted that John Rogers and Chilley Pruitt died before the roll upon which their names would appear if living at the time and specified in the 7th section of the Act of December 3th, 1866, creating the Commission on Citizenship, was made but in support of the a petition it is alleged that certain members of the Dawson family and full brothers of the applicant were permitted to citizenship by the Commission on Citizenship certainly both of

"The Tehee Court", and the "Spears Court", and are now residing as citizens in the Cherokee Nation. In the opinion of this Commission the sufficiency of the considerations which determined the decision of the Commission of the testimony now introduced to authorize the admission of the present applicant is not relivent to the issue now pending. The 7th section of the Act of December 22d, 1886, before named provides, that "The Commission shall give a hearing to any person applying for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation upon the ground of Cherokee blood or descent, but such applicant must be a person, or the lineal descendant of a person whose name appears upon the census rolls of Cherokees taken by the United States," As are hereafter enumerated. Neither the name of the applicant, nor that of the person of whom he claims to be a lineal descendant appearing upon either of said rolls the Commission adjudge and decree that Samuel R. Dawson and family are not entitled to re-admission to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation as Cherokees by blood. This opinion includes the cases of Andrew J. Dawson, James K. P. Dawson, Journah Barber nee Journah Dawson and Jane Sheen, nee Jane Dawson, and their families, as enumerated in their respective applications.

I am a citizen of the Cherokee Nation and reside in Coowescoowee Dist. and am 53 years old. I am acquainted with the applicant, Andrew J. Dawson, he claims to be a relation of mine. I have known him personally about three (3) years. He said his father was Joe Dawson. I know the party, the applicant, from circumstances, and have no doubt but that he is a relation of mine.

Joe Dawson, the father of the applicant was my father's brother. Joe Dawson was considered to be a Cherokee, I think he died on the Hiwassee river in Tenn. I think he had four (4) children. I never saw any of them but Andrew J. Dawson, and Jim Dawson.

-Cross Ex.-

Joe Dawson has been dead about 35 years he lived west of the Mississippi River, I understand. My father had four brothers. I don't know how long Jou Dawson had been living in Tenn. before he died. All that I know of the applicant being the son of my Uncle Jou Dawson, is from what he himself has told me, - My grandfather, Sam Dawson was a white man. The applicant could be of the Dawson name and not be related to me - My grandfather being a Dawson and a white man.

Before the Honorable Henry L. Dawes, Frank C. Armstrong, A. S. McKennon, T. B. Cabanis, A. B. Montgomery, Commissioners. In the matter of the application of Andrew J. Dawson, Nation's No..... Commission's No..... for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation.

Your respondent, S. H. Myyes, Principal Chief of the Cherokee Nation, comes now and demurs the said application, and for the grounds thereof says:

- 1st. That this Commission has not jurisdiction over the parties or subject matter of this controversy.
- 2nd. That the application does not state facts sufficient if true, to show that the applicant . . . entitled to citizenship.

Respondent not waiving his aforesaid demurrer, but insisting upon the same for answer to said application, says that John Rogers through whom the petitioner claims to derive right to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, is not now, . . . and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, since the removal of said Nation, west to the Indian Territory, as at present located and defined; that his name does not appear on any of the authenticated rolls of said nation; that neither he nor any of his ancestors now reside, or ever have resided in the Cherokee Nation and Indian Territory, as citizens thereof.

See Cherokee Nation's No. 1573.

Having fully answered, your respondent asks to be hence dismissed.

Elizabeth, Annie L. Barber, Alsey J. Smart, APPELLANTS.

CHIEF APPELLANT,

APPELLEE.

PETITION FOR APPEAL FROM THE DECISION OF THE COMMISSION
TO THE FIVE CIVILIZED TRIBES.

Case no. the appellants in the above entitled case and petition the Court to grant an appeal in said case from a decision of the Commission, known as the Dawes Commission, created and empowered to treat with the Five Civilized Tribes of Indians, to-wit: the Cherokee, Creek, Choctaw, Chickasaw, and Seminole Indians, and to pass upon and decide applications for citizenship in the said Five Civilized Tribes, which decision by said Commission was rendered by a majority of, but not in accordance with, an Act of Congress passed and approved
June 10th, 1896, and by which decision on the 29 day of October, 1896 the aforesaid appellants were denied their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory.

The facts relied upon by the appellants to establish their rights to citizenship in the Cherokee Nation, as aforesaid are as follows: to-wit: The affidavits of E. Dawson, S. R. Dawson
V. A. Dawson, F. M. Dawson.

Said affidavits fully and conclusively establishing the fact that said applicants are Cherokee Indians,
by blood and descent, and entitled to rights of citizenship
in the Cherokee Nation.

Said affidavits, together with the application, of said
appellants, were, prior to September the 10th, 1896, filed with and submitted to said Commission for its investigation, consideration and decision.

That a certified copy of said application, together with the foregoing affidavits, were signed upon the Chief, or Attorney General, of said Cherokee Nation, prior to September
the 10th, 1896.

The errors of the Commission in rejecting the claim for citizenship of said appellants are the grounds for appeal
to this Court, to-wit:

FIRST. The Commission erred in refusing to test the said claims adversely to the appellants and to not the proof submitted by said appellants.

SECOND. The Commission erred in investigating the claims of appellants and denying the same in the absence of a majority of the members of the Commission.

THIRD. The Commission erred in refusing the appellants the right and privilege of examining the proof submitted by appellee in support of the answers filed by the appellee and to deny the appellants the right of filing a petition to appellee's answer or producing proof in rebuttal of the same.

FOURTH. The Commission erred in denying the appellants the right of a trial of their claims by a competent jury, as wanted to them by the laws and constitution of the United States.

FIFTH. The Commission erred in refusing appellants the right to be present in person, or by attorney, during the trial and determination of their claim before the said Commission.

SIXTH. The Commission erred in refusing to issue process for witnesses and to send for persons and papers when requested to do so by the appellants.

SEVENTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the right of these appellants to be enrolled as citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

EIGHTH. The Commission erred in deciding against blood, holding that blood was not a test of the right of citizenship in said Cherokee Nation.

NINTH. The Commission erred in deciding against the location of residence, holding that residence in the Cherokee Nation was not a test of the right of citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation.

TENTH. The Commission erred in not entering upon their docket or record the reasons upon which the claims of appellants were denied and refusing to notify appellants the grounds of denial or rejection.

ELEVENTH. The Commission erred in examining the claims and proof of appellants and denying the same while the Commission was not clothed with any legal authority, nor had jurisdiction, to render decision on said claims and deny the same.

TWELFTH. That the Act of Congress approved June the 19th, 1806, was unconstitutional and had no power or legal right to confer jurisdiction on said Commission to try and determine the rights to citizenship of said appellants, and said Commission erred in determining the rights and denying the same to said appellants.

THIRTEENTH. That Congress had no power by enactment to create, appoint and empower a judiciary, and said Commission erred in denying the claims of said appellants without any legal authority to do so.

Therefore, the appellants of this cause pray that an appeal be granted to this Court and that a trial, de novo, be granted the appellants, and that said appellants be permitted to introduce new testimony, and that an order be made requiring said Commission to send all pleadings, papers and records filed before it in this cause to this Court, and that the Cherokee Nation, the appellee in this case, be cited to appear at this Court and shall defend against the same, and shall show why the appellants should not by the rules, orders and decisions of this Court be adjudged entitled to citizenship in the said Cherokee Nation, and the appellants will ever pray.

Northern Judicial District,
Indian Territory.

I, Lawson, being duly sworn according to law on oath solemnly made by J. Popson; I am 41 years old; my last office was near Talala, Ind. Ter. I am a farmer by occupation, and live in the Mesquero District - Cherokee Nation. I am a citizen of the Cherokee Indian by blood, and exercise all the rights and privileges of a Cherokee citizen now living in the Cherokee Nation. I was born in Carroll County Arkansas near Talala. I was raised by Cherokee Indians. From my father all I know through my father, Robert Dawson, who died about 15 years ago was a Cherokee Indian. He was the son of Samuel Dawson in the old Cherokee Nation. His grand parents, Samuel and a woman, were from the State of Georgia. He was born in 1828, and lived in Indian Territory, and later came to the Cherokee Nation. He was recognized as a Cherokee Indian by reason of his blood.

The said Robert Dawson, the father of the said affiant, and Elizabeth, his wife, married Polly Barber, a full brother and sister by blood, both being children of the said Samuel Dawson and Polly Dawson, is wife also being the same Polly Rogers as aforesaid. The said Elizabeth, sister on the mother of Joana Barber who is a full citizen by blood of this affiant on the Indian side, the said Joana Barber is the mother of Irene J. House, whose maiden name was Irene J. Barber, a second cousin of this affiant on the Cherokee Indian side. This affiant further states that he has seventy five to a hundred blood relatives who reside in the Cherokee Nation and are recognized Cherokee Indians of the present Cherokee Nation and exercise all the rights and privileges of such Cherokee citizens, they having drawn their shares of the strip money at the last per capita payment made by the Cherokee Nation.

Said citizens and relatives derived their Cherokee Indian blood from the same source, as did the above noted Irene J. House.

I have made this statement before J. Barricklaw, Notary Public at Talala, Ind. Ter, and affiant further states that he has no personal interest in the prosecution of the claim for citizenship in the Cherokee Nation of the said Irene J. House.

That the above facts which are within the personal knowledge of the affiant or that in his years of discretion he knows personally, and the other facts which occurred before the recollection of affiant he testifies to from what he has been taught from his family history and traditions.

That the relationship existing among all his people in the Cherokee Nation he knows from his personal knowledge and that they are related to the Cherokee Indian side.

EXHIBIT E.

Before me the undersigned authority this day, personally appeared W. A. Dawson who is to me well and personally acquainted, and after being duly sworn: deposes and says, that he is well acquainted with Irena J. House and knows she is a Cherokee Indian, and that he knows she is the daughter of Joana Barber, who is a niece of Robt. & James Dawson, who are both Cherokee Indians and recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation.

Affiant further states that Irena House is the grand daughter of Mrs. Petty, who was a full sister of Robt & James Dawson.

Affiant further says that he knows that Irena House is a direct descendant of Annie Dawson whose children (line drawn through word "children") sons, Robt & James before spoken are recognized citizens.

Affiant further says he has no interest in this suit.

recognized citizens of the Cherokee Nation by blood, are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, while the appellee contends that John Rogers, through whom the appellants claim, is not now and has not been a citizen of the Cherokee Nation since the removal west. That his name does not appear on the roll of the Nation, and that he is not a citizen of the Cherokee Nation.

The appellants contend that the applicants are entitled to be admitted to the Cherokee Nation as citizens by blood, and that it was entirely proper that in the condition of affairs at that early period of the Cherokee Nation, especially owing to the absence of a regular system of records relating to marriage, that those who should be the descendants of Captain John Rogers by a daughter, Polly Lewis, of whom the affiants for the appellee aver they are.

I find that the appellants are descendants of the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory, where they have resided since 1837, and that they are Cherokee Indians by blood.

I find that the court should allow the respondents the ordinary services of a Special Master.

BY MR. JUSTICE

as follows above for the present.

EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES FOR THE APPLICANTS:

D. W. Duncan, being first duly sworn, and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. JUSTICE:

- Q Please state your name, age and residence? A My name is D. W. C. Duncan, my age is 33 years, my residence, Vinita, Indian Territory.
- Q Are you a duly recognized citizen of the Cherokee Nation by blood? A I am.
- Q You gave testimony in this case once before did you not, before the Dawes Commission? A I did.
- Q Before this Commission, I will say, this Commission? A The Dawes Commission? A My I don't recollect who the Commissioner was, that was taken at Vinita, ex parte.
- Q Were you in any way connected with the Cherokee citizenship Commission in 1883 known as the "Teece Commission"? A I was clerk of that Commission.

Q Now, I am going to ask you to recollect the exact length of the Commission's report, and, finding the continuance of the Commission, whether or not it was a Commission.

Q You are the only clerk who saw its existence were you?
A I think I am.

Q You are Clerk of the Court when it rendered a decision in favor of Robert Ray and others, as found on page 114, of its records, numbered 100 (witness examine record referred to.) now in the possession of this Commission? A I was.

Q The members of that Commission were the same as shown by the exhibits in this judgment were they? A The same, yes, sir.

Q The names of the members of the Commission, Alex Wolfe and T. F. [unclear] is that correct, is it? A That's correct.

Q Now, you recall that this case was under consideration by that Commission, and it was referred to a friend in the case? A I was.

Q Where you at that time acquainted with S. M. Dawson, the only clerk of the Court, Marshall Taylor and Samuel H. Beuge, who were officers of the Court at that time? A I might say that I recall that Mr. Dawson and I had seen him when he was in the office of the Court, and Mr. Beuge was also in the office of the Court at that time.

Q The names of the officers of the Court were they? A They were. Dawson, Taylor, Beuge, and I think [unclear] Attorney?

A I think he was.

Q Now, whether or not; but you were present at the time this case was under consideration by the Court? A Yes, I do not recollect seeing Mr. Beuge, I cannot recollect, but I can recollect of seeing Mr. Taylor about the Court room at that time.

Q Do you know who submitted the case to the Court for the applicants? A Let me understand the meaning of that; who brought the case?

Q Who called up the case? A No, I don't recollect.

Q Do you remember whether that Commission rendered any other decision than that found upon this record in that case? A I never had any knowledge only that one decision.

Q Was that in favor of or against the applicants? A It was in favor of them; I will say this: that if there was another decision other than the one that appears on the docket now before you, I have no recollection of it.

Q The only decision you have any knowledge of was recorded by you in this book as here shown was it not? A That is the only one that I have any knowledge of.

Q Did Ed Dawson pay you any money in connection with that case?

A He did not.

Q Did he ever promise to pay you any money for your influence with the Court in that case? A Never.

Q Or did you say so, either directly or through any other person? A I say influence in that case?

Q Yes, sir? A Never.

Q Did you have any knowledge of his having paid to the Court or to any member of the Court any money for the purpose of influencing their judgment in that case? A None whatever.

Q Did you have opportunity of observing his conduct during that Court at the time? A The only opportunity that I had was during the session of the Commission. I saw but very little of him during the recesses of the Commission, but when I would see him in passing.

Q Did you see anything in his conduct toward that Court which indicated that he had used undue influence in procuring that judgment?

sent? A I never observed anything of the kind; nothing that awakened a suspicion in my mind that he was engaged in the kind of practice.

Q Did Campbell Taylor at any time after the rendition of that judgment pay to you any money or coin, through his friend, Mr. Dawson, for any services you had rendered to him in that case?

A Yes, he paid me some.

Q What amount? A My recollection is that, I think it was a twenty dollar bill. I don't know, but I had better go and state the transaction, all about it.

Q You, sir, Mr. Dawson, Ed Dawson, during the trial of the case occasionally applied to me at my desk for writing paper, issue of subpoenas or transcript, something of that kind; I always treated him with courtesy and proper official consideration. He seemed to appreciate it, and whenever I did services of that kind to him, says he, I have no money, Mr. Duncan, but I feel that I ought to pay you. I told him I made no charges for work of that kind. All in passing I might state that I never received a cent for any kind of that work which I had been in the habit of doing for various parties before the Court.

After his trial was concluded, in the afternoon a little while before supper I went to my hotel, the National Hotel. Mr. Campbell went to my room. Felt a little tired, laid down upon the bed to rest. I recollect Mr. Duncan stepped into the room, took a chair to the bedside and sat down and commenced giving expression to his gratification at the success of his case, especially mostly upon the testimony in the case being so satisfactory in establishing his Cherokee blood, and that he thought that he was entitled and that he had received justice by the Court. I listened to him, and we talked there I guess some ten or fifteen minutes. After a little he says, I must go to London, I think he says to-morrow, I must go home, he then lived down in Arkansas somewhere. Says he, Mr. Duncan, I believe I owe you something, ought to pay you something. Allowing, as I understood, to these little courtesies that I extended to him at my desk. Says I, I make no charges, Mr. Dawson, for services. If I have done you any good you are welcome. Well, says he, I feel indebted to you. I ought to pay you. I says, that makes no difference; I will leave that to you. Says he, I have hardly enough money to get back home. He shook my hand, and the last word he says to me, you shan't lose anything for your kindness to me; I thought he had reference to my services at the desk. That was the last I saw of Mr. Dawson, or it must have been a year afterwards. I had located a little claim on the public domain up there in Delaware District, looked off what I intended to be a farm, merely stakes, I didn't make any other improvements, over there on Hope Creek. Went over in that part of the country to look after my claim, and I ran across Mr. Dawson, he had come into the country and located and built him a little shanty and was living in it; I called upon him, he was very glad to see me; I asked him what he was doing there; he said he had moved into the country, and I told him, says I, you are encroaching upon me here; he had spread his claim over part of mine, mine had been made so long it was outlawed under Cherokee law. Well, says Mr. Dawson, I don't feel like doing you any wrong, I will pay you for your claim; so we will settle the matter in that way, that he gets some or he get his little matters together that he would satisfy me for it. Well we parted at that point. It ran on thus for a long time, I don't know how long; I think I got him in visits, and says he, did Camp Taylor pay you any money that I sent to you? Says I, No, I have not seen Camp Taylor.

Well, says he, I gave him some money and told him to hand it to you for me, and, says he, you ask him and he will hand it over to you I guess. Well we parted then. Well, went on for some time, some months; I happened to meet Mr. Taylor in Tahlequah; I met him on the street I think, jocularly I slapped my hand on his shoulder, says I, look here, did Mr. Dawson any money to me by you? He says, yes, and he pulled out what I recollect to be a twenty dollar bill, and handed it to me; I received it, and I received it with the idea that he was compensating me for taking my claim, or possibly for doing his share lit in services in the Court. Now that is the sum and substance of the whole thing.

Q Was not that twenty-five dollars, Mr. Duncan? A It might possibly have been, my recollection does not serve me exactly, it might have been 25 dollars.

Q Did Campbell Taylor pay you any other money as coming from Bud Dawson? A Never a cent.

Q Did he at any time pay you fifty dollars out of a hundred dollars which he had received from Mr. Dawson? A Never.

Q Did he on a second occasion pay you fifty dollars out of one hundred dollars which he claimed to have received from Mr. Dawson?

A None at all.

Q He paid you no other money than that you have already stated, from Mr. Dawson? A Not a cent.

BY MR. McKEHNON: We offer in evidence the judgment of the Cherokee Citizenship Commission before referred to, and ask that it be filed in evidence in the case of every application made by members of the Robert Dawson family who claim and r it, or through Robert Dawson, as citizens of the Cherokee Nation, said judgment being found on page 114, Records of the Tehee Court, 1880 to 1884, case number 108, judgment dated January 11th, 1883, signed by Thomas Tehee, President, Alex Wolfe, T. Transcript issued to claimants, January 11th, 1883.

(signed) D. V. C. Duncan, Clerk.

Marital Note: "Case submitted by Plaintiff January 11th, 1883. Case submitted by Solicitor January 11th, 1883."

- Q Do you remember how many members of the Court were present when this judgment was rendered, or were all of them? A By recollection upon that point is not positive, but by ordinary recollection I know to be the practice of the Court at the time, seeing the names of all these Commissioners there, I can say with a great deal of positiveness that they were all present, because I never signed the name of one of the Commissioners, unless he was present, assenting to it or directing it.
- Q The rendition of that judgment then was concurred in by all of the three judges? A It was.
- Q Mr. Duncan, if there had been a decision rendered the day after in this case while the Court was in session, adverse to those claimants, would you have known it? A I certainly should have known it.
- Q Was there any such decision of the Court? A None to my knowledge. I can say positively there was not.
- Q How many of these judges are now living? A Only one.
- Q Whom? A Mr. Thornton.
- Q Felix and Wolfe are dead? A Felix and Wolfe are dead.
- Q How long have they been dead, do you know? A I do not know quite a number of years. I wasn't living there, never lived there then when their death occurred, and their death occurred some a long time before I got knowledge of it. It is generally understood that they are dead.

Q. you're older than we saw any other clerk of the court. Really about the court at that time than that person? A. I have no thinking, and I can't call to mind that I have seen any other clerk except you, until after that time. I don't know subsequent to the condition of the July 21st.

(At this point a party who has been sitting in the room in which the examination is being held, is called forward, sworn on behalf of applicants, and asked to retire until called.)

MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q. Mr. Bucal, when did you become a clerk of the Texas Commission of State? A. It must have been somewhere in December, 1884, when the Commission was organized immediately at the close of the Council in which they were appointed.

Q. December 1884? A. I think so.

Q. Do you remember doing rendering judgments here in your capacity in 1887? A. The Commission held its Court after they were elected to office.

Q. The Court was elected in 1887 wasn't it? A. Well, I don't know. I don't pretend to say when the Court was elected, I don't know. I said at the time I was chosen clerk, I was chosen clerk for the class of the session of the National Council of that year.

Q. '88? A. I think it was '84.

Q. You entered in this judgment rendered January, 1887? A. Yes, that was the session of the Commission.

Q. That was before you were clerk of it? A. Well I don't know. I think for some time you know continuously.

Q. Well but when you were a clerk of it you were their clerk when the Dawson case was passed on? A. No, I don't know exactly that.

Q. How could you be clerk of it if it was passed on in 1887 when you were not elected until 1884? A. I am mistaken in that, '84 comes after '83, - it was passed on preceding 1883, it must have been '82.

Q. Your first entry in the Dawson case is January 13, 1883, isn't it?

Q. I don't recollect that my first entry was. (Attorney shows the record to witness) Yes, that is the entry there on that day.

Q. And that was shortly after you became clerk wasn't it? A. Yes, shortly after I became clerk.

Q. The case had been entered upon the docket before you became clerk?

A. I think so, yes; it was entered at the previous term of the session of the Commission.

Q. In whose handwriting was the names of the three Commissioners entered to that judgment? A. Dawson Judgment?

(Attorney shows record to witness again) A. That is my handwriting.

Q. All three names? A. All three names.

Q. The record there shows that you immediately gave that that day a transcript of the judgment, do you know who signed that? A. I signed the transcript?

Q. Yes, sir. A. I do not recollect now, this is, did the writing?

Q. Signed the names to it? A. Yes, that's it.

Q. You always signed the names of Jones and Wolfe didn't you?

A. I think I did pretty generally; I don't know of their attempting to write their own names.

Q. When Mr. Thompson was there didn't he sign his own name? A. Sometimes he did, sometimes he simply authorized me to do it.

Q. Have you any recollection of his authorizing you to do it except from the fact that you have done it on that record frequently?

A. I don't recall the particular literal fact of authorizing.

But I can say positively that, consulting the record, that he authorized me to put his name there.

Q Will you look at the original transcript hereby shown you and refer to it in the judgment and say who signed the names of the Commissioners there? A (Papers are to witness) A I signed them there.

Q You recognize that as your handwriting? A I do.

Q What made you say you were testifying at Verita before Mr. Martin, on looking at the same signatures, and being cross-examined by me, say that it was not your signature and that the signature thereto attached was the signature of Mr. Thompson? A Occurred in this way: I had never seen any of the records in the case for about nineteen years. The exact transaction in the court was published about entirely two or three years; I recollected at that time, however, when I gave in my testimony before the Commissioner, Martin, that that was a true title of the Court at the time I served, which I signed the names of the full-blood members of the Commission, Mr. Thompson either uniformly or occasionally signed his name. I based my statement in that deposition upon my knowledge of the full-blood practice in the Court, without comparing the document as respects my story. I made an incorrect statement when I said that that was not my handwriting; I am convinced now that it is my handwriting. That is the way it occurred, the way it happened.

Q Then you consider your recollection of the fact that Thompson when he was present and rendering a judgment signed it himself, not on that your own knowledge of your own handwriting?

A No, I didn't so regard it. I simply spoke without advisement when I gave in that testimony; I subsequently became better informed and concluded that that was my handwriting, and not entered by Mr. Thompson under the rule, but was one of those cases in which he authorized me to do it myself, and I did it.

Q Then you have changed your testimony, because you think you have a better knowledge of the surrounding facts now than you had then, and not from the fact of your judgment on your handwriting at present? A I simply corrected my testimony in reference to my statement in regard to this handwriting, this case.

Q And you wouldn't know then as I understand you whether or not that is your handwriting; if it was not refuted by what you consider to be exterior facts? A I should know it by examining it and thinking over the circumstances. I think I should recognize my own handwriting, but if a question should be propounded instantaneously without any advisement or preconsideration I might make a mistake.

Q You did recognize the names of Thomas Toke and Alexander Wolfe as being in your handwriting at that time? A I was very clear and positive, and so stated, that the names of those Commissioners were in my handwriting, and I was made certain by reflecting on the rule that they never signed their names with their own hand, but always authorized me to do it. Hence there is no question in my mind in regard to my handwriting in their signatures.

Q And then the third name, right under it, as compared with your admitted handwriting, you had to wait and learn the facts afterwards to determine whether that was your signature or not? A No, I don't think that if I had considered the circumstances, I knew there was a resemblance; what made me of the opinion that that might have been Mr. Thompson's signature was like this: I knew that he had been in the habit of at least sometimes signing his own name, and I was under the impression—and I do not now think I am much deceived—that his chirography bore at least some resemblance to my own, hence I doubted whether I had signed that name or not on that account.

... what at that time in your testimony by the ... swore that that was his handwriting ... A Mr. Thompson stating that that ... to ascertain whether I was ... I concluded that ... didn't you, that he always signed ... A I do not recollect ... the word "always", as that is, but ... the deposition was taken in ... I do not recollect an exhibit of the ... I occasionally ... for

... out that your testimony given ... was wrong until you examined the ... of ... your ... of it since that time until ... the exhibit.

... recollection that you have ... and the ... that Thompson was present when ... and ... the fact that you ... signed ... is it? A As a fact,-- ... that ... or not? A That being the ... recollection ... I recollect now that the ... were all present at the time that I signed it. I didn't ... out of court at all.

... was it in the forenoon now or in the afternoon? A I don't ... whether it was in the forenoon or afternoon.

... in recollecting that they were all present when the record was ... signed, do you mean to say that they were all present when the ... judgment was rendered? A Yes, that is, you mean when the question ... admission or rejection was voted upon?

A Yes, A They were present.

Q Did you take up the record at the time that they rendered the ... judgment, or make a memorandum of it, or then write up the ... judgment some days afterward? A The record was not written up ... solely upon the decision of any case, but I wrote up the ... record after adjournment, generally in the evening, and presented it ... next day or when the next session was held, for signature; that is ... the record.

Q But in this Dawson case you wrote it on the very day that it ... was rendered didn't you? A I didn't recollect as to that.

Q And you have a transcript the very day it was rendered?

A I don't recollect as to that.

Q And you placed the given of the transcript on the bottom of the ... judgment when it was rendered? A I should say it was given at ... the transcript.

Q Now, that is a very unusual thing for you to do in entering up ... what?

Q Now, on the bottom that you had given a transcript the same ... judgment was rendered? A No, I don't know that there is ... about that.

Q Now, you never issue in that record or more than one in any event ... that you have ever done that? A I don't recollect, indeed I don't ... recollect of giving anybody else a transcript.

Q That is what I am getting at: you give them a transcript and ... your judgment and everything right away? A Pretty ... after the decision; whether it was the next day or ... the evening, and then next day, I don't recollect.

BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicants object to all of the witness' testimony relating to the method of taking the testimony of witnesses at the trial, the character and effect of that testimony, and the number of witnesses, except so far as the same may be used for the purpose of testing the memory of the witness, because the same is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

B. F. FORTNER, being first duly sworn, and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q That is your name? A B. F. Fortner.
Q What is your age? A 54.
Q You are a physician are you not? A I am.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita, Indian Territory.
Q Do you hold any official position in your position? A Yes, I am President of the National Board of Health, Cherokee National Board of Health, and member of the Legislative Councils of the Indian Territory and of the American Medical Association,--those are some, and the most important positions I hold at this time.
Q Are you a Cherokee citizen? A I am.
Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
Q Your wife is a citizen? A Yes, sir.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About twelve or fifteen years, about twelve years I should say.
Q Do you know his general reputation in his community where he resides for honesty and straightforwardness of character? A I do, I think.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good.
Q Do you know Geybelle Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About six or eight years, don't know exactly how long; known of him for ten years and personally I have known him about say six or eight years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and veracity? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is bad.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q Mr. Duncan belongs to the same church you belong to? A Yes, sir.
Q And has for a number of years? A Well now I say I think he does; I have always seen him there.
Q Don't keep up with all your members? A No, but he has attended church there and his impression has been that he is a member of the church.
Q You didn't have any business before the citizenship court of which he was clerk, did you? A No, sir, not that I know of.
Q You was not at Tahlequah while he was clerk of a court from 1892 to 1897? A I don't believe I was.
Q Never had any business before that court? A Had no business before then, not while he was clerk to my knowledge.
BY MR. MCKENNON:
Q You spoke of his members in the church; he is in good standing as a member of the church is not? A Yes, sir.
Q I will ask you if Geybelle Taylor's reputation isn't notoriously bad? A Yes, I have no understated it.
BY MR. HASTINGS:
Q I will ask you if it was notoriously bad in 1895, when these people employed him to represent them before the court? A That was before my knowledge of him.

Q But so far as his general reputation dates back so far as you know, that's all you know, is that right? A So far as I know him.

G. W. MILLER, being duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A G. W. Miller.
Q What is your age, Mr. Miller? A 61.
Q Where do you reside? A Vinita.
Q How long have you lived there? A Well I have lived there altogether about 13 years I guess, or 14.
Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A No, sir.
Q What is your business? A Real estate and insurance agent.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I have known him twenty years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character where he lives? A Yes, yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A It is good, so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes, sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Well I have known him 13 or 20 years, I guess.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Well yes.
Q Is that good or bad? A Well, it is bad, I think.

ATTORNEYS FOR CHEROKEE NATION waive cross examination.

V. H. CURTIS, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY MR. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A V. H. Curtis.
Q How old are you, Mr. Curtis? A 58.
Q Where do you reside? A Arton, Indian Territory.
Q How long have you lived in the Indian Territory? A 30 years.
Q What is your business? A Furber business.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Duncan? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A About 20 years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A I do.
Q Is that good or bad? A As good as any man's.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A I do.
Q How long have you known him? A Some 20 years, I suppose.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and integrity and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Bad.
Q Is it notoriously bad? A Yes.
Q Did you ever know Dr. Baker, Dr. A. B. Baker, of Berryville, Arkansas? A Yes sir, I knew him in '88 and '90.
Q Where? A Over at Berryville; I ran a saw mill in that country at Berryville.
Q Did you know his general reputation so far as honesty and uprightness of character and truthfulness? A Yes sir.
Q Is that good or bad? A Good sir. Good as any man's; he is a good Christian gentleman.
Q Did you know him well enough to know his habits of life? A Yes sir.
Q Was he in the habit of taking liquor, drinking liquor? A Not that I know, of sir, I never saw him take a drink in my life.

Q Was his character such as to preclude any such charge against him? A It was, no sir.

BY MR. WATKINGS:

Q How long did you know Dr. Baker? A Two years.

Q That does he do there? A He was an old gentleman then, he lived right in the edge of Berryville, Dr. Baker.

Q How old do you think he was then? A I think he must have been 60 or 65 years old; an old gentleman.

Q That's in 1863 what, 60? A No sir, I was in '63 and '64, the two years that I lived over there.

Q He had retired from business? A Yes, sir.

Q Did he have any family? A Yes, sir.

Q That family did he have? A I don't know how much family he had, I was well acquainted with the old gentleman.

Q He wasn't doing any business with anybody? A No sir.

Q And his character was never called in question one way or the other way it? A No sir, no sir.

Q Campbell Taylor was a notorious racial preyer much over since you ever knew him wasn't he? A Yes sir, I never knew much good of him.

Q And whenever a man got a bad citizenship case he got Campbell to work it, because he was notoriously a misdoer, that's it isn't it?

A Well a great many of them got him.

Q It was a notorious thing that they had a bad case they would get him, it would sort of give a case a bad odor to have Campbell around it? A Yes, that could be right.

Q You never knew anything about Mr. Duncan's connection with citizenship matters? A No sir, never did.

Q You never heard about his changing some of the records of citizenship cases? A No sir, never did.

Q You have heard lots of talk about this Duncan case? A Yes sir.

Q Ruffin had it all around that somebody was doing something wrong? A Yes sir.

Q You never accused him of it you think? A I never heard him accused of it, no sir.

Q That rumor got out from the first day they were admitted right up to the present? A Well I don't know how long the first day, I have heard it for a good while though.

Q But you never knew who they fixed it out? A No sir.

Q They have been a pretty strong family up there in that country haven't they, pretty large family? A Yes sir.

Q Got a good many votes up there? A Yes sir.

Q Did you ever know of the Doctor's testifying any in court, Dr. Baker? A No sir, I never did.

Q That would you think of a man who would testify that he had a girl that was single in 1825 when the youngest of his seven children was born in 1823; what would you think, would you think that was a statement to be made by a man who was truthful? A

BY MR. MCKENNON: Applicant's objection to the question because it is wholly incompetent, and not based upon any proof or admitted facts in the case, and it is wholly immaterial and incompetent.

THE COURT: I think that was a statement that would be made by a truthful man? (No response.)

Q You knew him in '63? A Yes sir.

Q He was quite an old, decrepit man? A Yes sir, quite old, '63 and '64.

Q 14 years from that time he was liable to be in his dotage?
 A I don't know, he was an old man when I knew him.
 Q He was too old to work, and retired from business then? A Well he did work a good deal, but wasn't doing any business particular that I knew of.
 Q He would have been pretty old 14 years from that time? A Yes,
 he would be getting old.

D. H. MARRS, being first duly sworn, deponent's name examined,
 testified as follows:

BY MR. HICKENKON:

Q What is your name? A D. H. Marrs.
 Q What is your age, Mr. Marrs? A I am 46.
 Q What is your business? A I am publishing a newspaper.
 Q What paper? A "The Indian Chief."
 Q Are you Editor of that paper? A Yes sir.
 Q You live at Vinita, then? A Yes sir.
 Q Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A Yes sir.
 Q By blood or intermarriage? A Intermarriage.
 Q How long have you known D. W. G. Duncan? A I do.
 Q How long have you known him? A 18 or 19 years.
 Q Do you know his general reputation in the community where he lives for honesty and uprightness of character? A Yes sir.
 Q Is that good or bad? A Good.
 Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
 Q How long have you known him? A Why 15 years or longer.
 Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty in the community? A His general reputation, yes sir.
 Q Is it good or bad? A Well it is not good.
 Q Is it bad? A Well I suppose it must be bad then.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

Q How long has Campbell's reputation been bad, Mr. Marrs, quite a good while, hasn't it? A Why I think so, yes sir.
 Q And it kind of began mostly with this citizenship business?
 A Yes, so far as I know it did, yes sir.
 Q Campbell got so many bad citizenship cases and through the mails, and they finally had him up about it, had a good deal of stir about it? A Yes sir.
 Q And some of that stir was sort of occasioned by his helping the Dawson's in wasn't it? A I don't know, I don't know whether he helped the Dawson's.
 Q Was not that one of the principal cases that brought him into notoriety? A I don't know whether he had that case or not, I know he had a great many cases.
 Q That was the principal thing that concerned the mind Campbell out, was citizenship cases here? A I think that was what got him into the most trouble.
 Q I say before that time nobody had talked much about Campbell one way or another, and it became rather general that Campbell was handling shoddy citizenship cases, and he got a bad reputation from that? A Yes sir, I think that was the impression generally.
 Q Now Mr. Duncan's connection with the Dawson case sort of took him back; people never talked much about it? A I never heard anything about it, as I know of.
 Q You have heard that there has been something wrong about the Dawson case, that has been a notorious thing? A Oh it has been a notorious case, yes sir.
 Q Well the fact of Mr. Duncan's reputation for straightness has been somewhat given by himself, he confesses it frequently? A No so that?

Q His reputation for straightness is somewhat given by himself; he takes occasion to confess that very often himself doesn't get

A I don't know whether I am qualified to answer that.

Q Speaking of his own honesty, he does that very frequently?

A No sir; not that I know of.

Q Doesn't he write a good deal about that sort of thing? A About his reputation?

Q Why is speaking of his own integrity? A I don't remember that he does.

Q You were not about the citizenship court along in 1901 '2 and '3 were you? A No sir.

Q Don't remember about the talk and the going on around the Capitol over there about the citizenship court? A Why no, don't remember anything special as I know of. I remember the citizenship court going on at different times.

Q How far were you living from Tallahassee in '87? A Well, I live close to Vinita, I guess it is sixty miles probably.

Q Have you lived any nearer Tallahassee since that time? A No sir, never have.

H. L. SULLER, being first duly sworn and being examined testified as follows:

BY LRS. MCKENNON:

Q What is your name? A H. L. Suller.

Q You are a minister of the Gospel? A Yes sir.

Q H. E. Cheney, Soule? A Yes sir.

Q How long have you been a minister? A I have been in the ministry 23 years, sir.

Q Did you ever live at Vinita? A Yes sir.

Q How long? A I was there four years, sir.

Q Do you know H. E. Cheney? A I do.

Q How long have you known him? A I have known him almost 31 years.

Q Do you know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character? A I do.

Q Is it good or bad? A Good, so far as I know.

Q You have had opportunity of knowing? A Yes sir.

BY MR. HUTCHINS:

Q Mr. Duman was a member of your church? A Yes sir.

Q That is the principal way you had opportunity in contact with him?

A Yes sir, he was a member of my official church.

Q His connection with citizenship cases that were decided by the court of which he was clerk was never known to you in your presence?

Q Or never discussed? A No sir, I know nothing about his connection with it.

Q You didn't live about or near Tallahassee in '87? A No sir, I was pastor of the Methodist Church in '87 at Tallahassee.

Q Did you hear about the Hayden case, and other cases decided there by the citizenship court? A No sir, I know nothing about the cases; I know that the Commission was in session, and I know that he was clerk of the Commission, but know nothing about the cases that were decided at all.

Q Have heard anybody discuss the cases that were decided? A No sir.

THOMAS A. CHANDLER, being first duly sworn and being examined, testified as follows;

BY MR. MCKENNON:

- Q What is your name? A Thomas A. Chandler.
Q What is your age, Mr. Chandler? A I am 30.
Q What is your business? A Deputy clerk of the United States Court at Vinita.
Q How long have you lived in the Cherokee Nation? A All my life.
Q Do you know D. W. C. Lynch? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A Let me see, I have known him about nine or ten years.
Q You know his general reputation for honesty and uprightness of character in the community where he lives? A Yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Good so far as I know.
Q Do you know Campbell Taylor? A Yes sir.
Q How long have you known him? A I think about 15 years.
Q Do you know his general reputation for truth and honesty? A Yes sir.
Q Is it good or bad? A Bad so far as I know.

BY MR. HUTCHINGS:

- Q How did Campbell Taylor get a bad reputation? A Well sir, I don't know how he did.
Q You never knew him until 1887? A Well I never knew him personally, I heard of him before that.
Q He had a bad reputation before 1887? A Yes sir.
Q Bad reputation way back yonder? A First I remember I ever heard of him I heard people speak bad of him, when I was a child.
Q And everybody that came around the Nation and knew anything at all knew Campbell had a bad reputation? A Yes sir, ever so far back as '79 or '80, that is as far back as I can remember; I think I heard it spoken of in '80, I think that's about the time.
Q And Campbell got a very bad reputation in '80 and '81 when we begun to have these citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
Q You heard him spoken of in respectability and using the mails for these business? A Yes sir, I heard of him being in the Fort Smith Jail on that account.
Q Citizens of the Nation talked a good deal about Campbell's being in these bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir.
Q And I also heard he had a bad reputation for owing his debts, also about the same time.
Q You don't know whether he had the money, he might not have had the money to pay his debts? A No sir.
Q He could have kept out of bad citizenship cases? A Yes sir, I am sure he could.
Q You never heard Mr. Duncan's name mentioned before in connection with the Duncan case, citizenship cases? A No sir, I don't think I have, I may have, but I don't remember hearing it.
Q General impression that somebody had done something wrong with that matter, citizenship cases? A I heard there was something wrong in connection with the Duncan citizenship cases.
Q That had always been in notoriety ever since they were admitted? A Yes sir, I have heard it repeated around over the country that was the case.

- Q They are a pretty large voting capacity in these cases and cases were never investigated? A I don't know about that, I don't think it was ever investigated, I never heard of it.

Q So they never had any endeavor to find out who the ...
A No sir.

Q Where did you live in '87? A In '87 I lived out on Jack Creek about 12 miles south-east of Vinita.

Q How far from Tablequah was that? A About 65 or 70 miles, I suppose.

Q You never were around before the citizenship courts any during that time? A No sir.

Q You don't know then whether or not Campbell had lost ... the bad cases or not down there? A No sir, I do not, at that time.

BY MR. MCKEITHEN: Applicants object to all of the testimony of this witness as to what he heard by way of rumor, about the character of the Laussen case, because the same is hearsay, immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent.

A. S. MCKEITHEN, of Counsel for Applicants, being first duly sworn, makes the following statement:

I became a resident of Carroll County, Arkansas, early in 1850. I was intimately acquainted with Doctor Arthur Baker, for many years. Knew him as well as I did anyone else. He was a gentleman of the highest Christian character, so recognized by everybody who knew him. He was a sober man, and never drank liquor.
I don't think there was more in vindication of that good man's memory than for any other reason, because any imputation against his character is false.

BY MR. HASTINGS:

Q How long did you know him? A I resided in Carroll County until 1867 when I removed to Johnson County, Arkansas; during the war
I was away from here, but I knew him intimately every year that I resided in Carroll County.

Q Did you know him since '87? A Yes sir, I have seen him several times. I have relatives living in the town in which he lived;
my relations to him were such as to cause me always to inquire about Doctor Baker; I think his reputation I think as well after
I left there as I did when I lived there.

Q Did you know those facts in 1896 when you were a member of this Commission? A Yes sir, I have known them all my life as I know them now.

Q Did you know that when you as a member of this Commission passed on the Irene J. White case? A I know it every day of my life, in 1896 as well as now.
